Chamberlain Of United States Says FDR's Kin

Col. Theo. Roosevelt Says FDR Is Negligent Of National Interest

Kiddies' Show on Saturday

Alchion Kan, June 13—(UP)—President Roosevelt has been "critically negligent of the national interest" in defense preparations, according to Col. Theodore Roosevelt, chairman last night in calling him "the Chamberlain of the United States."

Col. Roosevelt, in addressing a Republican district rally, accused the President of "flinching the country into history and charged Mrs. Roosevelt and Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, with associating with potential fifth columnists."

He described as "silly and an impossibility" the President's warning that Omaha, St. Louis and other midwestern cities could be bombed by enemy planes flying from Mexico.

Becoming a Hellion

"This nation is becoming bed-lam," he said. "This is no way to behave. This country was not built by people who in a crisis behaved like hysterical school children. It is time to keep cool and think clearly."

He said the nation was unprepared to defend itself because of rapidly and efficiently when any crisis occurs.

"Turning his back to the President and Madame Perkins Roosevelt," he said.

We must guard against what any crisis occurs.

"Turning his back to the President and Madame Perkins Roosevelt," he said.

Describing national defenses as "woefully weak," he said the President had realized the conditions abroad.

"If he did not, he was incompetent; if he did, he has been guilty of criminal negligence of the national interest," Roosevelt said.

He listed a united country and a sound economic system as the first two requirements of a strong defense system but said we have neither, "because the administration has harassed and persecuted business."

"Hoosever called for immediate attention to our war machine, but ridiculed the President's request for $50,000 planes."

Foes of Our Own Household

"What we need is more smaller number of planes, say 10,000, and an expansion of factory facilities that will enable us to manufacture

Boom Anticipated By Ohio Radio Service Workers

Cleveland, June 13—(INS)—Radio service men in northern Ohio are looking forward to a boom season this fall if owners of push-button sets intend to keep up with a kilocycle change.

At the last Havana conference, attended by representatives of this hemisphere, arrangements were made whereby certain frequencies would be changed in order to eliminate overlapping wave lengths and excessive static.

Most large northern Ohio stations, operating on 70 or more kilocycles, will within the new setup and will be found three numbers higher on the dial. Those below 70 kilocycles, will at Cincinnati for example, will not be affected in the national re-arrangement.

Stations included in the change are WEDU, Youngstown from 1430 to 1500; WBSN, Columbus from 1430 to 1500; WSPD, Toledo from 1340 to 1500; WABD, Akron from 1200 to 1250; WHBC, Canton from 1200 to 1250; WJAM, Cleveland from 1070 to 1100; KDKA, Pittsburgh from 990 to 1020 and WJR, Detroit from 750 to 760.

Hopes To Reveal Cancer Secrets By New Methods

Philadelphia, June 13.—(INS)—The fundamental secrets of cancer may be revealed through experiments now being conducted by Dr. Paul H. Luke, professor of pathology at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

Reporting to the International Cancer Research Foundation, Dr. Luke said he had introduced pieces of diseased tissue into the interior chambers of the eyes of frogs. With this set up, explained the physician, it is possible to watch the cancer cells grow and to photograph the development.

Preliminary findings show that the tissue grows in definite patterns, according to Dr. Luke. He added that this condition is contrary to belief among scientists that cancer is wild in growth. It was also found that cancer cells are sensitive to temperature and season.

13 FLAG DAY!

Just to remind you—June 14th is the Day! It's not a bad idea to show your colors these days. We should be proud of our flag and know what the purpose is.

CRUCIAL WEEK-END GAMES IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn And Reds To Open 4-Game Series

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Brooklyn and Cincinnati Reds will open a four-game series today and tomorrow. The Reds will have Joe Medwick and if they don't have the National League pennant on October 10, it will be because there's no water in the Coganus tank or money in the Brooklyn Trust company.

The Flatbushers are in first place and it's no fluke. They have a nine of their last eleven games and never have been beaten since.

A Big Boost
No great imagination is needed to figure where a club that strong will go. The outstanding outfielder, who never has hit less than 300 in his life, and a pitcher who won 22 games just last season.

Curt Davis, whom the Dodgers obtained yesterday from St. Louis along with Medwick for four players and cash, may prove of great value. Medwick, the Dodgers won on the verge of a pitching shortage and last night at Pittsburgh designated Lefty Vito Tamulis as a front rank starter.

He gave up four hits and hit one batter for three Pittsburgh runs in the first inning. Then Whitlow Wyatt took charge and allowed only five hits for the remainder of the game and the Dodgers ultimately triumphed 5-4.

This victory was enough to keep Brooklyn out in front of the Cincinnati Reds, who edged out the Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 in another night game. Paul Derringer gave up eight hits to the Cincinnati Reds, but he was careful in the pinch and would have had a shut-out except for an error.

Stage is Set
The triumph by the Dodgers and Reds set a show stage for the four game series these two teams will open in Brooklyn tomorrow.

After routing Bob Feller on Tuesday, the Red Sox yesterday chased Southpaw Alvin Musgrave, the league's leading pitcher, with a six run eighth inning that brought victory 9-4. The sweep of the two-game series put Boston two full games ahead of the Indians and similar distance in front of the second place Detroit Tigers, who were beaten by the New York Yankees of Minnesota hockey coach, has gone into the summer resort business on Big Bear.

Boy Scouts
Tom Yawkey has two nephews teaming at Williams College. The other day the boys showed up at Fenway park with Ed Spaulding, the school's star pitcher in 1939. Spaulding, one of the best college pitchers in the country, got a trial with the Red Sox.

The Washington Senators edged out the St. Louis Browns by a game score, 5-2, on the six hit pitching of Ken Chase, who was the only southpaw to hit any ball all day. This was the first setback in six games for the Browns.

A Cynic Looks At Situation In Tennis Assn.

By HENRY MCLEMORE

New York, June 13.—(UP)—This is a cynical look at the situation in the tennis association. The tennis association is a cynical look at the situation in the tennis association.

Call the cops.
They're about to arrest Ivan Upton, manager of an Arkansas City (Kans.) team for hunting out of season. The other night Upton was hitting by balls to his infielders. One fly went directly to the pitcher's hand and the pitcher dropped the ball.

Ken Overlin makes his next start for the Hazy Balmers, July 11. Sports writers traveling with the Tigers credit Dick Bartell, one of the game's best batters, with making the team a countryer. Bartell was on the verge of a pitching shortage and last night at Pittsburgh designated Lefty Vito Tamulis as a front rank starter.

He gave up four hits and hit one batter for three Pittsburgh runs in the first inning. Then Whitlow Wyatt took charge and allowed only five hits for the remainder of the game and the Dodgers ultimately triumphed 5-4.

Planning for Sunday's Tournament

New York, June 13.—(UP)—The National Tennis Association is planning for Sunday's tournament. The tournament will be held at the Forest Hills Tennis Grounds in Queens, N.Y.

Blind "Mussel Hunter" Plies An Odd Trade To Support Family

New Haven, Ill., June 13—(AP)—Trudging along the muddy bottom of the Wabash river today, Bert Cutting methodically searched for mussels, quite unaware that he was doing anything unusual.

Cutting, 45 years, has been blind for 30 years, yet he makes a living for his wife, mother and six children at two jobs normally associated only with men enjoying good vision. He only says he is "most fortunate."

During the summer Cutting "works" the bottom of the Wabash river for New Harmony, Ind., to its confluence with the Ohio, gathering mussels. In winter he is a wood cutter engaged in clearing timber from wood lots.

Only recently has the river's water warmed up enough for Cutting to do his crude, home designed metal helmet—which doesn't have any windows for the wearer to see through—slung a wire basket over his arm and start his slow way along the river bottom in search of shells.

One Good Day's Work
Air is pumped through a garden hose to the helmet by an old washing machine motor in his anchored boat. His mother, Stella, 65, slight and gray, or one of his older sons sits in the boat to guard against motor failure and disruption of the flow of air.

On a good day he will recover 120 pounds of shells which will bring $40 to $100 a ton, according to quality, at button factories in Grayville, Ill., or Rockport, Ind.

Pearls are seldom found, and Cutting has had none of value. For three years he has been plying his trade and he asserts he has been under water as long as six hours at a time. His working clothes have been "bathing suits" and the helmet, a guide line fastened to his waist leads him back to the boat.

Occasionally a fish has brushed him but he never has been able to catch any. Once he found a surfboard and decided to explore it after ascertaining what it was by groping its length. Inside was a stove which became his immediate possession under the river law of "finder's keepers."

He and his son, Harry, told the timber for the cabin and it was saved at a nearby mill. They also contract to clear land of timber.

Wife Also Blind
Questioned about the danger of being struck by a falling tree which he could not see, Cutting explained simply that he merely held onto the saw when a tree began falling and his son, on the other end of the saw, would lead him to safety.

Cutting's wife, Ella, also blind, is a skilled weaver and needlecraft worker employed at present at the House at New Shawneetown where hand woven draperies and rugs are being made to attract tourist trade.

She has been blind since birth but her husband was blinded by a seizure of typhoid fever at the age of 15. They met in a school for blind at Indianapolis, Ind.

Both are well informed in current events and they only among Gallatin county's 30 blind residents, make use of the Braille books distributed free by government agencies. Their six children have normal vision.

$40 A Month Old Age Pension Bill Becomes Effective

Chicago, June 13—(AP)—A $40 a month old-age pension payment was in effect in Illinois today following Governor Horner's approval of a bill passed by the legislature in special session.

The governor affixed his signature to the bill at his summer retreat in suburban Winnetka yesterday.

In addition to boosting the maximum from $30 the new law makes blind persons eligible for old age assistance if they are not receiving blind benefit, and authorizes necessary medical care for pensioners.

The new law restricts the increased benefits to persons on pension rolls who can prove that the present $30 maximum is insufficient for their needs.

Governor Horner also signed a bill amending the unemployment compensation act. Hereafter employees must pay contributions only on the first $4,000 or any fraction thereof of an employee's salary.

The saving to employers was estimated at $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 annually.

Bills valuing a Chicago park district tax levy for aquariums and museums and an airport project of the Peoria park district also were signed.

Twenty-three measures await the chief executive's action.

Tunis, capital of Tunisia, has a metropolitan population of about 225,000 of which in 1931 French numbered 33,649 and Italians 40,147.

The United States has about 8,000 miles of coastline.
