Zoning, Building Code

County Faces 2 Major Projects

The new year will find the Kankakee County Board of Supervisors preparing to tackle two major problems, according to the year-end report of the board chairman, George E. Luehrs.

One of the problems is the need for adequate office space and jail facilities.

The other is county zoning and a building code to accompany it.

Looking back over 1956, Luehrs said, the accomplishments include major progress on tax assessment, completion of a major road building program and adoption of another large road program for 1957, and continued operation of the county government at no-increase in taxes.

"In our growing county, more room is necessary for county office space, and our jail is very inadequate," Luehrs reported.

The jail was built in the horse and buggy days, and grand juries have repeatedly termed it inadequate and lacking in facilities for juveniles and women, Luehrs pointed out.

The population of the county has virtually doubled since the present courthouse was built some 45 years ago, he reported.

Those years have seen the addition of a separate recorder's department, the growth of the county highway department, addition of tuberculosis and county nurses, and a juvenile probation officer as a branch of the County Court.

BUSINESS HAS multiplied in every department, and the space needed for record storage alone increases each year, Luehrs pointed out.

"Architects have looked over the present courthouse and find it would be impractical and very costly to remodel," he said.

They believe a combined jail and office structure is the logical solution.

"We expect to have building plans completed by the end of 1957 so we will know what a project like that will cost," Luehrs continued.

"It will require a bond issue and the people would have to vote on the bonds."

Work will commence in a week or two on new quarters for the county treasurer's office on the first floor of the courthouse, Luehrs reported.

"We are definitely going to do something about county zoning and a building code this year," Luehrs announced.

Mayor Reports

City Finances In Good Shape

Kankakee's city government is now in the financial shape where it can provide the facilities necessary for a growing industrial economy, Mayor Ed P. Madison said in a year-end report to citizens.

Citing the fact that the Kankakee area's growth potential is great when the St. Lawrence Seaway project is complete, the mayor pointed out that it is the job of municipal government to provide the modern facilities which industry seeks.

Finance was the major topic of discussion when Madison was interviewed for this article.

"Our financial picture is better than at any other previous time due to the half cent municipal sales tax the city now levies," he stated. The tax yielded more than a quarter of a million dollars in the first year since its enactment.

"We have begun to derive benefits from the tax," Madison said, "and in cooperation with aldermen have been able to accomplish much during the past year. All the aldermen, both Republicans and Democrats, have worked together in bipartisan fashion for the good of the city."

Personnel has been added to the police and fire departments "to the point where we are not now too badly undermanned. Salaries of all city employees were increased to somewhere near what they could make in private employment," the mayor continued.

More than $6,000 of the sales tax money is going into a program of removing dead trees from terrace areas. Many of these trees were killed by Dutch elm disease.

The city expanded its limits during the year, Madison reported, annexing such areas as the Hillcrest and Gracefield subdivisions, the Meadowview Shopping Center with its large sales tax potential, and the industrial site purchased by the Krafts Food Co.

These additions mean greater population and increased tax revenue, the city's chief executive pointed out.

Other city projects during 1956 included blacktopping of all dirt streets in the city. These streets will again be surfaced in 1957 Madison said.

The city also gained the responsibility for maintenance of the Growth To Continue

See Big Future For Kankakee

A year of accomplishments for civic betterment and a look ahead to the bright future for the Kankakee area was provided by Chamber of Commerce president E. Roy Erickson today in a year-end statement.

Although the community continued plans for long range civic planning in 1956, much remains to be done in the immediate future to prepare Kankakeeland for an industrial upsurge, Erickson said.

He pointed out that there has been continued talk of the potential growth of this area once the St. Lawrence Seaway has been completed and deep water vessels begin to dock at Chicago.

Many basic industries (such as steel manufacturing) will probably be expanded adjacent to the Chicago port, with outlying areas such as Kankakee, Bradley and Bourbonnais.

An airport authority could arrange for final purchase of the land and take advantage of state airport funds now available, state funds available in the future and federal funds which might be obtained once the field meets certain requirements.

Highlighting industrial development activities which were aided by Chamber members was the purchase of 245 acres of land, by the Kraft Foods Co. east of Kankakee for possible future building.

HOPING THAT 1957 will bring every one another step up the ladder of success, three girls wish Kankakee Daily Journal readers a Happy New Year. Plan Gala Welcome Here For New Year

Kankakee residents will join the rest of the country tonight in saying "hello" to 1957 — and they'll be doing it in churches, in their homes, in clubs, etc.

While most of the New Year's Eve parties in the community are for adults, the youths of the locality have not been overlooked in the planning.

Most extensive of all the youth parties will be the annual Teenage New Year's Eve dance to be held from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. at the Kankakee Armory under sponsorship of the Kankakee Exchange Club. The event, which beckons to high school youths from throughout the county, annually draws several hundred teenagers. Exchange Club members and their wives will serve as chaperons for the affair.

ADULTS WILL have many parties from which to choose for their New Year's Eve. Parties for members and guests are being held at such private clubs as the Kankakee Country Club, the Kankakee Valley Golf Club, the American Legion Home, the Kankakee Elks Lodge, the Kankakee Moose Club, etc.

Scores of persons will select their churches in which to see the new year in. New Year's Eve services, or parties are scheduled for First Baptist, Immanuel Baptist, Grace Baptist, Wall Street Baptist, First Church of the Nazarene, and St. Paul's Lutheran in Kankakee; Evangelical United Brethren and the Open Bible Churches in Bradley; College Church of the Nazarene in Bourbonnais; Zion Lutheran on Route 17 west; Essex Methodist Church, Mokenca Methodist; Herscher Trinity Lutheran; Mokenca Baptist; Mokenca Church of the Nazarene; Sherburnville Christian; and Kempton Methodist.

Some churches have scheduled morning worship services on Tuesday. Among these are St. Paul's Lutheran in Kankakee, Zion Lutheran on Route 17 west, and Trinity Lutheran in Herscher.

Tuesday public offices and business houses will be closed in the community.

Some Happiness, Some Sadness

Newswise, the year 1956 in the Kankakee area will go down as a rather routine one.

The community enjoyed its usual moments of happiness, and as usual it had to suffer through moments of sadness. Success crowned many of the fund campaigns; business and industries continued at steady paces, the farm crops were good and even the weather was favorable much of the time.

On the other hand disasters such as fires, drownings, traffic fatalities and the like dotted the news throughout the year.

Month by month, here is the way the front pages of the Journal saw the year in the Kankakee area: JANUARY: 10—A new three-year contract

Hungary Plans To End Walkout Of U.N. Friday

Red Puppet Regime Reveals Russ Loan Of $50 Million

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—The Communist party newspaper Nepszabadsag said today Hungary plans to return to the U. N. General Assembly Friday.

The Hungarian delegation, led by Foreign Minister Imre Horvath, walked out of the Assembly Dec. 11, protesting alleged U. N. interference in Hungary's internal affairs. He blamed the United States primarily for influencing the Assembly, which was then about to adopt a resolution condemning Russian intervention to crush the anti-Soviet Hungarian revolt.

Nepszabadsag said the delegation on its return to the assembly will be led by Endre Sik who remained in New York at the head of the delegation when Horvath returned to Hungary.

THE NEWSPAPER estimated foreign aid received after the rebellion at 700 million forint (63 million dollars). It stressed contributions by Russia and Red China but also mentioned 20 million dollars received from the United States and aid from West Germany and Finland.

(The newspaper apparently referred to relief contributions, including Red Cross aid.)

Nepszabadsag announced a new 50 million dollar loan by Russia to Premier Janos Kadar's government, which needs much more help to rebuild the revolt-shattered economy.

The paper said other East European countries in the Communist bloc have promised help and that "there have been preliminary talks also with certain capitalist countries."

It expressed hope that "Western countries also will contribute substantial loans to alleviate our economic difficulties."

SOME ECONOMISTS say it will take 400 million dollars to put Hungary back on its feet. The government is reported to feel it must seek much of the necessary aid from the West because most of the East European Communist countries are having their own difficulties.

Meanwhile, unemployment mounted steadily. Lagging coal production is at the heart of Hungary's crippled economy, and it has been speculated many of the thousands of factory workers on forced layoffs may be put to work in the mines.

The Communist papers said only 42,618 workers reported to the mines Friday—about half of the pre-revolution September average.

230 KILLED IN HOLIDAY CRASHES; ILLINOIS COLLISION TOLL ONLY 8

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The national death toll from traffic accidents this New Year's holiday climbed higher today but — fortunately — at a rate much slower than the record-shattering Christmas weekend.

With the 102-hour holiday more than half completed, traffic mishaps had accounted for 230 lives. In addition, there were 25 deaths from fires and 42 from miscellaneous accidents for an overall total of 297.

ILLINOIS POSTED WHAT a safety official called a "surprisingly low" traffic death rate today as the four-day New Year weekend went into the third day.

The state — fourth largest in the nation — ranked with many less densely populated states, listing eight fatalities. During a similar period over the four-day Christmas weekend 30 persons had perished in traffic as Illinois went on to record its bloodiest holiday on the highways.

The overall toll since the tabulation began at 6 p. m. Friday was 13, including two fire deaths and three non-traffic fatalities.

GOP Leaders Briefed On Ike's '57 Program

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower called Republican congressional leaders to the White House today to give them a preview of the legislative program he will submit to the 85th Congress.

For eight hours, Mr. Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, various members of the cabinet and Budget Director Percival Brundage outlined the administration program for the eighth GOP House and Senate leaders and discuss strategy for its enactment.

THE NEW CONGRESS convenes on Thursday — with the Democrats again in command as they were during the past two years.

The emphasis at the White House meeting was on the administration's domestic program. But there was almost certain to be discussion, too, of foreign policy, particularly the new "Eisenhower Doctrine" for protection of the Middle East against Communism.

There will be more detailed consideration of that Tuesday, however, when the President meets again with congressional leaders this time Democratic as well as Republican. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who was in New York today conferring with United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, will be on hand for Tuesday's session.

Indications were that the President will have to do a major selling job to win support of the Democratic leaders for his plan to throw a protective shield of American military and economic might around the oil-rich Middle East.

Craft Misses Field Coming In For Landing

Constellation Hits Sand In Fog; Report 26 Survive Tragedy

BAHRAIN (AP)—Fifteen persons were killed when a U. S. Air Force Constellation crashed on Saudi Arabia's Dhahran airfield in a heavy midnight fog Sunday night, the U. S. Air Force reported here today.

Other figures were issued by Air Force authorities in the United States. A spokesman at McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., where the plane touched down on a regular Military Air Transportation Service (MATS) flight to Saudi Arabia, said 11 were killed and 26 injured. The Charleston Air Force Base, S. C., the plane's home field, reported 3 known dead and 12 missing.

The plane was one of three Constellations which arrived at Dhahran after an 11-hour flight from Tripoli, Libya. The other two flew on to land at Muharraq Airport, Bahrain.

The crashed plane was reported to have hit sand in the bad visibility 1,000 yards short of the runway and burst into flames. Fifteen persons were killed outright or burned to death. Twenty six other persons who were aboard scrambled to safety.

BAHRAIN IS equipped with a ground controlled approach system but the equipment was not operating at the time of the crash.

A Bahrain Airline executive who visited the scene of the crash described the plane as "a complete writeoff."

The U. S. Air Force base at Charleston, S. C., said there were 41 aboard the C121C Super Constellation—a crew of 12 and 29 passengers. The base said 26 persons were hospitalized in the hospital at Dhahran, which is on the Persian Gulf, and the site of a U. S. Air Force base.

Bahrain is an island nearby. It is an independent Arab sheikhdom under British protection.

The Charleston base listed three dead on arrival at the hospital and 12 missing.

Four of the 12 crew members were listed as among the missing. They were:

Maj. Clyde Ellis, the pilot; 1st Lt. Laverne W. Alitz, co-pilot; M. Sgt. Frank Lorch and Sgt. Frank A. Rodgers III. All are married and their wives live in the Charleston area.

No other names of passengers or crew members were immediately available, the base said.

THE CHARLESTON base said it would fly an investigation team and return to Dhahran this afternoon. It said the plane was a total loss.

A spokesman said a message with a list of survivors was garbled, but he had made out 26 entries in the list. He added that, presumably, there were mostly American military personnel aboard.

Capt. Ervin R. Breslauer, public information officer, said the plane was on a regular flight for the Military Air Transportation Service from its base at Charleston, to Dhahran via McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey; Lages Field in the Azores, and Tripoli, Libya.

Besides American servicemen, MATS is authorized to carry military dependents, civil service personnel and military personnel of allied nations.

IRA Outlaws Slay British Constable

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Raiders from the outlawed Irish Republican Army attacked a police barracks near the border Sunday night, killing 22-year-old Constable John Scally with a shot in the back.

The raiders blew in the front door of the barracks with a bomb. After an exchange of rifle fire, all apparently escaped over the border into the Irish Republic, six miles away.

The I.R.A. demands the merger of British-ruled Northern Ireland (Ulster) and the Irish Republic.

Kickoff Dimes March Here On Wednesday

The 1957 March of Dimes campaign in Kankakee County will be kicked off at a dinner meeting of all community and special events chairmen Wednesday night. The dinner will begin at 6:30 in the Moose Lodge clubhouse.

Don Cryer, county chairman, announced plans for the meeting today. The 16 community chairmen from the county will receive their supplies at the meeting and hear plans for the county-wide program.

Bullet Wound Fatal To Watseka Man

WATSEKA (JNS)—A prominent Watseka city leader was found dead early Sunday morning after he apparently had shot himself in the head.

Walter H. Craft, 45, of 317 E. Cherry Ave., who had been in business in this community since 1922, was found lying across a "lift" used in his bottling plant to move containers.

According to Watseka Police Officer Ernest Burdick, who investigated, a bullet from a 32 caliber automatic caused Craft's death.

Notes from the deceased, addressed to various members of his family and friends, were found stacked neatly on a lift near the body, which was in the northwest room of the bottling plant on Yount avenue.

Evidence showed Craft had taken four ounces of insecticide, with out succumbing to its lethal effects, before using the gun.

His body was discovered by Dr. J. M. Roberts after Dr. Roberts' wife received a phone call from Craft, asking that the doctor come to the bottling plant, that he was very ill.

DR. ROBERTS found the body about 8:12 a.m. He summoned the police. From the appearance of the body, Craft managed to walk a few steps after firing the gun. He apparently fell across the lift. The bullet entered the temple. The gun was found near the body.

Mr. Craft was born July 21, 1891 in Danville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Craft. He was married to Mildred H. Tesch on Oct. 27, 1915 in Danville.

Surviving are the widow; a son, G. Robert Craft, Watseka; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Ann Bradley, Watseka; three grandchildren; a brother, Oscar W. Craft, Danville, and nieces and nephews.

MR. CRAFT spent his childhood in Danville, where he attended school. He later was associated with the Danville Wholesale Grocery Co., having received his training at the Peyton-Palmer Grocery in Danville.

Trade area expansion activities were also a feature of the Chamber's 1956 program. Signboards were established on the outskirts of the area advertising the advantages of shopping, working and living in Kankakeeland.

Promotional advertising in the Journal and station WKAN was used extensively in the trade area project. The Chamber also agreed to participate in a national advertising program designed to attract industry to Illinois.

This program is a project of the Illinois Industrial Development Commission which James Stupka, local Chamber member, is chairman.

Six Hurt In 4-Car Crash Near Peotone

PEOTONE (JNS)—Six persons were injured, four hospitalized, in a four-car crash, 4-8 p.m. Sunday on Route 54 south of here.

Taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Kankakee, for treatment were Fred D. Ward, 24, Chicago, driver of one car, and three of his four passengers, James Ward, 20, Samuel Lloyd, 15 months and Florida Mae Lloyd, 20.

Fred D. Ward is reported in poor condition. The others are in good condition.

Injured slightly in the mishap were Henry Williams, 16, another passenger in the Ward car, and Ethel Campbell, 35, a passenger in a car driven by Terry Campbell, 37, both of Chicago.

Also involved in the mishap were cars driven by two other Chicago motorists, Albert Smith, 27, and Robert Simpson, 22.

According to state police, the chain accident started when Ward lost control of his car, crossed Route 54 and crashed into a bridge, bouncing back onto the highway.

Campbell managed to stop his car but Haan's car went across the highway into the bridge. Simpson's car ran into the rear of the Campbell vehicle.

Damage was extensive. The group will discuss plans in an attempt to exceed last year's drive total of $28,814.66. Leading last year's drive was the Junior Chamber of Commerce, March to the Mother's March collected $4,101.32, general mailing brought in returns of $3,705.22, and school children contributed $3,445.71 for the majority of the 1956 contributions, according to Cryer.

Plans have already been announced for another Junior Chamber of Commerce March to the Mother's March on a county-wide basis on Jan. 31, Cryer said.

Auto Skids Into Sheldon House

SHELDON (JNS)—A mother and her five month old son escaped serious injury when her car spun out of control and hit a house knocking about 20 concrete blocks loose from the foundation here about 6:30 this morning.

Mrs. Elmer McAleer, 252 W. Concord St., and her son, Elmer Jr., were receive X-rays and medical attention.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Center and First streets when Mrs. McAleer lost control of the car on slippery, frost-covered pavement and the car ran into the corner of a house at the northeast corner of the intersection.

Damage to the car was estimated at between $300 and $400.

The Belt Route highway around Kankakee highlights of the local Chamber's year included an industrial factory training program for industry, the appearance of Henry Brandt, manager, before a congressional committee reviewing the excise tax laws, a retail sales clinic and telephone clinic, high school career day, teachers' reception, county fair activities, and the Christmas decorations and Santa Claus, U.S.A. projects for the year.

Manager Brandt points out that membership in the Chamber now stands at an all time high of more than 850 membership accounts with 1,688 individual members. He points out that this is much higher than average Chamber of Commerce membership in communities the size of Kankakee.

Another fact that the Chamber points to with justifiable pride is the rating of Kankakee as an excellent marketplace.

In a quality-of-market rating by Sales Management magazine, Kankakee rated, on a national basis, 22nd best in food sales, 25 in furniture, household and radio goods and 11 as a metropolitan county area in lumber, hardware and building materials.

This study analyzes a community's quality potential rather than actual sales quantity.

A PROFESSIONAL FIRM, is appraising the Kankakee downtown area and industrial property in the county. The firm expects to complete its work in about two months.

The new valuations will be placed on the tax books in 1958, the year of the regular quadrennial assessment. Luehrs said. The main purpose of reassessment is to equalize all assessments, rather than bring about any major increase in overall valuation, he noted.

The county completed 13 1/2 miles of new blacktop highways during 1956, and placed another 8 1/2 miles "leaked" in the new Middle East post to the press before briefing Democratic leaders.

High government sources gave reporters a broad outline of the President's trip to the Midwest, August 6, for a weekend of golfing. Mr. Eisenhower flew back Washington from Augusta late Sunday afternoon.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains developed a rosy tone toward the close on the Board of Trade today after having shown early firmness. Dealings were at their usually slow pace in the short trading session. Some support at the start appeared to be generated by news of a proposed American economic aid program for the Middle East. However, buying never became aggressive.

Keep In Trim Finnish Gymnastics Perfect For Streamlining

By IDA JEAN KAIN To get a lift and banish the bulges, try exercising the Finnish way. Ten fair young ladies from the University of Helsinki in Finland have just terminated a three-month visit to our country. Here they toured American college campuses and demonstrated their Finnish gymnastic system.

As I watched them go through a Master Lesson with the physical education majors at George Washington University, I thought how wonderful it would be to pass along to you some of their body beautiful movements. Here is a trio with emphasis on extension and supple bending.

First, a triple stretch, Finnish style... Standing, raise arms overhead. Now rise on toes, give an extra lift elongating the middle measurement, following through clear to fingertips... as you stretch upwards.

The second movement involves circling. From a standing position, extend right arm straight out in front of chest and swing left arm up, around and down, again bringing the whole body into the upright. Then extend left arm and circle rhythmically with right arm. The completed movement is to step forward with each circle of the arms, letting one movement flow into another.

Follow by circling with both arms. The movement is to step to the side as both arms move up, around... again following the arm movement with an upstretch of complete extension. Take a step to the right, arms circling to the right, looking upwards. Step to the left and circle arms to the left in a rhythmic, flowing movement, always bringing the entire body into the lifting action.

This wily troupe exercised for the sheer joy of movement. Finnish women love gymnastics and carry on these exercises from the time they are little girls until old age. They tell me that in Finland, the list is a help for everyone. Children are forgetful, so the last is a real reminder. As for you, the list will take some of the rush away from that morning hour.

CONSTIPATED? new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

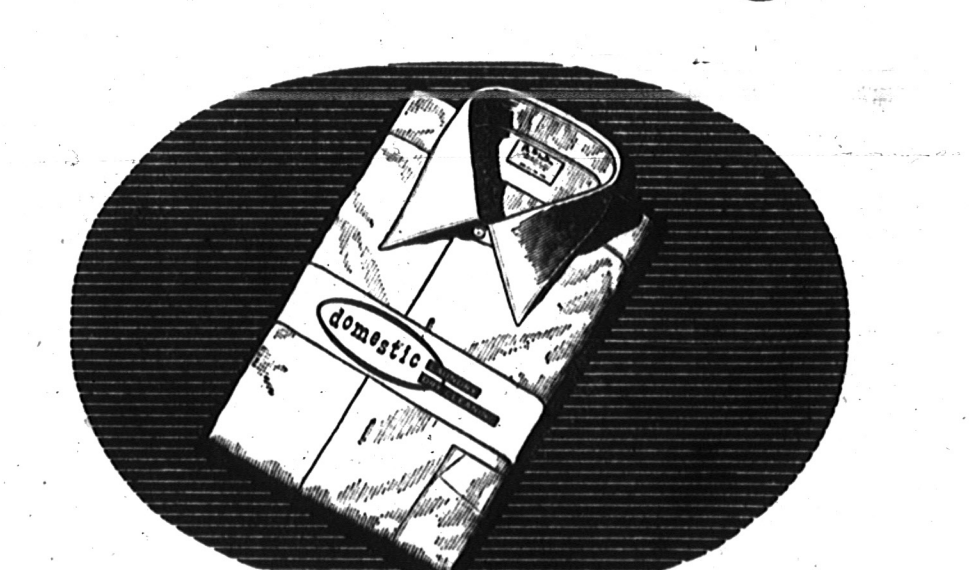

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thirty" colon. A "thirty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, it has been opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body. TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to so-called "stimulate" it to action; to a normal urge to purge. ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONALIN, the

8 Schools Represented On Journal's All-Tournament Teams

Champion Glenbard placed two players on the 1956 All-Kankakee holiday basketball team picked by writers of the Daily Journal, runner-up Lincoln, third-place Ottawa and consolation champion Champaign each landed one first team berth.

All eight teams placed at least one player on the first, second or third team.

Glenbard's two representatives were Tom Thomson, 6-foot, 4-inch center whose selection will find few dissenters, and Bill Biederman, 6-foot forward-guard and the only repater from the 1955 team.

Biederman was placed at forward on the first line along with Lincoln's Dean Aelits, 6-3. The two guards are little fellows who were quarterbacks of their respective teams — Francis Clements of Ottawa and John Easterbrook of Champaign. Clements is 5-7 and Easterbrook a mere 5-5.

Statistics Made

STATISTICS MADE some of the selections easy, particularly in the case of the first string center and one of the guard jobs. Thomson, a big boy who can move, was the leader in rebounding with 39, was second in scoring with 50 points, and third in shooting accuracy with 51 per cent.

The scoring leader was one of the first team guards, Clements, with 40 points. He was second in rebounding with 20, and third in shooting accuracy with 51 per cent.

It is the youngest 15-men all-tournament squad picked in the seven years the classic has been held.

Thomson, a big boy who can move, was the leader in rebounding with 39, was second in scoring with 50 points, and third in shooting accuracy with 51 per cent.

BIEDERMAN AELITS THOMSON EASTERBROOK CLEMENTS

The selection of second and third team stars was far more difficult than usual, for there were more than a dozen players whose performances were almost equal.

OTAWA'S PARKINSON, at forward and guard respectively, were easy choices for the first team but it was not easy to drop Kankakee's John Dole, who returned to scoring form from a three-point slump.

OTAWA'S PARKINSON

His three-day achievements compared favorably with other forwards. Aelits scored 40 points in his first two appearances but was held to six in the last game. However, nobody in the Lincoln line-up scored more than eight points in the title contest.

THE SLIM SLIM STILL

The slim senior still led the Rallypitters in rebounding against Glenbard and was third high rebounder in the tournament, third high scorer with 46 and sixth in free throw percentage.

HORSE LAUGH is enjoyed by Needles the morning after the Kentucky Derby. Running well back in the pack as the horses came into the stretch at Churchill Downs, Needles flashed his famous late speed to beat Calumet Farm's Fabius to the wire in the 2nd "run for the roses."

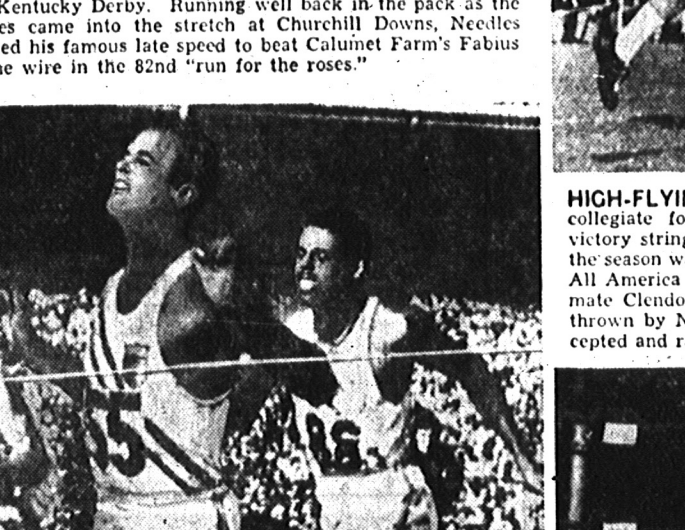

END OF A PERFECT DAY for Yankee pitcher Don Larsen and his battermate Yogi Berra. Larsen had just fired a third strike just pitcherster Dole Mitchell to complete a no-hit, no-run, no-man-reach-base, 2-0 victory over Brooklyn. It was the first perfect game in the major leagues since 1922.

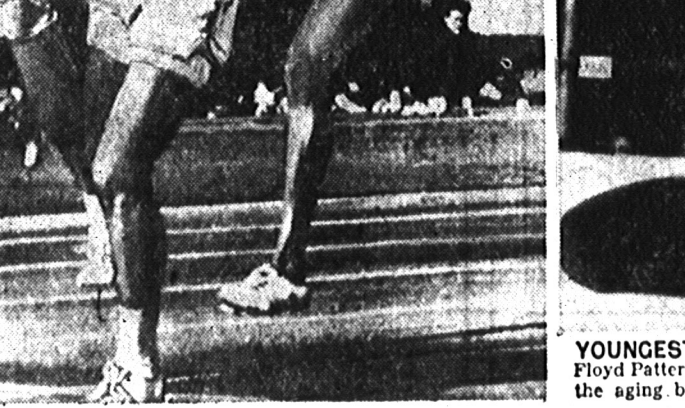

BULLET BOBBY MORROW, a Texas speedster, with a taste for gold, wins the 200-meter to become the first double winner of the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne, Australia. Morrow (52), who also won the 100-meter dash, added a third gold medal as anchor man on the record-breaking 400-meter relay team. The United States track and field men easily outpointed their over-touted Russian opposition.

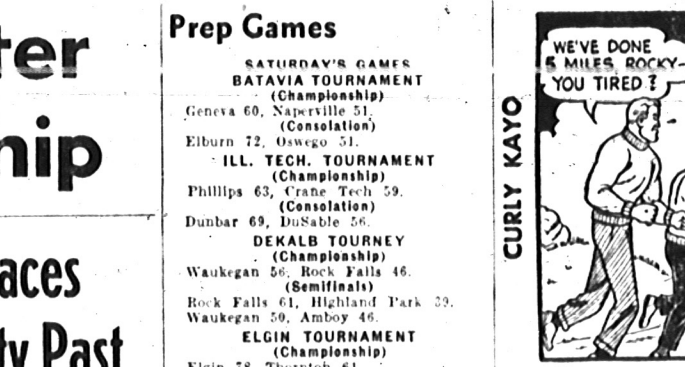

NOPE! I COULD DO ANOTHER FIVE. THE WAY I FEEL, HEY-LOOK WHO'S COMIN' FOR A BOUT?

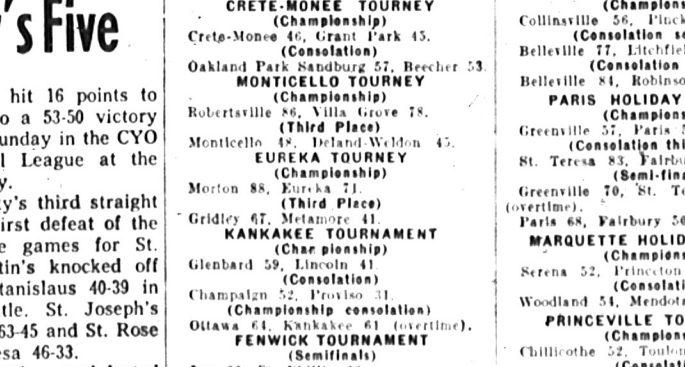

IT'S NICE TO SEE YOU AGAIN, MISS STERLING!

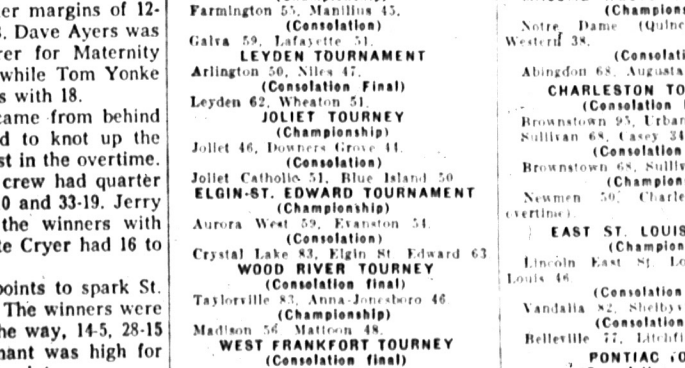

HELLO, CURLY, I'M FIGHTIN' ROOSTER THERE-A-ROO!

YEAH, VERA-AT THE CITY ARE YOU AREN'T FOR A BOUT?

RUNNING FOR HIS LIFE, Paul Russo jumps from his car and races across the track to escape the oncoming cars during the 40th Indianapolis 500-mile race. Russo banged into the southwest turn but came out of it without injury. Twelve cars were involved in a major pile-up or accidents of lesser nature during the Memorial Day race.

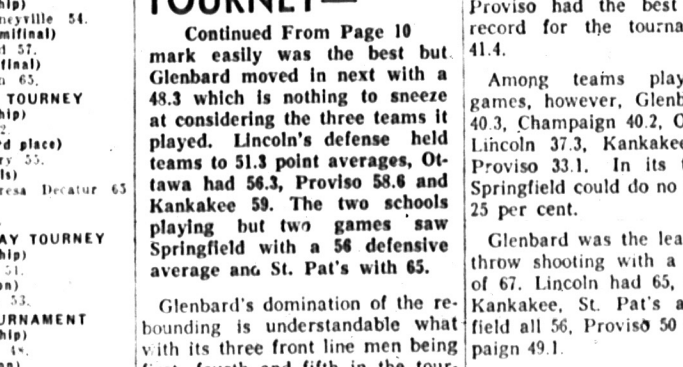

HIGH-FLYING OKLAHOMA, the nation's top collegiate football team, ran their consecutive victory string to 40, a new record. High spot of the season was 40-0 rout of Duke. In place of All-America Tommy McDonald, right, and teammate Clendon Thomas leap for a wayward pass thrown by Duke's Paul Horn. Both were interested and ran 35 yards for a touchdown.

SMOKE SAVES MAN'S LIFE!

DENVER — Because he left a living room chair to get a cigarette, Charles R. Berry escaped injury Sunday night when a car crashed into his home.

The driver, Paul V. Workman, said his car went out of control when the brakes locked on a curve.

"I'm just glad I smoke," said Berry as he surveyed the wrecked living room. "If I hadn't gone into the kitchen to get a cigarette, I'd be dead now."

Don't Do It And Live For Business, Bankruptcies

'57 Best Year

NEW YORK — Most of America's 100 million people the greatest Cinderella second of the year is that irremediable moment at midnight on New Year's Eve.

We hope, however, the striking clock then will signal not so much the death of our old dreams but herald the advent of a bright tomorrow when new and better dreams will come true.

3. Remember that, although it is a time of teeter-totter—one year dying, another year being born, you should retain the detachment of a midwife. Whatever happens, she keeps on living.

4. Don't mix drinks of grape and grain and distilled apples. 5. If you plan to leave your home, check your insurance policies and see that they are all paid up.

6. Don't mix drinks of grape and grain and distilled apples. 7. If you are having a party in your own home, do these things: A. Don't serve any guest an alcoholic beverage until you have first drunk a 12-ounce glass of cold water or milk to remove any real thirst.

8. If you have a midnight night cap, immediately announce you are going to entertain the remaining guests with card tricks. This will sober up any crowd, and send them home early.

9. Prohibit political discussions and dispense martinis only to guests who are accompanied by a muscular and firm-minded test-taller.

10. Insist at 12:01 a.m. that everyone eat a plate of scrambled eggs, an bacon and a cup of hot soup or coffee. If any refuse, call the police and say they're disturbing your peace.

11. Don't mix drinks. 12. If you go to someone else's party, leave your car at home. Take a cab.

13. Don't mix anything — drinks or people — if you know or suspect this is one of the times you shouldn't.

14. If you plan to go to an early morning New Year's Day religious service, walk to the nearest church. If a guy who has to fumble for his car keys insists on taking you or your family anywhere tonight—or his own wife and kids—pour castor oil in his drink, let the air out of his tires, or call the cop.

15. It is always better to make a scene than to become a bloody mess. Many of the holiday accident victims are wives, children or friends of a bottle-ambushed man of good will who is steering a wheel when he can't steer himself. They die or are crippled because they are social cowards who lack the courage to say "no" when they should.

16. Don't—even if you have to miss a New Year's Eve celebration—miss the adventure of being around to see all that will happen in the "potential heaven of '57."

And a happy New Year to you, your family, and all you hold dear. Remember, if you are in doubt tonight—don't. Don't anyway!

FBI Nabs Killer

Wanted In New Orleans

CHICAGO — FBI agents Saturday night seized Joseph James Braghola, one of the nation's most wanted fugitives, who has been sought for five years in the hold-up of a New Orleans used car dealer.

Braghola, 40, was described by the FBI as a hired gunman who was involved in the murder of Henry Street during a $50,000 hold-up in 1950. He will be arraigned today before U. S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley Pike.

Agents said Braghola surrendered meekly in a cocktail lounge on Chicago's South Side. He was unarmed.

STERN was pistol-whipped by a gang of thugs who invaded his home. He died a short time later. His wife was left in the upstairs apartment while the holdup men raided it for money and jewelry.

The FBI said the holdup was planned by a New Orleans robbery gang. Braghola was one of three gunmen imported from Chicago to carry out the robbery, the FBI said, because the plotters feared they might be recognized by their intended victims.
