Boost Dirksen, Nixon At GOP State Meeting

Stratton Says Illinois Will Be In The Limelight

DECATUR (AP) — Illinois Republicans put on a demonstration for Vice President Richard M. Nixon Saturday and named 10 delegates to the party's national convention.

At their one-day state convention, the Republicans also voted favorite-son backing to U.S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen for the vice presidential nomination.

Dirksen did not attend the session but Gov. William G. Stratton told the party followers that, "We're serious about this endorsement."

"Illinois is not going to be played down by the East or West Coast as long as I am governor," Stratton declared.

THE DIRKSEN resolution saluted the Senate minority leader for his "ability, judgment and vast knowledge," and said he has won recognition from Republicans throughout the country.

The state convention rejected an attempt to support state Sen. Arthur Bidwill of River Forest as an "alternate" favorite son for vice president. Stratton said any other endorsements would detract from the move behind Dirksen.

Stratton and Dirksen headed the list of delegates-at-large who will join with 50 delegates elected in the April primary.

A NOTABLE absentee from the list was Samuel W. Witwer, nominee for U.S. senator, who had sought to be named a full-fledged delegate to the presidential nominating convention. Witwer was placed on the alternate delegate roster.

Other delegates chosen included State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski, Mrs. Mary Brooks, Edward Ryerson and Julius Klein, all of Chicago; Congressman Leslie C. Arends, Melvin; Charles Percy, Kenilworth; James Worthy, Winnetka; and Ward Just, Waukegan.

State convention delegates whooped it up for Nixon, parading in Kintner Gymnasium behind a band, waving Nixon banners and wearing Nixon straw hats.

In endorsing Nixon for president, the convention adopted a resolution declaring: "The troubled condition of the world makes impractical and dangerous any change in the delicate foreign relations of this nation at the present time."

Other resolutions lauded Stratton's record and praised President Eisenhower for his world peace mission, stating that Eisenhower's display "of moral courage has captured the admiration of the entire world."

C. E. Lovejoy of Chicago, Thomas O. Matthews of Fairfield and Mrs. Audrey Peake of Winchester were nominated for the three University of Illinois trustee posts to be filled in November election.

WITWER, KEYNOTE speaker at the state meeting, said that "peace, freedom and prosperity" will form the Republican campaign issues.

"Peace is not a tired, worn out issue," he asserted. "Nor is it tarnished as the result of Khrushchev's scuttling of the summit in Paris. Actually the issue is more vital and valid than ever before."

Witwer said the U-2 spy plane incident "and President Eisenhower's calm and wise reaction to the cruelties of the Soviet premier have strengthened the people's conviction that America is in good, responsible hands."

STRATTON in his speech acknowledged he is involved in a

UI Professor's Wife, Children Killed In Crash

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP) — The wife and two children of an Illinois University professor were killed Saturday in the head-on collision of their car with a tractor-trailer on U.S. Highway 67 three miles north of Poplar Bluff.

Killed were Mrs. Betty Gottlieb, 51, the driver, and daughters Jan, 17, and Verdone, 14. The professor, David Gottlieb, 48, was in Doctor's Hospital at Poplar Bluff with a fractured right leg and cuts.

The State Highway Patrol said the Gottlieb car was pulling a small trailer and a boat was strapped on the car roof. Officers said Mrs. Gottlieb apparently lost control when the car hit a concrete drainage siding on the highway, and veered into the opposite lane.

Also injured, not seriously, were the tractor-trailer driver, Lenzie Leftridge, 30, and a passenger, Laverie Inman, 23, both of Bonne Terre, Mo.

The Good Old Days

Plan Glorious Fourth Locally

After a lapse of many years, the Kankakee Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Kankakee Valley Boat Club have made plans to bring back the old-fashioned Fourth of July spirit to Kankakee.

The two organizations have planned a series of activities which will begin at 2 p.m. on the river at Beckman Park and will continue up until about 10 p.m.

At 2 p.m. the boat club will present a 3 1/2 to 4-hour water ski show of professional and amateur water skiers.

Featured in the show will be a 20-member troupe of professionals from Gardner, with other acts highlighting a Clifton family and amateurs in the local area.

Included in the acts will be three high-speed water speedboats, kite skiing, pyramid and jump acts and heel skiing.

The state championship color guard of the Kankakee VFW Post will present an exhibition and the colors.

According to Vernon Danielson of the boat club, grandstands will be set-up on the shore for spectators and food stands will be erected. This show and all the activities will be open to the public free of charge.

Don Frake, general chairman for the Jaycee's part of the observance, said that the Kankakee municipal band, which normally plays at Gov. Small Memorial Park on Sundays, will play instead on Monday beginning at 7:30 p.m. on the Beckman Park tennis courts.

The band's program will be devoted entirely to traditional, patriotic tunes.

Immediately following the concert, the Jaycees will present a fireworks display, shooting from the other side of the river. The display will last about 45 minutes, Frake said.

The Jaycees have also tentatively planned for two Little League baseball games at Beckman Park in the afternoon.

SHAME ON YOU

MOSCOW (AP) — The newspaper Evening Moscow reports some Soviet citizens are cheating the buses and trams by depositing slugs for fares and that spotters who catch them hold them up to public shame. One coin box, it says, yielded buttons, screws, nuts, washers, keys and lead counterfeits.

Concert Today

The municipal band's first concert of the summer season, postponed last Sunday due to inclement weather, will be held at 8 p.m. today—weather permitting—in Gov. Small Memorial Park. The band will play the program of 13 selections announced last week as their first offering in a summer-long series.

Senate Holds Up Action To Extend Taxes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bitter argument over amendments and timing forced the Senate Saturday to postpone action until next week on a one-year extension of present corporation and excise taxes.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson's plan for a vote on the bill at Saturday's special session was blocked by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) who insisted members should have more time to consider the legislation.

Johnson, angered at Clark's threat of a "filibuster," accused his Democratic colleague of "legislative blackmail."

Most of Saturday's debate was on a controversial proposal by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) to plug what he called a "glaring" loophole in present tax structure involving the 15 per cent depletion income tax allowance on some minerals.

AT JOHNSON'S urging, the Senate sidetracked Gore's amendment to scale down the allowance by making it apply only to minerals in their original form—not on their value as finished products. The amendment was tabled by vote of 39 to 26.

Johnson's motion was supported by 20 Democrats and 19 Republicans. It was opposed by 25 Democrats and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.).

Johnson's tabling showdown was not a clear-cut test of Senate sentiment on elimination of tax loopholes, however.

The Senate was advised by its presiding officer that if the Gore amendment were adopted in the form offered, it would automatically have repealed the 10 per cent excise tax on both travel tickets and local telephone calls.

Red Cannons Bid President Goodbye

TAIPEI, Formosa, (UPI) — Communist Chinese coast artillery rained a murderous barrage of shells on the Nationalist Quemoy Island complex today in a "farewell" to President Eisenhower. First reports indicated the shelling was unusually heavy.

The Nationalist defense ministry officially described the bombardment as "wanton," a term usually used whenever Communist artillery fire is intense.

Thief, Shot At Beecher, Later Is Found Dead

Station Attendant Blasts Burglar With Shotgun

BEECHER, (JNS)—A man who was shot while burglarizing a Beecher service station drove 10 miles to his Park Forest home before he died early Saturday.

Kenneth L. Edgar, 45, an unemployed mechanic, was found slumped over the wheel of his car by his wife, Wanda, 33, when she returned to their home in Park Forest.

Franklin Fisher, 19, Beecher, identified Edgar as the man he had shot after discovering him in the service station.

The station, owned by Fisher's father, Herman, is located on Route 1 at the south edge of Beecher. The son had been sleeping in the station because of previous burglaries.

HERMAN DEEKE, Beecher police chief, said the son was awakened by a noise and saw a prowler leaving the station's front door, which had been broken open.

Fisher grabbed a .12 gauge shotgun when the man returned to the doorway where he had left the station's cash register. It had been removed from a cabinet.

Deeke said Fisher fired at the prowler when he turned and fled after ignoring the youth's command to stand still.

Despite a wound in the back, which bled profusely, the prowler made it to his car and drove away.

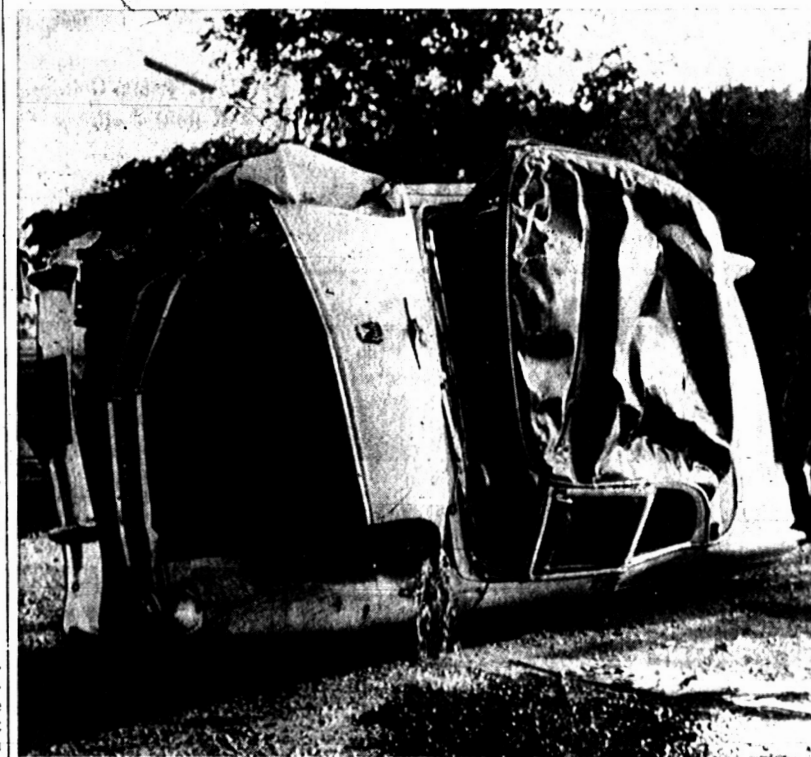

THE BURGLAR'S identity was established when his wife brought him to St. James Hospital, Chicago Heights, where he was pronounced dead.

Deeke said Edgar had stopped at the service station Friday afternoon and talked with Herman Fisher, the owner. A man answering Edgar's description had also been seen on three different occasions Friday at the Shady

Cuban Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — Cuba signed an agreement with the Soviet Union Saturday to buy Soviet oil and oil products, Tass reported. The agreement was concluded between Antonio Nunez Jimenez, head of the Cuban economic mission to Moscow, and Soviet Foreign Trade Minister Nikolai Patolichev.

Two Escape Serious Injury

Two area men, Gerald Reilly, 21, St. George; the driver; and James T. Hedditch, 27, Ganer Township; miraculously escaped serious injury when their car severed a telephone pole and was flattened on cemetery curve on Route

54 early Saturday night. Reilly was dismissed from St. Mary's Hospital after emergency treatment and Hedditch was admitted for two scalp wounds and an injured ear. Car is being righted after it overturned. (Journal photo)

Kishi May Resign

Japanese-U. S. Pact Ratified

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Nobusuke Kishi's conservative government survived climactic Communist-led demonstrations and won automatic ratification Sunday of Japan's new 10-year military alliance with the United States.

With that goal reached, Kishi is expected to resign soon.

Embittered leftists blockaded Kishi's official residence in a Korea-style siege. Thousands of students vowed to keep the residence sealed off until Kishi meets with them just as "Syngman Rhee met with students" in the Seoul uprising that finally drove Rhee from the presidency of South Korea.

The student crowd thinned out, however, as the hours passed. By 2 a.m. only 500 maintained the blockade.

SOME 400 steel-helmeted police were on the grounds to guard against any attempt to break in. They had water hoses ready and buckets full of water for use in case demonstrators might attempt to set fire to the police riot trucks, as they did earlier in the week.

The student besiegers were among 300,000 demonstrators who had marched, chanted and snake-danced through downtown Tokyo Saturday night in a final venting of spleen against the treaty.

Despite his treaty victory over the left-wingers—who claimed their own victory when President Eisenhower's visit to Japan was canceled—Kishi's days as the chief of the government seem numbered.

The explanation here is that he will resign, perhaps next week or next month, and call a new parliamentary election to heal the bitter aftermath of a mammoth cold-war battle that has divided the nation and damaged Japan's world prestige.

JAPAN'S APPROVAL of the treaty, which continues American bases in this island country for at least another decade, became effective a moment after midnight. But a Socialist orator haranguing thousands of students who milled outside Parliament and surrounded Kishi's residence nearby after the deadline passed shouted: "The struggle did not

Red Charge

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged that a U.S. warship had intruded twice into Red Chinese territorial waters off Fukien Province, opposite Formosa, Saturday. Peiping's broadcast said the Foreign Ministry had issued the 110th serious warning against such U.S. "military provocations."

They were identified as Harold Tibbets, 21, Leo McCleary, 27, and James Moxley, 28.

Authorities said the three were arrested June 15 near Chebanse, in Iroquois County, for speeding by a state trooper. They said guns were found in the possession of Moxley and McCleary.

Local authorities became suspicious of the three men and notified police here, saying they believed the three were fleeing arrest. They were charged with speeding and carrying concealed weapons, but the sentence was suspended when Chicago police claimed them as suspects.

They admitted taking part in about 30 robberies after appearing in a police lineup. They were held for grand jury action.

Red Chinese Again Vow To Seize Country

President Ends Chiang Talks; Ready To Leave

TAIPEI, Formosa, (UPI) — President Eisenhower Saturday wound up a triumphant visit which reassured Nationalist Chinese that the United States would rush to their aid if Communist China carries out new threats to "liberate" Formosa.

As the President concluded talks with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and prepared to fly to Okinawa and Seoul, South Korea, the Communist New China news agency broadcast new vows to seize this Nationalist island bastion 90 miles off the Chinese mainland.

"The Chinese people will liberate Taiwan (Formosa) without fail," speakers boasted. "Eisenhower must get out of the Far East."

Eisenhower and Chiang met for 100 minutes Saturday afternoon in this steaming capital city and Eisenhower stressed there was "not an iota of change in the United States position."

WHITE HOUSE Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower assured Chiang that the United States will help defend the Quemoy offshore island complex if a Communist attack on the islands appears to endanger Formosa itself.

Chiang and the President exchanged views on the Communist menace, and Eisenhower asked Chiang to "give his estimate and view of the Communist threat in the Far East," Hagerty said.

A spokesman for Chiang said the talks were "cordial," and said Chiang thanked Eisenhower for the "steady help and support" of the American people.

The talks followed Eisenhower's address in Defense Plaza before a crowd of some half million people in which he denounced the "tyranny" of the Red regime on the Communist mainland.

THE THORNG that heard him was good natured despite its size. It seemed to surge forward slowly, like a glacier, toward the speaker's stand, threatening to engulf it at one point.

The crowd waved flags and cheered in a thunder of sound.

Eisenhower obviously was impressed and pleased with his reception, which Red China tried to spoil Friday with an 86,000-shell barrage of the Quemoy complex.

At a banquet, tendered by the Nationalist president and his wife, American-educated Madame Chiang Kai-shek, Eisenhower praised Chiang for having seen the danger of Communism 14 years before the Reds forced him off the mainland.

"He stands now as our partner in a great alliance of free peoples," Eisenhower said of his Chinese host.

Eisenhower was leaving by plane at 9:10 p.m. e.d.t. for Seoul with a 2 1/2 hour stopover at Okinawa.

3, Arrested Near Chebanse, Admit To 30 Robberies

CHICAGO (UPI) — Three men who admitted to at least 30 robberies in the Chicago area during May and June were held by authorities Saturday.

They were identified as Harold Tibbets, 21, Leo McCleary, 27, and James Moxley, 28.

Authorities said the three were arrested June 15 near Chebanse, in Iroquois County, for speeding by a state trooper. They said guns were found in the possession of Moxley and McCleary.

Local authorities became suspicious of the three men and notified police here, saying they believed the three were fleeing arrest. They were charged with speeding and carrying concealed weapons, but the sentence was suspended when Chicago police claimed them as suspects.

Three Nabbed Near Ashkum Face Charges

WATSEKA (JNS)—Three Chicago men arrested Wednesday near Ashkum and held in Watsika for Chicago police have been identified as the gunmen who committed 30 recent Northwest Side Chicago robberies, Chicago police said today.

The trio, Leo McClary, 27, Harold Tibbitts, 21, and James May, 25, were arrested by state police and were fined $100 and costs each in Watsika for the illegal transportation of weapons.

Their names were turned over to Chicago authorities. Sgt. Charles Fitzgerald of the Chicago police said the men were picked out of thousands by victims of the robberies, most of them holdups of liquor stores, gas stations, loan companies and taxicabs.

The three men were accompanied by a woman when they were arrested by State Trooper Clifford Martlet of Pontiac for speeding 80 miles an hour on two of the robberies. Chicago police determined the woman was not implicated in the robberies.

Each of the men was charged with five counts of armed robbery and held under $25,000 bond each. Trooper Martlet, after stopping the four, recognized Tibbitts' name as the one sent out on a message from Chicago police. He searched the men and found two loaded pistols on May and one on McClary.

North Side police had traced the three through Tibbitts' car. A witness to a loan company robbery Tuesday pointed out the license number of the getaway car.

Police said it was owned by Tibbitts. They then learned Tibbitts and two men had left the city heading south.

Seeks To Solve Bat Mystery

URBANA (AP)—One of zoology's mysteries is the annual, summer disappearance of 200,000 female bats from their southern Indiana and northern Kentucky habitats.

The females fly to some as yet undiscovered area, give birth to their young and return to winter in clusters with their mates along the roads and walls of caves.

A University of Illinois zoologist will seek the birthplace of the bats this summer. He is John S. Hall of Montgomery, Mass., who has received an award from the American Society of Mammalogists for his study of bats.

HALL IS ACKNOWLEDGED as an expert on the far-ranging, 2-inch-long creatures with the 10-inch wing span. But he is still baffled by the summer exodus of the pregnant females.

He will spend this summer unraveling the bat-birth mystery as he has unraveled the rest of the life histories of the tiny mammals.

"The miles remain near their habitats throughout the summer. But only a few young-bearing females have ever been found between March and August, Hall reports.

Day Camp Will Start, Morocco

MOROCCO, Ind. (JNS)—Church Day Camp for junior high youth will be held for one week starting June 22 at 8:30 a.m.

The campers will meet at the Christian Fellowship Hall with a sack lunch each day and go to the Convention Club House for the sessions.

There is a registration fee of $2.50. This day camp is sponsored by the Baptist, Christian, L.U.B. and Methodist churches.

MR. AND MRS. William Bowser are parents of a daughter born June 16 in the George Ade Memorial Hospital, Iroquois. She was the first girl born there.

Allen August returned from Oak from Enterprise, police said, to avoid colliding with a west-bound car stopped at the intersection of the highway. He was turned by Leo Henry Scanlon, 161 S. Rosewood Ave.

10 Drivers Pay Traffic Fines

Ten motorists charged with traffic violations were fined by Municipal Court Saturday. The included:

For speeding—Elda L. Nordmeyer, 46, Chebanne, $15; Charles W. Queen, 24, of 49 S. East Ave., $12; John H. Doolittle, 26, Crescent City, $12; Tommy Stevenson, 28, of 31 N. Evergreen Ave., $14; and Joe Evers, 21, of 15 Hanson Dr., Bourbonnais, $14.

For illegal mufflers—Steve Ford, 25, of 160 Eagle St., $14; and Gary R. Crites, 20, County Court, Bourbonnais, $14.

For running a stop sign—Dick Deppen, 30, of 113 S. Schuyler Ave., and Robert E. Farland, 36, of 101 S. Evergreen Ave., $10 each.

For running a traffic signal—Francis B. Stevens, 45 S. Schuyler Ave., $10.

Candidate

Attorney Fred Smith Jr., 47, has announced he will run for election to the board of education of Kankakee School District 111 on Aug. 1. Two current members of the board have announced they will not seek reelection. Smith lives at 1414 Marquette Lane, Shore Acres.

Car Backfires, Set On Fire

A car owned by Leonard Winfield backfired and caught on fire near Willow St. and Fairmount Ave. Friday. Damage to the auto was estimated at $250 by Kankakee firemen.

The fire department inhaled squad took Alvin Upson, 65, of 231 S. Osborn Ave., to St. Mary's Hospital Friday evening after giving him a half tank of oxygen.

Earlier, Perry Hubbell, 83, of 519 S. Chicago Ave., was given one tank of oxygen when he had difficulty breathing.

St. Anne Man Breaks Leg In Auto Accident

Russell W. Hiestand, 37, RR 4, St. Anne, was reported in fair condition Saturday at St. Mary's Hospital where he was being treated for a broken leg.

The sheriff's office said he was struck by a pickup truck near Hopkins Park Friday. Deputies identified the driver only as a man in the 30s, wearing a dark suit, by the Baptist, Christian, L.U.B. and Methodist churches.

Driver Class Has Room For 5 More Students

Kankakee High School's bi-monthly driver education program has room for five more students, it was announced Saturday by Stanley Weber, supervisor of instruction for Kankakee schools.

Any student wishing to participate in the program must have completed classroom work in driver education and have attended Kankakee High School the past year. Those seeking more information may call WE 2-2614.

Morocco Man Cut Severely

MOROCCO, Ind. (JNS)—Manning Kessler suffered a severe cut on his leg while putting up hay at a grain elevator on the farm of a neighbor.

Sixty stitches were required to close the wound and he will be confined to his home several weeks.

Award Contract For Road Project Near Wilmington

Eric Bolander Construction Co., Libertyville, was awarded a $42,000 contract by the Illinois Highway Division Friday for a four-span grade separation structure near Wilmington.

The project will carry Wilmington road over Route 66 three miles northwest of Wilmington.

Killian Speaks To Graduates At U Of I

CHAMPAIGN (UPI)—University of Illinois graduates were told Saturday a "condition of nuclear plenty on both sides" has lessened this country's war deterrent ability.

James R. Killian Jr., chairman of the board of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, addressed morning commencement ceremonies here before over 2,500 students and parents.

Killian, former special assistant on science and technology to President Eisenhower, said "When we alone possessed the atomic bomb, we clearly had a supremacy determined by the future, there is now no comparative advantage to us."

He said the solution lies in having "ICM's adequate in number and as hardened, dispersed, and mobile that they are reasonably invulnerable to attack—so invulnerable that they would survive a surprise attack... by the Soviet Union."

Valedictorian Skips U Of I Graduation

CHAMPAIGN (AP)—The University of Illinois class of 1960 was graduated Saturday without its valedictorian, David M. Klingel, 22.

Klingel, top scholar in his class with a straight-A record for four years, sent his regrets from Williams Bay, Wis., where he has a summer job.

The Peoria, Ill., philosophy major told newsmen the commencement rites remind him of the dark ages or a Cecil B. DeMille spectacular.

It seems to me to undermine the whole purpose of the student at the university, which is to get an education," Klingel said.

"And besides, wearing of the black robes reminds me of the pomp and circumstance has won two graduate fellowships and plans postgraduate study at Yale University. But he'll study there without the traditional send-off the university bestow upon its highest ranking graduate.

The class salutatorians, Mrs. Helen Jacobs Blake of Waukegan and David Parrish of Pontiac, Ill., will accept the plaques in his stead.

Report 22,933 Catholics In Kankakee County

The Roman Catholic population of Kankakee County is 22,933, according to a report issued by the chancery office of the Joliet Diocese.

The same report showed the Catholic population of the diocese is 201,081. The dioceses include DuPage, Kendall, Ford, Will, Grundy, Kankakee and Iroquois counties.

The five largest parishes in Kankakee, according to the report, are St. Rose, Kankakee, 4,138; St. Joseph's, Bradley, 3,697; St. Patrick's, Kankakee, 3,621; Mater Dolorosa, Bourbonnais, 1,785; and St. Teresa's, Kankakee, 1,785.

Clarence Wise, 42, Gardner, Dies, Funeral Monday

GARDNER (JNS)—Clarence W. Wise, 42, died Friday night at Dought Veterans Hospital. He was born July 8, 1917, at Harvard, son of Mrs. George Wise and the late George Wise. He was married.

Mr. Wise operated the Wise Sales and Service Co. in Gardner and also owned a service station on alternate Route 66. He served as constable of Gardner for several years.

Mr. Wise was a veteran of World War II and was a member of the Dames Madison post, American Legion.

Surviving are brothers, Lester and Glen of Gardner and Emory of Morris; two nieces and three nephews. A sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Hansen's Chapel, Gardner, with the Rev. Roger Fisk officiating. Interment will be in Hansen Cemetery. Friends may call from 2 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. today and until time of services.

U. S. Evidence May Squelch Cuban Scheme

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials Saturday said what they believe to be absolute proof that the Castro regime has framed a new plot to overthrow the United States.

They plan to wrap the case of Chester Lacy into a bundle of evidence to be presented to the Inter-American Peace Committee in a month or so. The evidence is aimed at showing that the revolutionary Havana government is up-setting peace in the Caribbean.

Lacy is a Nicaraguan exile opposed to strongman Luis Somoza. He has been arrested by the Cubans. Prime Minister Fidel Castro has accused the U. S. government of conspiring with Lacy to overthrow Somoza from Cuba to unseat the Nicaraguan leader.

In making his allegation, Castro waved some photographs and a telegram on a Cuban TV show June 10. The semi-official Havana newspaper Revolution reproduced some of the supposed evidence June 16.

The documents purportedly show Lacy meeting State Department officials in Washington. But the photos aren't what Castro makes them out to be.

In one picture allegedly of Lacy with Roy R. Rubottom, assistant secretary of state for Inter-American affairs, the man with Lacy does not resemble Rubottom. Other pictures are obviously mislabeled.

The telegram purports to be to Lacy from C. Alan Stewart, State Department officer in charge of Central American affairs, of a forthcoming appointment with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Western Union, however, says no such telegram was sent or paid for by any State Department official. The State Department says Lacy never saw Herter or Rubottom.

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—The five-armed, El Ranchito Vegas, which lost its main building in a multimillion dollar blaze, may move into a new casino, managers said today.

Construction of a new casino, showroom and restaurant will begin immediately. The first arrangement may be used until the new facilities can be ready.

El Ranchito's rooms are located in cottages removed from the main structure, which was destroyed before dawn Friday.

Among the losses were star Betty Grable's costumes and what was termed a fantastic sum in gambling customers' checks. More than $600,000 in cash was recovered, scoured, from the casino vault.

Jack A. Saltzberg, 26, of 265 E. 1st St., was fined $15 for resisting efforts to take the place.

Wright Installed As New Jaycee Prexy

James Wright was installed as new president Saturday night at the annual installation banquet and inaugural ball of the Kankakee Junior Chamber of Commerce in Maple Manor.

Wright succeeds Hugh Dearfield, who acted as installing officer. Other new officers installed were Peter N. Johnson, internal president; Fritz Metzner, external vice president; Keith Owens, secretary; and Warren Johnston, treasurer.

INSTALLED AS directors for two-year terms were: Peter Graybush, Harold Ritchie and James Harline, and installed for one-year terms were: John Herrick and Jack Beupre.

Carl Lueth Jr., secretary of the Illinois Jaycee organization, reviewed the accomplishments of the local chapter under Dearfield and presented the retiring president with a past president's plaque.

Robert LaFontaine, awards chairman, presented the second Key Man Award of the year for outstanding service to Edward Henderson, who served as general chairman for the program.

Decide Soon On Enrolling At U Of I, Dean Warns

URBANA—Prospective University of Illinois students are urged to decide soon whether to enroll at the University as soon as possible, C. W. Sanford, dean of admissions and records, said Saturday.

He pointed out the University has received a substantially larger number of applications for admission than last year. In order to utilize university facilities to the utmost, "we need to estimate as accurately as possible our enrollment in September."

He also urged students who plan to enroll to secure housing arrangements immediately. "If our enrollment increases beyond the supply of good quality housing, we will be limited," he said.

"WHILE IT NOW appears that housing will be available for most students who wish to enroll, it is clear that those who delay in arranging for housing will become limited," he said.

"Delays in construction of new residence halls may make it necessary for some men to be assigned to temporary quarters at the beginning of the semester."

"These men will move to rooms in the new halls as rapidly as they are completed. In no instance, accordingly, to present plans, will students find it necessary to use temporary quarters for more than six weeks," Sanford emphasized.

Morrell has spent his life in Mount Hope Township. He became a Master Mason Sept. 1, 1884, and is the only survivor of the lodge at the time he became a member.

He has served in every station of the lodge and also helped organize the McLean chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Monday night, Morrell, who served as master of the lodge in 1910 and 1911, received a 65-year membership jewel from District Deputy Edward Salzenstein, Lincoln.

Morrell said he had been a member of the lodge since 1917. His wife died in 1957.

Held Under Bond On Charge Of Assault, Battery

Paul G. Palmer, 24, of 462 W. Station St., was held under $100 bond Saturday on charges of assault and battery, disturbing the peace and drunkenness. Justice W. Roy Beach continued the hearing until June 25.

Police said they were called to Palmer's home early Saturday morning after a neighbor complained that Palmer was drunk and disturbing the peace.

The policemen said it took five officers to subdue Palmer when he resisted their efforts to take the place.

Awarded 65-Year Masonic Jewel

George W. Morrell, 88, of McLean, father of Mrs. Richard Riggs of Kankakee, was given honor at the past master's lodge of the McLean Masonic Lodge Monday night.

Morrell has been active in community affairs, serving as chairman of the McLean Township clerk's office for 24 years and president of the McLean Village Board from 1953 to 1957. His wife died in 1957.

Air Fares Going Up 2 1/2 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Domestic airline fares will go up 2 1/2 per cent, plus a $1 surcharge for each one-way ticket, starting July 1.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, in granting the increases Friday, said they should give airlines about $4 million dollars a year in additional revenue.

Former St. Anne Man Killed In Auto Accident

ST. ANNE (JNS)—A former St. Anne resident, Francis Lee, 23, was killed in an auto accident Friday near Oceanside, Calif. He was stationed at Camp Pendleton.

Mr. Lee was a 1954 graduate of St. Anne High School. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Single Lee who now reside at Gary, Ind.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Our Lady Of The Lake Church in Gary. The body is at the Brady Funeral Home in Gary.

Rites Tuesday For Donald A. Quigley

Quigley, 41, RR 3, Wilmington, was found dead in his bed Saturday morning by his wife, Lillian.

Death was due to coronary thrombosis, according to a autopsy report to Will County Coroner.

The deceased was born on Jan. 28, 1919, in Florence Township, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Quigley. On Feb. 11, 1956, he was married to the former Lillian Reed in Joliet.

He was a member of St. Patrick's Church, Union Center; Teamsters Local 438 of Kankakee; and a veteran of World War II with 42 months service in Europe.

Also surviving is a brother, Marvin H. of RR 3, Wilmington; a sister, Mrs. Lillian Quigley, 1242 S. Seventh Ave., while passing through Kankakee on the way to Kansas, where she has been promoted to sales supervisor for General Electric.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday in the St. Patrick's Church. Friends may call after 7 p.m. today, from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday and on Tuesday.

A PROUD FATHER TURNED FATHER-IN-LAW: This wedding photo was taken Jan. 23 when Paula Johnson of Kankakee became Mrs. John F. Clancy of Evanston. The proud father (of the groom) who is pictured with the bride, at left, is Rockwell Clancy of Kennilworth, whose pride in his daughter-in-law was expressed recently in a letter to the women's department of the Kankakee Daily Journal. He told of her willingness to continue the family tradition of volunteer work at Lake Bluff Orphanage. Paula Johnson Clancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson of 1485 E. Bourbonnais St. Other fathers on this page are considering that day when they too can be called father-in-law.

On Father's Day In June

Dads Look To Future As They Describe 'Ideal Wives' For Unsuspecting Sons

Looking forward to that day when they will become the "father of the groom" or "dad-in-law," the fathers pictured below on this page with their unsuspecting young sons express their sentiments about the girls who will some day become their daughters-in-law.

One proud father turned father-in-law is pictured at left.

The dads don't seem to care if a girl is pretty or clever or popular with the crowd. They are interested in basic questions like, "Can she cook?" and "Is she understanding?"

Taking advantage of the observance of FATHER'S DAY during a traditional wedding month to express their opinions, these dads have a few tips for any young girl who wants to find the way to the heart of a boy through his family.

The fathers are looking into the future; but their opinions might be typical of any dad who is thinking of his son's happiness. So girls, take note!

"I've known many women who do not have pretty faces but have good personalities. In my mind, they are the beautiful ones." That's the comment of one father who hopes his son will look further for a good wife than on the surface.

Of course, the fathers admit that the girl must be attractive to her husband, but not one mentioned beauty as necessary for a happy marriage. "Love" was the important element.

Instead, they talked of sincerity, faithfulness, an interest in home and family and the desire to be helpful to her husband, no matter what his position in life.

They don't discount the importance of the ability to cook a good meal. They say it is important.

Other important considerations mentioned are compatibility, a sense of humor and the ability to understand the shortcomings of another human being, namely the husband.

Some dads commented that they would advise a bride-elect to give up plans for a career outside of the home; they consider the home a full time career.

Others hesitate to commit themselves about the requirements for an ideal wife. (After all, the wife may be listening.)

And how about the diplomatic dad who said an ideal wife for his sons must be just like his own. HE'LL have a happy Father's Day!

On The Social Side

SECTION II — SOCIETY — KANKAKEE SUNDAY JOURNAL, SUNDAY, JUNE 19, 1960 — PAGE 11

Rudy Peterson of 704 Francine Dr. would like his daughter-in-law of the future to be "just like my wife." The diplomatic father is posing with two of his three children, Robert Edwin, 3 weeks; and Joe, 3½.

Robert Herubin of 147 N. Chicago Ave. hopes that his son Robert, 1½, will someday have a wife who can "understand her husband's bad habits."

Leroy High of RR 1, Bourbonnais will suggest, when the time comes, that his sons Brent, 2, and Scott, 6, seek wives with "good personalities, sincerity and high moral codes."

If his son chooses a girl who is "interested in homemaking and family," Dom Frigo will know that he has made a good choice for a wife. The Frigos reside at 507 S. Rosewood Ave. Michael is 1.

Roger Serafini of 147 S. Sixth Ave. would wish for his son, Rory, 5½, a wife who will help him in anything he chooses to do. He also hopes that his future daughter-in-law will have homemaking ability.

When Jay Kerovac of 880 N. Fifth Ave. gets around to advising his sons about marriage, he will stress the importance of compatibility... and "her mom's recipes." The boys are Michael, 2, and Leon, 3.

Roger St. Pierre of RR 4, Kankakee hopes that his son, Douglas, who is 2, will choose a girl well known to the family. He also hopes she will be "true and faithful."

James A. Conrad of RR 3, St. Anne sums up his hopes for happy marriages for his three sons in one word, "love." The boys are Jeffrey, 4; Joel, 2; and James, 7.

Mary Kay Sargeant Weds Chicago Man

UPPER CITY (CNS)—Miss Mary Kay Sargeant became the bride of James B. Favorite Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sargeant of Chatsworth are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Favorite of Chicago.

The Rev. Philip R. Conn Jr. performed the ceremony. For her traveling ensemble, the bride chose a pink ensemble with pink and white accessories. The couple will tour the northern states for their honeymoon after which they will reside at 2150 Cornell St., Chicago.

Mrs. Joseph Holmes, organist, accompanied Miss Patricia Boswick and Miss Eleanor Walters, as they sang "O Perfect Love." "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were also sung.

THE BRIDE, GIVEN in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of pink over net and tulle. It was styled with a fitted bodice adorned with a design of veiled pearls and sequins with a Sabrina neckline and tiny cap sleeves. The bodice had the traditional "V" in front and in two small bows at the waist. Her skirt was worn over a Dot Hop. Her fingertip length veil of silk tulle was attached to a comb in her hair. She carried a bouquet of snapdragons, stephanotis and roses.

Miss Joan Sargeant, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was of blue nylon organza with a draped bodice and a satin sash. Her hair was styled in a chignon. Her picture hat was of matching blue.

Miss Janet Johnson, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and was attired in a dress identical to the maid of honor's. Both carried arrangements of daisies.

NORMAN E. FAVORITE served his brother as best man. Roger Sargeant, the bride's brother, was groomsmen. Ensign Richard Sargeant, brother of the bride, and Dale Sargeant, the bride's uncle, were ushers.

At the reception which was held following the wedding in the church parlors, Miss Lillian Bart, registered guest, Miss Susan Stenhouse and Miss Patricia Han na were in charge of gifts. Serving were Miss Patricia Boswick, Miss Sheryl Shonts, Miss Eleanor Walters and Mrs. Dale Sargeant.

Patricia Burge Says Vows With LaVerne J. Guenette

St. Rose of Lima Church was scene of the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Patricia Marie Burge and LaVerne Joseph Guenette Saturday at 10 a.m. Bouquets of white gladioli and purple daisies and pale pink carnations decorated the altar before the Rev. Donald E. Benzinger performed the service.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alice Burge of 257 S. Alma Ave. and Curtis Burge of Brookfield, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Guenette of RR 4, Kankakee.

Mrs. Anna C. Swan, organist, accompanied Miss Carolyn Barker as she sang "Ave Maria" at the offertory. "Praise My Name" at communion and "Maiden Mother, Mary and Child" as the bride placed a bouquet at the altar of the Blessed Mother. Altar boys were the bridegroom's cousins, Arnold and Ronald Joubert.

THE BRIDE, WHO was given in marriage by her brother, Jerome C. Burge, wore a gown of nylon organza ending in a sweep train, outlined by a full tulle. The bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves, and a front panel was outlined by embroidered or garter. A bow accented the back waistline.

Her silk illusion veil was secured by a crown of beaded orange blossoms on a lace cap. Her colonial bouquet was of pink roses and white stephanotis.

Miss Mary Ann Mulligan of Bradley was maid of honor for her cousin. She was attired in a dress of blue nylon organza, fashioned with petal sleeves, accented by a patterned sash.

Water Project Building Bill Clears Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill authorizing future construction of water projects including a $144,000,000 improvement program for the Illinois Waterway, passed the Senate by a vote of 74-16.

The bill, which was introduced by Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.), passed the Senate by a vote of 74-16. It was the first time since 1946 that the Senate has passed a bill authorizing future construction of water projects.

Dirksen told the Senate the measure contains numerous provisions which, for one reason or another, are objected to by the Budget Bureau. The largest of these is the $144,000,000 project which would provide for larger and more modern navigation locks on the Illinois and Des Plaines rivers.

AS APPROVED, the bill would authorize $144,000,000 for navigation, reclamation and beach erosion projects which would be constructed in 41 states by army engineers and the Reclamation Bureau, at a total cost of $153,782,382.

An authorization measure only, the bill carries no appropriations. Before projects can be built, Congress must provide the necessary funds in later legislation.

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed it a year ago but with only about a third of the projects it now contains. Also authorized in the current measure are:

A $5,480,000 navigation project to improve the Calumet Harbor serving Chicago and other cities in northeastern Indiana; a $12,000,000 project for river basins on the Mississippi River at Dubuque, Iowa; $1,500 in improvements to Indiana Harbor, Ind.

David Ferris Area Director For Scout Jamboree

A Kankakee school teacher, David Ferris, sixth grade instructor at Mark Twain School, has been appointed as area director for the national Boy Scout Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22-28.

Ferris, currently attending summer school at Michigan State University, will be director for the jamboree area of the five field sports which will be staged. Scouts in these fields will give their all to gain badges for proficiency.

Other field sports on schedule in this phase of the jamboree program include orienteering, archery, and two types of small caliber shooting.

At the jamboree, Ferris will work under direct supervision of Clifford Nettleton of Anacostia, D. C., with whom he has worked on other occasions in conjunction with outdoor and camping shows.

Nettleton is a brother of Mrs. J. L. Thompson, River road, and cousin of Clara Nettleton, principal of Limestone School.

A Scout for several years, principally in Indiana, Ferris will be making his first time as a member of the national staff. Additional duty to the appointment this year is that 1960 Jamboree marks the golden jubilee of Boy Scouting in this country.

The ability of Lana Joy Weiss, 17-year-old Kankakee ventriloquist, to gain a spot on Monday night's television amateur program out of New York was quite a triumph for her—considering the quality and amount of talent against which she competed.

Her success, however, is also a big shot in the arm for this year's Kankakee County Fair talent reveal. The Fair Association tried out the talent show for the first time last year and, as is the case with every "first timer," wasn't sure how successful it would be.

The rocking of its winner to an audition should be encouraging to many talented young people this year to enter the 1960 competition. Announcement of the date for auditions for the county fair competition should be coming along soon. It probably will be during the second week of July.

There was an unusual twist to the New York competition, incidentally. Only three of 200 acts auditioned were chosen. Lana was one, of course. Another was a man who also came out of the Midwest. The wife turned out to be a sister-in-law of the Rev. Donald Novley, former assistant pastor of Lana's church, Kankakee First Evangelical United Brethren.

Kankakee Ralph NeSmith is a pretty persistent person. He was reading an advertisement of the Fairbanks, Morse and Co., Chicago, the other day when in small print he noticed a name that looked familiar.

A couple days later he happened to be in Chicago on business so he stopped by the firm to inquire.

Sure enough, the fellow, S. E. Wolkenheim, is a former Kankakee who used to be with A. D. Smith Corp. He was transferred from here to Milwaukee, Wis., and that's where Ralph lost track of him.

The ex-Kankakee is now vice president of marketing for the Fairbanks company and presently is involved in creating new fields of diversification around the world for the Chicago firm.

Julia Long, the Kankakee High School graduating senior who closed out the last three weeks of her high school career in the hospital (Sparetype June 5) didn't end up so badly after all.

KHS Principal Jack Bennett personally delivered her diploma to her in the hospital. Her mother brought her cap and gown to the hospital and she had the usual graduation photographs taken.

And to put the final icing on the cake the Kankakee board student, her name did get left off the final honor roll which appeared in the Journal received notice that she had received a work program scholarship at the University of Illinois and a $200 Illinois Graduate Fellowship to go with two others previously announced—the PTO B'nai B'rith and $150 NIS scholarships!

They can't accuse Crescent-Triangles High School of being a "home" when awards are passed out.

Senior Martha Dexter was a transfer student from Gilman. Nonetheless when the senior awards were distributed she was the top winner—gaining the valedictory, the citizenship award, a bouquet of flowers from the Streben School fifth grade Spanish class which she was student teaching.

William D. Zigtema, St. Anne, Dies

ST. ANNE (JNS)—William D. Zigtema, 55, died at 11:15 p.m. Friday in Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, following a five-month illness.

Mr. Zigtema was a heating and plumbing contractor in St. Anne for 17 years. He was born Sept. 2, 1907 in Wicher, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dirk Zigtema, and was married Oct. 16, 1929 to the former Ruth Bear in Marlin.

Surviving are the widow, sons, Richard and Robert, both of St. Anne, two grandchildren, brothers, Barney and Henry, both of Las Vegas, and a sister, Mrs. Victor Lawson, Glendale, Ariz.

Mr. Zigtema was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the First Presbyterian Church.

The body is in the Houk Funeral Home, where arrangements are incomplete.

60-Car Caravan To Pause Here

An expected 60-car caravan representing the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce will drive through Kankakee about 4:30 p.m. today according to plans revealed by a sponsoring commercial organization.

Traveling in three platoons of about 20 cars each, the entourage will converge at a service station at Court St. and Rosewood Ave., where the tourists will be served sandwiches and soft drinks.

Free gas and oil service will also be given the cars from the Wolverine state.

The caravan will be en route to the national Jaycee convention which gets under way this week in St. Louis, Mo.

Spearheading local arrangements for the caravan stop are the Jaycees, executive chairman James Marcotte, chief chairman for the Jaycees, and Roger Regnier, publicity chairman.

Nevada became a state in 1960.

Police Link Dead Hero In Air Crash Insurance Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Residents watched in horror as a twin-engine plane roared overhead, trailing flames of fire.

The pilot opened his escape hatch, but didn't jump. He stayed with the fiercely burning craft until it smashed into a remote canyon—and died what was called a hero's death.

That was three years ago. Friday furnished James Gibbs' claims to glory.

Gibbs, he said, took the plane up to crash it on purpose—for a share in $50,000 insurance money.

Gibbs' boss, he said, deliberately sabotaged the plane, to make sure that it wouldn't return from the flight.

DETECTIVES BOOKED Richard E. Loomis, 40, on suspicion of murder. Police said he collected $10,000 in insurance after the crash—and refused to share it with Gibbs' survivors.

Gibbs, 32, knew he was going to die.

He certainly didn't go up there to commit suicide, said Sgt. Pierce Brooks, who worked four months on the Loomis case.

"Apparently he just didn't get a chance to jump."

The plane was a Delatavia Monoco bomber, built in Britain of plywood during World War II.

Gibbs was called "flying coffin" because the plywood was so quick to burn.

When Gibbs took off from Lockheed Air Terminal, Burbank, July 1, 1957, witnesses noticed that the craft's landing gear might have caused the engine to overheat, setting the wooden plane afire.

But police say they are sure of this: Loomis sabotaged the plane's hydraulic system, to control the landing mechanism, in such a way as to preclude a safe landing.

Police have an agreement signed by Loomis and Gibbs two days before the crash, in which Loomis agreed to pay Gibbs 10 percent of insurance proceeds if the plane crashed.

Four days before the crash Loomis insured the plane—purchased in England for $8,000—for $50,000. Loomis of London paid him $10,000 30 days after the crash.

Loomis denied making any insurance split agreement with Gibbs. He also denied having any contact with the plane to crash.

The Los Angeles City Council has been asked to order the plane to be destroyed instead of being sold and leaving it to crash in the popular San Fernando Valley.

Margaret, Jones End Honeymoon

PORTSMOUTH, England (UPI)—A sun-drenched Princess Margaret and Anthony Armstrong-Jones came home Saturday from their $125,000 Caribbean honeymoon cruise to set up housekeeping in a rent-free apartment.

They were given a royal welcome by whistles and sirens of ships and yachts in the harbor and the cheers of some 6,000 persons ashore. There was no official welcome, at the request of the princess.

The royal yacht Britannia, loaned by Queen Elizabeth to her sister and brother-in-law for the six-week honeymoon, was forced to anchor for almost three hours while outside Portsmouth for the formalizing of the marriage.

STANLEY WEBER, supervisor of instruction for Kankakee schools, left, and Miss Ann Alden, librarian, for the summer library program to begin at five centers Monday, check over some of the books which will be available to grade and junior high school children. (Journal photo)

Summer Library Program Opens For School Pupils

Enough books—fact and fiction—to keep them busy reading this summer, will be available for grade and junior high school children in Kankakee District 111 beginning Monday with the start of the first summer library program.

Beginning Monday for eight weeks through Aug. 12, library centers will be open one day a week from 9 a.m. to noon at 1 Lafayette, Aroma Park, and Franklin grade schools and East and West Junior high schools. Lafayette will be open Monday, Aroma Park will be open Tuesday, Franklin will be open Wednesday, East Junior on Thursday and West Junior on Friday.

THE CENTERS will be under the direction of Miss Ann Alden, second grade teacher at Mark Twain School, who has had previous library experience at Normal Community High School, and through library science courses in college. She has been appointed to the post by Stanley Weber, superintendent of instruction for Kankakee schools, following approval Monday night by the board of education of the program on a "trial" basis.

Weber and Miss Alden toured the five centers Friday to check to see that the books from the Illinois State Library and the other schools in the district were being channeled into the locations.

Weber said that he expected at least 50 books to be circulated at each center each week and hoped that the response would be such that the program could be continued next year.

PURPOSES OF THE PROGRAM are: (1) to provide neighborhood centers for summer reading; (2) to help students maintain the reading skills throughout the summer months; (3) to help children appreciate the fact that reading is fun. Weber said that there will be no cost to the children.

Seek Causes Of Plane Crashes

Air Sleuths Solve Most Of Their Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—He often begs, borrows or "steals" his equipment, works many overtime, payless hours and sometimes wears out. Yet the nation's air crash detective has an amazing record.

He and his fellow investigators have solved 90 per cent of the hundreds of fatal air accidents in the 21-year history of the Civil Aeronautics Board. Most of the unsolved crashes remain so because the wreckage lies beyond the reach, perhaps at the ocean's bottom.

Sometimes it takes enormous persistence and far-ranging imagination to detect the cause of a crash. Right now investigators are carrying out one of the most intense probes ever undertaken by CAB—the search for the cause of the clear-weather crash of two Lockheed Electras on Sept. 29, 1959, and March 17, 1960. The toll was 27 lives.

WITHOUT THIS type of thorough, impartial investigation a fatal structural fault or omission in preflight inspection procedure might go unnoticed and cause more deaths in the future. This prospect gives the CAB investigators their special urgency, makes it essential that the CAB maintain its high average of crash solutions. The investigation of a major crash, or about $100,000 apiece, to aircraft accident is a long, painstaking process.

It also causes worry, for CAB detectives fear they may not be able to keep up their records. They say their bureau of Safety needs more investigators. It has 61 (30 in Washington and 31 in regional offices). It wants 12 more this year and its long-range goal is another 44. But congressional appropriations committees have not been generous.

CAB says it also lacks a lot of equipment needed for crash detection. It relies heavily on help from private industry, the military and other government agencies. Says John B. Russell, chief of ARNOLD PALMER CAME IN WITH a 4-under par 28 to win the U.S. Open in Denver Saturday. There after being out his final putt on the 18th green, he winds up to throw his sun visor high in the air. One of the leading money winners this year, Palmer also won the Masters Tournament.

Dimpled Swede Installed As An 8-5 Fight Favorite

NEW YORK (UPI)—American Floyd Patterson will try to recapture the world heavyweight championship from Sweden's unbeaten Ingemar Johansson at the Polo Grounds Monday night in an international 15-round fight that may draw a gate of $500,000.

Dimpled but destructive Johansson is favored at 8-5 to beat speedy Floyd again in this most attractive heavyweight 111-lb match in 22 years and keep alive the heavyweight fight.

Young Bill Fugazy, supervising director of Feature Sports, Inc., announced Saturday that the advance ticket sale is "pushing $700,000," and that the demand is so great "our gross gate Monday night may exceed $500,000."

IN ADDITION, Fugazy said the "ancillary" receipts from the event—television, U.S. radio, movie guarantee, pre-flight broadcast and foreign radio promises to make the bout a $4,000,000 fight—the richest in history.

There will be no home telecast.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported Saturday the outlook for the night few days is "fair and warm."

Brawny Johansson is favored because of his sensational upset victory over Floyd at Yankee Stadium last June 26, when he floored Patterson seven times in the third round for a technical knockout.

NEVERTHELESS the betting odds have remained tight and there is more interest in this rematch than for any fight of any kind since Joe Louis knocked out Max Baer in 1936.

Max Baer, who was 35 when he lost to Louis, died of cancer in 1950.

Giants Oust Rigney; Turn Job Over To Tom Sheehan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The second-place Giants fired Manager Bill Rigney Saturday and turned over the job to baseball writer Tom Sheehan, with a manager adding he and other Giants officials would do some talking about possible successors to Sheehan.

Sheehan, 40, 235-pound, Irishman, told sports writers: "I don't know if I can get the Giants moving, but I'll certainly try. I'm happy, naturally, to get the job, but I'm unhappy for Rigney. He is a good manager and my friend."

SHEEHAN ANNOUNCED he was retaining Rigney's coaching staff of Salty Parker, Bill Powell and Wes Westrum.

Earlier, Sheehan indicated the appointment was an interim choice until a permanent manager could be found. Later Sheehan said:

"HE'LL GO FOR four weeks, to the end of the season or maybe even next year if he wants to and if the club responds to him."

Sheehan then qualified this by saying he was not sure if he would stay, but he was sure he would do some talking about possible successors to Sheehan.

Sheehan then qualified this by saying he was not sure if he would stay, but he was sure he would do some talking about possible successors to Sheehan.

Sheehan, 40, 235-pound, Irishman, told sports writers: "I don't know if I can get the Giants moving, but I'll certainly try. I'm happy, naturally, to get the job, but I'm unhappy for Rigney. He is a good manager and my friend."

SHEEHAN ANNOUNCED he was retaining Rigney's coaching staff of Salty Parker, Bill Powell and Wes Westrum.

Earlier, Sheehan indicated the appointment was an interim choice until a permanent manager could be found. Later Sheehan said:

Strong Comeback In Last Round At Denver

DENVER (UPI)—Golden boy Arnold Palmer, an iron-nerved man from the steel country of Pennsylvania, beat par and pressure with a record-setting round Saturday to win the U.S. Open Golf Championship in the greatest comeback in history.

The 30-year-old Masters champion was seven shots back of leader Billy Casper when he started the final round. The Pennsylvania Phoebe's chances looked mighty slim. But the big Mike started to go and when it came to a closing 36-75 to blow it all with a 283 total.

But then, with golf's greatest honors and $14,400 riding on every swing that the twenty-skilled ball-buster showed his class and his courage as he pulled the most dazzling final round comeback in open annals to win a fairway version of Russian Roulette.

Rigney took his dismissal with a shrug of the shoulders and a most of a sigh of relief. However, he said it came as a surprise. "It wasn't necessarily that Rigney had to be done," he said. "It was something that he was a hard worker and a good manager and a good friend."

Sheehan then qualified this by saying he was not sure if he would stay, but he was sure he would do some talking about possible successors to Sheehan.

Yankees Pound White Sox 12-5

CHICAGO (UPI)—Home runs by Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron powered the New York Yankees into the Chicago White Sox.

The streaking Yankees, sweeping to their 11th victory in the past 13 games, pounded four Sox pitchers for 19 hits, with the loss going to starter Early Wynn.

Wynn gave up the first four runs in the sixth inning, when he pitched his sixth defeat in eight decisions.

El Grub, making his first appearance since his return from the Yankees, gave up only three runs in six innings of relief pitching.

Grub walked four and struck out only one. He was picked for the fourth inning after Yankee starter Bob Turley went out for a pinch hitter.

Oscar Picked Ingo Last Time, Switches To Floyd

BY OSCAR FRAYLEY

DENVER (UPI) — From the bottom of a mine shaft, like a voice from a tomb, Fearless Frayley must proclaim today in a special-toned voice that Floyd Patterson on Monday night will become the first man in history to recapture the world heavyweight title.

This, assuredly, is going to make old Frayley persona non grata with an old nightclub pal named Eugene Johnson. His chacha was, if not superb, may not even go chacha-ing with me anymore, which is going to make a lot of pals happy, anyhow.

But, after 13 rounds come Monday evening, my pal Ingo is going to be cut up like a smorgasbord and the referee will have to stop the festivities before the torch gets too thick.

In all due modesty, I must admit that last year old Fearless pulled one out of the left field bleachers by picking Ingo to beat Floyd. It made me a celebrity of the caliber of Broadway Sam. Hippokrates Hanström, one-eyed Comely and the thinking man's

Ginsberg Replaces Brown As White Sox Catcher

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox today signed catcher Joe Ginsberg as a free agent and got catcher Dick Brown on option.

Ginsberg, 33, recently was released by the Baltimore Orioles. In 14 games with the Orioles this season, he batted .267. Ginsberg broke into the majors with the Detroit Tigers in 1948. His most active major league season was 1952 when he appeared in 113 games for Detroit. He had brief stints with Cleveland and Kansas City.

To make room for Ginsberg on the roster, the White Sox optioned Brown to a Triple-A club. He was designated later. Brown came to the Sox in a multiple deal with Cleveland last Dec. 6 when he was traded for Zolton Pike, behind veteran Sherm Lollar.

And, we are led to believe in a

those localities, Patterson might be a bit gunshy at first but he'll get the range with the clarity of a Marine rookie trying to make expert. From then on, all the white coats in the front row are going to get messy.

But don't cry for Ingo. He's making three-quarters of a million bucks — and he'll still have Birgit, to boot.

book, dubbed Grimm's Fairy Tales. D'Amato no longer tells him what to do. On top of which, Ingo, in his latest shadow-boxing sessions with the Grossinger chesters, has seemed to be a little off the beat which would indicate that his reflexes aren't too sharp.

Just to take you back to the first time around, I had studied the Swede's style with a critical and analytical eye.

He was great at the rhumba. He waited with elegant grace. His chacha was, if not superb, sprightly.

His right hand, as he held on to the waist of his pretty fiancée, Birgit, showed amazing power. His left, as he stoned away mama's Scandinavian cookey, was lightning fast.

His endurance, considering the number of strokes he took on the golf course, was superb.

HIS THINKING, the way he played the angles in every corner of the ring, was unparalleled. This, I decided, was a man with amazing footwork, amazing power, amazing endurance and amazing thinking powers.

Why then, you will ask, considering that his chacha is even better than it was a year ago and his grip on such things as Birgit's waist and contracts for the bout are even stronger, can old Fearless defy the signs? Simple son, as mother used to say affectionately without using a comma.

Patterson was undertrained the last time and regarded Ingo as just another hoeder rushed up to star billing too rapidly. He also had been confused, as have we, by the Orioles' listening to the oratorical outbursts into the majors with the bursks of Gus (The Honking) Detroit Tigers in 1958. His most active major league season was 1952 when he appeared in 113 games for Detroit. He had brief stints with Cleveland and Kansas City.

THESE ARE WHAT any of us boxing experts can tell you, and usually you don't even have to ask, are the key factors in this to be designated later. Brown came to the Sox in a multiple deal with Cleveland last Dec. 6 when he was traded for Zolton Pike, behind veteran Sherm Lollar.

Burrell To Get Army Commission

July 23 will be another big day in the eventful life of Otto's most distinguished citizen, Bill Burrell, who has had a lot of "big days" in the last half dozen years.

That's the day the burly former University of Illinois football captain and All-American comes out of ROTC training camp at Fort Riley, Kan., with a second lieutenant's commission and heads for Saskatchewan, Canada, to start training for his first season of professional football.

Bill's switch from mufli to mooking, as they used to say on the sports pages a half century ago, will be a quick change job, for by the time the burly but soft-spoken Central High School grad arrives at the Rough Riders' camp he will already have a three-week jump on him.

Practice in the Canadian League starts July 3 and the season commences Aug. 10. Bill left for Fort Riley last Tuesday and will complete the training period there in five weeks instead of the usual six, a concession granted by Uncle Sam so Bill can get as early a start as possible in football practice.

Success certainly hasn't spoiled Burrell, whose shyness and modesty make everybody wonder how he can possibly turn into a ferocious, confident brute just by donning a set of electric blue. When Bill discusses his plans he always prefaces his remarks about his pro career with an "I'll make the team."

"I'll send for my wife and baby as soon as I know whether I'll make it," he said while talking about his coming trip to Saskatchewan. Bill, the guy who was named the Big 10's outstanding player and was virtually a unanimous All-American choice, was the same way when he graduated from little Central High in 1956.

Not Sure How Long He'll Play

It took a lot of talking by his prep coach, Bill Cuz, who was a lineman at Illinois a few years earlier, to convince the star that he was good enough to play Big 10 football.

Canadian League teams carry only about 35 players on their squads and dress only 28 for a game. Only 12 of the 28 in game uniform can be United States citizens.

Although Bill received a five-figure contract from the Rough Riders, he still has to make the team to collect the bulk of it. Burrell's original plan was to play one year of pro ball and then go to work in the personnel department of an Indianapolis Colts, picking firm. Now he's not sure.

"I may play longer," he said before his departure for Kansas. "It depends on how well I do this year and what kind of a contract they offer me next year. I have until July 1961, to decide on the Indianapolis job."

Bill sees little chance that he'll ever play pro ball in the National Football League in this country. "If I played in the NFL it would have to be with the Cardinals (now of St. Louis) because they drafted me," he declared. "And their offer was pretty good."

Boxing Continues Weathering Probes

Professional boxing, most maligned and detested of all sports, went through another congressional investigation last week and, if the results of similar probes in recent years are any criterion, will continue business as usual.

There have been reports of fixers, racket connections and dirty politics in boxing for many years. Most of the charges are true, of course, and some of them have been proved despite the underworld's ability to intimidate witnesses.

Boxing is dying from cancer but the death is a lingering one. May be it's time the nation's or state's lawmakers apply a little euthanasia by outlawing the sport.

As some readers of the Journal sports pages may have noticed, the amount of space devoted to prize fighting has gradually diminished despite the fact that television has brought the sport closer than ever to the fans. We still devote considerable space to the big fights, sometimes against our better judgment, because the metropolitan press and wire services seem to feel that the readers demand it.

So far, we have yet to receive a single complaint about the reduction of boxing coverage, indicating that possibly the fan is growing cool to the sport despite his exposure to the sport on TV.

We can't see how any conscientious sports editor can make himself an accessory to the fact in the crimes perpetrated against the public by the likes of Frankie Carbo and Billy Palmiero by duping his readers with phony publicity gimmicks.

It isn't likely that the championship fight — especially the major ones — are rigged but the public has lost confidence in the integrity of anyone connected with the fight game. And if Floyd Patterson is the winner over Legnar Johansson Monday night that confidence will be shaken even more.

Illinois Gets 2 Of Million's Protoges

Two of the highest regarded recruits in football at the University of Illinois are a couple of New Orleans boys who were coached in high school by Harold (Red) Miller, a one-time star at Kankakee High School.

They are products of Walter Cohen High School in New Orleans, which annually dominates the city's Negro schools in football, basketball and track. One of them is James (Country) Warren, who besides being an outstanding back, runs the 100 yard dash in .29.5, the 400 in .45.5 and broad jump 24 feet. The other is Tom McCullum, also a back, who runs the quarter in .29.5 and the half in 2:01, according to Miller.

Against four league opponents this season the SSAC has hit a lowly 180, collecting 24 hits in 132 at bats.

Sox Monster Quiet, Yanks Use Sparklers

CHICAGO (AP) — Sparklers, sparkles little star, White Sox scoreboard where you are? With 36 cents worth of Fourth of July sparklers the proud New York Yankees answered the Chicago White Sox' $200,000 exploding scoreboard Friday night.

The dignified Yankees, led by Manager Casey Stengel, turned comic and put on their own home run show with a display of sparklers while pounding out a 4-2 victory over the White Sox.

Every time a White Sox player hits a home run, president Bill Veeck's expensive board goes into action. Friday night the Sox hit no home runs but the Yankees came up with two.

CLETUS BOYER crashed one with a man on in the second inning and the Yankees went into action. They lit their sparklers, and led by Stengel with a sparkler in each hand—they danced a jig in their dugout as the crowd of 42,320 roared approval.

When Mickey Mantle hammered his 13th homer in the eighth inning, the bullpen led by catcher Yogi Berra, stole the show, by getting a set of sparklers aflame. Then the players tossed them into the air.

Meanwhile, the White Sox didn't come close to setting off their scoreboard. Art Ditmar checked them on seven hits and aside from their safeties, only one fly ball was hit to the outfield.

"VECK SHOULDN'T get too mad," said Stengel after the game. "We caused a little excitement, cussed the Yankees of using the But we need an experienced, an cheapest form of fireworks you for our dreams, we couldn't get can buy."

NFL Prexy Sees Little Hope For Rival's Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The commissioner of the National Football League says he doesn't think the American Football League's suit charging the older league with trying to monopolize professional ball will get very far.

Vete Roselle, here for the Billy Cannon suit brought by the NFL, said charges that the NFL used various means to maintain its hold on professional football are useless.

"If the AFL, after failing to make a case for its charges with the Department of Justice, wants to try out its allegations in a private suit, that is all right with the NFL."

"The filing of the suit comes as no surprise as the other league has been making public statements for several months that it intended to take such action."

He added the AFL's charges were not true, but declined to counter them point by point because "the NFL doesn't want to try the case in the news media."

He added the AFL's charges were not true, but declined to counter them point by point because "the NFL doesn't want to try the case in the news media."

Upon entering the Hartwell Milling home at Clifton, one comes into a light, airy room. The wall opening between living room and kitchen allows more light into the room and eliminates a blank wall. Ivory walls help to create a light effect. The carpeting is beige and brown; the draperies are turquoise, gold and black on a white background. Furniture pieces are turquoise, gold and beige. Mrs. Milling is pictured.

Home Of The Week

The Hartwell Milling family, who have always put off building until "someday," are today enjoying the comforts of their new home on Porter street in Clifton. "Someday" came sooner than they expected. When the farm east of Clifton where they were living was sold, they had to move, so they decided the time had come to build.

Milling, who has constructed many homes, incorporated ideas from homes he had seen in his work into his own home. This has resulted in an attractive home of four, including daughter, Judith, 11 and son Allan, 16. The family has resided in the new home since the first of March.

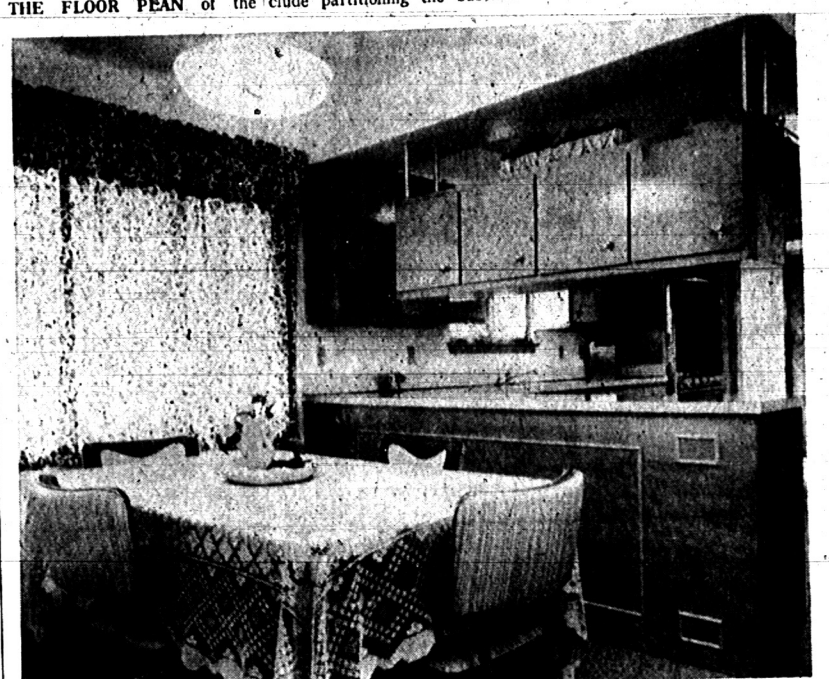

Among all the rooms in the house, the kitchen is favored. The family especially likes the snack bar, convenient for quick breakfasts before school and work. Milling says it was certainly worth the effort involved in building. They also enjoy the benefits of the built-in desk. Mrs. Milling, who was used to a large kitchen and pantry in her former farm home, now favors the convenience of a compact kitchen.

Another feature of the home are the folding door closets, found in each of the three bedrooms. Additional storage is provided by a linen closet, broom closet and a guest closet at the front entrance, which has plenty of storage space behind which are located steps leading to the attic. A built-in storage space is provided the kitchen by cabinets of birch wood.

The home has insulating glass throughout which eliminates the use of storm windows. A wall opening between living room and kitchen brings more light into the living room and also eliminates blank wall area.

Future plans for the home include partitioning the basement to include a recreation room, dining area, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, a full basement and door to the attached garage. The exterior is brick and stone.

Mrs. Milling is a native Kankakee, the former Darlene Schimpf. Her husband is from the Clifton and Herscher area.

Birch cabinets serve to separate the kitchen from dining area where family gathers for meals other than breakfast (a snack bar is used for that meal). Curtains are a yellow and green print on a white background; linoleum is beige colored. Identical decorating is used in kitchen.

Cure Guests' Complaint-itis

BY VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press News Service Writer

Here come the weekend guests. Get ready, set, go. At our house, we're one down, seven to go.

A test of your patience, stamina, diplomacy, tact are required. If you are to cope with the problem. Friends who heretofore have been charming, considerate and deserving of an invitation to your shanties will amaze you with their chameleon-like tactics once they set foot inside your home.

It isn't just the fact-to-face they play with your plans. (And if you're alert, you'll put them back in their grooves each time.)

It's the windows that are bugged at shut or the windows that are thrown open, depending on whether they are for or against fresh air.

"It's the comments, such as, 'The rear of the house has pretty lines.' (Steel yourself against brooding about the appearance of the front of your house, in that case.)"

It's the distaste with which they lift a harmless winged insect out of a drink as they loiter outdoors with the remark that, "It's so buggy in the country. Ugh." (Hold your breath against the obvious retort that, "It's buggy in fresh air.")

It's the way they phrase a question: "Should I clean Junior before he eats?"

It's the contention that "the country is an awful lot of work as they lie back and watch you from the house lounge."

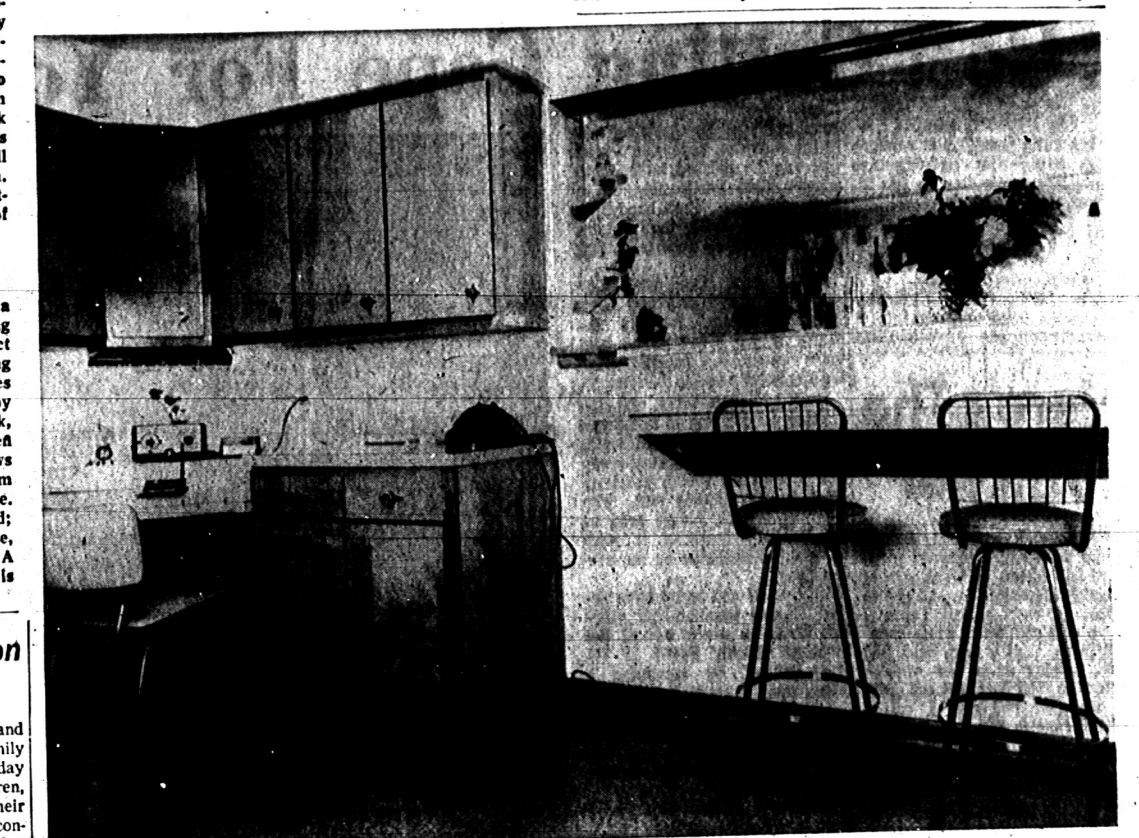

The improper guest can make you dislike your home with a vengeance of "suggestions."

"Why don't you paint your shingles?" "This house would look cute with shutters." "That red rhododendron would look wonderful if you should have built the porch over there. The view is beautiful." "Why didn't you use flagstone instead of brick?" "I know a man who would have built this outdoor barbecue for $25, only $15." "Have you ever seen Jean's house? It's gorgeous. A real doll house."

One must meet this barrage of suggestions head-on. One idea is to post a list of rules in a famous vase. Hang it on the guest room door. They'll try to reason whether you mean it or not. But you'll make them think twice before they meet your funny bone. Here are a few regulations:

1. If you don't like the architecture of the house, don't tell us. We're likely to get mad.
2. If you can't tolerate our meal times, tell us. We'll supply dog biscuits in the interim.
3. Guests are expected to exercise. We'll supply the equipment — lawn mower, rake, weeder, iron.
4. We know we are "away from everything." But we can get to the railroad in a jiffy if guests do not like it here.
5. Our dog doesn't bite as a rule, but he won't tolerate people who push, shove or kick him when the master isn't looking. Ditto the cat.

LEFT: The Millings are especially pleased with the roomy folding door closets, one located in each of the three bedrooms. They have chosen to decorate the master bedroom (pictured at left) in shell pink and white. Their daughter's room also is decorated in shell pink but is accented by aqua. The son's room is predominantly gold, buff with touches of brown and turquoise.

RIGHT: The kitchen is a family favorite. Mrs. Milling likes it because it is compact and convenient in preparing family meals. The family likes the snack bar where they enjoy breakfast and the built-in desk, handy for all of them. Open more light in the living room and eliminates wasted space. Cabinets are of birch wood; draperies are beige, green, brown and yellow. A built-in desk and stove is combined in one unit.

Hold Confirmation Supper In Piper

PIPER CITY (JNS) — Mr. and Mrs. John Gullabous and family entertained at supper Tuesday evening in honor of their children, Lauretta, Rita and John and their niece, Mary Kelly, who were confirmed in St. Peter's Church that afternoon.

Sponsors and guests were the Rev. Basil Doyle, Herscher; the Rev. Gene McCarthy, Cahoon; Miss Paula Russell, Batavia; Miss Paula Russell, Aurora; Mrs. John Kelly, Miss Anna Duigan, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kelly and Miss Agnes Weber, all of Piper City.

Watseka Church Children's Service Set For Today

WATSEKA (JNS) — The First United Presbyterian Church will combine Sunday school and church today to present a Children's Day program at 10 a. m.

Following the program, which will include songs by the nursery, kindergarten, junior and primary departments, parents and children will be able to visit six classes to meet the teachers and help plan for the coming year.

Girls Scouts will meet at the grade school at 8:15 a. m. each day for transportation to camp. Donations of old nylon, one pound coffee cans with lids, gallon tin cans, half gallon milk cartons, tuna fish cans, paper towels, and large pieces of old material for use by the girls at camp may be left at the home of Mrs. Byron Meier Jr. by June 23.

Rockefeller Says Democrats Split On Civil Rights

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has charged that Democratic bickering is stalling the progress of civil rights.

The Republican governor told a Negro Baptist Congress Friday night that the cause of racial equality has been advanced more in eight years of the Eisenhower administration than at any other time since the Civil War.

Rockefeller, openly at odds with administration on some key issues, confined his criticism to the Democrats and made no mention of presidential politics. His speech was described as one of a series in which he intends to give his views on major problems.

Rockefeller pictured the Democrats as "hopelessly divided and fearful" on civil rights and called for an expanded federal program to speed integration.

Neighbors Aid Kempton Farmer

KEMPTON (JNS) — Neighbors of Albert Gardner, who lives southeast of town, prepared his land to put in crops.

Gardner had been a patient approximately 40 days following a number of operations in St. J. Hospital, Pontiac. He is convalescing at home. Neighbors who worked were John, Louis and Sam Gualandri, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Dyrby, Olin Dyrby, Richard Essington, John Bergan, E. J. Hirschman and Russel Fellers.

MISS SUSAN McKinney of Hobbs, N. M., is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Oma McKinney, Susan attends the university in Ann Arbor, Mich., and is majoring in music.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dowe is a medical patient in St. Mary's Hospital, Kankakee.

OK, Pardner, Let's Gallop Out And Check Those Fences

BY MR. FIX

Your home may be fairly new and in good shape, but if there's a sagging fence on your property the whole place will look as though it were in the last stages of decay.

If you allow the fences to droop long enough, the day will come when a high wind knocks them flat.

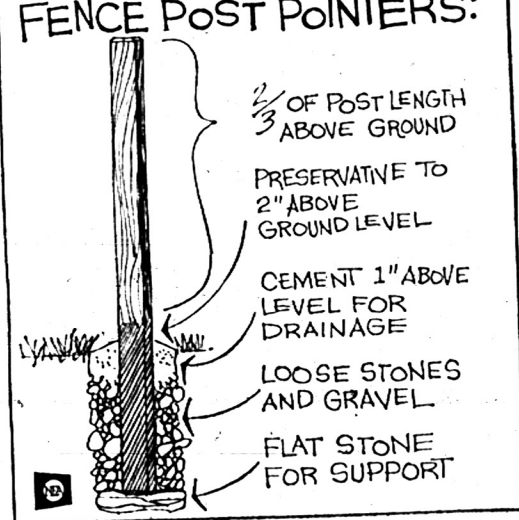

If you get to the job in time, you may be able to avoid ripping out the old fence and replacing it.

Posts tend to rot at ground level and below ground where the soil and grain absorbs water. Check carefully. Excavate some of the earth around the post if you must. If only the base of the post is rotted it can still be salvaged. Cut off the rotted portion and splice on new wood with a lap joint — a L-shape cut in each so that the ends fit smoothly together and fasten together with galvanized bolts.

Another method is to spike a length of 2x3 piece of lumber to each side of the post end.

Treat the end of the post with a wood preservative before setting it. The preservative should extend about two inches above ground level.

Whether setting new posts or old, remember to set them deeply in the ground. Perhaps when you examine your sagging fence you'll find that the posts haven't rotted at all.

Maybe they've just shifted. The post hole should be deep enough and the post should be set in the hole and won't wobble it over.

Use rust-proof nails to avoid further repairs. Touch up nail heads with metallic paint before painting the fence.

Before you dig the post hole (and use a post hole digger by the way) wet the ground a little. This will make the hole easier to dig and help it keep its shape. Drop a flat stone or broken concrete in the hole for the post to rest on. If the earth is clay, use a flat stone or broken concrete in the hole for the post to rest on. If the earth is clay, use a flat stone or broken concrete in the hole for the post to rest on.

It was the 20th suggestion that "anyway," said the man—lighting a new window was needed in the upper hall. But, to the man took to save a cent on a can of oil for the lumber shop, and returned with a new beautiful pine window with colonial frames.

"How much?" the housewife asked, observing the expensive looking accessories she hadn't figured on — storm windows, screens, fittings, new tools for installation.

"I didn't ask. You wanted it."

He took his stance on the roof of the screened-in porch, wearing new summer trousers. She didn't his trousers, by putting out his work pants, ordered the window herself, removed everything in the area that could be damaged and covering her prized hedges and bushes with burlap and paper.

Cost-Cutting Cape For Young Families

By DAVID L. ROWEN

The basic essentials of comfortable living—with no expensive frills—are emphasized in this attractive Cape Cod.

It was designed by Architect Rudolph Matern with young families operating on moderate budgets particularly in mind.

The first floor alone admirably meets the living requirements of a family with one or possibly two small children. The half-story upstairs provides expansion space that can be finished later on to accommodate handsomely up to four children. The handyman father could finish the upstairs rooms himself—further cutting expenses.

In its final form with four roomy bedrooms and two complete bathrooms, B-17 in the House of the Week Series provides the greatest possible space for the least possible investment.

COMPACT OVER-ALL planning enables construction of this home on almost any lot. Total width is only 41' 5", which in most areas will present no zoning problems on a .60-foot building plot. The depth is 24' 5". Living area of the first floor is 981 sq. ft., with another 535 available on the second floor.

An unusual and imaginative design feature permits this efficient home to avoid one of the problems usually found in 1½ story homes. By specifying a larger rear dormer than usual, the architect has provided all upstairs rooms with full, flat ceilings rather than the partially slanted ceilings associated with 1½ story homes.

This same device also yields these additional benefits:

Bedrooms are four feet wider than the common attic bedrooms.

A lower roof ridge results in a more attractive exterior appearance from the street.

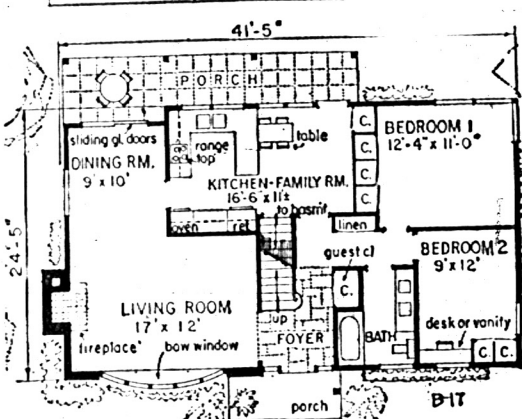

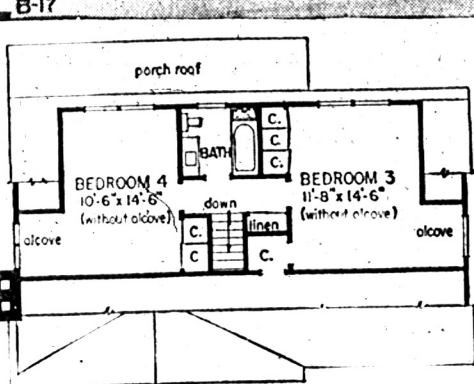

Storage space, contained under the roof along the front of the house, has more headroom than most under-eave storage. It's also concentrated conveniently in one place.

THE OPEN KITCHEN-family room includes both an unusually efficient food preparation center and generous space for informal dining. The U-shaped kitchen plan saves steps for the busy housewife, and so does the handy location of three distinct dining or snack areas—family room, dining room and the big outdoor-living porch at the rear.

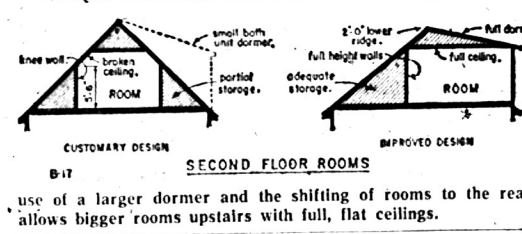

Traffic flow is free and easy in all directions. The big foyer permits direct access to all areas from the front entrance. Sliding glass doors in the dining room and another door in the family room both open on the covered rear porch. Full basements are accessible from the family room.

The main bath is located close enough to the foyer to double as a powder room when the family is entertaining. Another full bath is provided upstairs between the two second floor bedrooms.

The unbroken roof line of B-17 tends to make it look lower than it actually is, giving it the ground-hugging quality usually found only in one-story homes. The attractive front gable both shelters the entrance and shades the large living room bow window.

FLOOR PLANS: Despite modest exterior dimensions, all rooms are of generous size. Traffic flow is highly efficient. UNIQUE FEATURE: These cross-section drawings show how use of a larger dormer and the shifting of rooms to the rear allows bigger rooms upstairs with full, flat ceilings.

COMPACT CAPE: With two bedrooms downstairs and another two up, this efficient Cape Cod provides maximum space for minimum cost. Trim roof line and lower-than-usual ridge yield a ground-hugging appearance usually found only in one-story homes.
