The Catholic churches in Kankakee, and throughout the Joliet diocese have been requested to discontinue bingo games by Bishop Martin D. McNamara.

The bishop recommended that sponsorship of bingo be discontinued in all parishes and institutions in the diocese.

Red China's Premier And Nehru Meet

NEW DELHI (AP)—Chou En-lai arrived today and was promptly told by Prime Minister Nehru Red China's border actions "have been a shock to all our people."

"Our relations have been imperiled for the present and future," he told the visiting Red China premier.

Chou, grim-faced, had voiced hope that the Chinese-Indian border dispute could be settled "in accordance with the principles of coexistence."

Nehru smiled as he made his statement — but his words were tough and sharp.

Near the Indian presidential palace where Chou will stay, 70 demonstrators who sought to protest with black flags were locked up for an "imminent breach of the peace."

CHOU ARRIVED by plane from Rangoon, Burma, for talks with Prime Minister Nehru on 51,000 square miles of disputed territory along the India-Tibet border. The Chinese provoked the border crisis, and Chou is one of the most unpopular visitors in recent Indian history.

An agreement appears unlikely to result from the talks between Chou and Nehru.

Nehru headed a few Cabinet members and other officials greeting Chou at the airport. Security guards were posted all along the route from the airport to the city, but there were virtually no spectators.

President Rajendra Prasad boycotted the arrival ceremony. Since Chou is not the chief of the Chinese state, protocol did not require Prasad's presence.

Congressman's Son Arrested In Tax Protest

CHICAGO (AP)—For the third time in recent weeks the son of a Vermont congressman has landed in jail because of his protests against income taxes.

Karl Meyer, 22, son of Rep. William H. Meyer (D-Vt.) was arrested Monday in the rotunda of the U.S. Courthouse passing out leaflets which read, in part, "Don't pay taxes for war."

Meyer was charged with unlawful conduct and violation of a federal regulation barring distribution of leaflets on federal property.

Meyer waived a preliminary hearing Monday and was ordered held to the federal grand jury. Asst. U.S. Atty. Harvey Sileta said he will seek a psychiatric examination for Meyer.

Seek Ottawa Slayers By Fingerprints

OTTAWA (AP)—Fingerprinting of up to 500 persons living in the area of Starved Rock State Park begins today in the latest phase in the hunt for the killers of three Chicago-area matrons.

Some men will be asked to provide hair samples as well. Employees of La Salle County reported Monday, on the basis of the first fingerprinting.

The quarry now is believed to be two men, one of them middle-aged. This was deduced, Sheriff Ray Eutsey of La Salle County reported Monday, on the basis of strands of hair found clutched by two of the victims.

EARLIER, it was theorized that one powerfully built man attacked and beat to death the three wives of Chicago business executives and then lugged their bodies into a cave in the year round recreation area.

Eutsey said researchers from the laboratories of Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N.Y., informed him that 18 strands of brown hair were found in the left hand of Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, and eight strands of blond hair were discovered clinging to a glove worn by Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47. The hair samples came from males.

The other victim was Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50. All were from Riverside, Ill. They were slain March 14 shortly after setting out for a hike. Their bodies were found March 16.

Reject Demand By Reds To Halt Missile Tests

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI)—The United Nations Command today flatly rejected a Communist North Korean demand to call off launching of "new types" Honest John missiles.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Joo Chang Joon made the demand at the 11th meeting of the United Nations Military Armistice Commission, which was called by the Communist side to coincide with a scheduled testing of an Honest John.

The board authorized a protest to the state Sanitary Water Board. A phone call to Chicago this morning in turn brought a phone call to the district Highway Department office in Ottawa and another call to Blount.

A State Highway Department official explained the state would close off the manhole connection to the Bradley sewer. But they were going to use the manhole to collect water from the north and south and run a separate storm water sewer to the river from the manhole.

A case of lack of contact between Bradley and the Illinois Division of Highways over a storm sewer connection caused a flare-up at the Bradley Village Board Monday night.

But the problem was solved via long-distance phone calls by Attorney Maynard Bissonnette this morning and Bradley officials finally found out what the state was doing.

The problem arose when the state originally built a manhole to connect a storm sewer from the new Route 45-52 road project into Bradley's outfall sewer. The manhole was located near Gregg St. and Bourbonnais Rd.

AFTER BRADLEY informed the state the sewer was already used to capacity, the state agreed

Ask Bids On Sewage System

Bids for improvement of the Kankakee sewage system will be opened May 23 at 1:30 p.m., the city council decided Monday night. And a new sewer rate ordinance raising the minimum for private residences from 75 cents to $1.25 monthly will go into effect May 1.

These were two of the measures approved by aldermen Monday night in connection with expansion of the city's sewage treatment plant and sewer line improvements.

The project will cost an estimated $2 million. It will provide full treatment of Kankakee's sewage. Only partial treatment is provided now and the city for years has been under state order to stop polluting the Kankakee River.

THE NEW SEWER rate raises the charge for commercial and industrial users about 50 per cent, officials estimate. The ordinance is a complicated one, setting forth specific charges for various types of businesses and plants.

Copies of the ordinance are available for inspection at the city clerk's office.

The city will advertise for bids to be read publicly at 1:30 p.m. May 23. Contractors may bid for the entire project or for parts of the projects. Specifications are available at the city clerk's office.

The work must be under contract on or before June 30 for the city to be eligible for a $250,000 federal grant administered by the State Sanitary Water Board.

In another action Monday night, council formally accepted plans and specifications for the sewer project previously completed by the engineering firm of Warren and Van Praag Inc., Decatur.

City Attorney Victor Cardosi reported that the ordinance necessary to sell bonds to finance the sewer project is being prepared and will be ready for council action shortly.

THE PROJECT will be financed by an estimated $1,850,000 revenue bond issue. The bonds will be paid for by the increased sewer rental charges over a 30-year period.

The expanded treatment plant will be built on a city-owned site adjacent to the present plant. It is being constructed to serve an estimated city population of 42,000 and the expected industrial development for the next 20 to 25 years.

The plant will boost treatment from 30 to 90 per cent purification. Other sections of the improvement include:

—A screening plant to keep unwanted objects out of the treatment facilities. The state is paying for a portion of the screening unit, since some of the objects are thrown into the sewer by patients at Kankakee State Hospital. In addition to paying other interceptor line cleaning costs, the state will pay the city $318 per month for serving the hospital, a boost from $300 per month.

—A north side intercepting sewer, including rehabilitation of the Stone street line and relief and intercepting sewers to Hobbs avenue.

—Replacement and enlargement of the existing River street sewer line, including construction of a relief extension for the Sunnyside and Hillcrest areas.

—A branch intercepting sewer from Stone street to Willow St. and Entrance Ave. for an area where no service is now available, including the site for the proposed Stewards Foundation hospital.

THE BOARD ALSO received a report on its summer recreation program from Trustee Robert Martin. He estimated the cost at $2,850 with employees Richard Samlin, Ester Ross, Frank Chido and Art Sutton. Harry Skalsky is the director.

The program is to include tennis, badminton, horseshoes, shuffleboard, tetherball, softball, croquet, ping pong, track, bicycle races and volleyball.

Martin said there would be roller skating on Friday nights. He said he still has been unable to arrange a swimming program. Field trips will also be planned, he said. The recreation will be held mornings June 6 through July 29.

Coroner's Jury Rules Wife Killed Ottawa Family

OTTAWA (UPI)—A coroner's jury ruled Monday night that Mrs. William Winders, 27, killed her husband, her three children and herself.

The five bodies were found in the Winders' home at Seneca March 19. Authorities said they had been dead two days. Tests were made to determine which of the victims fired the shots that killed them but they were inconclusive.

The coroner's jury based its finding on positions of the bodies.

Day Reelected Chairman Of County Board

Supervisors Hold Annual Meeting For Reorganization

Lester Day was reelected chairman for a second one-year term today when the Kankakee County board of supervisors held its annual reorganization.

Day, Aroma Township supervisor, and Myron Deneau were nominated for the post, creating the first contest for the chairmanship in at least 20 years.

But Day defeated Deneau, an assistant supervisor from Kankakee Township, 19-15 in secret balloting.

Before the reorganization, the board voted to accept an election committee recommendation making the county courthouse the only polling place for the Supreme Court judicial election on June 6.

THE MEASURE will save the county an estimated $10,000 in election expense, the committee reported.

Justice Walter V. Schafer of Lake Bluff is running for reelection without opposition. He has been nominated by both political parties in the Seventh judicial district.

In other actions, the board: Accepted the annual audit; raised the salary of the clerk of the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund to $100 a month; and referred a recommendation of the sheriff's committee to the building and grounds committee. It would provide new floor covering in the county jail office and provide for installation of a water cooler in the jail.

THE BOARD ALSO concurred in a committee recommendation approving the plat for a subdivision located across the Kankakee River from the Elks golf course.

However, the committee proposed that the subdivision dedicate the "property lying between the river and a road to the county highway department."

DeGaulle Assumes More Powers

PARIS (AP)—President De Gaulle's government has taken over the right to declare a state of emergency, a prerogative that has belonged to Parliament.

Opposition deputies are expected to protest in the national assembly.

A state of emergency gives the government greater powers for arrest and detention of persons suspected of plotting against the state. It does not give it the practically unlimited powers of a state of siege.

Koreans Protest Strong Arm Rule

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Violent demonstrations against President Syngman Rhee's tactics killed and wounded scores of persons, including several policemen, in South Korea's major cities today.

Rhee called out the army, clamped down martial law and imposed local censorship. But the rioting raged into the night in defiance of the government's moves.

Newspapers checking hospitals said they counted 81 killed and more than 300 wounded in Seoul alone. The wounded included two Americans.

THE DEATH TOLL appeared sure to go higher in the outbreaks protesting government strong-arm methods in last month's election.

The riots brought an unusual expression of concern from the United States for the demonstrators' grievances. The United States fought a three-year war in Korea to keep the Communists from capturing the entire country.

U. S. Ambassador Walter P. McCaughy paid a personal call on President Rhee. The embassy said the ambassador sought to "review developments and express his concern that measures adopted to maintain law and order would take into account basic causes and grievances behind the disorders."

Sporadic demonstrations have flared since March 15 balloting to underscore opposition charges of stuffing ballot boxes, restricting opposition meetings, and police brutality. Many of the demonstrators were students, and this pattern of youthful protest continued.

But today's was the worst so far. Raging during the day in Pusan, Taegu, Taejeon, Kwangju and this capital, the rioting amounted to virtual revolutionary upheaval. Those five cities were put under martial law.

THIS IS WHAT happened in Seoul: Thousands of students came marching down the wide avenue leading to Rhee's mansion. They were from colleges and universities, junior and senior high schools.

The boulevard was clogged with the somber black of their school uniforms.

Seven hundred yards from the President's mansion, the students halted. Thirty yards in front of them was a row of armed and helmeted police.

The police had one fire truck, fire hoses, and tear gas bombs. More and more students poured into the street. Thousands lined the sidewalks and jammed the open area in front of Korea's old Capitol, burned out and still under construction.

Expect Williams To Dodge Signing Of Curfew Law

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A bill establishing a statewide curfew for Michigan's young folks will become law without Gov. G. Mennen Williams' signature.

The governor, citing conflicting views of experts on juvenile problems, said Monday he was doubtful the curfew could be very effective but that he didn't want to reject the Legislature's decision.

The curfew will take effect Aug. 12—90 days after adjournment of the Legislature—if lawmakers quit as scheduled May 13.

Curfew regulations will prohibit children under 16 from loitering on the streets after midnight and require those under 12 to be home by 10 p.m.

Children accompanied by designated adults would be exempted as would those sent on a special errand by parents or guardians.

Quemoy Alerted For Invasion Try

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The garrison commander of the Quemoy Islands has canceled all military leaves, warning that the Chinese Reds may be preparing an invasion of the Nationalist outposts just off the mainland. The order went into effect Monday.

Qualified sources in Taipei believed the warning was not based on any new intelligence information, but they attached no special significance to it. They thought the aim was to counter any feeling that, because the Communists have for months subjected the Quemoy to only occasional light bombardment, they have abandoned aggressive intentions against them.

Any Other System Is Worse

Sir Winston Churchill conceded once that democracy as a system of government is weighted down with incredible disadvantages. But he added that it has one supreme virtue: all the other systems are worse.

So it is, it would seem, with the presidential primaries. The other ways of picking a president are worse.

No matter what fine words are brought to bear, the unvarnished fact is that the choice—without the impact of the primaries—goes inevitably back to the political hardhats and the smoke-filled rooms.

The primaries are imperfect guides but they are the only ones we have. The wise course would possibly be to make them better, not to abandon them.

Anyone who imagines they are without effect has never talked to professional politicians who really know their business. They await the primary signs as a Navajo communicates sergent scans the horizon for smoke signals.

In any given year, it is wholly beside the point to note that this or that primary has been either a promoter of presidents or a graveyard for hopes. All that counts is how the politicians will view it this time.

Florida was important in 1956 with its crucial Stevenson-Kefauver fight. In 1960 it is nothing. West Virginia seldom has had a major place, but this year's Kennedy-Humphrey contest is front and center right now.

You can note that Estes Kefauver won a string of primaries and never got the nomination (most of his victories were unopposed in 1952). But perhaps it is more significant that in this century no man who has been elected to the White House failed to enter and win at least one primary.

The primaries must continue to serve us in our presidential choices until something better is devised. The critics haven't come up with any constructive hints what that might be.

At Least Protect The Children

Anyone who can read should know that effective protection against polio is available. The Salk vaccine, introduced five years ago, has protected millions who otherwise might have suffered the crippling effects of the dread disease.

But some 34 million Americans who could have been protected have not received the necessary three, or four, shots of Salk vaccine. This is one reason why reported cases of paralytic polio went up again in 1959—up 54 per cent over 1958.

Most of the unvaccinated are adults. They ought to be able to make their own decisions—and get protected.

Even more important is the fact that 4,500,000 children under five years of age have had no vaccine. Nearly half of all cases of paralytic polio in 1959 occurred in children under five.

So there are millions of children who ought to be protected but who are not. Many of them will be statistics by next fall—figures reflecting pain and death, iron lungs and wheel chairs, crutches and braces—unless more is done to protect them.

They can't do it themselves. At the very least, let's be sure we have done everything we can to protect these children.

Kankakeeland, like every community in the nation, should determine how well it is protected and then see to it that every chance is given to the unvaccinated to get the protective vaccine.

Anyway, Man Made The Machine

That story about a bobby pin and an airliner ought to cause smiles among the folks of this world. It happened in Australia, when the nose wheel of a passenger plane jammed. The pilot borrowed the pin from the hostess to short circuit the wheel's electrical system until it could be shaken loose and lowered.

No One Had Fun At Easter Egg Roll

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Bad as a whole day of unbecomingly rainy weather, the annual White House egg roll was a disaster.

In fact, the weather looked so unpromising that I didn't even take my Easter basket with me when I set out for the annual White House egg roll.

I just stuck a few eggs in the pocket of my raincoat, thinking that if I didn't get to roll them, I would at least have a leg up toward lunch.

I had been dreaming of participating in an Easter Monday egg roll ever since I first set foot on the banks of the Potomac. But heretofore I had been unable to sneak off from my children.

YOU KNOW HOW IT is when you take children anywhere. They want to hog all the fun for themselves.

This time, making use of a tunnel I had surreptitiously dug during the winter, I made a clean getaway for what I had pictured case all the way to Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty's office before I could get untied.

Once inside the gate, I rushed onto the green lawn, which was so mud that it felt like an Easter basket full of mud.

Just then and I had happened to have a shaggy hound, I would be dining Monday on hasepuffer.

While waiting for the rain to stop, I went by my office and honed up on egg rolling, a custom which is steeped in antiquity.

The origin of the game is obscure but I learned from the National Geographic Society that the object is to roll two hard boiled eggs together on a greensward to see which one cracks. In the excitement of eluding the juvenile dragnet at home, I had completely forgotten about the rule that adults weren't admitted unless accompanied by children.

Here's What They Say

The conqueror is very satisfied with the conqueror—German Chancellor ADENAUER on the attitude of West Berlin toward continued Allied occupation.

I would say to the world: You are either for us or against us... I would withdraw from the U. N. . . I would not let the U. N. be the physical properties of the U. N. . . from our borders. Then I would establish a world-wide economic blockade against the Soviet Union.—Gen. ALBERT WEDEMEYER (ret), with his plan for peace.

The comedy music is sick and apt to getlicher. If a comedian has egg on his chin, the egg is seen by 40 million people.—TV producer SHELDON LEONARD.

The cacophonous music called "n" roll would never have achieved acclaim, especially among teenagers, were it not for payola and "plagiarism."—Rep. EMANUEL CELLER (D-N.Y.)

Race Issue Is One Of Adjustment

WASHINGTON—Billy Graham's Easter message about race relations in America contains many significant passages. The world evangelist, just back from a tour of Africa, says the most burning issue of modern times is the race question, that people are discussing it all over the world and that it is not confined to South Africa or to the South in the United States. He says: "Wherever two races, nations or peoples live side by side there are tensions and problems."

The race issue is one of mutual adjustment—whether that be forced, or follow the path of evolution. "The Bible," says Billy Graham, "has the right to choose his own friendships and social relations."

Stratagem Nets Overbid

By OSWALD JACOBY
When W. D. Finn, of Knoxville, Tenn., bid four hearts, he knew he was overbidding, but he gave the hand an overbidder's play and wound up with his contract.

He won the opening diamond lead with the ace, led the queen of clubs and put on dummy's king. East took the ace and led two high diamonds. West ruffed the second with the nine spot and forced dummy's ace.

Mr. Finn led a trump and finessed the jack. When West dropped the ten Finn decided that East still held the queen of hearts and that another trump finesse was needed.

In that case Jack had to do something about the spade suit. East had opened the bidding and rebid and West had never opened his mouth. It appeared almost certain that East would hold the king of spades and that a spade finesse would be a losing proposition.

This left him one chance. East's king of spades might be a singleton.

Mr. Finn went up with dummy's ace and dropped that king. From then on, it was easy. He finessed again in trumps; drew the last trump; and returned to dummy with a spade for a diamond discard on his jack of clubs.

The Expense Account

A phenomenon of American business is the expansion of the expense account as an additional form of salary. Just as the stock option is an additional form of salary, these fringe benefits in addition to wages. As competent management is hard to find, corporations have found it necessary to make attractive offers of expense accounts and stock options.

The reason for this is the unconscionable income tax which deprives the more competent of the nation of the fruits of their talents. Every prudent man, with some regard for his family, seeks to set up an estate for his wife and children, and as our obligations to all parts of the world are such that the American has to be taxed, even to provide birth control literature, this is difficult without a gimmick. So the income tax has become the mother of gimmicks.

NOW THE TREASURY COMES ALONG and announces that it is going to perform mayhem on the expense account. The substance of the new arrangement is:

Internal Revenue agents will be instructed to ascertain whether the employer is obtaining acceptable and satisfactory accounting for expenses from its officers and employees. If the Internal Revenue Service agent finds that the method used and the information furnished is not in accordance with acceptable business and accounting standards the expenses may be disallowed as a deduction by the employer and the personal returns of the employees will be by the employer and the personal returns of the employees will be by the employer and the personal returns of the employees will be by the employer.

That means no more smoke sheds; no more expense that cannot be absolutely associated with the business in hand; no more yachts, or rent paid for additional homes, or no more company payments for private parties; for they thrive on the expense account. Businessmen, particularly those seeking big orders, have an amusing meal in a chic restaurant, with pretty women, wives or otherwise, to keep the company interesting.

After all, business usually exists to make sales of one kind or another and if that is the way sales are best made, what harm is done if a few dollars are spent to make a buyer feel good? APPARENTLY, THE TREASURY does not think that the buyers find it good. In fact, the buyers might find it more cheerful to buy Italian or German or Japanese goods. They will do it.

Government bureaucrats are usually not familiar with sales practices. If they believe that business is only done from 9 to 5, they disclose their proletarian ignorance. Business is done whenever and wherever it is convenient. Sometimes it is done at a ball game. Sometimes it is done over a cocktail. Sometimes it is done at a theater party. "Sure, Jake is a good fellow. I'll give him a break"—every salesman knows what that means.

But to the bureaucrat, with an IBM mind, it can mean nothing, except that the salesman is working overtime and should get time and a-half pay and that the buyer goes in for payola and should be exposed. If these underpaid keepers of bureaucracy keep it up, we shall soon have no business at all, because nowhere else in the world are such policies pursued and no one needs to buy from those who sell with so little.

SO THE EXPENSE ACCOUNT IS TO be monitored beyond common sense and all company accounts have been notified which is important for his business. If he charges the outfit to his company as a sound business expense, he is in real trouble.

The income tax has become a weapon of economic destruction. Not only are small men unable to form sufficient capital to protect their families against a bleak, beggarish future, but business itself is deprived of many tools to the advantage of foreign traders who are not disadvantaged in a like manner. The patently bureaucratic clerk who prepares memoranda on this or that to form policy is incapable of understanding what it takes to operate a business in a competitive world. He seeks a pension.

"THE ISSUE IN America has moral, social and political implications. Sometimes these questions are extremely complicated—and equally devout men see them somewhat differently. The Christian life requires growth in education and communion with God."

14th Annual Carnival At Central Wednesday Night

Fourteenth annual spring carnival at Central High School is scheduled for this week. Sponsored by the FFA and FFA it will be beginning at 7 p.m. It will be climaxed at 10 p.m. with the crowning of the king and queen. Candidates for the honors are as follows: freshmen—Andrea Martin and Ricky Bukowski; sophomores—Judy Rosenboom and Dale Schultz; juniors—Shirley Davall and Gerald Meyer, and seniors—Karen Comstock and Tom Chandler.

Games, contests, cakewalks, refreshments, dancing, etc., are included in the evening agenda. An amateur contest is set for 9:30 p.m.

The carnival is open to the public and there will be no admission charge at the door. Proceeds will be divided between the FFA and FFA with all four of the classes in the school also sharing in the proceeds from the sale of the sales campaigns being conducted in connection with the carnival.

Cochairmen of the carnival are Dennis Marek, Betty Tambling and Janet Cunningham.

First annual pop concert at Beecher High School was held Monday night at the school gymnasium and featured music students of the entire district 200-U.

Participating were the high school district music contest winners, the high school band and choral groups and the grade school band.

The band played such numbers as "Kismet City" and "Swinging on the Parade." Girls chorus selections included "Love, Look Away," "Stranger in Paradise," "Young and Foolish" and "A Wonderful Guy."

Glee club numbers were "Catch A Falling Star" and "O Bone Jesus" and the mixed chorus presented such numbers as "The Happy Wanderer" and "There Ain't Nothing Like A Dame."

Vocal groups were directed by Miss Esther Keyes and the band by Arthur Wask.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to help defray the cost of traveling to the state music contest.

Other candidates for the presidency were Ted Sobol and James Beck. Rosann Gorman was vice president running mate of Sobol and Mary Romary of Beck.

The senior class of Beecher High School chose last Thursday as its "ditch day." This is a day which the seniors are excused from school to spend the period as they wish. Only the seniors, of course, know which day it will be.

Members of the class also sponsored a car wash Saturday at the school. Proceeds went into the class treasury.

Janice Kustall has been named first place winner of the American Legion essay contest at St. Patrick Central High School. Second place went to Patrick Quigley.

Four Grant Park High School students won awards at the annual science exposition of the central district held at Illinois State Normal University. It was sponsored by the Illinois Junior Academy of Science.

James Graf and Randall Rose won second place with a project of transmitting sound by light waves. Katherine Hanton and Edward Vott took a second place award with an electronic tick-toe machine. The former was in the physics division and the latter in mathematics. Louis Schmitt was faculty adviser for the former and Donald Lovell for the latter. Both winners will be on display at the Grant Park school open house April 29.

Other candidates for the presidency were Ted Sobol and James Beck. Rosann Gorman was vice president running mate of Sobol and Mary Romary of Beck.

Officers Installed At Orion Shrine Ceremony

Installation of officers for the 1960-1961 term of office in the local Orion Shrine was held Saturday at the Masonic Temple. Retiring worthy high priestess Mrs. Clayton Turner and her husband as acting watchman of shepherds were assisted by the installing worthy high priestess, Mrs. Arthur Glad, and the installing organist, Mrs. Richard M. Riggs.

Mrs. Turner welcomed the group and the sojourners who had been selected to install officers were presented at the altar and escorted to the east. They were Mrs. Thomas French, Mrs. William Dittus, Mrs. Ed Babin, Mrs. Arthur Glad, Mrs. Riggs, and Mrs. Virgil Rogers. Escorts to the installing officers were James Whitley, Thomas French, William Dittus, Joseph Bauer, Grover Turner, Fred Keller and Almie Lemmenger. Willard Bossett, color bearer, took part in the ceremonies and Miss Cheryl Bossett presented an "Ode to the Flag."

Other officers are: Mrs. Rich and Ball, queen; Mrs. Arista Soles, first hand maid; Mrs. Ralph Williamson, second hand maid; Mrs. Blaine Burton, hand maid; Mrs. Carrie Miner, worthy organist; Mrs. Effie Lucie, worthy guardian; Iona Carruthers, worthy guard; and Mrs. William Dittus, soloist.

Also installed: Almie Lemmenger, Harlow Breeze and Charles Swartz, United States flag; Mrs. William Hester and Mrs. Raymond Meyers, White Shrine flag; Mrs. Fay Anderson, Mrs. Max Tuttle and Mrs. Sarah Smith, White Shrine banner; Mrs. Thoms as French, prompter. Honorary officers installed were: Mrs. John DeValk, courier; Mrs. John Bar-ni, flower girl; Mrs. Mary Strahl, mistress of wardrobe; William Dittus, stereopticon.

Queen's attendants installed were: Mrs. Dominick Tintari, Mrs. Lawrence McFarland, Mrs. Charles Swartz, Mrs. W. D. Carruthers, Mrs. Viola Stewart, Mrs. Arley Wilson, Mrs. Olga Peterson, Mrs. Anna VanVorst, Mrs. Zora Brunshwiler and Mrs. Owen Peterson. Also installed: Mrs. Helen Hamilton and Mrs. Clarence Shanks, tableau.

Mrs. CARRUTHERS, past worthy high priestess of Orion Shrine, was guest of honor. Members of the Shrine of International Order of Job's Daughters formed a cross and sang. A solo was sung by Mrs. Virgil Rogers as Mrs. LaVerne Hunt knelt at the altar; and an arm bouquet of red roses was presented to Mrs. Hunt by her daughter, Miss Evelyn Marie Hunt, who escorted her.

Mrs. Rogers sang also as LaVerne Hunt was installed and her daughter, Miss Louise Joy Hunt, escorted him.

Following the appearance of the guard of honor of the Kankakee chapter of the Order of DeMolay, Mrs. Virgil Bader was installed as noble high priestess and conducted to her station.

Virgil Bader was installed as associate watchman of shepherds. Other elected, appointed and honorary officers were then presented, installed and conducted to their stations. Paul Kretz sang to the worthy chaplain; and Mrs. Arthur Glad presented the jewel to the junior past worthy high priestess. A solo was sung by Mrs. Mary Strahl, mistress of wardrobe; William Dittus, stereopticon.

Joyce Mitchell To Wed In June

Mr. and Mrs. William Fish Mitchell of 5 Marquette Lane are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Joyce, to Dr. Adrian Constantin Melissinos. He is the son of Mrs. Olympia Constantin Melissinos of Athens, Greece, and the late Constantin Melissinos.

Miss Mitchell was graduated cum laude from Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., in 1957 and from the Harvard-Radcliffe program in Business Administration in 1958. She is the assistant to the director of field work at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Dr. Melissinos is an instructor in the department of physics at the University of Rochester, Rochester, N.Y. He was graduated from the Royal Hellenic Naval Academy and served in the Navy for six years, mainly at sea. He received both his masters of science and his doctorate in physics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His father was president of the Greek State Railways.

Plans are being made for a June wedding which will take place in the chapel of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Following the meeting a pot-luck supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson.

Storage Screen In The Kitchen

By KAY SHAWWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A screen that adds to storage facilities can be a mighty useful item in a tiny kitchen or in the cramped quarters of a one-room apartment.

If a homemaker can make it herself without special tools or talents, and at modest cost, it is a worthwhile project.

I was thinking what a help such a screen would be in a small summer cottage kitchen. So I asked an idea man in the projects department of a large company why he didn't dream up plans for one.

He did. And to prove a homemaker could make one without the household handy man around, he sent me a set of plans for one.

This is a three-panel screen, six feet high, with a kind of redwood frame, sheathed in selected perforated hardboard.

To duplicate it you will need two 4 by 6 foot sheets of perforated tempered hardboard, 1/2 inch thick, cut into six equal sections, 16 inches by 6 feet. You will also need 12 1/2 inch long.

To duplicate it you will need two 4 by 6 foot sheets of perforated tempered hardboard, 1/2 inch thick, cut into six equal sections, 16 inches by 6 feet. You will also need 12 1/2 inch long.

Place one panel of the perforated hardboard over the frame and hinge. Carefully line up the edges of the frame and the hammer tacks through the hardboard's holes into the frame.

Make another frame the same way beside the first panel. Place the second panel into place. One edge of an inch space should be allowed between the two frames to give hinges and screen flexibility.

With one side of two panels completed and one hinge in place, turn completed part of the screen over and begin assembly of third panel. Repeat the same process with hinge and lining up panel for third panel. Be certain the two cloth hinges are on opposite sides of screen so it will fold properly.

The hardboard may be painted and this should be done before assembly. Approximate cost is $15, although this will vary in different parts of the country. With so many tacks to close together, the directions caution us to be sure to use kindred redwood to avoid a split frame. Many accessories fit perforated hardboard—shelf brackets, knobs, holders—to make this as versatile in use as one likes.
