Graduates Told To Think For World Unity

Rev. Morgan Williams Gives Baccalaureate At Kankakee High

Baccalaureate service for the Kankakee high school graduating class was held last evening in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Kankakee Ministerial association.

Processional and recessional music for the graduates attired in gray caps and gowns, was furnished by Ruth Riley and Eleanor Solitsch. The audience sang the hymn, "O Worship the King." The Rev. Louis Chamberlain, pastor of Central Christian church, gave the invocation. The high school mixed choir sang "Send Out Thy Light." Miss Mildred Fager directed the chorus.

Quartet songs, the ninth chapter of the second book of Samuel was read by the Rev. Dore N. Ester of the First Evangelical church, who presided. The high school quartet, composed of JoAnne Crowder, Bonnie Craver, Richard Ester and Charles Johnston, sang "Beautiful Savior."

The Rev. Morgan Williams of the First Methodist church, and the new president of the Kankakee Ministerial association, spoke on "Escaping Life's Taboos." Rev. Williams opened his sermon by saying, "You have come to an interesting and remarkable point of life. He continued by citing David, of the bible, as the first of a long line of those who escaped taboos. He stated that throughout history, wherever there has been progress someone in some fashion had escaped some taboo. He warned the graduates that "Whether or not you escape taboos depends upon the judgments you make. It takes a lot of courage to go against the taboos set up by a group of people and stand up for one's judgments. We're asking you to stand up for convictions which people of my generation did not. Write in your diary or blue book or slip of paper this statement—there will be no real progress unless I'm able to overcome all taboos or some taboos circumscribing my generation."

Face Great Issue
Rev. Williams said that the graduates must decide whether to obey the customs of the present generation and preceding generations or whether to set up their own rules. He added that by the end of the present war many may be through college and started in life, for "today we are facing an imperative issue that cannot be decided by the waving of flags or beating of drums or flight of bombers, though that will help."

Ashkum Marine In Jap Prison Camp

Orville Roy Borchers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Borchers of Ashkum, formerly of Gilman, a private in the marine corps detachment which defended Wake Island, has been taken prisoner by the Japanese and now is interned in Shanghai, according to word received today from the War department.

The only previous word received concerning Orville was that last Jan. 13 when he was reported "missing." He is one of 200 American prisoners held in Shanghai. Most of these were captured at Wake Island last Dec. 23 after two weeks of resistance against heavy odds.

Last Messages Sent By Radio Operator; Ft. Mills, Corregidor

Washington, June 1—(UP)—The man of Corregidor "bawled like a baby" when the hour of surrender came. This was revealed on the official army hour radio program yesterday when an unedited transcript of radio messages that came from Fort Mills, Corregidor, during the hours just before surrender, May 6, was released.

Here are the last messages sent by the radio operator at Fort Mills on May 5, 1942:

"They are not near yet. We are waiting for word only knows what. How about a chocolate soda. (Pause) Not many. Not near yet. Lots of heavy fighting going on. (Pause) We've only got about one hour 30 minutes before. (Pause) We may have to give up by noon. We don't know yet. They are throwing men and shells at us and we may not be able to stand it. They have been shelling us faster than you can count. (Pause)

Pacific Coast Is Preparing Against Raids

Balloon Barrage Raised And Police Get Masks And Steel Helmets

San Francisco, June 1—(AP)—The gas mask, the steel helmet and the barrage balloon—all of them preparations against enemy attack which official Washington thinks may come at any time—became commonplace sights along the Pacific coast today.

A survey disclosed that countless balloons, probably surpassing even Britain's balloon barrage, now protect every strategic military point along the west coast, from Diego to Seattle.

These captive gas bags have one main purpose to keep enemy planes high enough to impair the bombardier's aim, and to help the anti-aircraft gunners.

Usefulness Proven
The usefulness of such concentrations was proved in England where many a raiding Nazi plane crashed to destruction after snagging steel cable dangling from the high-flying balloons.

Completion of the installation work came while west coast residents, mindful of warnings by Secretary of War Stimson and Civilian Defense director James M. Landis, concentrated on new civilian defense measures.

Police, firemen and air raid wardens were issued gas masks, and policemen were instructed to carry them while on duty. Steel helmets were also passed out to San Diego police, who went on a 12-hour shift with no days off.

"We've got about 55 minutes and I feel sick at my stomach. I am really low down. They are around now smashing rifles. They bring in the wounded every minute. We will be waiting for you guys to help. This is the only thing I guess can be done. General Wainwright is a right guy and we are willing to go on for him, but shells were dropping all night, faster than hell. Damage terrific. Too much for guys to take. Enemy heavy cross-shelling and bombing. They have got us from around and from the skies. (Pause) From here it looks like firing ceased on both sides. Men here all feeling bad, because of terrific nervous strain of the siege. Corregidor used to be a nice place, but it's haunted now. Withstood a terrific pounding. (Pause) Just made broadcast to Manila to arrange meeting for surrender. Talk made by General Beebe. I (Continued on page two)

Nearly 1,000 Volunteers In Defense Corps

Over 500 More Still Needed; Training To Start June 15

Nearly 1,000 volunteers have been recruited to date for duties in the Kankakee citizens defense corps, it was announced today. More than 500 more are still needed before June 15 to train for such duties as air raid wardens, auxiliary firemen and police, bomb and rescue squads, nurses' aides, messengers, canteen corps and medical corps aides.

The two offices receiving registrations, the state employment service office and the chamber of commerce, report that most of the volunteers are signing up through the unions or clubs to which they belong.

Entire Corps To Meet
At a meeting of the executive committee last week-end, it was revealed that the first general meeting of the entire defense corps will be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 16, in Kankakee high school auditorium at which time all members will be sworn in.

J. Walcott, who as communications officer is in charge of civilian defense for the Illinois Bell Telephone system, will show a defense film and give a short talk. Other speakers also will be on the program. Admission will be given at defense corps members only.

Already some of the divisions are organized. Auxiliary firemen are being assigned by Anker Jensen and air raid wardens are getting block numbers through Roy Dusenbury, their chief. The latter has been selected to attend the Illinois state course of defense sponsored by the American Legion to be held June 7-13 at Jacksonville. Air raid instruction will be given at this course.

New Assistant
Chairman C. A. Rollison announced that Wilbur Marshall has been appointed assistant coordinator, succeeding Waldo Roth who resigned because of defense duties with the civil air patrol.

A limited number of pamphlets on preparations for bomber defense will be available at the office of volunteer registration at the state employment service, 198 North Schuyler avenue.

3 Horses Killed When Truck Upsets At Bourbonnais

A semi-trailer truck loaded with 15 saddle horses and a colt turned over on the highway at Bourbonnais on Friday evening. Occupants of the truck were Edly Redman, colored, driver and Marvin Robertson. The accident occurred when the driver, going about 35 miles an hour, tried to make the curve but, seeing that he couldn't, headed toward Roy street just off the curve. The live weight of the horses going to one side of the truck turned it over.

Redman jumped out of the truck before it crashed and received a cut on the wrist. Marvin Robertson, the other occupant was pinned in the cab and received a severe cut on the forehead and possible injuries to his back. He was taken to St. Mary hospital for first aid. Two of the horses were killed instantly, another had to be shot and two had broken or dislocated hips. The rest of the horses received cuts and bruises.

The truck owned by A. B. Bacon of Dallas, Tex., was taking the horses to Michigan City, Ind.

Nazis Attempt To Escape Trap In North Africa

Second In Command Of German Forces Is A Prisoner Of British

By HENRY T. GORRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
Cairo, June 1—(UP)—Gen. Ludwig Cruewell, second to Col. Gen. Erwin Rommel in command of the Axis forces in Libya, is a prisoner of the British, middle eastern headquarters today.

Cruewell commanded the German Afrika Korps; Rommel commands all Axis forces in Libya—German and Italian.

The communique announcing his capture, revealed that Rommel was withdrawing tanks from the main battle area southwest of Tobruk in an attempt to concentrate his forces west of the El Gazala-Bir Hacheim line.

He was pulling them back through two gaps in the British mine fields, his forces had made in their drive eastward last week. From the British communique, this appeared to be a strategic withdrawal, rather than a retreat.

Plane Shot Down
Cruewell was taken prisoner when his reconnaissance plane was shot down over the British lines.

Rommel's effort to concentrate his main forces to the west of the British line was further evidence that Lieut. Gen. Neil M. Ritchie's imperials held the upper hand in the battle of mechanized columns southwest of Tobruk.

The communique conceded that Rommel had "partially succeeded" in his plan, but said a large proportion of his remaining tanks and transport units still were east of the mine fields.

"These tanks are now being attacked by our troops and air forces," it said.

Rommel's efforts to mass his strength west of the El Gazala-Bir Hacheim line led some observers to believe he would attempt another concerted thrust eastward, despite the battering his forces obviously suffered in the battle of Knightsbridge, 28 miles southwest of Tobruk.

(A British military commentator in London declined to state that Rommel had been "defeated" because of the possibility of a counter-attack.)

Colored Woman Carves Boy Friend With Scissors

With the exception of one "cutting scene," the double holiday week-end passed quietly at police headquarters.

Rose Lee Brown, 31, colored, 914 North Rosewood avenue, who has been keeping company with Willie Dudley, 40, also colored, the past three weeks, got into an argument with him at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

When Detective Elmer Nelson and Sgt. Wallace Flannery arrived, they found Dudley with gaping wounds in the right arm and left leg and abrasions about the chest. Rose admitted she carved him with a pair of scissors, but claimed self defense and exhibited a forehead wound showing where he kicked her.

Dudley fainted from loss of blood and was removed to St. Mary hospital in an ambulance. Police were unable to get his version of the incident; the only thing he said when he came to was, "I still love her."

Rose was booked on a charge of assault with intent to kill and before Magistrate Edward Hoennicke she was ordered held in $500 bond for the hearing which was postponed until next Saturday, pending improvement in Dudley's condition.

Wadell McKenzie of Bradley, colored section hand, was arrested by Officers Nelson, Flannery and Tom Cantlin for disorderly conduct following an argument with Richard Peoples, also colored of Bradley, in which the latter sustained a gash on the back of the head. McKenzie was assessed $8.25 by Magistrate Hoennicke.

Voting Light In Election Of Court Justice

This was probably the most quiet election day Kankakee has ever had. Although there were 18 voting places in Kankakee township, for a supreme court election, voting was extremely light.

Judge Francis Wilson of Chicago, candidate for reelection as a state supreme court justice, had no opposition and was assured of election. He ran as a Democrat.

Negro Is Found Guilty—So Is White Girl

Delinquency Case Defendant Files Probation Request

Jerry Lynch 33-year-old Chicago colored man, leader of an orchestra which has been playing here, on "Friday night was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year old Kankakee white girl.

County Judge C. D. Henry pronounced judgment for conviction Friday evening after complying with a motion by defense attorneys to dismiss the first count of the information against the Chicagoan.

The count charged that Lynch enticed the girl to remain away from home.

Signed Complaint
The complaining witness against the colored man was Marian Balchman who has been living at the Y. W. C. A. home, formerly of 295 South Schuyler avenue.

After she admitted she had stayed the night of May 18 with Lynch in the Mattie Brewer hotel in Riverwood subdivision east of Kankakee, the court found her to be a delinquent child and ordered her sent to the state school for girls at

3 New Crosses Mark 74th Memorial Observance Here

For the 74th time, Kankakee on Saturday observed Memorial day, instituted to decorate the graves of the nation's war veterans and do honor to their memory.

This year there was also emphasis on this theme, in ritualistic exercises and prayer, "We renew our loyalty to our country and our flag."

Exercises were divided into five major events—decoration of the graves in cemeteries in the early morning, ceremony for the day's dead on the river bank at Schuyler avenue and River street, parade, A. R. and Spanish-American veterans' service at the courthouse, and the American Legion ceremony on the south lawn of the courthouse square.

This year there were three additional white crosses for the latter ceremony, in token of those who

Cologne Raid Seen As Start Of Offensive

Ponderous Blow Virtually Flattens Great German City

By DREW MIDDLETON

London, June 1—(AP)—The hour of joint United States-British mass aerial assaults to blast the Reich out of war city by city was declared officially today to be nearer at hand and the Germans were advised to look to the still smoldering ruins of devastated Cologne for a glimpse of the future.

With plain words, the generals who give the word to go made it clear that "the Yanks are coming"; that the British-American partnership of power in the air will repeat and may even dwarf the RAF's terrific Saturday night 1,000-bomber attack which loosed on the war-plants of Cologne the greatest weight of steel and explosive ever borne on wings. Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, head of the United States air forces, said his conferences in London were nearly completed and had "hastened" day when our air arm shall join UP—an air offensive against the enemy which he cannot meet, defer something vive."

Supremely Confident
Replying to General A. W. A. Walla men's congratulations on the Cologne raid, Marshall A. T. Harris, chief of the RAF bomber command, said from the "We are supremely confident. They with their aid our COMBAT, which—faced with certain defeat—eliminate their own land—will have forced our two countries."

Several historic buildings were wrecked (the fate of Canterbury cathedral itself was not disclosed, but casualties were reported unofficially as light).

Despite weather unfavorable to a repetition of mass attacks last night the British again sent Hurricanes and Boston bombers over the channel in forays against airmen and rail lines in northern France and Holland, and other flights winged west by daylight to continue the battering.

Of such magnitude was the Cologne raid that only a masterwork of organization, with the bombers swarming over their targets at six-second intervals, made it possible.

Its paralyzing might was told in astronomical figures: Of three-fourths of Cologne airdrome and under a three-mile-high pall of smoke.

Of more than 1,000 bombers roaring over their German targets in Cologne, and elsewhere in the Rhineland and the Ruhr valley in a 90-minute procession of death and destruction.

Of perhaps 1,250 planes in all, including the bombers' protective fighter escort, in the greatest aerial armada ever put into the skies at one time.

Accident Toll For Week-End Shows Decrease

Twenty-Four Violent Deaths In State; Five Traffic Accidents

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Slower driving by tire conscious motorists was credited by authorities for the unusually low figure of but five reported fatalities which traffic accidents contributed to Illinois Memorial day week-end total of at least 24 violent deaths.

This reflected the trend for the entire nation, as gasoline rationing kept eastern motorists at home and interrupted activity in war plants kept many others at their machines. Only 287 violent deaths were reported throughout the United States during the two-day holiday, as against an average of 400 on a normal May week-end. The nation's highways, on which 308 lives were lost during last year's three-day observance of Memorial Day, claimed only 102 deaths this year.

Eight Drownings
Drownings took the highest toll of Illinois deaths, claiming eight lives. Drownings were fatal to three Chicago Negroes, and miscellaneous causes were responsible for the other eight deaths.

Traffic was reported on a par with previous holidays, the Chicago Motor club said, but traffic officials generally agreed motorists drove slower.

A Chicago traffic policeman swam 300 yards into Lake Michigan to rescue a youth whose kayak had capsized, but a companion drowned before the officer, Robert Hoffman, 42, could reach him.

George Dukeman, 45, was fatally injured and Joseph Keam, 22, was critically hurt when their automobile struck a tree near Oakland Sunday. Both resided at Oakland.

Two youths were drowned in separate accidents at Peoria. Harold Nelli, 21, fell from a surfboard drawn by an outboard motor boat in the Illinois river Sunday, while Earl Griggs, 16, drowned Saturday night during a moonlight swimming party at Longshore park on the Illinois river.

Blame Bouquet of Flowers
Charles Sallee, 55, Pittsfield, was fatally hurt when struck on the head by a pipe while working on a pipe line at Auburn in the same town a bouquet of flowers which Mrs. Alicia Simmons, 94, was taking to the cemetery was blamed for an auto accident Saturday in which she was fatally injured. Mrs. Anna Drennan told the deputy coroner that as they were driving the vase of flowers, sitting between the two, started to fall. "I grabbed for the vase," she said, "and lost control of the car." Mrs. Simmons was thrown against the windshield.

800-Mile Blackout Effective Tonight On Gulf Shoreline

San Antonio, Tex., June 1—(UP)—An 800-mile blackout becomes effective tonight along the Gulf shoreline from New Orleans to Brownsville, Tex., on the Mexican border, to protect shipping from the submarine menace.

Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan, Eighth Corps area army commander, ordered all shore lighting doused and a partial blackout put into effect for a depth of 10 miles. The army's five sector commands will enforce the order.

All exterior lighting, except street lamps, was ordered extinguished for a depth of 500 yards. The order affected amusement resorts, ball parks and other night entertainment centers.

The army announced that the navy would continue to control night navigation lights as well as its off-shore patrol of lighting.

Navy Department Casualty List Placed At 8,500

Large Percentage Of Names Are Under "Missing" Classification

Washington, June 1—(AP)—The navy department announced its fourth casualty list of the war to date, raising the total of dead, wounded and missing to more than 8,500 officers and men.

The new list, covering the period April 16 to May 10, inclusive, added the names of 64 dead, 84 wounded and 2,193 missing.

In the first three casualty lists the navy had reported 2,991 dead, 2,495 missing and 907 wounded. The latest accounting included the names of some missing or dead who previously had been reported wounded.

Publication Limited
The casualties include personnel of the navy, marine corps and coast guard and publication was limited, generally, to the home towns of the men listed except for those nationally known.

In this category was Captain Kenneth H. Hoeft of Washington, D. C., senior naval officer in the Philippines at the time of the fall of Corregidor. The navy previously had presumed him to be a prisoner of the Japanese but in the absence of confirmation through official international channels he is currently regarded as missing.

The large percentage of names under the "missing" classification, the navy said, "is due to the fact that many of them were serving in the Manila bay area when it capitulated to the enemy and likely are prisoners of war."

Notify Next of Kin
The bureau of naval personnel is notifying next of kin has pointed out that it will likely be several months before definite information can be obtained on such cases; also that next to kin will be notified promptly when definite word is received.

"Some of those under the 'missing' classification may have been rescued at sea and landed at isolated spots from which they have had no opportunity to communicate with United States naval authorities."

Superiority In The Air Needed Says Gen. Arnold

Head Of U. S. Air Forces Complete Conferences With British Leaders

London, June 1—(AP)—Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, head of the United States air forces, announced today he had "practically completed" conferences with British leaders aimed at developing "the maximum impact of our combined air strength" on Germany.

Arnold, who arrived in Britain last week, declared: "It is obvious no offensive against Nazi-occupied Europe can succeed without air superiority and we mean to have it."

He spoke at his first press conference since his arrival. He praised Saturday night's mammoth raid by the RAF on Cologne as "a wonderful show" and said the sooner American planes could take their place side by side with the RAF on similar raids "the better it will be."

The general avoided questions regarding when the United States fliers would be flying from the British Isles, saying: "I hope the first you hear about it will be when they arrive."

Balanced Unit
He said the American air force in Europe would be a balanced unit of fighters, bombers and all other types of planes.

"In gaining air superiority in air theater," he went on, "we haven't time to wait for ideal airbases, ideal aircraft or ideal conditions."

"Our enemies have demonstrated that they are willing to take their losses. We must be prepared to take our losses too but we are going to make them count."

"It has been agreed that the best results will be achieved if American crews fly in American planes as American units except when emergency conditions dictate another course."

"Allocation of aircraft is being arranged with this principle in mind."

"The chief consideration of our conversations has been to insure that increasing demands of American units on United Nations aircraft production do not impair the British air offensive now or in the future. I believe a mutually satisfactory balance has been struck."

The age-old argument as to whether the horse or the dog is man's friend seems definitely answered by the Seattle chapter of the Red Cross. In caring for several thousand evacuees from Alaska with their pets, chapter workers have not encountered a single horse.

But dogs, yes! Around 150 dogs have been handled since the first boatload of Alaskan evacuees arrived early in December, together with seven cats, two birds and one box of assorted mice. A pet wagon is used to transport all fauna in style from the dock to the registration center. It is an obnoxious ambulance furnished by the army. Once arrived and loaded down in the comfortable kennels the animals' food needs are cared for by the chapter's dog kitchen. It is well supplied with various types of dry and canned foods to suit the most finicky of canine appetites.

Persons who think Alaskan dogs are sled-pulling huskies—throw away a fish and they're fed—will be surprised to learn that most of the dogs of the Alaskan refugees have been the homelike favorites, the civilized delicate cocker spaniel.

Now we bet that is a load off your mind.

Buy war bonds Out of Current Income

Our Government asks you to invest in War Bonds not only because money is urgently needed for war materials, but also because thrift in conserving your income is an important factor in the war economy. Invest in War Bonds regularly . . . buy them as often as you can . . . but buy them out of current income rather than with reserve savings.
