ROMY HAMMES IS PRESIDENT OF KIWANIS

OFFICERS CHOSEN AT ANNUAL CLUB ELECTION HELD AT MCBROOM'S

DR. RUHLE SPEAKS

Gives Interesting Narration Of Glories And Wonders Of National Parks

Romy J. Hammes, head of the Romy Hammes, Inc., was today elected president of the Kankakee Kiwanis club at its annual election in MCBroom's cafe.

Other officers elected were: R. Beard, principal of the Gallagher school, vice president; Ralph E. Francis, head of the Kankakee Citizens System company, trustee. The following are the seven directors chosen for the ensuing year: B. A. Plant, Attorney C. M. Granger, E. M. Curtis, C. L. Markert, W. C. Babet, W. I. Holcomb and Dr. E. L. Longpre. These officers and directors will be installed at a meeting to be held several weeks hence.

Today's meeting was largely attended and there were a number of guests present. Among the latter were Mrs. J. F. Peck, Christian Ruhle, J. C. Bohmker, H. H. Troup, Dr. B. F. Ulan and Earl Francis. The speaker of the day was Dr. George C. Ruhle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Ruhle of this city. Dr. Ruhle, who is now in the U. S. National Park Service at Glacier National park, was introduced by W. I. Holcomb.

Dr. Ruhle's talk was highly interesting and was greatly appreciated by the club. He said that the national park system was founded about sixty years ago by a small band of pioneers who decided that the burning mountains, the gushing rivers, boiling mud, etc., should be reserved for all time for the general public. A committee was sent to Washington and in March of 1909 President Grant signed the bill appropriating over two million acres for use as national parks. There now 22 of these national parks in America.

The national parks, while serving somewhat the same purpose as a museum, must be regarded as more educational than a museum because everything in the parks is throbbing with real life. Signs and guides are provided for the tourists who visit the parks.

B. F. Ferris expressed the club's appreciation for Dr. Ruhle's talk. The address was similar to one which Dr. Ruhle gave before the local Rotary club a year ago. He held his audience spell-bound with his narration of the wonders and glories of the national parks in the far west.

Appeal To Public Spirited Citizens Of This Community

During the next five months our citizens will have to deal with a situation which will make repeated demands upon the generosity. Today, in this community, there are hundreds of unemployed. Today, in this community, there are heads of families able and willing to work who are denied that opportunity. There is misery, poverty and unemployment here in the community where we live and the sad prospect of the next five months is that there will be no improvement.

Who could return of a night to the comfort and convenience of his home, to partake of a satisfying meal and go to bed knowing that there are little children in this community who are hungry; who need warm clothing and shoes? Who would not be moved by pity at the sight of a helpless baby deprived of its milk?

To provide for the needy is the most pressing concern of our citizens. Recognizing that responsibility the Community Welfare Committee, representing the entire community, has been organized and will undertake to raise money, supplies and employment so that no one will suffer.

The first opportunity our citizens will have to help this committee is in buying tickets for the big benefit

GASOLINE STORAGE TANK EXPLODES IN KANSAS; THREATENING

Kansas City, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A gasoline storage tank exploded at the White Eagle Oil corporation plant here today, showering flames over a business building and several garages, and shattering windows of a northbound Missouri-Kansas-Texas passenger train.

Firemen and workers at the plant attempted to prevent the flames from spreading to five other tanks containing more than 15,000 gallons of oil and gasoline.

Passengers on the train, which was a combination of the Texas and Sooner specials from the southwest, were thrown from their seats but none was injured dangerously.

Joe Myers, a dock hand at the plant, was seriously burned. Witnesses said a truck had backed up to the tank. It was believed a spark resulting from contact of the metal truck with the tank ignited the gasoline. The driver of the truck was not found immediately.

FORMER LOCAL BOND JUMPER IS ARRESTED

BERT McWILLIAMS CAPTURED AT CLINTON; NOW ENROUTE TO KANKAKEE

EMBEZZLED $1,049

Accused Of Faking Bank Deposit Slips For Kresge Store In This City

Bert McWilliams, former manager of the local Kresge five and ten cent store who was indicted for embezzlement by a local grand jury, was captured today at Clinton and was enroute to Kankakee this afternoon in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Henry Greenwood.

McWilliams, who is married and the father of two children, confessed at the time of his arrest here that he had embezzled $1,049 of the Kresge company's funds by faking bank deposit slips over a period of two months. He was released from the county jail on $1,500 bond signed by a man named Schroeder who resides at Crete.

McWilliams, after obtaining his release, fled from the city and has been in hiding ever since. The Clinton authorities identified him as the man wanted in Kankakee upon information furnished by States Attorney T. R. Johnston and his investigator, William L. Cantlin. McWilliams had been hiding around Clinton for some time. Several weeks ago he approached a woman who owned a corner house in Clinton and represented himself to be the advance agent for a large oil company that was regarding the site as favorable for the erection of a gasoline filling station.

The woman gave the keys of the house to McWilliams. He inspected the premises and then returned the keys. McWilliams had left one door unlocked, however, and it was found yesterday that he had been hiding in the house and cooking his meals on a stove in the kitchen. The owner of the house ordered his arrest.

Because of his desire to remain hidden the Clinton police believed that he was the man wanted in Kankakee. It is also suspected that he may be involved in other matters for which he is being hunted.

LOUIS DUNN LEFT AS DEAD BY ABDUCTORS

PETER AND RUSSELL GUZZO OF CHICAGO HEIGHTS ARE ARRESTED

HELD AS SUSPECTS

Victim Unable To Give Any Reason For Brutal Assault On Sunday evening

Peter Guzzo and his brother, Russell, of Chicago Heights, are held at the county jail charged with being members of the gang of four, who last night kidnapped Louis Dunn, Essex youth, severely beating him and leaving him for dead on a deserted road near Broadwood.

The Guzzo brothers were arrested late last night at their home in Chicago Heights when their car was identified as being the one used by the kidnapers. They were brought to this city by Sheriff Ed Hornick and Deputies Leo Tetreault, Albert Goodknecht and Don Bleau.

Dunn and two other youths left their homes in Essex about 8 o'clock last evening and started for a dance at Broadwood. They stopped in a restaurant at Essex where four other young men were standing in a group, talking. When Dunn and his two companions left the restaurant and got into their car they were tailed in another machine by the four other men.

At a point about two and one-half miles west of Essex, the four men in the second machine came abreast of Dunn's car on a narrow road, forcing Dunn to drive into the ditch. The four then drew revolvers and pulled Dunn from the car, forcing his friends to remain in the machine.

Dunn was knocked down twice by blows meted by his assailants. After being knocked down, he was kicked by two of the men and dragged into their car. The four and their victim then drove away, leaving Dunn's friends in his car.

Dunn was unconscious most of the time, but said that just before he was thrown out of the machine he overheard his captors trying to determine whether or not he (Dunn) was really dead. They finally stopped the car and, after giving him a few kicks in the face and body, threw him into the road and drove away. Dunn's face and body are terribly bruised and all of his teeth were knocked out. He finally was able to get to a farmhouse and notify the sheriff by telephone. At the same time, an anonymous phone call was received by someone who had noticed the other car trailing Dunn's machine out of Essex. The caller gave the license number of the car and then hung up the receiver.

Anonymous Call
After finding the name of the owner of the car, the local officers drove to Peotone, believing that the attackers would come through that village on the way back to Chicago Heights. The car was found at Chicago Heights parked outside the Guzzo home. The brothers deny any knowledge of the affair and claim they did not use the car all evening.

Dunn and his companions were unable to give any reason for the attack. He was unable to shed any light on who his abductors might be and said that he had never seen them before. He stated that he was not involved in any kind of "rackets" and that the men who beat him did not seem to be intoxicated. The authorities are now working on clues to arrest the two other men who may have been with the Guzzo brothers last evening.

HIT BY CAR

Frank Sabota, 1325 Fifth avenue, Chicago Heights, and Victor Bennett, 1336 Fifth avenue, also of the Heights, were injured yesterday when they were run down by a Ford sedan driven by Ray Barger, 2014 Halsted street, Chicago Heights. The accident occurred on 14th street, near State street. The men are patients in St. James' hospital, Chicago Heights.

CHIC SALE SIZES UP Gene Tunney's Suit

Just been reading the evidence in Gene Tunney's law suit. All I have got to say is that if Gene Tunney is alive today, he is a very different man from the one who was in the ring in the time and fighting the way he did after what he had gone through.

You take the average business man. He signed all the papers and put over all the deals he would be too tired to fight. Instead of getting in the ring and whipping somebody he would go home and go to bed. He would be too tired to fight.

Not knowing anything about the justice of the suit I wouldn't want to take any judgment on it. The $500,000 that Tim O'Connell is asking for seems to be a mighty, mighty long count.

MARY GARDEN IN TEXAS; TO TALK ABOUT EDITOR

Amarillo, Tex., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Momentarily casting aside the role of singer, Mary Garden intends to exercise the proverbial privilege of ending an argument here tonight as a part of her concert program.

The singer who was described last year by Gene Howe, Amarillo Editor, as being "so old she teetered," announced she would preface her concert with a brief discussion of Howe and his knowledge of opera.

Miss Garden and Howe had tea together yesterday and the event was a success. But Miss Garden said afterward Howe was "the queerest person I have ever encountered."

Howe, however, capitulated completely and declared he was her "devoted admirer for life."

Tea was served at the Howe home to fifty invited guests. While several hundred uninvited guests surged around outside the house.

"I think I was the only one there who really had tea," Miss Garden said afterward. "I learned that a Texas tea party is really a coffee party."

The traditional Texas vaquero costume of boots, chaps, six shooter and ten gallon sombrero were left at home for the occasion and Howe wore a frock coat, while Mayor Ernest O. Thompson, appeared in a dinner jacket.

TO EXTERMINATE COMMUNISM AND BANDITRY; CHINA

Shanghai, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The nationalist government today apparently was translating into action its promise to exterminate communism and banditry from China.

More than 100,000 infantrymen were enroute to Hunan and Kiangsi provinces, seats of red banditry, with instructions to rid the infected regions of these brigands.

A squadron of bombing planes, well equipped with bombs, was dispatched to Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi, to help dislodge the communists.

Several gunboats were enroute to Tungting, and Poyang Lakes in Hunan and Kiangsi, respectively. Bandits have been active for many weeks on the shores of these important inland waters.

Brigades continued pillaging and killing, however, apparently unworried by this government threat. Advances from outlying Hunan and Kiangsi communities indicated the bandits remained in control while along the Yangtze communists batteries waged relentless war against domestic and foreign shipping.

A French and a Japanese gunboat experienced sharp attacks from a battery of particularly hard-hitting communist cannons a few miles above Kiangsi Saturday but escaped without casualties.

Dispatches from Hankow said communists were reported to have evacuated Nanchow, northern Hunan, permitting the unidentified American missionaries, a man and a woman, to escape to Yochow, where fourteen other American missionaries and several Europeans are refugees.

LIEUTENANT BENTER IS FAMOUS BAND LEADER

Bandmaster Charles Benter, of the U. S. S. Connecticut, was selected and ordered to Washington, where he was assigned the duty of creating a band worthy of upholding the traditions of the Navy. A band that would rank second to none in the world.

Benter was a navy man. He was a musician as well, a band leader of recognized ability. Bandmaster Benter had enlisted in the navy when a mere boy. At the age of twenty, through steady promotions, he had attained the rank of bandmaster on the battleship Mississippi. He is the youngest man ever to win that rank in the navy.

From the meager band of 18 men that composed the band in 1918, there emerged in 1923 a sterling organization of 63 men, who under the able direction of Lieut. Benter, played their way into the hearts of diplomats, private citizens and governmental heads.

This is the famous band that leads the parades down Pennsylvania avenue on all state occasions.

President Harding was a band man, he played an instrument in a band and was very fond of music. The superb playing of the United States navy band quickly impressed him so that he took this band with him on that unfortunate visit to Alaska. President Harding never returned to Washington alive. Before a San Francisco hotel the band bade their chief a long farewell and played "Nearer My God to Thee" as the body of the stricken president was placed aboard the train to carry it back to Washington.

The Elks bring this celebrated band to the Armory Nov. 8th for two concerts. Afternoon at 2:30

WILL RUSH WORK ON COLORADO DAM

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—(AP)—To the expanded construction plans of the army, navy and the treasury, the Interior Department today had contributed its bit of unemployment relief in the form of expediting work on the Great Colorado River Power and Irrigation dam.

With the object of letting contracts for some $60,000,000 or $70,000,000 of work at the dam site by March 1 or next year, the Department announced it was shunting preliminaries to be ready to call for bids by December 1.

A warning against any sudden migration of labor to the project, however, was issued by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, just before this announcement. He pointed out any employment on a large scale must necessarily await those phases of the project which will not begin this winter.

Now most of the plans for expanded Federal construction have been turned in. Chairman Woods of the President's emergency committee for employment is giving particular attention to the projects of private industry.

Meantime from the bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce came an indication that this government branch and American industry already are looking ahead to international recovery from the economic slump with plans to jump into foreign trade aggressively as soon as signs of clearing appear on the horizon.

The contracts the Interior Department expects to let, next March on the Boulder Canyon solid rock side-walls, and Coffey-dams above and below the site on which the permanent structure will rise. These are necessary to divert the river during the long period the dam will be under construction.

Preparing for this work, the Department will have rushed the building of a village to house the construction crews, a water and power supply and the railroad which is to link the dam with the outer world.

PATH OF REVOLT LEADS TO OFFICE

Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The path of revolution led today to the presidency of Brazil for Dr. Getulio Vargas, insurgent generalissimo and head of the country's Liberal alliance, chief opposition party.

His inaugural as provisional president, just one month after inception of the revolution which nine days ago brought deposition of President Washington Luis, precedes by less than two weeks the day when Dr. Julio Prestes, now a refugee in the British consulate at Sao Paulo, was to have assumed office for a regular four-year term.

Dr. Vargas, who opposed Dr. Prestes in the national elections, claimed that the election of his opponent was fraudulent and that his ballots cast for him were not counted.

RUM RUNNERS HAVE TURNED TO KIDNAPING

Detroit, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The thory that downriver rum runners have turned to kidnaping because of unfavorable conditions in the "importing" business is being investigated today by detectives of the Detroit police blackhand squad in their search for Charles Kaier, reputed wealthy retired real estate dealer, held since last Thursday night by kidnapers.

Inspector John Hoffman, head of the blackhand squad, said that with the passage of the Canadian law forbidding export of liquor to the United States, rum runners have turned to "hacking down" wealthy persons who for "various" reasons would not appeal to the law for protection. He said they found this less hazardous than running liquor across the river. Up to the past few days, however, threats rather than acts have been used to obtain money.

Kaier was taken "from his home Thursday night by four men who posed as federal prohibition agents. One of them showed a badge and said they were taking Kaier to the United States district attorney's office. Shortly after her husband left with the men, Mrs. Kaier received by telephone a demand for $10,000 ransom. She did not communicate with the police but managed to induce the kidnapers to accept $2,000.

Detectives learned of the kidnaping through unannounced sources and trailed Mrs. Kaier to a hotel where she went to deliver $2,000 of the ransom money. She waited several hours Saturday afternoon and night, but the kidnapers' agent failed to appear. Two detectives sat in the lobby near the woman and others were waiting in the street.

Mrs. Kaier went home in a hysterical condition, and neighbors called police.

Inspector Hoffman said that Joseph (Pea) Wozniak, alleged rum runner indicted two years ago in connection with the bribing of two score border customs patrolmen, called at the Kaier home several times and finally was taken into custody for questioning. Entrance of Wozniak into the case led Hoffman to believe that Kaier was acquainted with rum runners and is held by them for ransom.

SEEK TO LEARN HOW PISTOLS GOT TO THE CONVICTS

Ossining, N. Y., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Sing Sing prison authorities sought to learn today how pistols were smuggled to four inmates whose attempt to shoot their way out resulted in the death of one of them and the wounding of another prisoner and a guard.

An autopsy indicated that Harry Gordon, 23, the inmate who lost his life in the attempted break Saturday night, committed suicide after he had wounded a guard and had been shot twice by the guard.

As a precaution against another attempt to escape, 100 guards yesterday searched the quarters of the 2,300 inmates and other parts of the prison. They found a coil of rope with a hook attached similar to that used by the four in their attempted break, a few table knives and an imitation pistol fashioned from wood.

Edward Ryan, William LaPierre and Herbert Davis, the survivors, were held in solitary confinement pending determination of what charges will be made against them for their part in the attempt to escape. The wooden pistol was found in Ryan's cell.

Pope Signal officer of the Sixth Corps area here announced.

Stations receiving comprehensive copy of the message will be placed upon the honor roll, which will be arranged to show the honor men in each Corps Area.

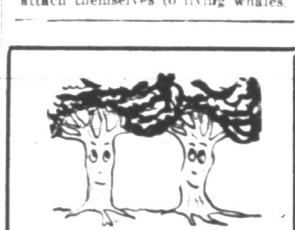

The Army Amateur Radio system is an organization of amateur radio operators throughout the United States who have pledged their services to the government in an emergency.

Since the only emergency expected will be something in the nature of a disaster caused by the natural elements, whether local or extensive in scope, the members of the Army Amateur Radio system are prepared to handle relief messages.

The system functions, tactically, every Monday night during the active year from the second Monday in September until the first Monday in June. Its members man their stations and operate in their respective nets, gradually absorbing and adopting the procedure used by the signal Corps and perfecting themselves as operators capable of carrying on in an emergency.

SPECIAL COURSE FOR FARM MANAGERS

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Arrangements for farm managers at Illinois state institutions to take a special course of training at the University of Illinois during January 1931, are being completed by A. C. Everingham, farm garden and dairy consultant in the state department of public welfare.

Plans call for the presentation of a specialized course for the welfare department's head farmers, as a new feature of the annual farmers' short course.

Officials of the University of Illinois, Everingham reported, will assign agricultural extension specialists to conduct this course. It will embrace topics of particular importance to the men in charge of institution farming operations. Special rooms will be set aside for them during the short session at the university. Details as to the course of study, the instructors and the dates are to be announced later.

Farming operations are conducted at about twenty state institutions, and the men in charge of the work will be directed to take this instruction, in order to improve the supervision of the production of food commodities by and for the inmates of the state's penal and charitable institutions, the farm consultant states.
