FOUR COUPLES ARE INVOLVED IN NEW SUITS

Marriages on Rocks—
Say Complaints
on File

CIRCUIT COURT

Four romances of local couples were reached on the rocks of divorce court today when three divorce actions and one separate maintenance suit were filed in the office of Circuit Clerk Albert Tetrault.

Elveta Ray charges desertion in her bill of complaint against Sylvan Ray. They were married Oct. 20, 1933 and separated July 11, 1936. They have one child, Carol Ann, 3, for whom she seeks support through her attorney, Victor N. Cardon.

Fern Augustine also charges her husband, Lawrence, with desertion which she says occurred Nov. 15, 1935. They were married Aug. 17, 1927 in Kankakee and have two children, Bonnie Jean, 9, and Patricia Ann, 8. Mrs. Augustine asks the care, custody and control of the children and alimony for herself and them. The bill was filed by Attorney Streeter and his partner.

Stanley Stiley alleges in his bill that his wife, Grace, is guilty of adultery with a person not named. They were married April 15, 1933 and lived here until July 30, 1936 according to the complaint. They have four children, Melvin and Marvin, 4-year-old twins, Wesley, 2, and Mary, 9 months. Stiley states that he and his wife have made a property settlement and an agreement for support of the children. His attorney is Vernon G. Butz.

After 22 years of married life, Cora Schultz asks the court to grant her separate maintenance from Emil A. Schultz. Her bill states that they were married June 6, 1915 at Parkersburg, W. Va., and came here shortly afterward. They reside in the same house at 451 North Adams street but don't occupy the same rooms as man and wife.

She charges him with habitual drunkenness during the past two years and states that since the first part of this month, he has used all his income for liquor, leaving nothing for the support of her and the two children, Donald, 18, and Harold, 16. This bill was also filed by Attorney Butz.

Large Crowds at Parish Homecoming

Hundreds attended the annual homecoming celebration of the St. Rose church held Sunday at the school grounds on West Merchant street. The most successful of the several such events sponsored by the church, was the opinion of those in charge.

The celebration began in the morning and continued until late in the evening. At noon a chicken dinner was served by the women of the parish and a program of athletic events for adults and children provided amusement in the afternoon. There was also a variety of concessions which attracted large crowds all day.

Momence Man Dies From Farm Accident

Scottsboro Defendant Not To Die

Chicago, July 19.—(AP)—Counsel for Dr. Frank J. Pugh Jr., 30-year-old chiropractor charged with slaying Mrs. Norma Schmidt, his second divorced wife, said today for a new trial. Conviction carried a 15-year prison sentence.

"Hope has been restored to me," he told friends who visited him at the Cook county jail, "for now there will be plenty of fighting." Arguments on the motion for a new trial will be heard Aug. 3.

Throughout the trial which started July 6, the state had demanded the death penalty. The jury reached its verdict Saturday after seven hours and 10 minutes deliberation.

SWIMMING POOL FROM DRAINAGE JOB SOON DONE

Formed by Blasting Stone Out of Channel

Within a month the swimming pool which is a by-product of the extension of the Soldier creek drainage project into Bourbonnais township should be near enough finished to be used, Engineer Robert D. Greig predicted today.

This pool formed as a result of blasting rock out of the mouth of the stream which enters the north end of the fairgrounds quarry. It is the result of an eight-foot level being raised to an eight-foot level by installation of a weir hinge gate a short distance upstream from the quarry.

Nearing Completion
Principal work remaining on this phase of the project inaugurated to facilitate drainage of 18,000 acres of farmland to the north and east of Kankakee is the trimming up of rock bottom and finishing of the west wall and installation of the gate.

With sides and bottom of natural rock the pool will be 50 feet wide more than 1,000 feet long and with depth ranging from two to eight feet. The water can be changed in the pool simply by letting down the hinged gate, then closing it a few hours later.

The pool is located squarely in the middle of what was originally platted as the 1000 and 1100 blocks of North Dearborn avenue. It is just out the city limits in Bourbonnais township. Most of the drainage work upstream has been completed for a distance of 2 1/2 miles.

RECEIVES FOREIGN STAMPS

Stamp collectors will be interested in the collection of Joseph Drazzy of 705 North Rosewood avenue who has received 24 late issues of stamps from the King of Roumania.

James, who said some of them are four centuries old. The Quignau ruins, most famous of the Mayan tribes, were visited, and then a mile-trip took them to the great mahogany and rosewood north of this region.

James said he did a little amateur excavating and brought home a few small pieces of pottery. It is against the law to excavate now and the death penalty is imposed by the government against anyone who removes gold from the ruins.

Foreign capital feels safer in Central America than in Mexico, according to the Kankakee traveler, who said the government there is stable and progressive and is the only country in that part of the globe which enjoys a favorable balance of trade (exports greater than imports).

BLEEDING FROM WOUND IN LEG CAUSES DEATH

Deep Gash Made By Sharp Pulley on Combine

HAS OPERATION

A six-inch gash in the bone across the end of the right leg caused the death of St. Mary hospital at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night of Martin Skorz, 60, farmer residing eight miles southeast of Momence.

An inquest jury, impaneled Sunday afternoon by Coroner A. F. Kerger at the Canada funeral home in Momence, decided that the wound was caused by an unavoidable accident and that death was due to hemorrhage and shock.

Pulley Cuts Gash
The sharp edge of a rapidly whirling pulley on a new combine which Skorz, proudly called his new red top, was the instrument of his death.

While harvesting rice Saturday morning on the farm of his son-in-law, Henry Carroll, five and a half miles southeast of Momence, his overalled leg was caught in the pulley which cut the gash severing the large arteries which lie close to the bone.

Operation Performed
After a treatment of rope and a sulow stick was used by Oscar Dominick, employee on the Carroll farm, in an effort to shut off the spurting blood, the injured man was rushed to St. Mary hospital by Carroll. There, Dr. Charles H. Ruch of Momence and Dr. E. G. Wilson of Kankakee performed the operation and tied off the severed blood vessels. Three quarts of glucose solution were injected in a vain attempt to replace the lost blood and cement shock.

Witnesses at the inquest yesterday were Donald Jackson, employee of Skorz who was driving the tractor which pulled the combine, Mrs. Margaret Skorz, the widow, Ernest Hood of near Momence, another son-in-law, Dominick and Dr. Ruch.

Funeral Services
Funeral services will be conducted at St. Patrick church of Momence Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock followed by burial in the church cemetery. Until that time friends may call at the Canada funeral home.

Besides the widow, Skorz is survived by daughters, Mrs. Leo Sanford of Freeport, O., Mrs. Margaret Hood and Mrs. Henry Carroll, of near Momence, 14 grandchildren, brothers, Leo of Danville and Stanley of Dubois, Ill., and sisters Mrs. W. Surman of Pickensville, Ill., Mrs. B. Whipple of Dubois and A. Hoff of Chicago.

"Drifting in the Pacific, somewhere near Howland Island." That was the word an anxious world heard as famed aviatrix Amelia Earhart and Navigator Fred Noonan, above, ran out of fuel and were forced down in a shark-infested ocean on the hazardous flight from New Guinea. Their twin-motored world-circling plane was believed capable of floating indefinitely and also was equipped with collapsible boat, provisions and water.

Watseka, July 19.—(RN Special)—Bernard Hutcherson of Sheldon is in the Blue Island jail charged with running through a stop sign there on Saturday evening, which resulted in an automobile accident.

He crashed into another car at the intersection. A woman passenger in the car is in the Blue Island hospital seriously injured and Charles Hutcherson, his brother, is also in the hospital suffering a severe scalp wound. No one else was injured.

The men are both employed in Watseka and were returning from Chicago.

He was removed to St. Mary hospital for treatment. Police said Sittig could not give any explanation for his injury. It was thought he may have been struck by a car.

CHIROPODIST To Seek New Trial Soon

ACCUSED MAN ATTEMPTS TO END HIS LIFE

Mrs. Bianconi Be- lieved Slain by Angelo Audi

STRANGE STORY

Joliet, Ill., July 19.—(P)—Angelo Audi, 46, was charged with murder today several hours after the fatal slaying of his companion, Mrs. Minnie Bianconi, 32, a widow of nearby Steger, Ill. He had told authorities two men in a car accosted them, cut his throat, chased him away, and then killed Mrs. Bianconi.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas Wise of Will county said discovery in Audi's rooming house of a razor similar to one believed used in killing the woman "cleared up the mystery."

In Cornfield
Policeman Laurie Herman of Steger, who found Mrs. Bianconi's body a short distance from Steger in a cornfield, said a hatchet, sickle and razor, all blood-stained, were found near the body, which was badly mutilated.

Audi, who said he served with the Italian army during the Ethiopian conquest several years ago, was in a Chicago Heights hospital, his throat slashed. The murder warrant was signed by Edward P. Powers, state's attorney's investigator.

In reporting the killing to the authorities, Audi said his throat was cut with a razor taken from his pocket by one of two men in an automobile who stopped them, as they walked along the road and warned him to "keep away from that woman."

Damaging Evidence
Wise said the interior but not the exterior of Audi's home was blood spattered, indicating that "Audi himself cut his throat after reaching home."

Wise said the blood on the hatchet and sickle probably was from Audi's wounds. Hospital attendants, who said Audi had little chance to recover, inserted a breathing tube because his trachea was severed.

Wise said the killing apparently followed an argument over a mishap to Audi's car while Mrs. Bianconi was in possession of it.

$840 Judgment is Requested in Suit

The petition of Edwin Fieleke asking a judgment against Clyde Decker and N. L. Litchfield in the amount of $840 was filed today in circuit court.

Filed by Attorney Eva Minor, the action is the suit of Tabler's failure to prosecute an appeal obtained from a default judgment rendered March 6, 1937 in the court of Police Magistrate Edward Hoenicke.

Previous to that, Fieleke had recovered a judgment of $280 against the Momence Stone Products Company, Inc., and Constable Farrel Fox was ordered to sell 2,000 yards of crushed stone to satisfy the judgment.

Tabler then gave notice that he owned the stone, but did not appear at the subsequent "right of property" trial, but later took an appeal from the decision and gave bond to prosecute.

On March 26, 1937, the bill alleged he then filed with others a petition for bankruptcy and restrained the constable from selling the stone, but has not prosecuted the appeal. Litchfield enters the case as Tabler's surety on the appeal bond.

NAVY ABANDONS SEARCH IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC

Amelia Earhart and Captain Noonan Believed Dead

HOPES CRUSHED

BULLETIN
Washington, July 19.—(UP)—The United States navy today wrote off its search for Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan as a $4,000,000 loss.

Even as navy planes stopped roaring over the coral atolls that dot the Pacific near Howland Island, the cost of the hunt drew congressional criticism.

Navy officials estimated when the intensive search began, 16 days ago, that the navy, coast guard and other government agencies were spending approximately $250,000 per day in the hunt.

By the Associated Press
Honolulu, July 19.—(UP)—The mystery of Amelia Earhart lay locked in the silent watery wastes of the vast Pacific today. Four naval vessels and the 1,500 weary men who sought her and her navigator, 16 days gave them up for dead and sailed for home.

More than 250,000 square miles of equatorial ocean, reefs and islands were scoured by ship and plane in an almost hopeless search for the trouble-haired aviatrix and her companion, Capt. Frederick J. Noonan, who dropped from sight July 2.

Somewhere near the dot which is Howland Island, Miss Earhart and Noonan dropped from the skies in their fuelless land plane on a 2,570-mile flight from Lae, New Guinea, to the mid-Pacific sandspits.

Naval Hunt Ended

The 39-year-old woman flier, known the world over for her aviation exploits, was circling the globe just for fun," she said, but also to blaze possible new commercial routes.

The great naval hunt, which began a few minutes after the pair were overdue at Howland, was called off late yesterday when navy authorities decided they had exhausted every possibility of ever finding the missing fliers.

Onarga Man Pulls Revolver, Is Jailed

Watska, July 19.—(RN Special)—Earl Wells of Onarga appeared before Police Magistrate Peter Kamp this morning on a charge of pulling a revolver on Deputy Sheriff Claude Emenet. The alleged act occurred Sunday evening at a dance hall on route 25, 35 miles south of Kankakee.

He was bound over to the grand jury and incarcerated in the Ironquois county jail. His bond was fixed at $500.

He is said to have been quarreling with the dance hall and drew a gun on the officer when he attempted to reprimand him.

County Farmers Spend Huge Amounts In Retail Stores

Washington, July 19.—(Special)—Kankakee county farmers and other residents in rural sections of the county spent an average of $4,537 per square mile in retail stores in the year which ended Jan. 1, 1936.

This was revealed today by a study of basic data underlying maps prepared by the federal commerce department showing business conditions in country sections.

The data for the year which ended last Jan. 1 will be completed later and will, it is expected, show a still larger average expenditure in agricultural regions, since the preceding year was in the depression epoch.

Total retail sales in the rural portion of Kankakee county amounted to $3,031,000. Department statisticians, "recording the county's area as 668 square miles, arrived at the average per square mile by dividing the total expenditure by the area. The tabulation shows 304 retail stores in the area.

The counties in the United States have been classified in four groups—those with an average expenditure of over $5,000 per square mile in retail stores, those spending between $3,000 and $5,000, those in which expenditures were above $1,000 and under $3,000, and those in which the average fell below $1,000.

ARM ACCURACY ESSENTIAL FOR OUTFIELD WORK

Editor's note: Secrets to successful play in the outfield are contained in the following article written by John Leonard "Pep" Martin for youngsters participating in the baseball school being sponsored here by the Kankakee Recreation Association.

By "PEP" MARTIN
In order to play the outfield you must have speed, a good throwing arm and a knowledge of the opposing batters. Speed is needed to cover a lot of territory. And in this connection, you must learn to take a ball as well as come in for it. Many boys find the former easy, but they are not so good at the latter. They are forced to retreat at full speed. That is something which must be practiced.

And then there is the matter of an arm that can throw accurately and for a great distance, there is little use in trying to become an outfielder. It doesn't take long for the opposition to discover if you have a good arm. If you have a weak arm, they will soon be taking liberties with it, taking extra bases that will win games.

Learn to Throw
And, more than a strong arm, the outfielder must learn to throw to the right base. To do so much things have to be taken into consideration, the score of the game and the reputation of the team being important factors. Generally, an outfielder should throw to the right base unless he should throw to before the ball is hit.

And then there is the most important matter of studying the opposition. An outfielder should study batters as much as the pitcher and catcher. If you know how to play the batters, you are not required to make those sensational leaping catches and you will prove more valuable to your team because you will be a more dependable fielder.

Study Hitters
In studying the opposing batters, the outfielder should determine to which section of the outfield each batter will draw a curve or fast ball, a high or low ball, one on the inside or outside. It is a good idea for the outfielder to confer with the pitcher and catcher and learn how it is planned to pitch to each batter. Say, for example, the pitcher is going to throw a certain slugger nothing but slow balls. Then the outfielder should not play as deep for the hitter as he would if the pitcher were going to throw fast balls.

Decatur, Ill., July 19.—(AP)—Clinton apparently is out to set the same kind of pace in the second-half schedule of the Three-I league as Moline did in the first.

Peoria is in second place, with seven wins and seven losses. Moline, which defeated Decatur, 10 to 9, last night, has won six and lost eight and Decatur has the same number but lost nine.

River Forest, Ill., July 19.—(AP)—The 25-mile feature race at the River Forest half mile dirt track Sunday was won by Snyder, 19, of Chicago. He defeated Miller High School's Billy Winn, 19, of Chicago, in a race that was the first of a series of races at the track.

Learn to Throw
And, more than a strong arm, the outfielder must learn to throw to the right base. To do so much things have to be taken into consideration, the score of the game and the reputation of the team being important factors. Generally, an outfielder should throw to the right base unless he should throw to before the ball is hit.

And then there is the most important matter of studying the opposition. An outfielder should study batters as much as the pitcher and catcher. If you know how to play the batters, you are not required to make those sensational leaping catches and you will prove more valuable to your team because you will be a more dependable fielder.

Study Hitters
In studying the opposing batters, the outfielder should determine to which section of the outfield each batter will draw a curve or fast ball, a high or low ball, one on the inside or outside. It is a good idea for the outfielder to confer with the pitcher and catcher and learn how it is planned to pitch to each batter. Say, for example, the pitcher is going to throw a certain slugger nothing but slow balls. Then the outfielder should not play as deep for the hitter as he would if the pitcher were going to throw fast balls.

Clinton Headed for 3-I League Crown

Decatur, Ill., July 19.—(AP)—Clinton apparently is out to set the same kind of pace in the second-half schedule of the Three-I league as Moline did in the first.

The Iowa team won its third straight game yesterday, defeating Peoria, 5 to 1. Clinton downed Moline Friday and Verona Saturday, and now leads the circuit with nine wins and four defeats. Peoria is in second place, with seven wins and seven losses. Moline, which defeated Decatur, 10 to 9, last night, has won six and lost eight and Decatur has the same number but lost nine.

FRANKLY, FELLOWS, THE YANKS DON'T REALLY NEED MC CARTHY!

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, July 19.—(UPI)—Col. Jake Ruppert is a very smart man and has done all right by himself in that little matter of accumulating what some like to call worldly goods. So I don't suppose I have much right to advise him along business lines, being as he is a good enough manager of his own goods, consisting chiefly of a pocket of cash I employ in keeping that cash in one place or another, the sheriff.

But I am going to advise him, nevertheless, and if he follows my advice he can save himself the tidy sum of twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars a year. Colonel Jake is strictly silly when he pays Joseph McCarthy $35,000 a year to manage the New York Yankees. For the simple reason that the New York Yankees, as they now stand, don't need a manager. They are so much better than any other team in the American league that they can go off in the Maine woods hunting antelope or to the South Sea Islands to get the most else that is in season, and stay there until the snow falls without endangering the chances of the team.

Like the Ruth Era
You know as well as I do that the Yankees, even if McCarthy were to leave, would be the best team right on winning games by telephone number scores. The current Yankees are the same sort of team that the Yankees of the late 1920's were. They have everything it takes to win in abundance, the pitching is good, the fielding is fine and the batting, well, look back the Yankee games of this year and count the innings where they got runs in

JAPAN ACCUSES CHINA OF BEING THE AGGRESSOR

China Claims Violation, Territorial Sovereignty Intent on War

Tokyo, July 19.—(AP)—A Domei (Japanese) news agency dispatch from Tientsin tonight said fighting had broken out again between Chinese and Japanese troops west of Peiping in spite of a military agreement reached yesterday at Tientsin.

Japanese officers said Chinese soldiers engaged in the construction of a concrete pillbox at Lukouchiao, on the Yungking river, 10 miles west of Peiping, opened fire on a Japanese unit at 5 p. m. Other details were lacking, but Japanese said they took a grave view of the incident.

It was near Lukouchiao that the first Sino-Japanese clash occurred 12 days ago.

Counter Charges

The Chinese government vigorously protested to Japan today that Japanese scouting planes had machine-gunned Chinese troops and supply trains in Hopeh province, violating China's territorial sovereignty.

The Chinese counter-charge came but a short time after the Japanese government officially had accused China of aggravating the tense North China crisis by a direct aggression against Japanese interests.

A Domei (Japanese) news agency dispatch from Nanking said the Chinese government had informed Japan it could not accept the Japanese demand for a local settlement of the conflict in North China and that any agreement must have Nanking's approval.

This communication was handed to Shinroku Hidaka, Japanese charge d'affaires, by a representative of Foreign Minister Wang Chung-hui.

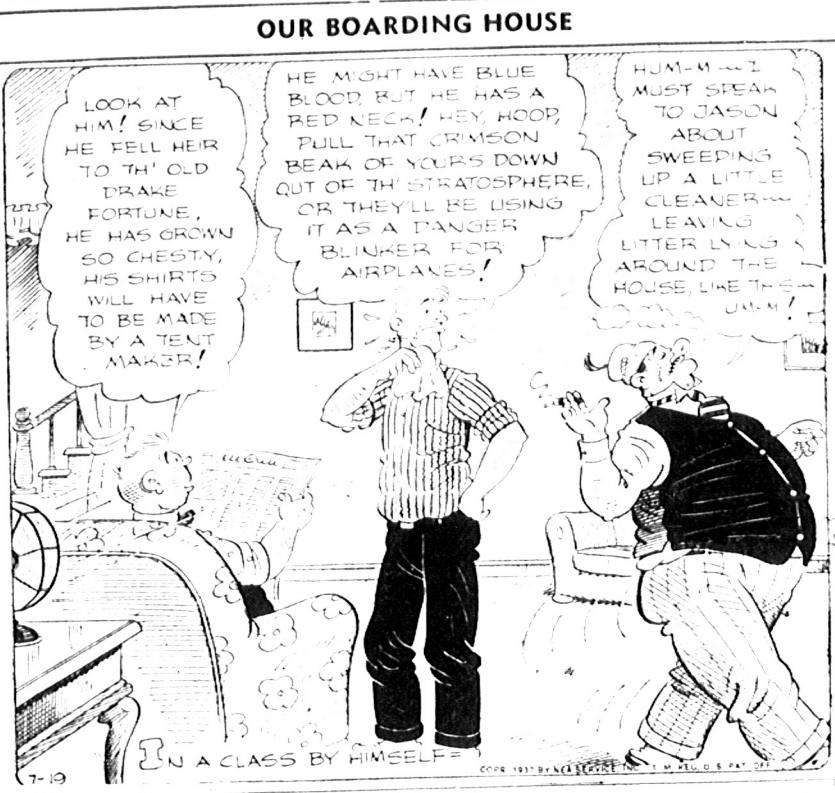

Yesterday Japanese army officers at Tientsin reported an agreement for settlement of the conflict in the Peiping-Tientsin zone had been reached by Japanese and Chinese military commanders in the area, the Chinese accepting verbally the Japanese demands.

Hidaka, according to Nanking dispatches, declared he could not accept the statement of the Chinese government's attitude. He told the envoy he would wait until midnight tonight (10 a. m. est) for the Nanking government to reconsider and submit a new reply.

By JOHN R. MORRIS

Shanghai, July 19.—(UP)—China in a note delivered only a few hours before the expiration of a verbal ultimatum refused tonight to capitulate to Japan's demands on her.

The note was phrased in conciliatory terms. It emphasized China's desire for peace. But instead of acceding to Japan's demands for redress because of alleged Chinese troop attacks on Japanese soldiers, the note suggested a cessation of all troop movements and withdrawal of Chinese and Japanese troops from the trouble area near Peiping.

The reply, while expressing willingness to retire Central government troops from Hopeh province, reiterated Nanking's insistence on assuming authority over local northern affairs, destruction of which has been Japan's principal objective.

China's note was delivered this evening. Midnight (10 a. m. est) was the deadline set by Shinroku Hidaka, counselor of Japan's embassy at Nanking, for capitulation to Japan's demands.

Well informed quarters believed that the government meant, even at the cost of risking popular disfavor, to reach an agreement with Japan in the end. But it was pursuing the policy that had roused the Japanese to fury in the past. It was politely oblivious to threats, meeting each new demand with a new suggestion that meant delay, so that the Japanese were baffled.

Today's note came after an angry exchange of protests. China protested an alleged attack on trains by a Japanese war plane. Japan protested anti-Japanese activities.

"Intent on War"

The note—technically an "aide memoir"—memorandum urged that a date be set for cessation of troop movements and withdrawal of troops.

It complained that Japan seemed intent on war and that China's own troop movements were but a gesture in self defense; that China sought only peace and friendship.

It constituted a tacit turn down of Japan's demand for immediate capitulation.

The movement of Japanese troops—which has not yet ceased—indicates a clear intention on the part of Japan to resort to force, the note said.

In these circumstances, China has been compelled to take adequate precautionary measures of self defense. But it has not relaxed its consistent effort toward peace.

The Chinese government now wishes to reiterate its desire for peaceful settlement of the Peiping incident as well as its intention not to aggravate the situation. Therefore it is proposed that the two parties jointly fix a definite date on which both will simultaneously cease all military movements and withdraw their respective armed forces to positions occupied before the incident.

The Chinese government is prepared immediately to enter negotiations with the Japanese government through regular diplomatic channels.

Settlement of questions of local nature, susceptible of adjustment on the spot, shall be subject to the sanction of the Chinese National government.

This last paragraph was a further polite rebuff. Japan had demanded unqualifiedly that all matters pertaining to the Peiping incident should be settled direct with local authorities in the Peiping-Tientsin area, without recourse to the National government.

Japan was left with no recourse but to postpone her verbal ultimatum or bear the onus of an attack in force.

State's Attorney Hopes to Try Rev. Newton Very Soon

Peoria, Ill., July 19.—P. Pao Kankakee City attorney M. S. Turner and Daniel T. Johnson, conferred for nearly two hours today with the Rev. C. F. Newton, accused slayer in his jail cell.

After the conference Johnson said the minister would plead innocent and desired to arrange the defense team for the slaying of Paris Mrs. Baptist minister who is charged with slaying Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 43, devoted friend and former parishioner. The attorneys met with Mrs. Kelly's deep regret.

Johnson, son of the minister, said the State's Attorney Merrill Johnson planned to ask the circuit court this afternoon to recall the April term grand jury at once to consider the case against Newton. Johnson said he had not questioned the minister, but he developed new facts not included in Newton's 11-page statement in which the Peoria county official quoted him as saying he hit the woman over the head with a hammer and tossed her body into the Mississippi river.

The wife, gray-haired, spent a calm week-end in his cell in the Peoria county jail here despite being confronted with a father-in-law described as "the blackest stained death weapon."

"That's the hammer," Johnson quoted Newton as saying when it was shown him. The minister was made silent and devoid of emotion.

The hammer was found by Ray Fitzgerald, a farmer, about 100 feet from a place of burial where Newton and Mrs. Kelly strangled after an agreement last Monday night to kill her on a flight from home.

Johnson said Mrs. Kelly's body was recovered from the river at Peoria. Mr. Kelly Tuesday
