Many Rushed To Hospital In Cleveland

Cleveland, Dec. 9.—Ammonia gas from a refrigerating system overcame more than 50 persons in a downtown store here today. The condition of most of them required hospital treatment and several were unconscious. All of them were believed to be recovering rapidly however after receiving medical treatment.

Most of the victims were able to stagger out of the building. Then, gasping for breath, and with smarting eyes, they collapsed in the street. Most of those stricken recovered consciousness a short time after treatment was given. Oxygen was administered.

The gas escaped while repairmen were working on a pump in a refrigerating plant in the basement of the four-story building occupied by the Chandler and Dudd company, wholesale grocers.

A man and four women employees were carried from the building and customers fled to the street, staggering from the effect of the gas. A call for all available ambulances was issued by firemen.

APPOINTMENTS DISPLEASING TO JAYBIRT

SENDS UP A SMOKE SCREEN TO SHUT OUT CRITICISM OF OWN APPOINTEES

SUSPICION IS AROUSED

Flagrant Example Of His "Lame Duck" Appointments Is In Evidence At Hospital

Jaybirt Miller has again gone back. In an article published in Saturday night's Daily News, he attacks the Republican organization of Kankakee county simply because he does not like some of the appointments which have been made in county offices. The trouble seems to be that the Republican organization did not consult him in making these appointments.

A suspicion is aroused that he is trying to cover up some of the shortcomings of his own office appointments and takes this method of sending up a smoke screen in advance of the criticism which is bound to come.

He holds because some of the retiring deputies were given work in other offices, which shows that he is entirely out of step with the world struggle to help the unemployed situation. But will someone tell us just when he was ever in step.

If the News really wants to cite a flagrant example of "lame duck" appointments they need only to look across the river to the State Hospital where their idol, Lou Emerson, has seen fit to inaugurate the position of business manager in addition to an assistant managing officer in recent months, when it is well known that according to law all of the buying and most of the business of the institution is transacted at Springfield.

When Jack Sanford was chief engineer at the hospital he performed the duties himself. Now the chief engineer has TWO assistants. During the administration of Lou Small there were two steamfitters at the institution—now there are FOUR. The storekeeper formerly took care of his duties alone, but now he has an ASSISTANT.

These "lame ducks" are said to be paid out of the money they claim to have saved by reducing the amount of milk by hundreds of gallons which had been fed to the 4,000 inmates of the hospital under its previous management. As a matter of fact, the people of Illinois do not want to save money by starving the unfortunate—they want them properly fed and properly clothed and given kind treatment. They are disgusted with the terrible extravagance which has been going on there for months where thousands and hundreds of thousands of dollars have been wasted, although the patients' food was not improved, but impaired.

The most astute of all the statements in the News' blast was that Henry Groenewoud, formerly deputy sheriff, was being "taken care of" and a job created for him as assistant to Mrs. Elizabeth Mann, county welfare director.

The selection of Mr. Groenewoud to aid Mrs. Mann during the unusual heavy demand for charity work this year because of the unemployment situation was done at the suggestion of the Community Welfare Committee. This committee is composed of representative business and professional men and women and delegates from all charitable organizations in the community. The committee, at a recent meeting, urged that an assistant be employed temporarily for Mrs. Mann as she was unable to cope alone with the extra demands upon her office. County officials concurred in the suggestion of the committee and Mr. Groenewoud was given the appointment.

John Hoekstra and Jacob DeHaan, commissioners of the Clausen Park Drainage District, near Wicher, today issued a statement in which they aver that publication of the suit filed by Frank Dykstra, and in which they are defendants, was partly erroneous.

The commissioners state they never removed a bridge at Dykstra's property. The ditches in the drainage district were cleaned two years ago and since that time Dykstra, they allege, bought a piece of land in the district and demanded that the commissioners build a bridge over a ditch running along his piece of land fronting on a state highway. Both the state and the drainage commissioners have refused to build the bridge.

In Bitter Quarrel

Thomas Mann, 34, of 945 North Indiana avenue, charged with having held up and robbed Thompson's Inn, 1098 South Washington avenue on the morning of November 19th and taking $50, was ordered held for the next session of the grand jury yesterday afternoon after a preliminary hearing in the police court before Judge Bert L. Fitzgerald.

Bond was fixed at $2,500. As yet Mann has been unable to furnish bond and probably will be taken to the county jail today to await trial. He was represented yesterday afternoon by Attorney Anker C. Jensen. Charles W. Kurtz, assistant state attorney, conducted the prosecution.

High spots in the state's case were: positive identification of Mann by Jessie B. Thompson, 1098 South Washington avenue, as the man who held him up at the point of a gun that morning; positive identification of Mann by Miss Mattie Weller, 494 South Indiana avenue, night waitress, as the holdup man; testimony by both Mr. Thompson and Miss Weller that a black hat and a revolver found at the Mann home were similar to those used by the bandit in holdup.

High spots in the defense were: denial of the charge by Mann; the claim by his mother, Mrs. Almida Mann, that her son was home all night on the night of November 18th, "sleeping off a drunk" and that he was unable to leave the house; similar testimony by the defendant's brother, Hartley Mann; the testimony of both these witnesses that they were "light sleepers" and that it would have been impossible for Mann to leave the house without their knowing it; the testimony of the defendant that he did not own a revolver and the gun found at the Mann home by the police was the property of his brother; and the testimony of Dan Cooper, 1091 South Washington avenue, who lives near to the Thompson Inn and who stated that he looked across the street just in time to see an automobile, which later proved to be holdup car, stop in front of the lunch room, and that the man who alighted from this car was not Thomas Mann.

The defendant, his brother, and his mother testified that on the night of the 19th they were all at home and that the brother was reading the newspaper. They testified that he read an account of the Thompson holdup and that he said after noticing the description of the bandit, said: "It's a good thing they weren't out last night. Tom, this description fits you and they might arrest you." The three members of the family also testified that Mann then answered, "Well, I know where I was last night so I'm not worrying."

John Stack, chief of the Kankakee Police Department, also testified, telling of how the black hat and gun, similar to those used by the bandit, were found by him at the Mann home. Mann was arrested a week ago by Chief Stack.

Preliminary hearing for Mann was scheduled for several days ago but was postponed at the request of the defendant. Yesterday afternoon, he appeared in court without his attorney, waived hearing, and then with the appearance of his attorney, changed his mind and asked for a hearing.

The penalty for robbery with a gun, upon conviction, is imprisonment from one year to life.

Lee Meeker Writes Defi To The Law

Lee Meeker, St. Anne man who has been missing for several weeks and who is being hunted by the authorities, has written a letter to Fred Denoyer, village marshal, in which he defies the authorities to capture him. Meeker, while in a drunken frenzy, shot his 75-year-old mother and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dixon, slightly wounding all three. He also abducted his 5-year-old daughter, Rosetta, but the child returned several days later, alone. Meeker's letter reads as follows: "42 Main Street, 'Pond du Lac, Wis., 'I am at the above address and if you fat heads want me I defy you to come and get me. 'Yours truly, 'Lee Meeker.'"

Meeker evidently mailed the letter at some small town on the Big Four railroad south and east of St. Anne. The letter was post-marked by a Big Four railway postoffice, where it had been mailed at Pond du Lac. It would have been post-marked on a Soo Line or O. & N. W. train. Denoyer received the missive yesterday and conferred with Sheriff Goodknecht and postal authorities here today.

An early attempt to capture the hill and take the flag being unsuccessful, the upper-classmen returned to the assault later in the morning. They quickly won the first skirmish, and took possession of the mound upon which the Viator flag pole is built. They soon found, however, that possession of the mound did not imply possession of the flag. The pole had been quite merrily greased by some brilliant member of the Freshman class, and the Sophomores found themselves unable to scale it. The Freshmen, in the meantime, kept up a continual assault upon the upper-classmen's position, and the older men found themselves to be quite unable to make any headway.

The Sophomores withdrew from their position and held a conference, at the completion of which they returned to the battle and again captured the hill. Sending a weakening in the Freshman attack, they sent the agile Vincent Moore, star tackle of last year's team, scurrying up the pole through the coat of grease. Moorey reached the ropes and untied them, lowering the flag while the remainder of the upper-classmen battled with the Freshmen for possession of the hill.

The flag became detached about midway in its descent, and fell among the crowd of fighting freshmen below. Ed Gorman, Sophomore from Manteno, caught the bunting, but was thrown to the ground by a down or more zealous Freshmen before he could escape. The new fight was held over the flag, but the upper-classmen soon gained the upper hand, and Bill Gibbons, Sophomore class president, started out of the melee with it. He was sighted by twenty or thirty Freshmen, who gave chase, but Ralph Karr, the well-known football and basketball star of Viator, overhauled him and carried the flag to safe keeping.

The fight was conducted on a plan that would please the heart of any clothing merchant. Both sides laid to with a will, and not a man left the scene with the same amount of covering he had entered it wearing. Barked shins and shoulders occupied the time of the nurse in the college infirmary, while the local barbers spent considerable time shampooing grease out of the contestants' hair.

The fight is a traditional event which ushers in the season known as "Hell Week" among the Viator students. Hell Week is the only time of the school year in which Freshmen and upper-classmen are blood enemies, and refuse to treat with each other except in a spirit of animosity.

POLICE ARREST MANTENO YOUTHS
Fred McClain, 20; and his brother, Ollie, 18, both of Manteno, appeared before Judge Bert L. Fitzgerald in the police court to answer charges of transporting liquor and carrying concealed weapons.

The two youths were arrested last night by Police Officer James Clifford. Fred was driving his father's car, which contained a half gallon of alleged alcohol, and Ollie was carrying a gun.

Ollie entered a plea of guilty to the charge of carrying a gun and was fined $25 and costs. Fred pleaded not guilty to the charge of transporting liquor and stated that he did not know the liquor was in the car when he took it from home.

ANNUAL FLAG FIGHT STAGED AT ST. VIATOR

FRESHIES SPRING SURPRISE ON SOPHOMORES AND HOIST THE PENNANT

FIND POLE GREASED

Upper Classmen Overcome The Difficulty And Take It Down; Ground Battle

The peace and quiet of the village of Bourbonnais was shattered quite completely yesterday when the annual Flag Fight was held at St. Viator college. The Freshmen had sprung a surprise on the Sophomores by hoisting their bunting almost a week ahead of schedule. The flag, which had been raised sometime Sunday night, greeted the upper-classmen on their way to breakfast as it imprudently waved in the slight breeze.

An early attempt to capture the hill and take the flag being unsuccessful, the upper-classmen returned to the assault later in the morning. They quickly won the first skirmish, and took possession of the mound upon which the Viator flag pole is built. ARMY-NAVY BATTLE OF THE EAST

New York, Dec. 9.—(P)—The battle of the Army and Navy at the Yankee Stadium Saturday was the most dramatic and unexpected of the season. The Army, which had been expected to win, was defeated by the Navy, which had been expected to lose. The game was a close contest, with the Navy leading 17-0 at the end of the first half. The Army, however, rallied in the second half and won 21-17.

Stimulating the more than any other factor was Navy's spectacular triumph over Pennsylvania at Philadelphia last Saturday. The midshipmen revealed the power of the attack in that game and all predictions of an easy Army victory have been for a closely contested game that may be decided by one break.

Army has much the better record, leading 10 to Notre Dame by a one point margin and getting the point margin in the Navy game. "We invade a new field with vastly improved cars at the lowest prices in our history"

BY WILLIAM J. McANEENTY
President, Hudson Motor Car Company

WE have built these models up to and beyond the 1931 standards of performance and quality in every way, and have never in our history offered so many improvements. Quality is greater down to the last detail. Every phase of performance has been greatly improved, and the luxury we have built into the cars is substantially greater than ever before. Motors are larger and more powerful. An efficient system of oil cooling is introduced. A marked improvement in carburetion increases flexibility and economy. Bodies are longer and wider. These cars possess the finest, easiest riding qualities. For the first time, such comfort is available at these low prices. Only great manufacturing economies and the fact that our large resources permit us to take the fullest possible advantage of reduced commodity prices have enabled us to offer the public the greatest combination of quality and low prices in our entire history.

Owner-Management Permits Exclusive Value Advantages

Owner-management enables Hudson Essex to give you outstanding advantages in quality and price. The men who are now guiding its destinies have been with the company since its inception twenty-two years ago. Its department heads and principal distributors are its controlling owners. Their independence is backed by unusually large resources in capital and plant facilities. It enables Hudson Essex to lead in design and engineering quality. It permits economies in manufacture and distribution that bring exceptional quality direct to the public at distinct price advantages.
