Request Denied For 1,200 New Federal Jobs

Committee Cuts $270 Million From Omnibus Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration requests for more than 1,200 new government jobs were denied today by the House Appropriations Committee in an $8,142,223,900 omnibus money bill for the year starting July 1.

The proposed new jobs would have been scattered through more than a score of miscellaneous agencies whose appropriations are provided in the bill.

New funds approved were $270,729,600 less than President Eisenhower had requested but were $1,108,360,200 more than the same agencies were given for the current year ending June 30.

INCLUDED WERE funds for a pension for Eisenhower starting next year, $5,322,902 for the Veterans Administration, 60 million dollars for airline subsidies, 150 million for slum clearance and urban renewal grants, 5 million to start an experimental program on housing for needy elderly persons, and $144,836,000 for public building construction in 20 cities.

The President's pension is provided under a law which now applies to Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and the widows of Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Eisenhower had requested financing for about 8,200 new jobs in the various agencies, the biggest increases being 5,025 for the Federal Aviation Agency and 1,300 for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The committee cut 907 from the aviation agency request and 373 from the space agency.

O'Donoghue Ouster Move Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today rejected a legal move to oust Martin F. O'Donoghue as chairman of the court-appointed board of monitors overseeing the Teamsters Union.

The action was brought by John Cunningham of New York, one of the group of rank-and-file Teamsters who brought an earlier suit to bar James R. Hoffa from taking office as Teamsters president. Cunningham since has broken with the other members of the anti-Hoffa group.

Cunningham appealed from an order of Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts denying his motion for removal of O'Donoghue, a bitter critic of Hoffa, from the monitor chairmanship.

Hoffa today denied to reporters that he had anything to do with Cunningham's action.

The appeals court rejected contentions that O'Donoghue should be disqualified from acting as a monitor since he had been an attorney in earlier litigation aimed at barring Hoffa from taking office.

The monitorship is an outgrowth of a suit brought by New York area rank-and-file members to invalidate Hoffa's election as union president.

Under a compromise settlement of the suit, Hoffa was allowed to take office provisionally, but a board of monitors was appointed to supervise a since cleanup.

Foreign Ministers Agree On Summit Talks Plans

(Picture on Page 34.) WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western foreign ministers today concluded three days of talks with word they agree on strategy to be used at next month's summit meeting with the Russians.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told newsmen, "We have had a very satisfactory meeting." "Agreement was reached," chimed in France's Maurice Couve de Murville.

The final session, which lasted less than two hours, was devoted to the catchall topic "East-West relations."

These included secondary plans considered for presentation to the Soviets at the heads-of-state summit parley starting in Paris May 16.

Wednesday, the U. S., French and British foreign affairs chiefs reached speedy accord on two major items headed for summit discussions — Germany-Berlin and disarmament.

But U. S. officials were reportedly cool toward a French plan for

"He is not there, but is risen," the women said to the disciples, who already had believed and trusted too much in vain to believe more. But could it be true, they wondered, and went to see themselves. The fourth of this year's Easter series—"The Hallowed House"—can be found on page 18.

East-West control of arms shipments to newly emerging countries.

Among other things, they fear such big-power control might give the appearance of dictatorship toward the smaller nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was also said to be lukewarm to a British proposal for seeking Soviet agreement to an international code of ethics. The United Nations already has such a code. But he was more favorably disposed toward stepping up cultural and information exchanges with the Soviet Union.

THES' AND a handful of other ideas were up for possible scrutiny under the catchall "East-West" relations agenda slated for the windup meeting of the three-day foreign ministers conference.

Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and France's Maurice Couve de Murville are charting strategy for their government heads to use at the summit parley with the Soviet Union starting in Paris May 16.

Wednesday the foreign ministers held separate meetings on two major "cold war" disputes headed for summit discussion—Germany-Berlin and disarmament — and speedily came to "complete agreement."

Basically, they drafted no new proposal but reaffirmed fundamental positions previously taken by the West on these issues.

ON GERMANY and Berlin, they agreed to seek a temporary solution.

Porter Loses Red Chinese Passport Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today upheld the State Department's denial of a passport to Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore) to travel in Red China.

A three-judge panel of the appellate court unanimously rejected Porter's contention that as a member of Congress he has a right to go anywhere in the world except in time of war or emergency.

The court said the case did not involve any conflict between opposing claims of constitutional powers of the legislative and executive branches of government. Porter contends there is such a conflict.

The litigation arose when Porter applied last June for permission to visit Red China. His application was denied and he carried the case to court.

Porter advocates movement of this country toward diplomatic recognition of Red China, saying his aim is not forgiveness but "simply to establish communication."

Thailand Air Chief 1 Of 18 Killed In Crash

Transport Rams Hill Taking Off After Pacific Conference

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — The chief of Thailand's air force and 17 other persons died today when their VIP transport crashed after takeoff following high-level military talks here.

Air Marshal Chalermkiat Wattana, other officials, and their wives were killed aboard a DC4 of the Thai air force. It was carrying them back to Bangkok after a conference of free world air commanders from the Pacific area.

Rescue workers today recovered bodies of 16 of the 18 victims from the wreckage scattered on a cloud-hidden hill near Taipei international airport. There were no survivors among the 10 high-ranking passengers and their wives and seven crewmen.

CHINESE AIR FORCE sources said the apparent cause of the crash was pilot error. They said the pilot did not follow the correct flying pattern after leaving the airport.

The site of the disaster was about six miles southeast of Taipei Airport. There were no distress calls previous to the crash and witnesses said there was no indication of any engine trouble.

Among the 10 passengers on the plane beside the Thai air chief were his wife and his chief of intelligence operations. Two wives of Nationalist Chinese diplomats now serving in Bangkok also were aboard, one accompanied by her infant daughter. The others were high-ranking Thai officers, some with wives, and a crew of eight.

Auto Soars 175 Feet Into Trees

BEDFORD, Pa. (UPI) — An automobile driven by a New Jersey woman spun out of control on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Wednesday and soared a measured 175 feet into the tops of two trees.

Mrs. Francis Caniff, Millburn, N.J., was thrown from the car as it left an embankment along the turnpike four miles west of the Bedford Interchange.

The 66-year-old woman suffered a badly bruised eye and lacerated eyelid. Attendees at Bedford County Memorial Hospital said it would be several days before the full extent of the eye injury could be learned.

Honest Koreans Fed By U. S. GI

SEOUL (UPI) — U. S. Navy Yeoman 3-C Thomas J. Lowrance, Ramsey, Ill., is a man who's impressed by honesty.

When a Korean youth — 15-year-old Han Tae Suk — found Lowrance's wallet in a Seoul street and gave it to his father, who returned it to the sailor, Lowrance decided to prove that honesty pays off.

He visited the Korean family and gave them 80 pounds of rice. He promised to bring the seven members of the family 50 pounds of rice a month for as long as he remains in Korea.

"I think this is much more than I deserve," said young Han's father.

Begin Canvass Of Primary Votes

Official results of Tuesday's primary election contests in Kankakee and Iroquois counties should be available Friday.

Unofficial returns from the two counties gave Samuel L. Martin of Watseka a 235 vote margin over Edward A. McBroom of Kankakee in the three-way race for the Republican state senatorial nomination.

The third candidate trailed far behind the other two.

The canvass of Kankakee County returns—which will provide the official results—was started today in the office of County Clerk Patrick Cleary.

IT IS BEING CONDUCTED by Cleary and representatives of the chairmen of the county's Democratic and Republican central committees. Frank Curran represented McBroom, the GOP chairman, while Edward LaRocque appeared for C. C. Erickson, the Democratic chairman.

The Iroquois County canvass was started Wednesday and should be completed later today.

Plane Ditches In Atlantic; 5 Rescued

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—The pilot of a Canadian antisubmarine plane got lost over the Atlantic today and ditched in the sea. All five crewmen were picked up safely after bobbing about in a rubber life raft for 10 hours.

The German cargo ship Sternfels took the men aboard and headed for Bermuda. They apparently were never in great danger. Their raft was spotted quickly, and wind and waves were calm.

The airmen were identified by the Canadian navy as Lt. Cmdr. Leslie C. Rosenthal, 36, Dartmouth, N. S., the pilot; sub-Lt. Jeremy G. McGreeby, 22, Montreal, copilot; George S. Beakley, 32, Winnipeg; Jeremiah R. Ryan, 31, Grand Falls, Nfld., and Wells J. Jodge, 27, Cookshire, Que.

Rumors Persist Of Cuban Revolt

HAVANA (AP) — Rumors persisted today of small clashes in the mountains of east Cuba between insurgent bands and armed peasants and troops reportedly led by Fidel Castro and his army commander.

Official sources in Havana remained silent on the rebel hunt. But Castro appeared to be making a major personal effort to track down insurgent leader Manuel Beaton, a former captain in Castro's revolutionary army who reportedly took to the mountains with perhaps 50 anti-Castro guerrillas.

Think French Heir's Family Is Making Deal

Father Denies News; $100,000 Demanded In Previous Contacts

PARIS (AP)—Members of the wealthy Peugeot auto-making family left the family apartment several times today, leading to speculation that contact with the kidnapers of 4-year-old Eric Peugeot was being made secretly. The kidnapers have demanded $100,000 in ransom.

The ransom note dropped by the child's abductor Tuesday afternoon said instructions for paying would be forthcoming within 48 hours and that period ended at 5 p.m.

Police agreed to keep clear of any direct negotiations for release of the boy, taken from a playground sandbox.

BUT AN HOUR and a half after the deadline had passed, the boy's father, Roland, said: "I have no news up to now of my child."

Every policeman in France was alerted to watch for the child with the blond crew cut, the lanky, dark-haired young man who grabbed him, and another man who drove them away in a Peugeot-made car.

Associates of the family said there had been no contact with the abductors since two enigmatic phone calls the night after the kidnapping.

The first telephone call came about six hours after the kidnapping. The caller asked for Eric's father, then hung up. An hour later, a second call asked if the ransom letter had been found. When told the note was in hand, the caller again hung up.

The distraught father, Roland Peugeot, appealed for the boy's return in a nationwide telecast Wednesday night.

"MY ONLY care is to find him again safe and sound as quickly as possible," he said. "I have not made a complaint to the police. I formally promise to ask that the kidnaper should not be prosecuted."

One of the kidnapers, described as lanky and dark haired, walked into the playground of the St. Cloud Country Club, picked up the boy from a sandpile, joined his confederate waiting in a Peugeot sedan and rode off.

Eric's nurse and the family chauffeur, chatting in a car nearby, were unaware that anything had happened until Eric's 7-year-old brother ran up to report, "Eric has left with a man." They found a ransom note in the sandbox and immediately telephoned the parents.

Eisenhower Okays Funds For Mercury

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower signed today a bill to give a financial lift to Project Mercury, for launching a man into space.

In a two-hour work session before his daily round of golf, Eisenhower also accepted the resignation of William J. Holaday as chairman of the civilian-military liaison committee.

The committee was set up to bring about improved teamwork in the space field. In a letter submitting his resignation, effective April 30, Holaday noted that legislation pending in Congress would dissolve the committee and said personal reasons dictated his giving up the chairmanship.

In a business session with two White House attorneys, the President signed a bill appropriating an extra 23 million dollars for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to spend in the fiscal year ending June 30.

Of the total, $12,200,000 is for Project Mercury, the remainder for equipment and construction.

Our Satellite Missed Its Spot In Space, But Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — "This satellite shot shows we're well into the space age," an Air Force general exulted today. He was talking about Transit 1-B, America's third successful space experiment in little over a month.

"We're not completely satisfied," added Brig. Gen. Robert Greer, "because the orbit was not exactly the way we wanted it. But not long ago we would have been glad to get it up at all."

THE 265-POUND navigational satellite was rammed into orbit Wednesday morning from Cape Canaveral, Fla., by a Thor-Able-Star rocket. It may pave the way for a network of transit satellites that can give ships, submarines or airplanes accurate position fixes in any weather, day or night, anywhere in the world.

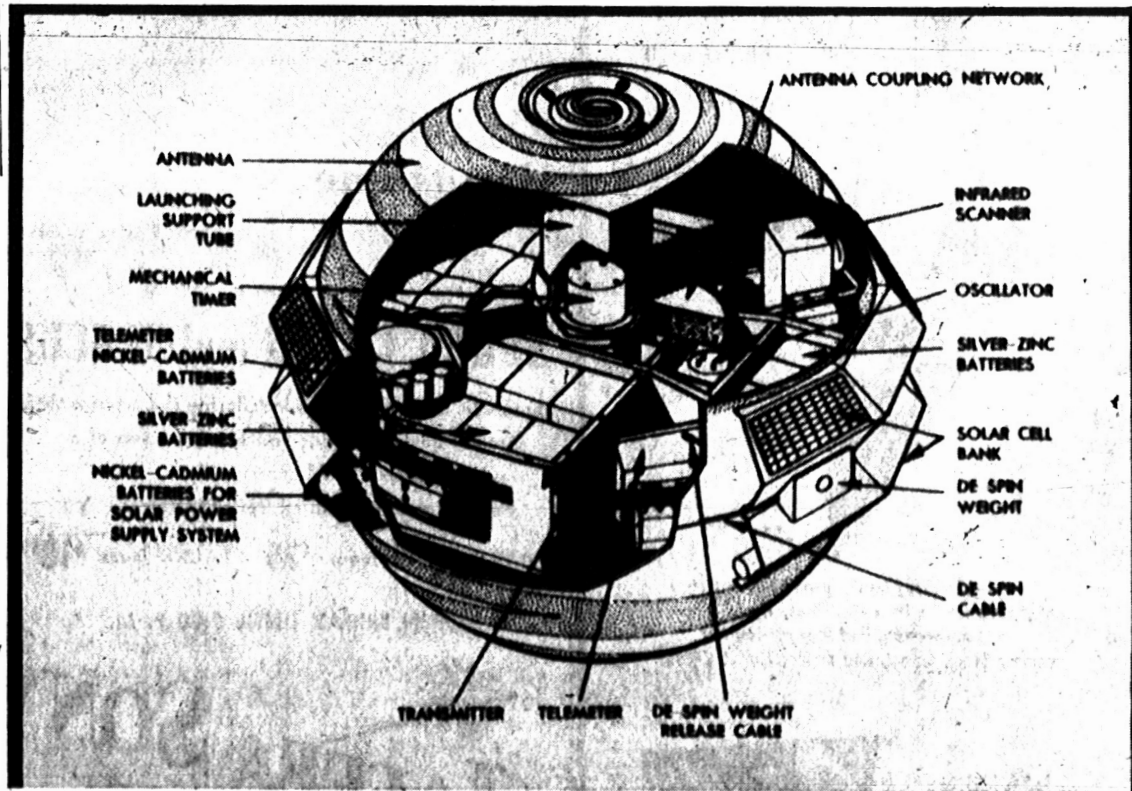

The Navy, sponsor of the project, says its plan is to make the satellite navigation fixes available

The Transit satellite, which has future important military applications, was intended to go into a nearly circular orbit about 500 miles high and last for 50 years.

INSTEAD IT FELL into an orbit varying from a high point of 479 miles to a low of 233 miles from the earth, and it may fall back into the atmosphere in about 18 months.

Still its two radio oscillators worked perfectly and will provide a significant test of the theory that underlies its potential as an all-weather navigational aid. Military sources said an actual fixing of a ship's position may be tried in a few days.

Gen. Greer explained that a slight error in launching angle apparently led to the elliptical orbit.

THIS IS A CUTAWAY drawing of the Transit 1-B, showing the shell, with painted antenna and internal mechanism. The equipment is shelved in the equatorial section of the satellite to allow for optimum balance. The sphere is 34 inches in diameter and weighs 265 pounds. (Unifax)

Car Fume Suppressor Bill Signed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A law that will eventually require a fume suppressor on every new car sold in California was signed Wednesday by Gov. Edmund Brown. As yet there is no such device on the market.

The anti-smog bill is signed into law creates a state motor vehicle pollution control board which is to test and certify devices which are expected to cost the owners of the state's eight million cars between $60 and $150 each.

No new car can be registered in the state unless it has such a device within a year after the certification of two or more vehicles.

Most commonly mentioned devices are a chemical afterburner, in which exhaust is burned off by a chemical agent, or a simple afterburner, in which it is burned off by fire.

Counties without smog may exempt used cars. Owners of used passenger cars in smog areas must have the devices within three years after certification. Tourists are not affected.

Rules Against Party Name On Judicial Ballot

SPRINGFIELD (UPI) — The June 6 judicial election will not bear the name of a political party, has no candidate running.

Atty. Gen. Grenville Beardsley announced Wednesday.

Three districts have only one candidate in the Supreme Court race, by mutual agreement of opposing parties.

Justice George W. Bristow, Paris, Republican in the 3rd District; Justice Harry B. Horsey, Taylorville, Democrat in the 2nd District; and Justice Walter V. Schaefer, Chicago, Democrat in the 7th District are assured of election.

Beardsley said state law "contained no mandate" which would require the appearance of a party label on a ticket where they did not propose a candidate.

Approves Funds To Save Tombs In Egyptian Area

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to let the United States spend foreign aid funds to help save tombs and temples dating from the dawn of history.

The committee tentatively agreed Wednesday to let the United States participate in a major international program to preserve ancient historical treasures along the Nile River in Egypt and the Sudan.

The tombs and temples will be covered by a lake 300 miles long when the Aswan High Dam is completed in about five years. Egypt and the Sudan have asked scientists the world over to help unearth the treasures of antiquity before it is too late.

The committee approved an amendment to the foreign aid bill which would permit the U.S. government to contribute up to one-third of the cost of the big international program.

It has been estimated that the proposed explorations and excavations might cost up to $6 million dollars. Other nations are being asked to help also.

Held For Theft At Kankakee Store

A woman charged with the theft of a fur stole from a Kankakee store is being held by Chicago police for the sheriff's office here.

Evelyn Ferris, 33, was arrested in August and indicted by the grand jury in October for grand larceny. She was freed on $2,500 bond but failed to appear on an appointed court date.

Chicago police notified the Kankakee County sheriff's office Wednesday that they were holding the woman. Deputies plan to pick her up today.

Kennedy Backers Would Like To Downgrade W. Virginia Primary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There were signs today that the Kennedy camp would like to downgrade the West Virginia primary lest it be overrated as a factor in settling the Democratic presidential nomination.

Forecasters have come since the Wisconsin primary that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) could just about clinch the nomination by winning the May 10 West Virginia primary.

Forecasts have come since the Wisconsin primary that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) could just about clinch the nomination by winning the May 10 West Virginia primary.

While Kennedy is outwardly confident about West Virginia, his supporters are citing reasons for worry about the outcome.

THEY ARE VOICING fear that Kennedy's lead in the polls is based on a "stop Kennedy" movement. They also see Humphrey as the chief beneficiary of support from the United Mine Workers Union, a potent force in West Virginia.

Still another unknown factor is the impact of the religious issue. Kennedy, a Catholic, appeared to have benefitted more in Wisconsin from the votes of Catholics than he was hurt by anti-Catholic votes.

Unlike Wisconsin, where 30 per cent of the population is Catholic, only about 10 per cent of the West Virginians are Catholics.

Flee To 'Mama' Tim Couldn't Stand Sight Of His Brides

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — It was supposed to be Terrible Tim's wedding night but he turned out to be a bride-to-be. Weeping and wailing, Tim fled back home to "mama."

After all, it's asking a lot of a fellow to cut the apron strings when he's just 13 months old. A gorilla couldn't do it. And that's what Terrible Tim is.

This thing all started last June when a Kansas City veterinarian, Dr. Dexter Pickett, captured Tim, a Cully, told the City Park "card" and two females in Africa. The girls, Jennie, now 22 months old, and Katie, 25 months, were shipped straight to the Kansas City Zoo.

TIM WAS A PUNY 5-pounder at the time, so Dr. and Mrs. Pickett took him into their home temporarily.

Tim responded to the Picketts' tender care gaining 17 pounds in 10 months.

But, when the Picketts took Tim to the zoo last week he found himself grossly overweight.

What's obvious, said Cully, is that Tim needs loving attention all of the time and no ape can handle the job. So Tim is back home with Mrs. Pickett and he's the matter stands.

GG Bridge Club, Ashkum, Meets

ASHKUM (JNS) — Mrs. William Dux entertained the G G Bridge Club in her home Monday night with Mrs. Ella Jensen and Mrs. Frank Cory as guests.

Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Anna Collette and Mrs. Ella Goldsby. Mrs. Ella Jensen received the floating prize. Mrs. Goldsby won a special Easter prize.

Mrs. Goldsby will entertain in her home in two weeks. Lunch was served by the hostess.

MR. AND MRS. Frank Wallace and Mrs. Ella Jensen spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kawaney, Champaign, where they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Francis Martin of Springfield.

Doing very nicely, thank you. Dr. Pickett suggested to the board that the zoo provide Tim with human companions 24 hours a day until Tim pulls himself together and faces life like an ape.

"I can't see paying three well-nurses to look after that gorilla," Cully replied.

At the moment, that is where home with Mrs. Pickett and he's the matter stands.

Illinoisans Fight Indiana Levee Fund Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Illinois spokesmen have asked Congress to reject any money request for a 27 billion dollar levee fund on the Indiana side of the Wabash River. They argued the first-coming in sets of four three levee would cause serious flood damage in Illinois.

Gibson and Pomeroy Counties in Indiana, have proposed a 44-mile earthen levee along the left bank. The project, authorized by Congress in 1936, would cost an estimated 10 million dollars.

Mayor Harry C. Miller of Mt. Carmel and Leonard M. Koger Jr., chairman of the Wabash County Flood Protection Committee, told a House appropriations subcommittee Wednesday that the levee would "create an immediate and serious flood threat" to Mt. Carmel and surrounding rural areas.

An ad in the Journal usually produces more takers than the Bishops can supply. Mrs. Bishop Carmel and of more than 12,000 acres in Wabash County.

Koger testified that an Indiana levee would cause frequent flooding of one third of Mt. Carmel and of more than 12,000 acres in Wabash County.

Koger said Army engineers have determined that it would not be economically feasible to construct a similar levee to protect the Illinois side.

Another objection, said Koger, is that "Illinois taxpayers will contribute more funds toward construction of the levee than will the Indiana taxpayers."

Illinois landowners, maintaining they will suffer six million dollars in damages if the levee is built, also are fighting the proposal in Gibson County Circuit Court, said Koger.

LOOKING OVER THE AWARD presented to the Kroehler Mfg. Co. for establishing a new world's safety record for furniture manufacturer at the Bradley case goods plant are four people who took part in a program Wednesday noon.

Present Safety Award To Kroehler Plant

A local factory was recognized here Wednesday as being the safest one in its industry in the United States. Cited was the case goods plant of the Kroehler Mfg. Co.

This particular factory of the company had accumulated 3,519,570 man hours without a disabling injury as of Wednesday noon. The old record of 3,384,430 was set by the Mengel Co. of Louisville, Ky., and broken here March 22.

The Bradley plant will continue setting a new world's record until it has a disabling injury. The 30 employees of the division were present for the awards ceremony at 12:30 p.m. in the plant cafeteria.

Gen. George C. Stewart, Chicago, executive vice president of the National Safety Council, presented the award along with an annual award for joining through 1959 without a lost-time accident.

A telegram from Howard Pyle, NSC president, was read congratulating the employees on working from Dec. 6, 1955 to March 22, the date that the new record was set.

An award from the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. was presented by W. H. Seymour for its safety record. Rotating and permanent company trophies for the best safety record for the past year were presented by Kenneth Kroehler, executive vice president.

Stewart, in addressing the group, reminded them the record had been achieved by the employees as a team and challenged them to maintain the factory's record as the world's safest furniture factory.

C. B. Kroehler, local manager, received the award on behalf of the local employees and also spoke briefly.

LeCuyer Describes Hawaiian Trip To Exchangites

Joel LeCuyer described a recent visit to Hawaii for fellow members of the Kankakee Exchange Club Wednesday.

The speaker, who had been stationed on the islands for two years during the War, said he hopes to live there permanently some day.

A trip to the 50th state, he said, can start at sunrise in California and end in Hawaii in time for breakfast on a jet flight.

Or, the tourist can invest up to $2,500 for a trip that includes a five-day passage to the islands on a luxury liner.

LeCuyer said tourism is the island's major industry, sugar cane and pineapples its major crops. Many of the natives are wealthy and college educated. Pay scales are high. A farm laborer earns at least $10 a day.

The most famous and most beautiful church on the islands is the Mormon Temple. It's in contrast with the world's smallest Catholic Church, which seats only 15 people.

Discussing volcanoes, LeCuyer said an eruption can wipe out a farmer when his fields lie in the path of a lava flow. It takes from 200 to 300 years for the lava to turn to sand.

More Bomb Jokers Held

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Zip your lip." That wartime security slogan looks more and more like good advice to airline travelers who get an impulse to crack a "joke" about a bomb.

The FBI's arrest here Wednesday night of Julius Rudolph Radwanski, 38, Huntington Valley, Pa., on a false bomb report charge was the fifth such arrest in eight days.

Radwanski allegedly replied to a "your bag is heavy" comment by a Trans World Airlines employee at Port Columbus Airport with the remark, "There's a bomb in it." Then he found himself in FBI custody. By shortly after midnight he had been brought before U.S. Commissioner Robert W. Newton for a hearing.

Earlier Wednesday in San Francisco, a flight attendant was charged with the same offense. The U.S. attorney's office filed the charge against William A. Grant of Belmont, Calif.

A United Air Lines spokesman said Grant was trying to take out insurance on his wife after seeing her aboard a Los Angeles-bound jet. The man made his remark, said Mrs. Grant, would have to sign any insurance forms. Grant allegedly said, "Well, I guess the bomb won't do any good then."

MRS. GRANT was removed from the plane and her baggage searched. The airliner left 40 minutes late.

A false bomb report carries a maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine and one year in prison. And the U. S. Department of Justice has said it will vigorously prosecute such cases, with U. S. attorneys requesting jail sentences for persons convicted.

Joyce Bradford, youngest scout in the troop, received a one-year attendance star. Members officially invested as Girl Scouts were Darlene Dawson, Margot Janicko, Gayle Janssen, Linda Jensen, Elaine LeChair, Jean McCabe and Kathy Murdoch. Each girl was awarded a Girl Scout pin.

Second class badges were awarded to Joanne Grills, Veronica Bordush and Louise Wolff. The scouts presented their retiring leaders, Mrs. Victor Wilson and Mrs. Walter Gierke, with gifts. Preceding the court of awards, Kathy Murdoch and Jean McCabe were in charge of recreation. Linda Jensen was chairman of the luncheon committee. The program committee was under the charge of Veronica Murdoch.

WOLF LAKE (AP)—The privacy of Dewey Walker, a hermit, will not be disturbed by a census taker.

Census officials have ruled that Walker's log cabin home in the hills of southwestern Illinois is too remote to be included in the regular route of Mrs. Donald John, an enumerator for the area.

The needed information will be provided by Walker's older brother, Ted, 77, of Wolf Lake.

He is 62. He has been a hermit more than 15 years. He grows sweet potatoes.

He gained national attention last year when a Connecticut family read an Associated Press feature about him in the local paper.

The family asked authorities to check if Walker was not their long missing husband and father. Walker was allowed to resume his hermit life after he convinced officials he never married.

Sav-A-Fine Co. May Go Broke

LIBERTY, N. Y. (AP)—The Sav-A-Fine Co. founded by the three Katz brothers probably won't keep going if returns don't pick up.

The brothers, Arthur, 8, Robert, 6, and Steven, 10, look for automobiles in the village parking lot at meters with red signals.

When the youths find an overdue meter, they put a nickel in and leave a card on the automobile's windshield. The card notes that the motorist probably avoided a $1 fine and invite him to return the nickel by mail.

So far the brothers have invested between $250 and $300. Their return has been 50 cents.

"It's okay with us as long as we get our nickels," says Police Sgt. Dwight Stratup.

Ike To Be Cautious At Summit Parley

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will have United States politics to consider when he has his summit meeting May 16 in Paris with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Just because of that there's good reason to believe nothing much will come of the meeting and that the problems discussed will be put in the freezer until later.

This year's meeting with Khrushchev will come just a few months before the presidential election.

They're already building up a campaign issue over their claim that Eisenhower's defense program is inadequate.

Against this possibility Eisenhower will have to be cautious with Khrushchev this time than he had in his first summit meeting in Geneva in 1955.

The stand-pat announcement Wednesday of the foreign ministers of the Western Big Four—the United States, Britain, France, West Germany—may be a foretaste of the American position down the line at the summit in May.

There's an opposite side to the coin, of course. If Eisenhower would come away from the summit with Khrushchev with some kind of sensational settlement, it would boost the Republicans.

But this would almost certainly require some big concessions from Khrushchev, who is a patient in the hospital.

IT'S NO SKIN off his nose who wins the American election since Eisenhower can't run again. But he would have to be the man, along with whom he got elected, to win the election.

For example, after meeting Eisenhower here last year at Camp David Khrushchev told some of the best off his demands that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin and sign separate treaties with the two Germanys.

The Western powers have refused to do that in the past. But Khrushchev after a recent period of quiet following his Camp David meeting was seen saying what he had said before his camp.

For instance: Just two weeks ago he was claiming he could deprive the West of its rights in West Berlin by signing a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

THE CITY, although linked in its alliance with West Germany, lies 100 miles inside East Germany territory and over which all supplies for the city must pass. They could be shut off.

If the Allies then tried to bring their way through supplies, it might mean war with the Soviet Union. Khrushchev himself reminded the West of that possibility only 10 days ago in Moscow.

The 11,000 Allied troops in West Berlin are only a symbol of the Allies' claim right to the city. They couldn't stop a Soviet or Communist East German garrison for the city.

For symbolic reasons the West refuses to take them out. To do so would be to yield to Khrushchev's pressure. It would discourage the West Germans and their allies to resist Communist pressure.

If the West agreed to separate peace treaties, it would mean the division of Germany perhaps for generations.

So the West refuses and instead proposes that Khrushchev let the city be.

Old Fire Bell Now Tolls Curfew

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (UPI)—A new use has been found for the old fire bell atop the municipal building in Watkins Glen.

Its original purpose was to summon volunteer firemen. When a siren was installed, the bell was used only for fire department messages. Now, it tolls the curfew for village children 16 and under.

In a move to keep the youngsters closer to home, the trustees of Watkins Glen recently decided to reestablish a curfew ordinance that had been in effect years ago.

The bell is sounded at 8:30 p.m. each night as a first warning. When it rings again at 10, all children must be off the streets.

Blindness No Bar To Music Teacher

ALAMOSA, Colo. (UPI)—Evelyn Totter, a music teacher and composer here for 40 years, feels that concentration and keen sense have made her a successful musician.

Although blind since she was born during the 1890's in the mining camp of Rico, Colo., Miss Totter is now a wife and mother of three.

She is something that many facturers have to take into account when figuring pricing policy. Also, in a number of industries labor leaders express confidence of getting wage increases, probably about as much of a gain as last year.

In the stock market the bulls haven't given up despite little encouragement for a time. Many still look for renewed business activity, always a fertile seed bed for inflation.

The same views seem to have gripped the bond market. Yields are rising again. Investors seem to be signalling their belief that new demand for funds is coming from businessmen with expansion plans, from local government agencies needing to finance facilities. Reviving is talk that if you need to borrow, now is the time. Interest rates start climbing again.

Higher rates are supposed to put a brake on inflationary tendencies. But their record in the past hasn't always borne this out.

Caryl Plans New Supreme Court Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An attack on Caryl Chessman's decision to withdraw from the case public Wednesday by the State Supreme Court.

Chessman, who has survived nearly 12 years in San Quentin Prison's death row and escaped previous execution dates, now is scheduled to die May 2.

He was condemned for kidnapping the actress, and actually abusing two Los Angeles women in 1948.

A. L. Wirtz of Los Angeles, an American Civil Liberties Union counsel, said in New York he expected to petition the U.S. Supreme Court this week for review of appeal claims which California courts rejected three times in three weeks.

Reports Lawyer Incomes Lagging

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—John C. Satterfield, president of the American Bar Association, claims a lawyer must charge his clients at least $20 an hour to stay in business.

Satterfield, of Jackson, Miss., told a lawyers' meeting Wednesday attorneys' incomes have fallen to less than $10,000 a year. He said attorneys are getting 157 per cent more than they got 25 years ago while lawyers are only making 58 per cent more.

Is Inflation Dead Or Just Taking A Nap?

NEW YORK (AP)—Is inflation as dead a duck as we've been told? Is the cost of living through rising—whether by jumping or creeping?

The stock market has been acting as if it thought so. The consumer price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics has been of late only a little—and then largely because of increased costs of services.

Money markets have hinted at the end of inflation. Until just recently, bond prices have risen, meaning lower yields and interest rates with the implication that fear of more inflation was relaxing.

The head of the International Monetary Fund insists that the rising only for fire department messages. Now, it tolls the curfew for village children 16 and under.

There are some uneasy stirrings still just now. Inflation could still have a punch in it. The bell is sounded at 8:30 p.m. each night as a first warning. When it rings again at 10, all children must be off the streets.

The consumer apparently isn't as worried about further inflation as he was in the past. He is more concerned about his take-home pay as a white back, but surveys show him cynical about any real hope that prices won't creep up again.

The daily wholesale commodity price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics shows the prices of industrial raw materials creeping higher again after a period of tranquility. The latest figures show this part of the index 2½ points higher than a year ago.

That is something that many facturers have to take into account when figuring pricing policy. Also, in a number of industries labor leaders express confidence of getting wage increases, probably about as much of a gain as last year.

Teacher Survey Reveals A Bright Side On Teen Gangs, But Problem Is Vicious

Editor's Note: This is the third of three surveys on how teachers view teenage problems.

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

To most people the very idea of teenagers attacking school corridors in duck-tail haircuts and black leather jackets is one of the more frightening manifestations of modern society.

Movies like "The Blackboard Jungle" help underscore headlines on the subject. But, actually, how prevalent is the teenage gang problem in schools across the country?

Happily, the situation is not where as common nor as widespread as one might think.

In a national survey of nearly 900 school teachers, we found that only 5 per cent of a gang problem in their schools. The survey was conducted in both large metropolitan and small towns and covered teachers in all grades.

On the other hand, few teachers dissented from the view that the modern teenage gang, where it does exist, is a far more sinister entity than the boys' clubs that mushroomed in past generations of an earlier generation. Youth, they felt, is more violent and more dangerous than it was in the past.

Undoubtedly, a few ounces of prevention explained the absence of gangs in the schools of 93 per cent of the teachers interviewed. Nearly half of them—45 per cent—said their schools had rules against wearing gangland jackets, sideburns, military belts and other outward signs of gang membership.

When the rules of the school are enforced, the problem is solved, they said. "They never hear of it," said teacher E. H. Martin of Scranton, Pa., in defense of the rules.

Some schools have encouraged students to adopt a voluntary code of ethics and good grooming as a deterrent to gangs. Others have said the law down in no uncertain terms.

"You have to," explained Margaret Ross of Olean, N. Y., "to keep the gang feeling out of the school."

BUT SOME TEACHERS, like Pershing N. Myers of Indianapolis, decided the problem beyond the control of teachers. "Rules do not stop out-of-school activity," he said. "From time to time, people tend to disintegrate the teenage gang as a modern gang, where it does exist, is a far more sinister entity than the boys' clubs that mushroomed in past generations of an earlier generation. Youth, they felt, is more violent and more dangerous than it was in the past."

Racial Violence Flares In South

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

A Negro home in a white section of Atlanta was bombed Wednesday night and a Negro man was shot by white teenagers in Nashville, Tenn., in fresh outbreaks of racial violence in the South.

The two incidents shattered an uneasy calm that prevailed over most of the South where Negro college students have been demonstrating against segregated lunch counters.

No one was in the house at the time of the bombing in Atlanta. A Negro family had moved in and planned to occupy the house in the near future. However, it was reported that residents of the all-white neighborhood were disturbed over the purchase of the home by Negroes.

While the family was moving in furniture Tuesday, several white youths pelted the home with rocks. One of the Negroes poked a shotgun out the door and threatened to shoot if they didn't stop.

THE DYNAMITE BLAST was concentrated beneath the house and blew out part of the foundation. Police said apparently only one stick of dynamite was used. A 125-foot length of wire leading to a six-volt battery in a nearby field was found.

In Nashville, police searched for five white teenagers who shot Henry Stewart, a 22-year-old Negro, in the arm. Officers said the youths shot Stewart from a speeding car Wednesday night.

A Negro leader said the chance

Trains Kills Woman In Gibson City

GIBSON CITY (AP)—A woman walking home from the funeral of a friend was killed Wednesday by a Nickel Plate Railroad freight train. She was Mrs. Carmen L. Molek, 56, of Gibson City.

Corner Frank Hunt learned that Mrs. Molek was hard of hearing. He said she did not heed repeated whistle blows from engineer Francis O. Ferguson of Frankfort, Ind., who saw the woman as she approached the crossing.

George Washington's youthful ambition was to become a sailor.

Her Goal Was 93

Hikes 'Only' 40 Miles

SONOMA, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Barbara Moore, 56-year-old walker from England, ticked off 40 miles the first day of her cross-country hike, several miles less than the first-day stint of two British sergeants she says she will pass.

But the servicemen — RAF Flight Sgt. Patrick Moloney and Army Sgt. Mervyn Evans — left San Francisco a day ahead of Dr. Moore. They spent Wednesday night in West Sacramento.

RE-PAIRED Dr. Moore stopped early Wednesday evening at Sears Point near here.

Setting out jauntily at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday from San Francisco, Dr. Moore picked Sacramento, 93 miles away, as the goal of the first leg of her 3,000-mile hike. But the California capital was still 53 miles distant when she called it a day.

Dr. Moore said she was not a hiker and she said she expects to live "to be 200 years old."

SHE SAYS she likes this one and a recent 1,028-mile jaunt in England are "to prove that what we eat can help us or keep us young indefinitely."

The sergeants, hearing Dr. Moore's boast that "I'll pass them," smiled.

Moloney said, "We don't consider ourselves as competing with her. We wish her the very best."

All three hope to beat a 34-year-old San Francisco to New York walking record of 79 days, 19 hours.

John D. Herd, membership chairman, announced that 28 new members have been signed since the current membership drive began Feb. 15 and four more entered during the meeting. This brings Kankakee Jaycee membership to 131.

Carl Stuebel, district vice president, conducted an orientation session for the new members.

Special Legislative Session Seen In April Or May

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Stratton is faced now with the decision of when to call a special session of the General Assembly to appropriate supplemental relief funds.

He also must decide whether to include the issue of Chicago police reform in the call for a special session.

Present relief funds will run out by July, it is estimated, and Stratton will have to call the Legislature before then. Although he declined to discuss it during the recent primary campaign, Stratton earlier indicated he favored a recall in April or May.

The governor was not available to comment on a report published in a Chicago paper that the recall was set for April 25. An aide said, however, that he knew of no set date.

STRATTON was quoted last January, when the Chicago police scandal broke, as saying he favored a special session to legislate police reform measures, but since that time he has not discussed the proposal.

Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley, state Democratic leader, has said he prefers discussion of police reform be taken up in the California Orlando O. Wilson as their appointment.

Arrange Holy Week Services At Greek Church

Good Friday services Friday evening and midnight services on Saturday are included in the schedule of the Eastern Orthodox Church of Kankakee for Holy Week.

This year Eastern Orthodox, Roman Catholic and Protestant churches will observe Easter on the same day. The Eastern Orthodox, which includes the Albanian, Bulgarian, Carpatho-Ruthenian, Greek, Romanian, Russian, Serbian, Syrian and Ukrainian, must adhere to the ruling adopted during the Third Ecumenical Council of Nicea in 325 AD. While the Eastern Orthodox must be celebrated on the full moon of the Paschal equinox after the Jewish Passover.

Friday evening's services are called "The Lamentations" and are a service of matins with psalms, hymns and readings. The content deals with the death of the Lord in contrast to His divinity and therefore in expectation of His resurrection.

Placed before the altar of the church is a replica of the Lord's tomb and within this replica is the body of Christ, embroidered on a rich crimson and gold material. As the choir sings the third part of the "Hymns of Praise" the priest sprinkles the "Kovoukion" and the congregation with fragrant water. Following the services the priest distributes flowers from the Lord's tomb among the congregation.

The resurrection is marked at the Saturday evening midnight service. Prior to the service the odes of the previous day are repeated. At the stroke of midnight lights are extinguished, the priest lights a candle from the vigil and then the lights are held by members of the congregation.

Following hymns and Gospel readings the entire service takes on a joyous Easter aspect. The divine liturgy of Christos continues and at the conclusion the festive sermon of St. John Chrysostom is read as a prayer.

The Hallowed House

The Women Return, Shouting 'He Is Risen!'

(Editor's note. The Lord was dead. His remaining followers crouched in hiding, turning over the sorrowing events in their mind. What was the news the women brought? Could it be true? This is the fourth of five stories telling of the happenings at the house that gave Him refuge.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

A threefold blare of trumpets issued from the towers of Zion. The sound cascaded over Jerusalem like a rain of silver, signaling the arrival of daylight.

At that moment, a veiled group of women came rushing through the city's west Jaffa gate, turning southward along the broad stone avenue past the monuments of Hippocampus and Marianne toward the house of the widow of Cyprus.

Within that house, hiding from a hostile world, was a company of haggard men, spent and of hope. Their Lord was dead, and they crouched there in fear and bewilderment, a shattered remnant of the crucified.

The women moved with precipitate haste, their wide-hemmed simlas billowing behind them. It was the first day of the week, with Passover pilgrims thronging the city, and the shrill of flutes and timbrels laced the air.

AT THE TEMPLE, majestic on the eastern crest, an unblemished yearling lamb was led to the north side of the great altar and given a drink from a golden bowl before he died. A levite choir in snowy robes crashed their cymbals and sang.

On the western avenue, across the valley, the women turned into the quiet walled court of the widow's house, and raced across the landscaped yard to the door, their eyes wide, faces flushed, their breasts heaving.

There were at least five of them, Mary Magdalene, Salome, Joanna, Mary the mother of James, and one or more others. The Cypriot widow released the latch, and they all burst inside the central hall, clad in joy springing from their lips.

They ignored the household signs of mourning, the overturned furniture and covered windows, for none of its seemed fitting anymore. Let in the sun; set the tables right! They knew a miracle, and thrilled to tell it to the rest.

DOWN THE CORRIDOR they raced, routing the disciples from their dismal seclusion, summoning them to glad tidings, calling them to give ear to the glory of their Master. Behold! Hear!

"The stone is taken away from the tomb." "There was a great earthquake." "He is not there, but is risen."

Their jubilation was one, there accents many.

The dowdier men listened with leaden expressions. It could not be so. They didn't believe it. They had lost faith; Jesus had died a seditious death. No use draping the disaster in absurd fantasies.

The women persisted. "We entered in and found not the body." "An angel of the Lord descended from heaven and came and rolled away the stone and sat upon it." "We were afraid, and bowed our faces to the earth."

THEY HAD NO single version, only a single conviction. "Two men stood by in shining garments." "A young man was sitting on the right side clothed in a long, white garment." "His appearance was like lightning."

The apocryphal, nerve-shattered men shook their heads in skeptical disdain. They already had believed and trusted too much in vain to believe anymore. All had come to naught, to degradation and ruin.

Apparently under the strain of the past three days, the women had come back from the tomb with their heads awry with hallucinations. They had gone there to anoint the body with hyssop and rose oil, and their senses must have deserted them.

"We trembled and were amazed," they said. "The keepers shook and became as dead men." And the angel said, "Why seek ye the living among the dead? Go quickly and tell His disciples... He is risen from the dead!"

The men dismissed the report as an idle tale, the women's ridiculous fancy. They would not be deluded again. But a thin, remote glimmer of yearning, of forlorn wishfulness, arose in two of them.

The hulking, grief-wracked Peter and the even-minded John determined to go and inspect the sepulchre, at the risk of being recognized and arrested. Mary Magdalene followed behind them.

When the men returned, they were seen faced and perturbed, almost as if they doubted their own reason, but they remained unconvinced of any imagined rising of a dead Jesus, and they spoke in curt, morose tones.

YEA, THE STONE seal was removed. The tomb was empty. Even the burial linens lay there, abandoned. Yet they drew no conclusions from that riddle, baffling.

"HE IS RISEN," the women said, but the disciples could not believe them.

But they could not rebuild faith on a vacant grave slab. Later, when Mary Magdalene came running back to the house alone, exclaiming feverishly that she had encountered the Lord himself outside the tomb, the apostles discounted that, too.

After all, she had first thought the man she met was a gardener, and no doubt he was just that. The emotional woman of Magdala was prone to such flights. Jesus himself had said seven devils out of her. Perhaps they had come back.

Even when two excited friends, shoulders slumped, they were defeated men, hopeless, bitter, afraid, humiliated, with belief slipping like sand through their fingers.

THEY HAD CALLED JESUS the Lord, the Anointed of God, who would banish evil and oppression and bring abundant life to all. But instead, He had died on a cross. The very word, "crucified," was anathema in the mouths of Israel. The sages said that "the curse of God rests on him who has been hanged." How could one possibly believe that such a man had risen from his degraded death?

There, at the house where the widow of Cyprus, the apostles spured the implausible vision, the impossible paradox. They were logical men. They were wary, dubious men.

There, at the house where they had sat and planned and prayed with Jesus, there where they had retreated from the storm, they reasoned with all careful logic of the world about Him who himself said the world could not receive His truth.

Neither, for a certain time, did they feel sure of it. The apostles rejected it. They shut their eyes tightly, clamped their jaws, pressed hands to their heads and turned away, their

Wishes First Taxpayer Could Tackle Today's 1040

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nostalgia is not what I ordinarily feel when I sit down to prepare Form 1040. The feeling I have is more closely akin to nausea.

Nevertheless, I have been rummaging around in the good old days of tax paying in hopes it might help me face the 1960 moment of truth.

For the first few minutes that I have closely examined the first Form 1040, issued as soon as the income tax was legalized in 1913, and it was easy to see how we got off on the high road to bewilderment.

THE FORM RAN to four pages including one page of single-spaced instructions in which this million-dollar bill was firmly planted.

"The normal tax of 1 per cent shall be assessed on the total net income less the specific exemption of $3,000 or $4,000 as the case may be. For the year 1913, the specific exemption allowable is $2,500 or $3,333.33, as the case may be. However, the normal tax has been deducted and withheld on any part of the income of any corporation, etc., which is taxable upon the net income for the purpose of calculating the amount of income tax which the individual is liable for the normal tax of 1 per cent by virtue of this return (see page 1, line 7.)"

From this point, it was only a short drive into the verbal maelstrom of Form 1040 as we know it today. I only wish W. J. Dean of Breckenridge County, Ky., who was a lucky man. Dean simply listed his earnings ($2,000) and his tax ($100) and went merrily on his way, his head unclouded by visions of Alcatraz.

In 1885, the U.S. Supreme Court, in one of those blinding flashes of reason that are all too rare in American jurisprudence, ruled that even this relatively painless form of extraction was unconstitutional.

Almost overnight, the grass turned green, the birds began to sing again and... but why concern me? It didn't last. Eighteen years later, in a strange outburst of masochism, the nation adopted the 16th Amendment and we were still around to enjoy it with us.

There, at the house where they had sat and planned and prayed with Jesus, there where they had retreated from the storm, they reasoned with all careful logic of the world about Him who himself said the world could not receive His truth.

Ganeer Eastern Star Honors Seven Officers

MOMENCE (JNS)—Seven officers of Ganeer chapter, Order of Eastern Star, were honored at a surprise ceremony during a meeting of the chapter on Tuesday night in Masonic Temple.

Verbal citations were given to Mrs. Robert Carpenter, secretary; Mrs. Charles Mitchell, treasurer; Mrs. Gladys Fisher, organist; Mrs. Kenneth Baker, chaplain; Mrs. Linn Gennung, marshal; William Haslett (acting warden) and Mrs. C. A. Violet, sentinel. They were presented with gifts. Mrs. L. J. Cravener, acting organist, also was honored. Other officers of the chapter are honored on special nights and Matron Mrs. Malven Hanson planned this ceremony as a surprise.

The altar was draped to memory of Mrs. Mable Wendell, a longtime member recently deceased. Birthdays of Mrs. M. J. Smith and Linn Gennung were noted. A cooked food sale was scheduled for Saturday in the Hunsfeld store.

Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gilbert, Mrs. Florence Asile and Mrs. Roy Chappell Jr.

The next meeting will be held April 26. Entertainment will follow the business session.

There, at the house where they had sat and planned and prayed with Jesus, there where they had retreated from the storm, they reasoned with all careful logic of the world about Him who himself said the world could not receive His truth.

Neither, for a certain time, did they feel sure of it. The apostles rejected it. They shut their eyes tightly, clamped their jaws, pressed hands to their heads and turned away, their precipitate haste, their wide-hemmed simlas billowing behind them. It was the first day of the week, with Passover pilgrims thronging the city, and the shrill of flutes and timbrels laced the air.

AT THE TEMPLE, majestic on the eastern crest, an unblemished yearling lamb was led to the north

Hunger Not Only Eating Habit Factor

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Food is more than physical nourishment to most persons. Few other activities in living are so intimately bound up with every aspect of a person's being as eating, according to Dr. Charlotte M. Young, professor of Medical Nutrition at Cornell University.

At a recent symposium on the revolution in the American diet, sponsored by the Melanin Council, Dr. Young used this quotation from the psychologist, Walter Dill "Feeding ranks with sexual

More People See Better Times

By FAYE HENLE

Are you and your family better or worse off financially than you were a year ago?

When a scientifically picked cross section of the nation's population replied to this question a few weeks ago, 73 per cent answered they were better or as well off as they were last fall; 26 per cent felt they were worse off.

Interestingly enough, when asked this same question last October-November, 75 per cent replied they were better off or the same as in the spring of 1959; only 23 per cent felt they were worse off.

Psychological factors that cause many adolescents to eat more than physical nourishment to most persons. Few other activities in living are so intimately bound up with every aspect of a person's being as eating, according to Dr. Charlotte M. Young, professor of Medical Nutrition at Cornell University.

At a recent symposium on the revolution in the American diet, sponsored by the Melanin Council, Dr. Young used this quotation from the psychologist, Walter Dill "Feeding ranks with sexual behavior as a demonstration of that peculiar and delicate interaction of biological, psychological and cultural influences so often found in the study of human wants.

"Psychological factors that cause many adolescents to eat more than physical nourishment to most persons. Few other activities in living are so intimately bound up with every aspect of a person's being as eating, according to Dr. Charlotte M. Young, professor of Medical Nutrition at Cornell University.

"Although older children need milk as well as younger ones, adolescents tend to stop drinking it because they associate milk drinking with children," she added. "The foods which need to be emphasized most in nutrition education of the adolescent are more milk, more citrus fruits and tomato juice and more vegetables."

She reminds parents of teenagers whose eating habits seem out of line that there often is some food value in the snacks they are eating. Milk shakes and hamburgers do contain proteins as well as carbohydrates and fats.

Informal snacks at home can be both "adult" nutritious and free of parental frowning. Just set out the ingredients and let the teenagers indulge their passion for independence (albeit nutritionally valuable independence) with those milk-shake sandwiches (Heros, Poor Boys or Black Butters) and milk-rich chocolate drinks.

Dutch-Almond Treat (Makes about five 1/2 cup servings) One quart milk, 1 cup instant Dutch chocolate-flavored mix, 1/4 teaspoon almond extract (or 1/2 vanilla extract if preferred), 5 marshmallows, if desired.

Method: Drain plums and pit. Spread bottom and sides of a 1 1/2 quart baking dish (about 8 by 3 inches) with the butter; sprinkle with 1 tablespoon of the brown sugar; arrange drained pitted plums on top; sprinkle with remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Without washing beater, in medium-sized mixing bowl beat egg whites until they hold a soft peak; gradually beat in 1/4 cup of the sugar. Without washing beater, beat yolks slightly; add remaining 1/4 cup sugar, water and vanilla and beat until thick and ivory-colored. Fold beaten yolks into beaten whites. Gradually sift and fold in flour and a dash of salt. Turn batter over plums. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 45 minutes or until cake tender inserted in center comes out without any particles of topping clinging to it. Serve hot or warm with sauce made from plum syrup. Makes 6 servings.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Half grapefruit, hamburgers, baked potatoes, creamed kale, enriched bread, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks and celery, ice cream, cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

A dance routine will be presented by Carolyn Somerville and Theresa Marsh. Joelle Voight and Patricia Snow will do a baton-twirling routine.

Food Stores Feature Ham For Easter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The traditional Easter ham will cost you about as much as last year's judging by offerings of supermarkets and neighborhood grocers this week.

Turkey, which has played an increasingly important role in Easter marketing in recent years, is less popular this year. Turkey prices are unchanged to a shade higher. Ribs of beef are featured by some stores, while others include a prominent place for canned hams.

Turkey prices are fairly high now and expected to drop in ensuing months due to increased marketings.

ONE BENEFIT for turkey shoppers: Cranberry sauce sells for as much as one-third less than last November. Heavy turkey is built up then after the government warned against a chemical wood killer used by some growers. The berries offered now come from fields not treated by the chemical.

Vegetables on the best buy list include artichokes, asparagus to medium onions, potatoes, bunched radishes, spinach, watercress and sweet potatoes. Also at bargain levels are beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, eggplant, lettuce, parsley, topped radishes and miscellaneous cooking greens such as collard, kale and the like.

Fruit counters feature avocados, grapefruit, oranges and bananas. Chilean honeydew melons and lemons are good buys, too, while the best quality apples, cantaloupes, limes, watermelon and strawberries are a bit more expensive. Strawberry prices show signs of easing, however, as supplies increase from a good winter crop out of Florida.

Beecher Chamber To Sponsor Tree, Shrub Campaign

All orders for trees will be handled by the Beecher florists.

Hunger Looms Over Castro's Farm Policies

(Third of a series of articles based on interviews with scores of Cubans and Americans in several parts of Cuba.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
CANAGUEY, Cuba (AP)—Ranchers have a name for what's going on here. They call it "the hurricane."

Due to the policies of Fidel Castro's regime, a nation of meat eaters faces a severe meat shortage that will deepen as the months go by. Shortages of butter, milk and cheese are already felt.

"The damage done up to now will take years to repair," said a Cuban cattleman. "If things go on like this, the damage may never be repaired. All this is just so stupid to be accidental."

INRA—THE regime's National Institute of Agrarian Reform—has been intervening in cattle ranches all over the country. Strictly speaking, intervention does not mean confiscation—until or unless the regime finally says it will not pay for what it has taken.

INRA has taken over the ranges—as it has the agricultural side of the sugar industry—to direct the operation, apparently until such time as the government completes the job of setting up co-operatives. It has implied that eventually there will be payment, by 4½ per cent bonds, at the judge INRA fixes, Cuban and American ranchers alike wonder whether they ever will see such bonds.

Today no ranch is permitted private operation of more than 50 head of cattle.

P. C. Scott was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Kankakee, by ambulance on Saturday for medical care.

Circus Cake For Small-Fry

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Add a surprise ingredient to an Easter party for small fry. Youngsters from four to eight will get fun and excitement out of not one, but three Circus Cakes!

No, you don't have to bake or fry three cakes; you can assemble the trio from three recipes for one Rich Sponge Cake. Because this is a holiday-time cake, and unusually delicious, we feel you won't mind using the 11 egg yolks calls for. The leftover egg whites may be refrigerated in one of more tightly covered jars and used for angel food cake, prunes, meringues or meringue-type cookies. After the cakes are frosted, circus figures may be placed in their centers.

RICH SPONGE CAKE

Ingredients: 2 ¼ cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 11 egg yolks, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup milk (scalded), 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup (¼ pound) margarine (melted).

Method: Sift together three times the flour and baking powder. With electric mixer beat 8 egg yolks slightly; add sugar; beat at high speed until pale colored and thick. Add slightly cooled scalded milk and vanilla. With low speed of mixer gradually beat in flour mixture, make sure all flour particles are moistened. Fold in melted To Glaze: Mix 2 cups of confectioner's sugar with ¼ cup water greased and floured angel food and 1 teaspoon of vanilla until cake pan (10 by 4 inches). Bake smooth; cover cut surface of cakes with this; let set.

To Frost: Make up your favorite simple white frosting and tint it pink with a few drops of red food coloring. Cover the placed cakes with this, leaving a little over; cut the reserved portion red and sides of cake with a knife or spatula and invert on rack; turn right half side up on another rack. Cool cut. Garnish cakes with 11 jelly cake entirely; cut in half cross-wise. From larger half, cut out these a ring about 1½ inches wide; cut this coloring and play kit that is widely available.

Cheese Popovers

All popover recipes closely resemble one another. The baking is the thing. This one is a little different—and really delicious!

To make from 12 to 16 popovers, sift 1 cup flour with ½ teaspoon salt, add 2 slightly beaten eggs, mixed with 1 cup milk. Beat with an egg beater until full of air bubbles. Drop a rounded teaspoon of batter into each section of hot and well-buttered muffin pans. Sprinkle each with a level tablespoon grated American cheese, cover with another teaspoon batter. Bake in hot 425 F. oven 20 minutes, reduce heat to 350 F. and bake 15 to 20 minutes more. Do not open the door after the first 20 minutes, wait until at least 15 minutes more.

Here Are Taste Tempting After-Lenten Desserts

By JEAN MARTIN
With the Lenten season coming to a close, many homemakers will be turning to the desserts which they have minimized during the past six weeks.

Mrs. John J. Holohan's recipes for QUICK LEMON MERINGUE PIE and DUTCH APPLE PIE are designed to tempt even the most stalwart dieter. Her lemon meringue pie produces a dessert without much fuss or ado. While her dutch apple pie is still warm Mrs. Holohan tops it with a small amount of powdered sugar frosting making it a very rich pie.

A dish which you can whip together in a hurry and one that will be a perfect choice for a hungry family is Mrs. Holohan's CHICKEN NOODLE DINNER. Serve it with a vegetable such as buttered green beans and a salad.

With her recipe for BROWNIES Mrs. Holohan frosts with powdered sugar frosting, either chocolate or vanilla, while still warm. Another favorite family recipe is Mrs. Holohan's LETTUCE-EGG SALAD.

The Holohans reside at 736 S. Lincoln Ave. Mrs. Holohan devotes her time to her four children, Patrick, 12; Raymond, 9; Kathleen, 5 and Danny, 6 months. Her featured recipes are as follows:

Quick Lemon Meringue Pie
Crumb or baked pastry, 8 inch pie shell
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
15 ounce can sweetened condensed milk
2 eggs, separated
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
4 tablespoons sugar
Combine lemon juice and grated lemon rind. Gradually stir in sweetened condensed milk. Add egg yolks and stir until well blended. Pour into cooled pastry shell. Add cream of tartar to egg whites. Beat until almost stiff enough to hold a peak. Add be-

Imaginative Recipes Make Beef Roast S-t-r-e-t-c-h

By GAYNOR MADDON
Newspaper Enterprise Food and Markets Editor
A succulent rib roast of beef need not be a family luxury. You can stretch an eight-pound, two-rib roast to serve at several meals. The trimmings, for example, can be used to make a richly-flavored consommé or as the base for an aspic. If you have the roast boned and rolled, be sure to add the bones to the stock as well.

For the second meal, you have your choice of cold meat, thinly sliced, either for sandwiches or to serve with hot gravy, or combined with potatoes and vegetables in a man-yet salad.

For the third meal, serve Beef Stroganoff in an attractive glass casserole with a piping of mashed potatoes circling the edge.

The fourth meal may be baked beef hash, made elegant with the addition of sherry. All the bits and scraps of meat remaining can go into this, and to stretch the meat still further, break an egg on top of each serving.

Finally, the clarified stock is combined with tomato juice, a little wine, if desired, cloves and herbs for a delectably-flavored consommé, or chill and serve jellied with lemon wedges.

Beef Stroganoff (4 servings)
Sauté 1 large or 2 medium onions, sliced, in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (or add 2 tablespoons instant minced onion to the gravy).
Add 2 cups diced, leftover beef, 1 cup leftover or canned beef gravy, 1 tablespoon tomato paste or catsup.

SHOPPERS GUIDE: Most salad vegetables will be a trifle higher this weekend. Head lettuce will be expensive and tomatoes will be a trifle higher although the quality will be very good. Celery, cucumbers and peppers will be fairly reasonable.

For cooking vegetables asparagus and cauliflower will be fairly good buys as will turnips. New green beans from Florida will be a little on the expensive side. Broccoli will be a bargain item.

There's still a good supply of apples arriving in this area and the quality will be very good. They will be featured at a moderate price.

Oranges from California and Florida are somewhat cheaper and the quality very good. Bananas will be a good buy this weekend.

Although the potato market is somewhat higher, potatoes are still considered one of the best food buys the housewife can make. The quality is still very good and the main supply is arriving from North Dakota and Idaho.

Watermelon and cantaloupe will both be very expensive.

gar gradually, beating until stiff. Pile on pie filling. Bake in oven (325 degrees F.) until lightly browned. About 15 minutes. Cool.

Lettuce-Egg Salad
1 small head lettuce
2 or 3 hard-boiled eggs
1/2 medium size onion

Simmer 10 minutes; stir in 1/2 pint sour cream. Transfer to casserole. (Freeze to serve later, if desired).

Bake covered at 350 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes (longer if frozen).

Remove cover; pipe mashed potatoes around edge using pastry tube, or serve potatoes separately.

Beef and Potato Salad
(4 hearty servings)
Cut leftover roast beef in 16 thin slices. Combine with 3 cooked, diced potatoes; 2 cups or 1 can blue lake green beans, drained; 4 hard-cooked eggs, cut in wedges or slices, 1/2 cup diced celery and 3 anchovy fillets, finely-minced.

Toss with 1/4 cup mayonnaise seasoned with 1 teaspoon garlic salad dressing mix.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Beef and tomato consommé, rib roast of beef, browned potatoes, broccoli with Hollandaise sauce, hot rolls, butter or margarine, celery and spring radishes, fresh strawberries, coffee, tea, milk.

CHICKEN-NOODLE DINNER
Cut all ingredients in bowl. Mix with enough salad dressing or mayonnaise to cover well, usually it takes about 1/2 cup. If desired, mix 2 teaspoons sugar, a little salt and pepper and a small amount of vinegar to dressing before stirring it into the lettuce. Add these ingredients to suit own taste.

Chicken-Noodle Dinner
prepare noodles
2 beaten eggs
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons milk
2 cups sifted flour
Combine egg, salt and milk. Add enough flour to make stiff dough. Roll very thin on floured surface. Let stand 20 minutes. Roll up dough and slice 1/4 inch thick. Spread out and dry 2 hours.

Place six cups of water in pan; add 1 teaspoon salt or enough to suit taste. Also, dash of pepper. Add about 1/4 cup of chopped celery and 1/2 medium onion. Bring to boil and add 6 chicken bouillon cubes.
Let simmer for 30 to 35 minutes, or until done.
Dutch Apple Pie
Prepare pastry for 9 inch pie plate.
Filling:
6 or 7 tart apples
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 cups granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons flour
Heat oven to 425 degrees F. Slice apples 1/4 inch thick. Combine apples and rest of ingredients and place in pastry lined pie plate.
Prepare the following topping:
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Blend ingredients with fork until butter is size of peas. Place this topping on the apple filling spreading evenly. Bake in 425 degrees F. oven 40 minutes or until apples are tender. While pie is still warm put a small amount of powdered sugar frosting on hours.

Golf Clubs Ready For 1st Heavy Weekend

Near summertime temperatures the past couple of days have lured dozens of golfers to Kankakee's two golf clubs, pros at both courses said today.

Ernie Tardiff, starting his sixth year as pro at the Kankakee Country Club, reports that the nine-hole course there is being put into tip-top shape by greenkeepers. Fairways have been rolled and greens and sandtraps are being smoothed out in readiness for possibly the heaviest weekend of activity the course has seen since last autumn.

There have been no major physical changes to either the course or clubhouse, Tardiff said. Latest addition to the club facilities is the new pro shop constructed last summer just west of the first tee. Tardiff has put the finishing touches to his new quarters and gravel walks from the shop to the tee and clubhouse have been laid.

THE OLD PRO SHOP in the clubhouse will eventually be converted into a woman's locker.

Construction is under way on a new water pumping station on the Kankakee River south of the No. 4 green, Tardiff said. The plant supplies water only for the green sprinkling system.

The clubhouse this year is under the management of Jerry O'Neil, who for the past 3½ years has been director of the Student Union at Indiana State College, Terre Haute, Ind. Prior to that he managed a small hotel at Ann Arbor, Mich., following his graduation from Michigan State University.

He, his wife and two sons, 2 and 2 months, reside on Walden Road.

Johnny Krutilla is starting his 13th season as golf pro at the Kankakee Valley Elks Golf Club and he and Mrs. Krutilla are in their second year as clubhouse manager.

THERE HAVE BEEN no major improvements or changes on the 18-hole KVEGC course, Krutilla said, but an air-conditioning plant has been installed in the clubhouse lounge and the dining room.

The veteran pro reports that there have been 136 trees planted on the course and that the No. 1 tee has been reseeded. Herman Woehle and his groundskeeping crew are in the process of top-dressing and fertilizing all the greens. Woehle said that the final stage of the three-year fairway fertilizing program will be completed this summer. Six fairways have been fertilized each year since 1958.

One of the cottages on the club grounds is being converted into a "garage" for storing golf equipment and golf carts, offering facilities for about 15 carts.

The club also plans to construct "ladies" tees on the 210 yard No. 6 hole and the 500 yard No. 15. Each tee will make the hole about 50 yards shorter for women golfers.

The Elks KV Club, a semi-daily fee course, expects to have 300 or more members this season, Krutilla said.

Sawyer Quits; Mauch New Phils' Manager

Canadiens 11-5 To End Cup Series Tonight

TORONTO (UPI)—The haughty Montreal Canadiens are 11-5 favorites to clobber the Toronto Maple Leafs again tonight and thus become the second team in history to complete an eight-game sweep in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Flying Frenchmen eliminated the Chicago Black Hawks in a four-game semifinal series and enter tonight's contest with a 3-0 lead over Toronto in their best-of-seven title round.

In the 42-year history of the National Hockey League, only one other team started off with the cup in the minimum eight games. That was the 1955-56 Detroit Red Wings' squad.

Even members of the Maple Leafs are tired of chasing the Canadiens in this series.

"How long can you swim upstream?" asked one Toronto player today.

Neither club has any injuries, therefore there can be no alibi. It has boiled down to a one-team showing, the fast-skating Canadiens showing Toronto the puck on occasions but retaining command.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eddie Sawyer quit as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies today — on the eve of his club's second game of the 1966 National League baseball season.

Gene Mauch, now managing Minneapolis of the American Association, was named to replace him.

"I just didn't want to manage," said 40-year-old Sawyer at a hastily-called news conference.

This was the second time Sawyer quit as Phils manager during a season. He resigned in the middle of the 1952 season as the club floundered. Two years before his 1950 "white kids" copped the league pennant—the only one for the Phils in modern baseball.

Sawyer was asked when he decided to quit and replied that "this notion has been with me the past few weeks." He said that training camp incidents involving discipline of players and criticism by some players of his managerial tactics had nothing to do with his decision.

SAWYER HAS benched most of last year's regulars in favor of untried rookies.

The game, first of the season for both teams, went only five innings.

Peotone scored five runs in the first, two in the fourth and clinched the decision with three in the fifth.

Clausing, freshman right fielder, got two of the six hits Peotone made off third baseman Mauch. One of his hits was a bases-loaded double in the first inning.

Getting Personal
Olympians To Get Kinsey-Like Quiz

ROME (UPI)—What makes Sammy run... and jump... and pole vault?

That's what the Italian Olympic Committee wants to find out.

Looking ahead to this year's Olympics at Rome, the organizing committee has air-mailed thousands of highly-personal questionnaires to men and women athletes throughout the world.

The Kinsey-like survey, prepared by Italy's Medical-Scientific Committee, includes topics ranging from the athlete's sexual status to their sexual behavior.

IN ADDITION to the usual queries dealing with name, birthplace and nationality, the form has divisions dealing with drinking, smoking and whether the athletes were breast or bottle fed as babies.

The question on sexual behavior has a division devoted to temperament. Married athletes are asked whether they are making a success of their union and whether it is "good, mediocre or bad."

"The social level" division is indicated by three cross marks, apparently under crust, lower level or in-between.

THE FIRST revelation of the survey was printed in the official Olympic Bulletin, which admitted that some of the questions of the special committee are "unusual."

More than 7,000 athletes from about 80 countries who are expected to compete in the 1960 games will receive the questionnaire.

The organizing committee neglected to state whether candidates will be obliged to answer all questions or whether they are expected to touch off an uproar in athletic circles.

Coach "Don Nichols" charged dropped their first two dual meets of the season to Peotone and Jerecher. The Bobcats' next outing comes on April 21 when they run against another conference foe, Crest-Moore here.

Three Beecher boys won first in both meets, however, and all three must be considered contenders in next month's KVC meet at Central.

MURL TESKE, a senior who just missed qualifying for the state meet in the quarter mile last spring, is one of the unbeaten Bobcats. He ran the 400 in :53.0 at his peak last spring and has been down under :57.0 in two outings this month.

Gordon Sembolitz is undefeated in the pole vault and Tuesday he tied Herscher's Bobby Niss in dual meet when both went 10 feet even.

Harold Lantz, unbeaten in the 150 yard hurdles, has run his specialty in 23 seconds flat twice.

Senior sprinter Chuck McCoskey has had a slow start this season but ran the 100 yard dash in :10.6 and the 220 in :23.9 last year. Al Schults got down to :55.0 in the 400 last year.

OTHER KEY members are pole vaulter Jim Franks and distance man Earl Lange, both juniors, sophomores Bob Teske and Jim Whelling and promising freshman pole vaulter Danny Reising.

Gives Dodgers Only 5 Hits In 4-0 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Quite a young man, this Glen Hobbie of the Chicago Cubs, he waited until the Los Angeles Dodgers were world champs before he finally beat them.

The big 6-2 right-hander, 0-2 against the Dodgers as a rookie when they were seventh place failures in 1959, and 0-2 again last year when they won the pennant, nailed 'em but good Wednesday night. He outpitched Larry Sherry, the relief hero of the World Series, and put away the first shutout of the Infant National League season with a five-hit, 4-0 decision at Los Angeles.

Coach "Don Nichols" charged dropped their first two dual meets of the season to Peotone and Jerecher. The Bobcats' next outing comes on April 21 when they run against another conference foe, Crest-Moore here.

Three Beecher boys won first in both meets, however, and all three must be considered contenders in next month's KVC meet at Central.

MURL TESKE, a senior who just missed qualifying for the state meet in the quarter mile last spring, is one of the unbeaten Bobcats. He ran the 400 in :53.0 at his peak last spring and has been down under :57.0 in two outings this month.

Gordon Sembolitz is undefeated in the pole vault and Tuesday he tied Herscher's Bobby Niss in dual meet when both went 10 feet even.

Harold Lantz, unbeaten in the 150 yard hurdles, has run his specialty in 23 seconds flat twice.

Senior sprinter Chuck McCoskey has had a slow start this season but ran the 100 yard dash in :10.6 and the 220 in :23.9 last year. Al Schults got down to :55.0 in the 400 last year.

OTHER KEY members are pole vaulter Jim Franks and distance man Earl Lange, both juniors, sophomores Bob Teske and Jim Whelling and promising freshman pole vaulter Danny Reising.

Writers See Sox' Shaw As AL's Top Pitcher

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Shaw, strapping surprise star of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff in 1959, was picked today to be the American League "pitcher of the year" by the nation's top baseball experts.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 155-pound right-hander was selected by 13 of the 50 writers and broadcasters who composed the United Press International's 1960 board of experts. Early Wynn, veteran right-hander who won 22 games for the White Sox in 1959, was the second most popular choice with 16 votes.

Pierre of the White Sox, Don Mossi of the Tigers, Whitey Ford of the Yankees and Bud Dalry of the Yankees had one each.

The potential strength of the White Sox pitching staff was emphasized by the fact that 22 of the 50 votes were cast for Chicago hurlers.

Shaw, acquired from the Detroit Tigers on June 15, 1958, developed into a star under the careful tutelage of Manager Al Lopez. He appeared in 47 games and 221 innings, compiled an 18-6 record, 3.50 ERA, in 1959 while winning 10 and 3.13 earned run average in 1960. His 271 victories are the most of any active big league pitcher and he believes that he will become the modern era's seventh 300-game winner before he retires.

FDA Puts Squeeze On Juice Companies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration which in the past year has figured in cranberry, chicken and lipstick controversies, now is in the midst of a cold war with the frozen orange juice industry.

The nub of the new dispute is this: Some of the nation's biggest producers of frozen orange juice concentrates are fighting a government plan which would force them to specify on their labels whether their product contains a water extract of orange pulp.

It doesn't contain "undesirable" materials squeezed out in the previously used high pressure process. —If water extract users are forced to use the proposed terminology on their labels, the public will get the erroneous idea it's getting a "watered" product. —Companies using the old pressure process will have a competitive advantage.

THE PROTESTING companies insist that use of water extract mixed with squeezed juice produces a higher-quality orange juice concentrate than an older process for pressure squeezing of pulp. They contend that mandatory mention of the water extract on labels will give consumers the "misleading" impression they are getting a lower-quality product.

The dispute arose after the FDA published March 1 a list of standards for several orange juice products including frozen concentrates.

The FDA standard of identity provides that a water extract made from excess orange pulp may be added to the juice before concentration but, the FDA ruled "the label shall bear the statement 'prepared in part from water extract of orange pulp.'"

The Food and Drug Administration announced today that because of industry objections hearings will be held and the original date for the new standards to go into effect will be stayed.

THE REGULATIONS had been scheduled to become effective 90 days after their March 1 issuance.

The protesting firms have advanced these arguments:

—The new process is now used by all but one of 27 concentrate plants in Florida and by many in California.

—Juice made with the water extract added is better because

Magazine Says Religion Factor In Kennedy Win

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A leading Catholic magazine said today Sen. John F. Kennedy's religion "obviously was a factor" in the Wisconsin primary "but how big a factor is not yet clear."

The Jesuit-edited weekly review America commented editorially that Kennedy's Catholic faith "appears to have helped much more than hurt him" in urban districts of Wisconsin. "But in rural areas the opposite seems to have been true."

It concluded that "the hard-headed politicians who will choose the Democratic nominee in Los Angeles may therefore have to look beyond the Wisconsin primary to learn whether Sen. Kennedy's religion dooms his candidacy or gives it special appeal."

Fire Kills Infants

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two infants died in a fire that swept a basement apartment Wednesday. A third child was rescued by a neighbor who said he had felt he "owed some child a life" since his son was rescued from drowning. John Herko, 48, dashed into the blazing apartment three times and rescued Douglas Billman, 4. He was unable to reach the victims, Helen Hillman, 2, and Richard Vandenberge, 1.

"Dra't those flies!" is an old American expression. But, Ralph Waldo Emerson put it a bit more gently with, "A fly is as untamable as a hyena."

Tax Refund Checks Couldn't Be Delivered

U. S. Owes Taxpayers $20 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Here's news bigger than man-bites-dog: The government wants to pay 20 million dollars to the taxpayers! The money is in the Treasury, waiting to be claimed by about 400,000 taxpayers who failed to receive their income tax refund checks over the years.

The government will keep the money available "forever," the Treasury told United Press International.

Virtually all the 400,000 returns were unpaid because the Treasury's checks could not be delivered. The taxpayers forgot to put their address on their tax return, or they moved before the check came and left no forwarding address, or their handwriting was hard to read and the check was misaddressed.

OFFICIALS CONCEDED that in some cases the Internal Revenue Service made an error of its own and the check never found the taxpayer.

Some of the refunds are many years old. They average $45 to $50. There is no deadline for claiming the money. "The records are kept forever," an IRS spokesman said. "We never dissolve an obligation like that."

Persons who believe there is an old refund they never collected should inquire, by mail or in person, at their district internal revenue office.
