Mitchell Sees No Inflation Trends

DETROIT (AP)—The steel wage settlement is in line with others negotiated this year and cannot set off a wage spiral with highly inflationary effects, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said today.

And there will be no steel price increases for some time to come if management and labor try to increase the rate of steel productivity, Mitchell added. He said he was sure both sides would make such an effort.

Kerner Says He Will Resign As A County Judge

Will Devote Full Time To Campaigning

CHICAGO (UPI)—State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman today announced he would run for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Lohman made the announcement at a news conference in his office here.

CHICAGO (AP)—Judge Otto Kerner announced today he will resign as Cook County Judge Jan. 31 to devote full time to campaigning for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Kerner, who has been on the county bench since 1954, was endorsed as a candidate by the Democratic State Central Committee on Friday. Republican officials had demanded his resignation after the endorsement was announced.

"Having been a member of various bar association committees," Kerner said in a statement, "I have had ample opportunity to become familiar with judicial canon 28 of the American Bar Assn. and similar canons approved by the Chicago and Illinois State Bar Associations."

"IN MY OPINION these judicial canons indicate conflict, however slight, between my duties as county judge and my candidacy for governor of the state of Illinois."

Kerner said his primary consideration was the question of what best serves the public interest, and he added:

"Therefore, I am preparing to resign as county judge . . . on Jan. 31." He said a special election would be necessary to fill the County Court vacancy.

Politicians speculated that State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman might buck the regular Democratic organization and seek the nomination for governor on his own. He was reported miffed about the Kerner endorsement.

Viewpoints On Nixon's Entry Differ Widely

Vice President Is Considered A Cinch Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's entry into the presidential race sparked both praise and criticism during the weekend.

Politicians were not at all hesitant in expressing their views not only on Nixon, but also on matters ranging from religion to missile tests and alleged executive misinformation.

Nixon became an acknowledged GOP candidate by consenting to have his name and delegate slates entered in three primaries. The announcement was made without fanfare by his press representative, Herbert G. Klein.

THE THREE primaries involved are in New Hampshire March 8, Ohio May 3 and Oregon May 20. Nixon is considered a cinch for the nomination. New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said during the holidays he would not seek it, and no one else has appeared to challenge Nixon.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), the Senate Republican leader, said he wasn't surprised by what he called the agreeable news about Nixon. He added "we do believe we have a candidate who is a winner."

Dirksen said Rockefeller had made a "very realistic and very practical" move in withdrawing. Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.), Republican national chairman, said Nixon would be an "articulate, vigorous and tough candidate."

DEMOCRATIC National Chairman Paul Butler had a different description. He termed Nixon a "shrewd, devious political operator."

The two chairmen agreed on one point. They told a television audience that religion will not be an important factor in the fall elections.

One of the announced contenders for the Democratic nomination is Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), a Roman Catholic who also has made it clear that he thinks religious should play no part in the consideration of candidates.

Kennedy's only announced opponent for the nomination so far is Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.). He was speech-making in the West during the weekend.

Humphrey said in an interview at Salt Lake City that the United Nations should supervise missile tests and that the United States should ask the U.N. to supervise underground nuclear tests.

Hoffa Blasts John Kennedy

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, has accused Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) of ignoring labor in his bid for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

In an address before 1,000 members of the Buffalo Joint Council of Teamsters Sunday night, Hoffa called Kennedy a "fraud on the American people."

At a press conference earlier, Hoffa said the Massachusetts senator "has sacrificed the American labor movement in the hopes of getting some help in Los Angeles from the Southern bloc at the presidential convention."

He referred to Kennedy's part in amending the Landrum-Griffin labor bill.

Speed Blamed For Ohio Train Wreck

MAINTENANCE CREWS begin task of train derailed Sunday, killing four persons and clearing tracks where a speeding passenger injuring at least 50. (Unifax)

Rescuers Think 4 Dead; 50 Hurt

WELLINGTON, Ohio (AP)—A 10-car New York Central passenger train roared through a cross-over switch at an estimated 80 miles an hour in mist and fog Sunday night and hurtled off the rails. At least four persons died and more than 50 were hurt.

The eastbound train was being detoured to the westbound track so it could pass a freight train ahead. A railroad official said the top speed for this crossover should have been only 15 miles an hour.

"Preliminary investigation indicates that the train was traveling in excess of the maximum permissible speed," said a brief statement from William B. Salter of Indianapolis, general manager of the New York Central's southern district.

FARLIER SALTER had said that speedometer recording tapes in each of the Southwest Limited's three diesels had been read and that two of them indicated the speed of 80 m.p.h. The third tape was questionable.

The train's engineer, H. W. Kirstein, 63, Cleveland, Ohio, was injured and taken to a hospital.

Marion Tudor, 20, a shipping clerk who was a witness to the accident, said he pulled Kirstein from the cab window. He quoted the engineer as saying his brakes and speedometer were not working.

There were about 155 passengers aboard — some with destinations as far east as New York City — when the speeding train crumpled into a jagged line of steel in this village of 3,000 about 37 miles southwest of Cleveland.

Leaking diesel fuel caught fire and flashed up to a height of 50 feet for a brief period, the flames mingling with the fog.

TWO CARS TOOK the brunt of the smashup. One was a combination baggage-passenger coach which spun sideways across the tracks and was smashed broadside by the coach which followed it. Most of the dead and seriously injured were removed from these two cars.

Coroner Paul Kopsch of Lorain County said bodies of these persons had been recovered:

Phil J. Lehman, 46, of Cleveland, the fireman on the wrecked train, who died in the locomotive. George P. Rummel, 55, of Indianapolis, and Kenneth Hale, 42, of Route 1, Rosedale, Ind., both Pennsylvania Railroad conductors en route to a meeting in Cleveland.

Audrey G. Cox, 64, of St. Paris, Ohio, was dead on arrival at Allen Memorial Hospital in Oberlin.

Allen Memorial Hospital at Oberlin, which received most of the injured, said it had treated and released 33 persons and admitted 19. It is 10 miles from the wreck scene.

Other injured were sent to hospitals in Elyria, Norfolk, Medina and Lodi.

'We Wanted To Leave Before We Roasted'

Survivors Tell How They Fled Tragic Wreck

WELLINGTON, Ohio (AP)—The glare of flames crackling outside their darkened, crumpled train coaches presented for many survivors of Sunday night's wreck their most frightening memories.

"The women in our car," said Ann Morrison, of Denison, Tex., were too scared to yell. We were only gripped by the desire to get out of that car before we roasted."

Miss Morrison, New York-bound for a vacation, was in a coach more than half way from the front of the train.

THE SIGHT of human beings held fast by twisted wreckage spurred Margaret Brown, 33, of Lyndhurst, a Cleveland suburb, to get her two boys and herself out of the coach. They had relatives in Marion, Ohio, with relatives and were returning home.

"Suddenly there was a terrific screaming sound," Mrs. Brown related, "then a lot of bumps, and I yelled, 'Oh, my God, it's happening!'"

The Browns were in the first coach. The boys were hurled to the floor.

"Things were flying through the air," Mrs. Brown said. Then the lights went out.

BY THE LIGHT of flames outside, Mrs. Brown saw other passengers pinned in strange twisted positions.

"I told my boys to crawl out and not look back," she said.

Russia Tries New Style Diplomacy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union's newly announced rocket tests in the central Pacific may be the start of a new campaign of missile diplomacy. It may be aimed to impress Asian nations as well as the United States and European countries.

U. S. officials note that the Moscow warning for ships and aircraft to remain out of the target zone between Jan. 15 and Feb. 15 neatly brackets two important diplomatic events:

1. The formal signing of a new 10-year security treaty between the United States and Japan scheduled to take place at the White House on Jan. 19. Japan's Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and President Eisenhower will be present.

2. The 10-day visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to neutral Indonesia, due to begin in mid-February.

Any prestige gathered by spectacular space accomplishments would come, too, just ahead of a series of European diplomatic negotiations leading up to next May's four-power summit conference and Eisenhower's visit to the Soviet Union in June.

ANOTHER LESS immediate objective may be a Soviet desire to boost Communist prestige in Asia following the great success of Eisenhower's recent visit to South Asia.

Psychologically the Soviet rocket move could also be expected to call attention to the presence of Soviet fleet units in the Pacific high seas area, generally recognized as having been under U.S. control since World War II.

Khrushchev has cautioned Japan in the past of what he described as the dangers of a military alliance with the United States.

Also Khrushchev told former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman last year during a Moscow interview that the Soviet Union would support Communist China with rockets if necessary in any trouble over Formosa.

NEWLYWEDS

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Ethel Davis 80, and William Odell, 88, will be married Tuesday at the home for aged men and couples. Odell said "Neither of us is getting any younger."

Crowds Cheer As Brigitte Has Baby

PARIS (UPI)—Brigitte Bardot gave birth today to a seven-pound four ounce boy in an accouchement so well publicized that crowds gathered outside her West End apartment to cheer.

The 25-year-old movie star who married 25-year-old matinee idol Jacques Charrier last June 18 named her firstborn Nicolas. The birth was reported to have been without difficulty and both mother and baby were "doing fine."

Brigitte, whose scantily-clad movie romps made her a symbol of sex in France, is the highest-paid movie actress in French history. In a few years her figure and the few wisps of cloth which usually covered it rocketed her from obscurity to such fame she is known merely as "BB."

Charrier himself attained notoriety last fall when he was drafted into the French army. The sight of his wife's scantily-clad pinups on the barracks walls and the vulgar remarks of his buddies shocked him into a case of nerves.

Find Missing Heiress In Paris; Say She Left With Chauffeur

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP)—Missing heiress Gamble Benedict today was traced to Paris after a freighter trip from New York with a married, Romanian-born chauffeur.

New York police said the 18-year-old New York debutante sailed from New York Dec. 31 aboard the freighter Edga with Andre Porumbeanu, 35, onetime chauffeur-buttler for Mrs. Arde Bulova, widow of the watch king.

The freighter arrived in Antwerp Saturday. Both Miss Benedict and Porumbeanu remained aboard Saturday night, sources in Antwerp said.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON Miss Benedict boarded an express train which got to Paris late in the afternoon.

It could not be learned immediately whether she remained in the French capital. When they sailed from New York, she had listed Naples as her destination and Porumbeanu gave Paris as

GAMBLE BENEDICT

Dec. 27 after a society party. Friends had reported seeing her several times in New York since then.

Her grandmother, Katherine Geddes Benedict, who is under a physician's care, reported the girl missing. Friends said Mrs. Benedict, widow of Henry Harper Benedict, former president of the Remington Typewriter Co., had objected to the girl's seeing Porumbeanu, whom she met last summer at Mrs. Bulova's Long Island home.

POLICE SAID the break in the case came when an official of the Cosmopolitan Shipping Co. reported the couple had sailed on the Edga. The official said Miss Benedict and Porumbeanu occupied separate cabins during the 10-day crossing.

The Benedict family attorney, Robert Hoffman, said he might go to Europe to try to return Miss Benedict.

Golden Silence Cost Five Bucks Per Head

DETROIT (AP)—Silence was almost golden Sunday night. It cost up to five bucks a ticket.

The occasion was a "silent record concert and recording session" with benefits going to the University of Detroit Chorus tour fund.

While the silence from the stage was punctuated by some rather loud noises, the audience churned up sound waves with laughter and applause.

MUCH OF IT was for TV comedian Henry Morgan, who tipped onto the stage in stocking feet and delivered a silent monologue, then erupted into some loud witticisms.

The U. of D. chorus gave a silent rendition of "When the Saints Come Marching In." But a record billed as "Scottish Highland Silence" produced the loud wail of bagpipes.

The program was an outgrowth from a silent record craze that started at the University of Detroit when students complained that jukeboxes in the Student Union interfered with studying. Records were produced which gave three minutes' silence for a dime. Some were played so often they produced noisy needle scratches and had to be replaced.

THE PROGRAM requested ladies to remove their costume jewelry so it wouldn't clank. But then the audience of about 600 in a downtown theater was urged to take part in shouting the chorus from an ancient Greek play which somehow became involved in the program.

The concert ended with a rendition of the Anvil Chorus. Rubber mallets were hammered on anvils topped with foam rubber.

Find Wife Of Touhy's Friend Ill

CHICAGO (AP)—The wife of a retired police sergeant who was with Roger Touhy when he was hanged to death was found unconscious Sunday night in her apartment.

Physicians at Loretto Hospital said Mrs. Genevieve Miller, 54, suffered a stroke. They said she may also have fractured her skull when she collapsed. Her condition was described as very critical.

Her husband, Walter, 62, was not at home when his wife was stricken. Wounded in the gangland ambush of Touhy, Miller has been living elsewhere since his release from Loretto Hospital Friday.

He has told police he fears the killers of Touhy may make another attempt to take his life.

Mrs. Miller was found on the kitchen floor of the Miller apartment by a son, Walter Jr., 35, who went there after the elder Miller was unable to reach his wife by telephone. The son said his father had told him to force their way into the apartment because both front and rear doors were bolted and chained.

Police said there was no suspicion of foul play.

Touhy, 65-year-old prohibition era gang leader, was slain Dec. 16 only 23 days after his release from prison after serving nearly 20 years for a 1933 kidnaping.

In 1908, he married the former Alma Bournon and, through his father-in-law, Edward Bournon, became interested in the drug business. He worked an apprenticeship in Bournon's drug store and took his state pharmacist's exam.

Today is Monday, Jan. 11, the 11th day of the year, with 352 more days in 1960.

The moon is approaching full phase. The morning stars are Mars, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:
In 1785, the Continental Congress convened in New York City.

In 1842, William James, American philosopher, was born.

In 1861, Alabama seceded from the Union.

In 1878, milk was delivered in glass bottles for the first time.

In 1932, Captain Herkutt Carlson, the heroic captain of the "Flying Enterprise" landed at Falmouth, England, and greeted by a cheering crowd.

In 1939, an airliner crashed near Rio, killing 34 persons.

According to Clifford Martell, state trooper, who investigated the accident occurred on a gravel road a mile west of Chatsworth and near the junction of Route 24.

Mr. Finks, who was driving alone, apparently missed a turn in the road and crashed into the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad bank.

Authorities said the Finks car was northbound on the gravel road when the accident happened. He suffered severe head injuries. His car was listed as a total wreck.

Finks is employed at the American Screen Factory, Chatsworth.

Important points to watch for in the new spring coat fashions are width at shoulder and sleeve, wide or collarless necklines and semi-fitted. Examples are shown here in coats from America's top designers. Camel's hair coat (left) is double-breasted, has shoulder, sleeve and body width. Collar is fairly high and notched. The white coat is all-important this spring.

Spring Coats Are Cape Cut

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK (NEA)—Spring coats shape up for 1960 with much width at shoulder and sleeve, many collarless necklines, lots of cape cuts.

Though this cape cut is the newest, silhouette, fitted, semi-fitted and belted coats are shown in every major collection. The new line has bindings in contrasting color for a new, fresh look.

As the cape cut is handled by top designers, it's actually a coat with cape back and flat front. This cape look is aided by deep dolman sleeves or sleeves with wide and pushed up that they increase the general look of shoulder fullness.

For coats with collarless necklines, there are bindings in contrasting color for a new, fresh look.

This will be a big season for white coats. Most of these have beautiful textured surfaces so that both fabric and cut give these coats a dramatic emphasis. The word "white" takes in grayed and cream shades as well as the true white.

Shading off from the whites, there are black-and-white trends which give a gray effect. And then there are black-and-white plaids which stress the white.

Boy Is Maturing Too Fast

By DR. PAUL POPENOE

Many a family has had the experience of Mr. and Mrs. P. and likewise found it alarming.

"We have a 9-year-old boy who is as mature physically as the ordinary high school boy. He has always seemed normal in every way, but during the past year he seems to have gone through a perfectly normal puberty. The result is that he is now a young man."

However, is that he now has all the physical characteristics of a man to produce puberty in a boy even 4 or 5 years old. (A similar case in a girl may bring about to marry. It's really a little frightful to us, and the physician does not have any suggestions. Our son is a good boy in every way, but we just don't know how to tell him his case. He's so far out of step with the other children in his class."

THIS PRECOCIOUS puberty may be either normal or abnormal. Mr. and Mrs. P. I judge that in your son's case it is perfectly normal—at least from one point of view. Just as some children get their growth in height earlier than others, so others get their reproductive development early. Your son happened to get a combination of inherited traits that make for early maturity. There is a record of one family in which over some generations, 27 of the male members went through this puberty almost in childhood. In fact this one is not excessively rare. Perhaps one boy in every thousand would show at least some of the evidences of puberty and the same is true of girls.

There is another and abnormal form that is usually due to tumor on the adrenal cortex. The adrenals are two glands of internal secretion, located near the kidneys, as their name implies. A tumor on the outer part, or cortex, of this gland stimulates excessive

What To Do When Pounds Won't Budge

By IDA JEAN KAIN

If the pounds play hard to get off—this Monday is the psychological time for a morale booster. Regardless of what the pointer on the scales indicates, if you have cut calories below your requirements, you have been using up fat.

However, due to the bupropion, water retention, you may not weigh less. At this stage of the diet, weight loss has a wide-up-and-down swing which varies with the individual. On the same diet, one overweight may lose a gratifying number of pounds, 3 to 4 the first week, while another loses only a pound in twice the time. Worse, some dieters actually appear to gain.

Here are the facts: When calories are cut, body fat is called upon to make up this deficit. Fat is stored in the body in individual cells. As the fat is used, the cell membranes may become distended with water. Water weighs more than fat. It has displaced. Be assured, the water balance always adjusts—and when water is released there will be an abrupt and gratifying drop in weight.

Slimming—1960 Style

BE PREPARED FOR recurrent water swings. After you have lost part of the soft, easy-to-lose fat, you will strike a plateau. It's these plateaus that discourage dieters. You'll think you will never resume reducing! Say with the diet.

To keep up your morale, carry on with regular exercise and measure your progress with the tape measure. You can slim down inches with or without losing pounds.

When you lose fat at first, do not expect to continue at this brisk clip. The first loss was partly water. From this point on you'll be losing more slowly, but the loss will all be fat. As long and gratingly drop in weight.

Boy Is Maturing Too Fast

By DR. PAUL POPENOE

Many a family has had the experience of Mr. and Mrs. P. and likewise found it alarming.

"We have a 9-year-old boy who is as mature physically as the ordinary high school boy. He has always seemed normal in every way, but during the past year he seems to have gone through a perfectly normal puberty. The result is that he is now a young man."

However, is that he now has all the physical characteristics of a man to produce puberty in a boy even 4 or 5 years old. (A similar case in a girl may bring about to marry. It's really a little frightful to us, and the physician does not have any suggestions. Our son is a good boy in every way, but we just don't know how to tell him his case. He's so far out of step with the other children in his class."

The old game of trying to pad an expense account so that an eagle-eyed boss would not catch a personal item hidden in it took on a new slant when income taxes became so high.

The game was to get a tax break by charging personal items such as Florida vacations for pleasure to an expense account. This wasn't too difficult if the company was small and there was no independent boss to check on expense accounts.

To crack down on expense account abuses, the Internal Revenue Service drew up some new rules which went into effect last year.

The first step in applying these rules is to determine which of the following two categories you are in:

EMPLOYEES WHO were required to and did submit an expense account voucher or other accounting to their employers which listed their business expenses.

Employees who were not required to or did not account to their employer for business expenses.

If you fall in the second category, then you must file on Form 1040W or Form 1040 and you must attach thereto a statement showing:

1. The total of all amounts received as advances or reimbursements, including amounts directly or indirectly charged to the employer through the use of credit cards; and
2. Your occupation, the number of days away from home on business, and the total amount of business expenses paid or incurred in 1959. The expenses must be broken down into broad classifications like transportation, meals and lodging away from home overnight, entertainment expenses, and other business expenses.

IF THE ADVANCES or reimbursements received from your employer exactly equal your business expenses, it is not necessary to make any further entry on the tax return. If the employer's payments to you exceeded your business expenses, the excess must be reported as income on page 1 of Form 1040 of 1040W. If your expenses exceeded the employer's payments, the excess may be deducted as provided on page 3 of the 1040 instructions and page 3 of the 1040W instructions.

—The above rules do not apply to employees who are required to submit detailed expense accounts to their employers and receive only enough to cover their expenses. It is not necessary for such employees to attach any statement or list their business expenses on the return, and they are free to use either of the three return forms.

Where reimbursements exceed expenses, Form 1040 or 1040W must be filed and the excess must be included in the employee's income. If expenses exceed the reimbursements and the employee wants to deduct the excess, he must submit with his return the information specified in paragraphs 1 and 2, above, relating to employees in the second category and he must file on Form 1040 or 1040W.

To "account to your employer" means to give the boss a detailed written report of your expenditures. However, detailed reports are not needed if your employer gives you not more than $15 per day for living expenses and not more than 12½¢ per mile for travel in the U.S. If you are related to your employer, you may have to prove your expenses to Internal Revenue even though you do "account to your employer."
