INSURGENT BATTLESHIP SUNK

EXCESS RAINS MENACE CROPS IN THE COUNTY

Farmers Unable To Do Plowing or Planting.

GARDNERS, TOO

Heavy rains this spring, especially during the past month, have so delayed plowing and planting that Kankakee county farmers are beginning to be fearful that soy beans will be the only crop they can raise this year.

This is especially true in the north part of the county, according to G. T. Swann, advisor of the Farm Bureau. In that portion, the water of the county from Decatur north, the soil is too water-soaked to be worked and in many fields there are areas of standing water.

The sandy soil of the south part of the county has fared better. Only about half of oats sowing which should have been done early in April, has been finished. Soybeans have been planted enough to have all the spring done, others are half or quarter done and some have done none at all.

Rain Almost Daily
The latter farmers find it impossible to plant their farms to corn instead of oats because the wet weather has prevented spring plowing. Rain fell almost daily this month and the periods of fair weather have been so short there has been no opportunity for drying off the same predicament, having been unable to do plowing.

Winter wheat, according to Mr. Swann, is in good condition and the largest crop for the past five or six years is anticipated this season.

If the rains continue, planting of corn and oats will be so delayed that farmers may find it necessary to turn to soy beans as their major crop.

To Work at Night
Farmers are becoming so worried over the situation, according to reports that many are equipping their tractors with batteries and lights so that they may work in day and night shifts in an effort to catch up with the season when fair weather finally comes.

The total rainfall the past two months is nearly seven inches according to the records of the Kankakee Water company. 46 inches in March and 5.60 inches so far this month.

Daily Precipitation
The precipitation by inches follows:
March 4th, 20 inches; 15th, 91 inches; 20th, 34 inches; 24th, 15 inches; 25th, 16 inches; April 1st, 20 inches; 3rd, 22 inches; 5th, 38 inches.

One Patient Kills Other At Manteno

August Peterson, 54, formerly of Chicago and since 1931 a patient at Kankakee and Manteno state hospitals, died late yesterday as the result of injuries incurred in a fight with Henry Minnear, another patient.

Coroner A. F. Karger, who investigated the killing, said that Minnear and Peterson were engaged in spreading cinders on the grounds of the Manteno institution when Minnear suddenly went berserk and struck Peterson over the head six times with a shoe. Peterson's skull was fractured and he died an hour after the fight.

Since the episode, Minnear has been violently insane and is being kept from other patients.

Demands Education Be Given A "Break" With Federal Aid

Washington, April 30—(UP)—Rep. M. M. Mason, (R., Ill.), today demanded on the house floor that education be given a "break" in the form of federal aid.

Mason asserted that the federal government was advancing billions of dollars to aid agriculture, industry, labor and finance, but nothing for education.

Denhardt Defense Bolsters Suicide Theory

George H. Davis (above), Kansas City banker, was elected president of the United States Chamber of Commerce for the coming year. After Harper Sibley, retiring president, had declined a third term, Davis was unanimously elected by the board of directors.

1 MAJOR CRIME IN 20 SECONDS IN THIS NATION

G-Man Tells Business Men and Farmers.

The success of every investigation of the G-men is due to their close attention to minor, almost insignificant details. That salient fact was illustrated repeatedly in the address of G-Man V. W. Peterson at the farmer-businessmen meeting Thursday evening in the Masonic temple banquet hall. A crowd of 300 attended.

Special Agent Peterson, who is in charge of the St. Louis division office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, held his audience in rapt attention as he related the minute clues eventually led to the capture of such notorious criminals as Arthur "Doc" Barker and George "Killer" Bremer and Urschel kidnapers, the Bremer and Lamar, Colorado bank bandits and murderers, one of whom was captured in Kankakee in 1928.

Describing the extent of crime nationwide, he said that every 20 nationally, a major crime is committed here in this country.

A staggering total of 1,500,000 annually. Of this number, 12,000 are murders. One out of five crimes are committed by boys and girls under voting age.

Last year the 628 federal agents under J. Edgar Hoover investigated 22,000 cases. Contrary to widespread

William Junker's Estate to Widow

The will of William Junker, who died recently in Yellowhead township, was filed for probate yesterday before County Judge John H. Beckers.

The will, made on May 19, 1934, gives the entire estate to the widow, Minnie, who also is named executrix without bond.

From which have we the more to fear? Some twenty nations of the world have had upsets of government, revolutions, bloodshed during the last two decades. Will we be next?

WIDOW AROUSED OVER JEALOUSY OF C. WOOLFOLK

Experiments Show
She Ended Life.
Say Experts.

PROPOSED PACT

By ALEX. MENDEL.
New Castle, Ky., April 30.—(UP)—Commonwealth Attorney H. B. Kinsomont, Jr., and Defense Attorney John Marshall Berry said today one of the jurors in the Denhardt murder trial had signed an affidavit stating Brig Gen. Henry H. Denhardt could not get a fair trial in Henry County.

The defense in its efforts to force a change of venue had gathered a number of affidavits. Berry said he had an affidavit to this effect from Joe Henderson, chosen on the jury after Circuit Judge Charles C. Marshall had gone on with the trial here.

The statement was made during the luncheon recess after the defense had launched its scientific testimony designed to offset the commonwealth's evidence.

The defense produced a witness who declared experiments indicated Denhardt's father, Mrs. Vera Garr Taylor, committed suicide and another who testified paraffin tests did not always prove effective.

The defense experts took the stand in the Denhardt murder trial today following yesterday's long recital of Denhardt in which he declared killing his comely fiancée and said she had spoken to him of a suicide pact. Denhardt declared the blue grass widow was attracted over jealousy of Chester Woolfolk, 26, laundry dealer, Commonwealth's Attorney H. B. Kinsomont indicated he would call Woolfolk to deny this.

Bolster Suicide Theory

Major Seth Ward of Washington, former FBI expert, told the jury today his experiments showed Denhardt's father was close to the woman's body when the fatal shot was fired. His testimony was brought to bolster a suicide theory.

Clark Estate is Valued at $35,000

A life interest in all the property of the late Thomas J. Clark of Kankakee, former highway commissioner and former coroner, goes to the widow Mrs. Cordelia Clark.

This is provided for in his will drawn on Aug. 30, 1930, which was drawn up at the office of the late County Clerk, Richard J. Kinsomont.

The estate consists of real estate and personal property valued at approximately $35,000.

At the death of the widow the estate is to be divided into cash and divided equally among the children. Julia, Mrs. Georgiana Brien and Mrs. Ida Blanchette.

The daughter Julia, however, is to have use and occupancy of the home property at 130 South Washington avenue after the death of her mother so long as she remains single. At her death the proceeds divided is to be sold and the proceeds divided.

The daughters Mrs. Blanchette and Mrs. Blanchette are named executrices without bond.

Punch Loosens Bridge Work; He Swallows Tooth

Two workers ran errands on the same wheel top today without ever having trouble. Yesterday as the paper sellers, Robert and Stanley, rode to town on the wheel top, Stanley, who was in the driver's seat, was struck by a car.

Stanley refused saying that he would have to use it himself in a few minutes. Sam became angry and said things which indicated that he was not going to let Stanley back whereupon Sam "popped" him in the mouth, loosening his bridge work in such a manner that he gulped down a tooth.

Sam was fined $10 and sent to jail for assault and battery. Police Magistrate Edward Hennicke.

Republicans Of 7th Ward Win A Prize

The Hattenburg-Maitland club of the Seventh ward, which assisted in the recent Republican victory in the town-ship and city elections, has won the contest among the various clubs of the city in conjunction with the elections.

The Seventh ward club made the best showing in the Republican tickets in those elections in comparison with the Republican results in the elections two years ago.

To the Second ward club goes the second prize while the Sixth ward club took the third. The organization of the Hattenburg-Maitland clubs in each ward of the community, and the arousing of enthusiasm among the members by the unique contest, is believed to have had an important part toward the Republican victories.

Club Women Are Opposed to the Court Proposal

Tulsa, Okla., April 30.—(UP)—Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, informed the annual council meeting today that a national mail poll showed the President voted six to one against the proposal to remove the Supreme Court justices from office.

The result of the poll was announced as the council heard a formal vote on a statement of principle opposing the president's plan to remove the justices.

The poll of more than 51,000 clubwomen in 1,581 clubs in every state of the union showed 7,476 women favored the plan while more than 44,000 opposed it.

Quiet cheers at a council meeting last night at Sen. Burton K. Wheeler concluded an address in which he said:

"There are six men in the senate today who would vote for the removal plan if political pressure were removed."

Cheers also greeted mention of President Roosevelt's name by Assistant Attorney General Joseph B. Keenan who spoke in favor of the reorganization plan.

Keenan urged the change "to put the court on an even keel again."

9th Annual Spring Concert Tonight

The annual spring concert of the concert band of Kankakee high school will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight in the school auditorium. On this occasion however the concert band will be assisted by the military and junior bands.

In addition to the symphonic and classical numbers to be presented, the program will be interspersed with military music. The concert will open with the march, "Down the Street," by Grabel. The third part of the program will include such famous marches as "In Storm and Sunshine" and "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sousa and played by the 200-piece massed band.

This will be the ninth annual spring concert by the high school band. The doors will open at 7 o'clock and no reserve seats are offered.

NEW VIADUCT IS ASKED BY ROTARY CLUB

Condemn Old Span
as Bottle-neck
to Traffic.

BUILD IT NOW!

Taking up the suggestion that a new Court street viaduct ought to be built, the Rotary club voted yesterday to condemn the old span as a bottleneck to traffic.

The committee was not named at yesterday's meeting of the club in the Hotel Kankakee, but several members commented on the desirability of such action. They felt that the removal should cooperate in helping to remove this bottleneck for vehicular traffic. If repairs are contemplated by the railroad are made, little hope can be held for anything better for years to come.

Yesterday's speaker was Carl A. Altier, science teacher at Kankakee high school, who addressed Rotarians on the subject of "What is New in the Field of Science."

His talk dealt largely with atomic chemistry and the bombardment of atoms in huge cyclotron machines, in which transmutation of elements, or the changing of one element into an entirely new one, is at last accomplished after centuries of experimenting.

The ancient alchemists started this research in an effort to transmute base metals into gold. The modern chemists, however, are interested in the whole atom system of which matter is composed and which matter is composed of.

At first, it was thought that the world and everything in it was composed of just four things—earth, fire, air and water. Early people looked upon alchemists with scorn and derision, calling them sorcerers and black magicians. But the science made rapid strides forward, and in 1870 the element, uranium, was discovered.

Nothing is solid. Science now realizes, the instructor told Rotarians, that nothing is solid. Matter is actually a solid substance, or matter is composed of molecules, or nuclei of matter, electrically neutral particles revolving about nuclei at high rates of speed—thousands of miles a second. In other words, matter is composed of a group of electrical charges held together by an unseen force.

Accident today, he said, is not a fact. The particles of light, through lead plates just like they were there. They can be photographed by passing them through moisture, which causes them to make a fog.

Last Frontier

The scientific field is the last frontier.

Country Club Season Opens on Saturday

The nine-hole golf course of Kankakee Country club will be formally opened for play today and members and their guests tomorrow. It was announced today by Arthur L. Beck, chairman of the finance and building and grounds committees.

The club recently accepted 20 new members, bringing the membership up to 425. The course this year will be operated as a private enterprise, available only to members and their guests.

According to Will Schneider, president of the club, the course is in excellent condition as the result of considerable grooming this spring and the addition of new equipment, including a new tractor, mowing machines for the greens and new cups and pins.

The clubhouse is now being redecorated inside and out. A party for the club membership is planned for May.

Harry Nelson, professional for the past two seasons, remains this year under the leadership of Mrs. William K. Nelson, who is in charge of the serving of refreshments and meals.

OLD I. C. VIADUCT HERE

Twenty-six years ago the above picture made news. It was the old stone viaduct over the I. C. railroad at Court street and when the railroad company finally decided to replace it, the event was recorded on picture postcards and sold in local stores with the terse caption, "Kankakee's Court street viaduct going at last, Sept. 15, 1911."

Today, the present trestle, long outmoded after a quarter of century of use, is considered by many to be a serious bottleneck to traffic, especially since it is on a state highway. The viaduct was condemned last week by the railroad's own engineers as unsafe for further use in its present condition after the north section of the bridge had dropped a foot when a heavy truck went over it.

Various groups are urging that the bridge be replaced with a new one instead of being only repaired, as the railroad contemplates at present. The two girders which rise up in the middle of the present structure have been tourists sometimes fall to see them. Dr. A. C. Whillman, through whose courtesy the picture was obtained, said that the old stone viaduct had to be broken up by placing a heavy timber on a flat car and prying up from underneath.

Porter Robs Two Business Places Here

Best Wilson, 21, colored porter for Patrick Duggan's tavern, 150 East Merchant street, and also for the barber shop of Willard Hershberger across the alley at 148 East Merchant, disappeared this morning after the cash registers in both places had been cleaned.

Ben was gaily hired to clean up the floors and furniture of the two business places. He carried keys to both shops. After an investigation this morning, police are satisfied that Wilson reported for work extra early, took $20 from the tavern and $34 from the barber shop and skipped town with the keys.

Duggan discovered his loss at 7 o'clock this morning. Hershberger found his short time later when he came to work. The porter scrubs the barber shop at night and it is believed he may have taken the money from that firm before leaving last evening.

He came to town on a freight train from Memphis last November and had been rooming at 601 North Hobbs avenue.

Novena in Honor of Mother at Church

Special devotions to mark the beginning of May, set aside in honor of the Catholic church in honor of the mother of Christ, will open Sunday at St. Patrick church. It was announced today by the Rev. T. E. Fitzpatrick, the pastor.

The devotions will consist of a solemn novena in honor of the Blessed Mother to end appropriately on May 9, Mother's day.

The Rev. Gilbert Watters, Redemptorist missionary, will conduct the novena with services each evening at 7:30 o'clock and each morning at 8 o'clock.

The opening event of the novena will take an active part in the closing ceremony on May 9 which is the day of their annual communion and breakfast.

Too Much Mud for Postal Thieves at Braidwood Thurs.

Braidwood, Ill., April 30—(UP)—Thieves knocked the tumbler and hinges off the postoffice safe here, and then rolled the safe through a rear door. It fell face down in the soft mud and they were unable to turn it over. Mrs. Alice Dillon, postmistress, said it contained $1,000 in cash and stamps.

BAY OF BISCAY

BULLETIN
Saint Jean De Luz, France, April 30—(UP)—The British battleship Royal Oak arrived today and reported that the Cruiser Shropshire had crossed the position of the Espana's sinking and found no survivors and no wreck-ages.

By EMILIO HERRERO
Copyright 1937 By United Press
Bilbao, Spain, April 30—(UP)—The Spanish insurgent destroyer Velasco opened fire on the British freighter Knitless today in a naval engagement in which Loyalist airplanes sent the insurgent battleship Espana to the bottom of the Bay of Biscay with a direct hit by a heavy bomb.

Shore batteries opened fire on the Velasco, which was escorting the Espana, when the destroyer began firing on the Wrotham five miles north of the mouth of Bilbao port.

The 15,453-ton Espana, only insurgent battleship and backbone of General Francisco Franco's navy, carried about 840 officers and men. The Velasco and fishing boats went to their rescue. How many were saved was not immediately ascertained.

The action occurred off Cabo Mayor, at the entrance to Santander bay, west of Bilbao. The Cabo Mayor coastguard advised the Al-bericia airdrome of the presence of the rebel warships and the attack on the British steamer.

Three tri-motored government bombers, part of a squadron of 32 planes that had just arrived, left the airdrome, ascended out of range of the Espana's anti-aircraft guns and started bombing.

The Espana's decks were cleared for action when the bombs struck her aft and exploded into the vitals of the ship. The Espana began to list to starboard and in 45 minutes disappeared beneath the waves.

It was the first time in history that an airplane has sunk a battleship. The Espana was of 1913 vintage and the bomb ripped through her inch and one-half deck plates, designed in days when airplanes were not effective.

The Espana and Velasco approached the British steamer, Loyalist advice said, and ordered it to halt. Instead the order made for the safety of Santander.

The Velasco was reported to have fired 12 shots as the freighter

Motor Cops Arrest 5 Law Violators

Tightening up on enforcement of traffic regulations, the city motorcycle police arrested five violators yesterday. Two were assessed fines of $25 for running a red light at Court and Indiana avenues—George Vallencourt of St. Anne and Russell Henderson of Manteno.

The other three were taken today in police cars for hearings—Donald Seifert, 135 East Sycamore street, charged with failure to observe a stop sign at Station street; Kenneth Prairie of Momence, accused of reckless driving on East Court street; and Edward Butch of Bradley, apprehended for speeding on North Schuyler avenue.

Sticks to Rocking Chair on 6th Day of Sit-Down Strike

Longmont, Colo., April 30—(UP)—Unmoved by the national anthem or an evangelist's pleas, Mrs. Genevieve Johnson held resolutely to her rocking chair today on the sixth day of a sit-down strike for all-mono.

She is sitting on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson, the parents of her estranged husband, Ralph. She says a court awarded her $670 weekly support money from him and he has not been paying it. He is living with his parents.

Her sit-down strike has become a "community enterprise. Several barber shops have started selling tickets in pools, the lucky numbers being the ones that correspond with the number of days her strike lasts. Several horn-blowers (Mrs. Johnson said if they had been able to play the tune a little better she might have considered it her patriotic duty to rise) came out late Thursday to serenade her. The players had a new theory, they said, to end all sit-down strikes. They began to struggle with "The Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. Johnson drew a blanket more tightly around her legs.

A lady evangelist appeared on the lawn next and exhorted Mrs. Johnson to abandon her strike and accept Christianity. The 26-year-old brunette began to argue with the preacher.

"I have no quarrel with Christianity but I have with my husband. I'm going to stay right here until hell freezes over if I don't get my $670."

The evangelist fled.

Passenger Plane Nearly Downed in Surprise Air Attack By Flock of Swans

Tokamak, Mich., April 30.—(INS)—A bloody battle for the supremacy of the airways was fought here today between a big passenger plane of the Northwest Airlines and a flock of swans. The battle took place in the early morning, 3,000 feet above the Muskegon river, and the swans, apparently angry because of the invasion of their rights-of-way by the passenger plane, attacked the ship and attacked.

The plane, the crew and passengers were killed several of the birds. The plane suffered damage in the fight and was forced to return to the airport at Helena for repairs.

The airplane, in charge of the veteran pilot, H. B. Kuehn, and Captain D. C. Cox of Seattle, was flying from Seattle to Chicago. It was grounded by the surprise attack of the big birds. It carried 12 passengers and a crew of five.

Just as all were within sight of the lights of Tokamak, a small flock of swans, led by one of the passengers in telling the story, "we felt a bump and the plane was forced to return to the airport. The pilot got into action and an instant later he was flying. He was making a terrific noise and the plane had been raised and we were all surprised when we
