NATION'S THIRD
LARGEST UNION
PLAN PROGRAM
Plan Organization of Ford Workers in Few Months
MARTIN LEADER

Milwaukee, Aug. 30.—(AP)—United Automobile Workers of America, with President Homer Martin entrenched in control after a bitter factional struggle, set today the nation's third largest union toward Ford Motor company workers.

Climaxing the bitterest progressive-united rivalry in a convention week of caucusing, parliamentary battles, demonstrations, charges and countercharges, the progressive forces were conceded the balance of power last night on the important executive board.

As the more than 1,100 weary delegates headed homeward, the executive board was manned by 15 reported progressive adherents and eight unit men with the last seat still in doubt. Martin controlled the old board, 0 to 2.

Toledo in 1939

Selection of Toledo, Ohio, as the 1939 convention city and the rush to adjournment followed a day during which embattled delegates fought over seating of eight Flint (Mich.) representatives, whose seven-board members were the center of the struggle for balance of power.

Differences between the alignments had stalemated convention business earlier this week, but the arrival of C. I. O. Leader John L. Lewis as peace-maker had resulted in a compromise slate of officers which combined the opposing candidacies. Martin headed both slates.

The compromise, which also increased the executive board from 12 to 17 members, plus the officers, and the challenge from Lewis to Ford apparently had healed the breach. The convention needed toward adjournment, voting unanimously a $400,000 war chest to finance the drive against Ford by authorizing a 51-a-member, assessment.

Fiery Debate

The storm broke anew, however, and fiery debate continued for hours yesterday over the fate of the eight Flint delegates, whose right to seats had been challenged earlier in the convention.

Adoption of the credentials committee which the eight disputed votes be pro-rated among the original delegates sent from the Flint local brought demands for a roll call.

Unity supporters, making a deafening noise by beating tables and chairs with sticks taken from union standards, halted efforts to proceed with business.

Only the repeated pleas of both unity and progressive leaders for harmony succeeded in calming the uproar and permitted the convention to complete its business.

The ex-officio members of the board are the following officers: President Martin, Richard Frankenstein, R. J. Thomas, Walter Wells, Wyndham Mortimer and Ed Hall, vice presidents; and George Addes, secretary-treasurer. Mortimer and Hall were unity leaders.

The executive committeemen by districts included: Wisconsin-northern Illinois—F. J. Michel of Racine, Wis.; Indiana-southern Illinois—Russell B. Merrill of South Bend, Ind.

Jealousy is Blamed for Murder, Suicide

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 30.—(UP)—Jealousy was blamed by police today as the cause of what they said was murder and suicide in the finding of the bodies of a man and a woman in an automobile at a street intersection near a municipal park here yesterday.

The bodies were those of Mrs. Frances Halle, 28, cashier at the Leland hotel tavern, and Frank J. McCarthy, 51, salesman, both of Springfield. They were found in McCarthy's car with bullet wounds in Mrs. Halle's neck and head and in the man's neck.

McCarthy was sitting at the wheel and Mrs. Halle by his side. At first, passersby thought they were asleep but as the car continued parked residents in the neighborhood became suspicious and notified police.

Both McCarthy and Mrs. Halle, friends of long standing, having come from Taylorville, were married but were leading separate lives. McCarthy's wife lives in Malden, Mass., where the residue with their daughter. Mrs. Halle's husband lives in East St. Louis.

Police theory was that McCarthy became jealous of Mrs. Halle's interest in a man of near her own age and that he first shot her and then killed himself. Mrs. Halle celebrated her 28th birthday Saturday.

McCarthy, police said, had a revolver in his hand. They identified it as his by cartridges found in his room. Three shots had been fired, two into Mrs. Halle and one into McCarthy. An inquest was scheduled for today.

Modern Schools to Quit Report Cards

Washington, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Parents accustomed to threatening Johnny with a whipping if he doesn't bring home a perfect report card are due for a jolt this autumn.

Johnny may not get a report card.

Dr. Mary Dabney Davis, elementary education specialist at the office of education, said today many schools are replacing the periodic report card by conferences between teachers and parents.

Others, she said, use a new type card. It not only gives a more detailed report of the child's school activities, but also has blanks for parents to fill out too, regarding the child's outside reading and other home activities.

She said the trend in modern report cards is to devote as much space to behavior as to subjects. Orderliness, cooperation and leadership are closely graded.

"The emphasis continues to be on individual rather than mass education," Doctor Davis said.

Several schools over the country, she said, will open this autumn without the traditional grade-a-year promotion system. Students will be promoted at the end of the third and sixth grades.

"Such experiments," Doctor Davis said, "illustrate efforts being made to make the school administration fit the children rather than the children the system."
