Vegetables Demand Early Start

As Quick Growth in Cool Weather Produces Tender Leaves and Roots.

Almost before the snow has disappeared crops like peas, onion sets, lettuce and radishes may be planted outdoors in fact these crops may be planted just as early as the ground can be worked. Then comes the planting of potatoes which take two or three weeks to come up after the soil is warm. The seedlings are planted in the ground. The seedling of beets, carrots, turnips and the setting of cabbage and broccoli plants grow closely upon the heels of the last named. The seedlings of the solid miter, which are planted in the ground, are planted in the ground. The seedlings of the solid miter, which are planted in the ground, are planted in the ground.

Other than being a voracious feeder on ants, the ant-eater is a little difficult to handle. Its body is about four feet long, and its bushy tail almost as long. It hunches about its chimney on paws that, because of their curved claws, do not permit much progress. But no other animal dare defy it, for those sharp claws can easily rip an enemy apart.

Since the tropical jungles of South America are its home, the animal appears on a number of stamps that French Guiana issued in 1905. One is shown here.

STORIES IN STAMPS

LAZY ENEMY OF BUSY ANTS

STRANGE fate of the busiest and most voracious insect on earth, the ant, is that they should be devoured by one of the laziest animals in existence, the ant-eater. Inactive, indolent, and powerful, this hulking beast of South America has sharp curved claws that tear ant hills apart, and a long tongue with an 18-inch worm-like tongue that draws the insects to their doom in quick succession. A sticky secretion on the tongue prevents escape of the unfortunate victims.

It hunches about its chimney on paws that, because of their curved claws, do not permit much progress. But no other animal dare defy it, for those sharp claws can easily rip an enemy apart.

BASQUE ARMY RETREATS AS REBELS PUSH

Bilbao Totters Before Advancing Insurgents.

MUTINY HINTED

By the Associated Press
Bilbao tottered today before an advancing insurgent army that had crushed its outer defenses and plunged its defenders into a disastrous retreat.

Gen. Emilio Mola's northern army occupied Bilbao, an important munitions center about 20 miles south-east of Bilbao, and found pillars of sparks from burning houses spreading flames throughout the evacuated city. The insurgents said dynamite blasts before abandoning the stronghold Sunday night. The Basques said insurgent planes fled Bilbao.

Mutiny Hinted
Mutiny in the Basque ranks was hinted as the insurgents surged on Durango, gateway city to Bilbao, hoping to take it and reach the 16 miles of improved highway to the Basque capital.

Hundreds of civilians were killed at Guernica, former capital of the Basque country, and the city was left in blazing ruins after a fierce insurgent bombardment. Bombing planes soared over the city in waves, dropping heavy explosives and scattering hand grenades. Swooping machine-guns strafed hundreds of inhabitants who fled into open fields.

Fatalities in Madrid mounted to at least 270, with hundreds of others injured. Insurgent artillery batteries pounded the city for the 18th consecutive day. The government aerial armada bombed the insurgent siege lines in retaliation but did not silence their heavy guns.

Rain shells on Valencia
Two insurgent cruisers rained 30 shells into Valencia, temporary seat of the government on the Mediterranean coast. At least three women were killed, many other civilians injured and extensive damage inflicted on the city's industrial section.

A sub-committee of the neutrality group in London studied whether to seek cooperation of non-European powers, including the United States, in the 27-nation patrol of Spain.

The Valencia government charged neutral patrol ships, particularly Germany's, stopped Spanish ships and came within 10 miles of the coast both alleged violations of the patrol regulations. It declared an airplane catapulted from a German war vessel reconnoitered before an insurgent attempt to bombard the government-held seaboard.

By HENRY T. GORRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
Madrid, April 27—(UP)—Insurgent artillery poured a deadly rain of shrapnel into the heart of Madrid today, mowing down civilians in great numbers in the crowded Puerto Del Sol, the Times Square of the capital.

It was the most merciless bombardment in two weeks of steady shelling.
The firing began at midnight and died away at 1:30 a. m., only to be resumed from 7:30 a. m. until 9 a. m. At 11 a. m. it was again resumed with renewed ferocity. Casualties ran into hundreds, adding to the death toll of approximately 300 in the last two weeks.

women and children as the shrapnel sprayed them.

Bodies and Debris
The sand bagged square was littered with bodies and debris. (At this point in telephoning his dispatch to London, the correspondent interrupted to exclaim: "There's another one landed. Half a minute—I'll try to see where it went. . . . That was a block or two away.")

Motionless bodies lay in the streets. Other victims, clashing their wounds, limped or crawled to the nearest doorways.

Blood was splashed against the bullet-scarred walls of the interior ministry.

Half a dozen newspaper stands within a few yards of each other were blown across the street, scattering newspapers and leaving their owners like rag dolls in the doorway.

It was the climax of a terrible night in which the shells spread destruction and lighted the streets with the flames of burning houses.

SETTLE STRIKE IN CALIFORNIA AFTER 10 DAYS

Cannery Workers to Be Recognized as Bargain Agents.
ON LABOR FRONT

By the Associated Press
Settlement of the California cannery strike and the arrest by federal agents of 18 sit-downers in a Detroit dispute held the spotlight on today's labor front.

Gov. Frank Merriam announced complete agreement for settlement of the Stockton, Calif., cannery strike which broke out in bloody fighting last Friday. The peace pact provided for recognition of the Cannery Workers' union as bargaining agent.

The strike called 10 days ago with demands for higher wages, shorter hours and union recognition, affected 1,300 workers.

The 18 persons under arrest in Detroit may be charged federal authorities said, with violating the federal narcotic laws. They were seized when police forced 250 strikers out of the Drake, Davis & Co. pharmaceutical plant.

The government agents stepped in when the men barricaded themselves in the narcotic department and used a fire hose on police.

Ralph H. Oyler, district chief of the U. S. bureau of narcotics, said if any supplies were missing from the department he would place the matter in the hands of District Attorney John C. Lehr.

The administration's industrial and labor program was watched closely by Washington legislators.

Congressional leaders predicted postponement of some portions of the program until it was decided.

whether to use state or federal powers as the basis for new laws. The primary phase of the program—wage and hour standards—was studied by President Roosevelt.

Wisconsin Situation
At Madison, Wis., Gov. Philip La Follette summoned labor leaders to a conference to outline enforcement of the state's new labor relations law. He arranged a meeting between representatives of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor and the three members of the state board set up as an authority in settling industrial disputes. The board indicated it could invite the Committee for Industrial Organization to present its views.

At Pittsburgh, Federal Judge Nelson McKearney tried the petition of the A. F. of L. for an injunction restraining the New Kensington, Pa., local of the Aluminum Workers of America from turning over its $27,000 treasury to the C. I. O.

A three-cornered dispute which threatened to tie up New York City's piers and freight terminals was in the hands of a presidential committee of three men today. With 30 days in which to recommend a settlement and with a strike illegal for 60 days, the committee went to work under the railway mediation act.
