WEATHER MAN ESTABLISHES NEW RECORDS

Balmy In Middle West: Coasts Hit by Storms

By the Associated Press

Spring-like weather prevailed over some mid-western states today, setting new records for many cities, while freezing rains imperiled traffic in upstate New York and the Pacific northwest braced itself against a raging gale.

Balmy temperatures ranging from 50 to 71 permitted tennis, golf and even picnics in Missouri. Cincinnati reported the warmest January 3 in 42 years yesterday with the mercury at 65.

Winds reaching gale force continued to lash the Oregon and Washington coasts in the wake of a four-day blow which spread destruction from British Columbia to southern Oregon. Heavy waves swept over seawalls, smashed bridges and cottages, and left miles of debris for clean-up crews.

Traffic Hampered

Near Salem, Ore., a cyclone lifted snows 40 feet in the air and deposited them unharmed in a mud wallow.

In northern New York, motorists drove over ice-covered roads after a light snow turned to freezing rain. Fog and mist added to the dangers of traffic, with one death and scores of accidents attributed to the weather.

Farther north, a heavy snowfall was reported. Saranac Lake had more than six inches of snow, and most of the Adirondacks were blanketed.

Detroit reported colder temperatures with light rains and cloudiness.

Air travel at Chicago was paralyzed by heavy mist, with the temperature at 35. Southern Wisconsin reported temperatures slightly above freezing and heavy clouds. Milder temperatures prevailed in Iowa.

COUNCIL VOTES HOLIDAYS FOR POLICE FORCE

Cops To Get Day Off Once Every Two Weeks

City police officers were big smiles today, happy in the knowledge that they soon will have a frequent day off like the rest of the working world. Legislation enabling this plan was adopted last night at a meeting of the city council.

By adding one new man to the force and drawing up a rotating schedule in which the relief or "swing" men will relieve each officer in turn of succeeding days, all patrolmen and sergeants will be given one day off every 15 under the new plan which Chief of Police L. B. Rogers has been authorized to put into effect.

For many years, the day and night forces have worked 11 to 12 hours out of each 24 with only one day off in 49, or about seven days a year (not counting summer vacations). Their time for recreation or rest from the grind of police routine was exceedingly small. The council took the view that giving the officers two days off a month would eventually work to the city's advantage in bolstered morale and renewed interest in their work.

Firemen Not Affected

Chief Rogers at present has 15 men under him. The motion to add one man to the force and adopt a rotating schedule was sponsored by Alderman Jack Bostian, third ward, and the council unanimously passed it. City firemen are not affected by this plan; they work under the double platoon system: duty 24 hours and then off the same length of time.

Mayor Albert F. Patterson informed the council the interstate commerce commission has requested that city officials meet with its representatives to come to a definite understanding relative to closing of several local railroad crossings and providing protection for others. The mayor asked for and was granted authority to appoint a committee to meet with a commission representative in Kankakee. The date has not been determined.

Mayor to Washington

Alderman David W. Wood, fourth ward, sponsored a motion authorizing payment of the mayor's expenses for a trip to Washington, D. C., necessary to represent the city in its official request to have the Army-Navy game played in the middle of next fall in honor of the two Kankakee boys who are captains of the rival service eleven, Harry Stella and Allen Bergner.

On motion of Alderman Huntington James, second ward, suitable resolutions expressing the regret of the city in regard to the sentiment of the city in regard to the game are also to be drawn and presented to the mayor; the council went on record as being willing to cooperate in every manner possible.

The question of a storm sewer in the seventh ward east of Rosewood avenue was brought up by Alderman Myron Deneau of that ward. The people in this area also desire curbs and sidewalks, he said. At Deneau's request the board of local improvements will investigate the possibility of putting in such improvements with the help of WPA funds.

Ponds for Skating

Councilman Deneau also initiated action toward obtaining a safe place for young people to skate and when the weather becomes suitable. The superintendent of streets will arrange with the park board to flood some lots to avoid the hazards.

Danville Printers Held in a Plot to Counterfeit Notes

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Capt. Thomas Callaghan of the secret service announced today arrest of two Danville, Ill., printers and a Canadian in connection with a plot to manufacture and distribute counterfeit Canadian bank notes.

He said James L. Clendenen and Edward P. Thede, who run a print shop in Danville, were arrested there last night, charged with possession and manufacture of the counterfeit notes and were scheduled for arraignment there today before a United States commissioner.

The third man held, Callaghan said, was Alphonse Sopchuk, arrested December 30 in Windsor, Ont., and turned over to the Detroit office of the secret service, where he is held.

Capt. Callaghan said a Danville engraver also was involved but appeared to be an innocent victim and declined to give his name. He said the engraver was not under formal arrest but was being questioned.

Callaghan said Sopchuk had the engraver make plates for printing $10 notes on the Bank of Canada, representing himself as from a Chicago coin book publishing company that didn't exist.

The Danville printers, Callaghan said, then printed $22,000 worth of the notes at $6000 a batch and Wind Sopchuk took $6,000 worth to Windsor to pass a $10 note on a Windsor taxicab driver. Callaghan said, and a large quantity of the bogus notes was found in a locker in the Detroit-Windsor tunnel.

He said the Clendenen-Thede print shop was at 15 South Vermillion street, Danville.

Indian And Boy Confess Immorality

Chief of Police L. B. Rogers and Detective Don Beau announced this morning that "Chief Silver Star White Eagle," 41, and a 14-year-old boy had made confessions to them of acts of sodomy in their makeshift hotel, a boathouse along the river in Brookmont.

HUGH CROSS IS NAMED SPEAKER AT SPRINGFIELD

Republicans In Control of the Lower House

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The politically divided Illinois legislature convened today and quickly organized by electing Hugh W. Cross, Jerseyville Republican, as speaker of the house and Senator George M. Maypole, Chicago Democrat, as president pro tem of the senate.

Thus the Republicans capitalized on their recent election gains in which the wop control of the house for the first time in eight years. Cross' election ended many weeks of partisan angling for the speakership.

Strict Party Lines

The house vote was on strict party lines—79 for Cross to 74 for Benjamin B. Adamowski, Chicago Democrat. Adamowski now becomes the minority floor leader. Cross will name the G.O.P. majority floor leader later.

Galleries and floors of the two legislative chambers were flower-banked and filled with spectators.

Surrendering the senate gavel to Maypole, acting governor John Stille made the only reference to Governor Horner's absence from the opening session due to illness.

"I am stepping down, as presiding officer of the senate, I hope for only a few short weeks," Stille said.

Oath Administered

Justice Norman L. Jones of the supreme court administered the oath to legislators of both houses.

Rep. Fred A. Reavill of Flat Rock, whose right to a house seat was challenged by defeated Democratic Representative F. W. Lewis of Robinson, took the oath and voted for speaker.

Speaker Cross appointed a credentials committee of six Republicans and three Democrats. The committee met and voted to recommend to the house that Lewis' protest be rejected and Reavill be seated.

House Republicans had pledged unanimously to Cross in their caucus last night, after a first roll call gave him 49 votes to 28 for Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Chicago.

With Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes presiding, Cross was elected as temporary speaker, a parliamentary formality before his being named permanent presiding officer.

In the senate, nine bills were introduced including the three per cent sales tax extension from Feb. 15 to July 1 and a series to continue relief appropriations at the present $3,900,000 monthly rate.

WORLD PEACE NOT ASSURED DECLARES FDR

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told congress and the world today that peace had not been "assured" at Munich and that "storms from abroad" directly challenge American democracy.

Addressing a joint session of the senate and house in a packed house chamber, the chief executive asserted that "undeclared wars," "deadly armaments" and "new aggression" threaten the three institutions indispensable to Americans—religion, democracy, and international good faith. And, he added, only through a nation united both physically and spiritually can these storms be kept from American shores.

"A war which threatened to envelop the world in flames has been averted; but it has become increasingly clear that peace is not assured," Mr. Roosevelt said, without mentioning by name the Munich pact resulting in the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

Nor did he name any foreign nation. But the president referred to "events in Europe" where Czechoslovakia was dismembered at Germany's insistence, "in Africa" where Italy conquered Ethiopia and "in Asia" where Japan has invaded China.

"All about us rage undeclared wars—military and economic," Mr. Roosevelt said. "All about us grow more deadly armaments—military and economic. All about us are threats of new aggression—military and economic."

Standing on the speaker's dais in the house chamber, the assembled members before him and Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead seated at his back, President Roosevelt said the United States would solve by democratic means problems that dictatorship solve "by main force" and by using force "apparently" succeed at it for the moment.

Dictatorship Involves Costs

"Dictatorship," he declared, "involves costs which the American people will never pay."

Mr. Roosevelt enumerated as such costs, spiritual values, free speech, freedom of religion, concentration camps, "the cost of having our children brought up to be free and dignified human beings, but as pawns molded and enslaved by a machine."

The president said "we can and should avoid any action or any lack of action which will encourage, assist or build up an aggressor," adding:

"We have learned that when we deliberately try to legislate neutrality, our neutrality laws may operate unevenly and unfairly—may actually give aid to an aggressor and deny it to the victim. The instinct of self-preservation should warn us not to let this happen any more."

Advocate Proper Defense

For "adequate defense"—and the president said "the deadline of danger from within and without is not within our control"—Mr. Roosevelt advocated armed forces and defense sufficient "to ward off sudden attack," and an organization of key facilities for prompt expansion.

He reserved details of this defense program for a later message next week, noting that recent world events had taught anew "the old, old lesson that probability of attack is slightly decreased by the assurance of an ever-ready defense."

But the president stressed also a third element needed, "a strong and united nation."

"In meeting the trouble of the world we must meet them as one people," he said. "Our nation's program of social and economic reform is therefore a part of defense as basic as armaments themselves."

For this program, Mr. Roosevelt proposed essentially only two new enactments, reorganization of the government departments for greater efficiency and aid for the railroads and other transportation problems.

Additional Recommendations

In addition, the president advocated:

JESSIE SUMNER GIVEN SPECIAL JOB FIRST DAY

One of Tellers Who Counts Votes for Speaker

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Rep. Jessie Sumner (R-Ill.) was given a special job on her first day in congress—she served as one of the tellers who counted the votes for speaker.

The only new congresswoman attracted attention of the crowded galleries at the opening session yesterday. Spectators saw an alert woman, who does not look the 40 she claims. Her reddish hair, beginning to turn gray, was curled as modishly as a debutante's. Her short-sleeved black dress had a white vestee.

Like one other congresswoman, Rep. Caroline O'Day (D-NY), Miss Sumner wore no corsage. Rep. Mary T. Norton (D-NJ) and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) wore orchids. Their colleague in the senate, Mrs. Hattie Caraway (D-Ark.), only woman in the upper house again this session, pinned red roses on a simple black dress.

Miss Sumner said she had never thought much about her "gender" until she ran against two men in the primary and one in the election.

She hesitated when asked her first-day impression of congress.

"We've had the horse and buggy age," she said. "We now are emerging from the jitter-bug age."

Woman is Thrown Thru Windshield

Mrs. Elizabeth Alkman, 55, of Montezuma, Ind., escaped with only cuts and bruises when she hurtled through the windshield of her car following a crash yesterday on highway 49 north of Kankakee.

She was taken to St. Mary hospital but was discharged today. Her husband Ray, driver of the car, was unhurt.

The Alkman car and that of H. A. Redman, 56, of LaSalle were in a head-on collision. Both cars were badly damaged, according to a report by Deputy Sheriff Gene La Fontaine and Walter Bauer.

Baseball Movies to be Shown Here

The new American league baseball movie, showing numerous highlights of last season's play and with a cast of many league notables, will be shown at next Monday noon's Kiwanis club luncheon.

Arrangements for the showing have been made by M. L. Glancy, program chairman of the day.

The pictures also will be shown at the Kankakee high school auditorium that morning at 8:45 o'clock and at St. Patrick high school auditorium Friday evening.

GRIFFITH FILMS 'CREASED COLLEGE SPORTS INTEREST

AMERICAN LOOP MOVIE TO SHOW HERE ON FRIDAY

"First Century of Baseball," a new American Loop sound motion picture released recently in celebration of the 100th anniversary of the national pastime, will be shown at a St. Patrick Holy Name "smoker" here Friday night. It is the fifth of a series produced in as many years by the American League. Based upon the findings of the Mills commission, the new film is a pictorial history, tracing the course of the game from its rudimentary forms to the present highly developed type of play found in the major leagues.

The story proper starts with the creation of a set of rules by Abner Doubleday in 1839 for the two popular town ball, which established the fundamental principles of baseball as it is known today. Improved to nine innings and extending the distance between bases to the present 90-feet, as well as his part in the formation of the first baseball club in 1843, likewise are dealt with fully.

Shows Curve Development. Development of the rule-making curve ball by William Arthur Cummings in 1867, limitation nine years later of the length of bats to the present 42 inches after they had grown to absurd proportions as a defense measure against this pitching innovation, the appearance of the glove and make some 40 years following the inauguration of the game, and Robert Addy's slide into second base in 1886, the first time such an astounding feat had been attempted, are a few of the other highlights covered in the film.

Numerous comparisons between the new and the old are made to illustrate the most important points. Following the sequence suggesting the manner in which Cummings adapted his own version of the game, the film shows the people employed in making certain ball games, including John, Ted Lyons, Sam Leonard, Monte Stratton, Sprague Chandler, Buck Newsum, Lefty Gomez and other ace hurlers, including Monte Stratton, who recently lost a leg as a result of a hunting accident, step by step, to show the advances that have been made in pitching in the last 70 years.

Fleeting, batting and base running are handled in similar fashion, with American league stars demonstrating modern practice in each department of play. Players who have been included include: Groh, Jimmie Fox, Cecil Travis, Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, Joe Judge, Charley Gehringer, John Heilmann, Hank Greenberg, in the field and on the base paths, George McPhee, Ed Delahanty, Sam Rice, Owen and Bill Werber.

Case of the Feller. Intertwined with the history of the game, also are sequences depicting the various forms of amateur baseball through which the aspiring youngster with big league ambitions may rise, with case studies of some. Bob Feller is cited as one who came up from a high school league; Sam Chapman, the Chicago diamond; Joe DiMaggio, the San Francisco outfielder; and later, the four schools now being operated under major league supervision are mentioned.

In addition, there are views of the Old Timers' game in Cleveland, featuring some stars of the past as Ed Walsh, Tim Lincecum and Cy Young, and the All-Star Game at Chicago, 1937, with Babe Ruth, Hank Greenberg, and others. Griffith likewise does a "bit."

Art Matheson, the young Dwight who led his team to one of Dwight's greatest triumphs at the Pontiac tournament, scored 90 runs, almost twice as many as any other boy in the 1938 meet. Matheson is one of the easiest boys to coach he has had in his career, and his dramatic play is a natural. Dwight is a close with foot of the 1938 world series.

To obtain the highest professional standards in the matter of photography, make-up and costume, the historical portions of "First Century of Baseball" were filmed in Hollywood, with Author Lee Fournier, director of promotion for the American League, on hand to insure technical accuracy in the scenes where the voices of the characters appearing on the screen have been recorded. The film is a new film, the first of the series, which was filmed by the American League, which was valued by more than 15,000,000 persons.

Hubbell Salary to Remain Same as '38

New York, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Although there's no certainty Carl Hubbell will pitch even one game for the Chicago Cubs in 1939, his salary will be paid the same salary as last year—variously estimated at from $100,000 to $125,000.

The Giants announced yesterday that Hubbell had been released and that there was no change in his pay check although he was unable to finish the 1938 season, but he has been in the team's arm last season and finally underwent an operation for the removal of a bone chip from his left elbow. Later he has been pessimistic concerning the success of the operation.

Gallagher Beats Eureka For 8th Straight

Catching a Few Off First:

By ORREN ALLAN

George Burro, former Illinois Wesleyan athlete who is Ned Whitesell's chief scout and assistant at Danville high school, named him in the army Tuesday night. After a slow first half in which both teams played sluggishly, the score stood at 14 to 14. In the third quarter, both sides picked up and Gallagher's team, in a 25 to 22 margin. It wasn't until the final five minutes of the game that the local offense started clicking and they scored 11 points in three minutes to place the game on ice.

Christians Lane 21-9. Although the scoring was evenly divided, Halr was outstanding with his foot play and took offensive honors with 10 points.

In all of their games to date, the Trojans have showed they will be a hard team to defeat mainly because they are capable of turning the power when they are behind. In the final period, Gallagher B team defeated the local Christian church, 21 to 9.

"Boy, are they sweet!" George writes after seeing the Bradley boys knock off St. Patrick's in the final of the Kankakee tournament last Saturday night. "Babe" could play any college level now and he is only a junior. Plenty sweet! My neck is out, boy, but they are plenty tough, these Bradley boys!"

Now that we've drifted into 1939, the boys who write sports for the smaller journals are whipping their pens out in mad preparation on the annual state prep championship. Jimmy Murphy, sports editor of the Canton Ledger, and the editor of Vincent Murphy, the old victor of A. H. Barry's right hand man at Illinois Wesleyan, picks Canton to win the state. Canton defeated Urbana handily last week and is undefeated in both football and basketball this school year.

Although the host team turned by the way in the first round, Kankakee high school figures to come out about $200 ahead on the recent invitational basketball tournament, which practically assures fans of the affair going on indefinitely.

Although held at even terms for three quarters, the Gallagher Trojans basketball team put on a terrific last period rally to defeat Eureka college 39 to 28 and register its eighth straight win of the season in the army Tuesday night. White, the Whiz, Sails for England and Rhodes Honor

By ORREN ALLAN

New York, Jan. 4.—(UP)—It is a long jump from Wellington, Colo., pop. 333, to tied Oxford, slumbering by the placid Thames, for seven Stephen's with football after a four-month detour through the 6 playing fields of the National Professional football league. He is, he says, through with big time football but is too ready to know how much hell miss it.

"I guess I finished all even with the game," said Coleman, all-American halfback of 1937 and the star rookie player of the pro game of 1938. "I had a lot of fun, but I did a lot of work. I got paid well. I have most of the $15,000 the Pittsburgh Pirates gave me for the season, but then I gave up certain things I thought a lot of for football. One of them was a start on this scholarship."

There wasn't any truth to reports he would come back in the fall for another try at the pro game. "I don't know that I know of. They're always sending me something or having me do something else in the papers. But I guess I'm through."

The plump, partly bald Stewart, 31, fired as manager of the world champion Chicago Blackhaws, said he was leaving the game with "no regrets" and that now he planned to spend the winter in Florida.

In the spring Stewart resumes his job as a National league baseball umpire.

Stewart was a National league umpire before the Hawks hired him to replace Manager Clem Loughlin during last season. His club bid to replace him to qualify for the playoffs. But in the title series they rose to great heights, finally capturing the Stanley cup and world title, bringing Stewart into the limelight as the league's favorite man.

This year the Hawks got off to a spectacular start, they bogged down in the second round of their last 17 games and now are in fourth place.

McLaughlin, owner of the Hawks, said Paul Thompson, Dwight informs. "Pete Lafayette has had marvelous success at Brant since taking over the ropes last September. . . . A loss to Herscher in football is the only blemish on his athletic record."

Attorney Francis Housholder, a transplanted Kansan, apparently is back at his desk here. . . . This is the first day in a long time we haven't received a card from Wichita with his handwriting scrawled on it. . . . He is a relative of the auto-racing Housholder.

BUDGE ROUTS ELLSWORTH IN PRO TENNIS BOW, 6-3 6-4 6-2

By ORREN ALLAN

New York, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Assuming he was in earnest about quitting tennis and devoting himself to golf in case he found Don Budge too tough for him, Ellsworth Vines has the permission of 16,723 witnesses to write home and have somebody start owing him his golf sticks.

"Budge Put Him Off" said Bruce Barnes, a member of the troupe. "But it was Budge who put him off. Last night's crowd didn't come near getting his $47,120 worth of money, but he was a real winner. Marble tried to put in a word or two about the crowd, but Budge's terms had been played."

Vines wasn't missing his shots by inches, but by yards. Budge played just about the same game as he has been playing all along. He's backhand was deadly, as usual, and his forehand steady.

The main job Coach Pete Lafayette of Bradley has on his hands at present is keeping his charges from gathering over-confidence. So far they have avoided that evil spell. They fight as hard when they are leading as when they are losing. They are tailoring their game to suit the crowd. They are building up a brilliant record. "It's tough from here on in," Budge declared yesterday as he said his aggregation through a light workout. "Every team on our schedule is going to be a tough one. We've established this winning streak. The boys operate constantly under pressure. But so far they have known enough fight to pull through," he continued.

JITTERBUGGING IS ON THE WAY OUT AT DANCES

Merely Fad Which Was Popular for Short Time

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The jitterbug dance is on the way out. This was the conclusion today of Miss Ernestine Badt, coordinator of social activities for the Chicago public school system.

Miss Badt based her opinion on personal observation of adult dancers here and elsewhere, and on a study of the "terrestrial" attitudes of some 7,500 high school boys and girls attending Friday night dances in 14 schools as part of a socialization program of Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools. "When evening dancing was inaugurated in the high schools a few months ago," said Miss Badt, "there was some demand for jitterbug dancing, but now there is none. We neither offered nor encouraged the jitterbug type of dancing because after all—like the big apple—it is merely a fad which catches the public fancy for a time and then dies of its own accord. And then, too, it requires an acrobat to become a successful jitterbug."

Collegiate Shag

"We are, however, giving the boys and girls the modified version of the collegiate shag, of which 'jitterbug' is an offshoot, the 'yumba,' the 'lamb,' and other popular dances. The trend, however, is back to straight fox-trot and waltz combinations."

School gymnasiums were opened to students for dancing, with the approval of the board of education, to promote wholesome social contacts, good manners, teach the "wallflower" how to dance, and, incidentally, to keep the youngsters out of mischief.

Union musicians and expert dancing teachers are employed for the 8:30 o'clock to midnight socials. The cost per pupil is a dime, attendance has grown steadily with a top figure of 9,000 one night. From 16 to 25 is the age limit, which means the general dance sessions are open to non-students of the communities—if they can get by the sharpened chaperones. Boys are required to wear suit coats and ties, girls simple street dresses.

U. S. ARMADA ON HIGH SEAS FOR THE WAR GAMES

Tactical Exercises While Enroute to Panama Canal

Los Angeles, Jan. 4.—(AP)—With war-time secrecy the United States fleet stood out to sea silently during the night and in the darkness before dawn today for the big naval games of the year.

Dreadnaughts, aircraft carriers, heavy cruisers, destroyers and submarines moved from the naval bases of San Pedro and San Diego geared for fighting.

Ships Darkened
They moved with radios silent, ships darkened, with only the blue battle lanterns alight, as the sea lanes from the bases were swept for submarines and mines of a theoretical "enemy" that had approached the California shore.

For 10 days or so the hundred fighting ships were to engage in tactical exercises enroute to the Panama canal. A half-dozen war-craft will be stationed between here and the canal next week while the 60 giant sky patrols of patrol wing one fly from San Diego to the West Indies by way of Panama.

Continue Until June
The maneuvers will continue until next June when the armada returns to southern California. There will be operations in the Pacific, the Atlantic and the Caribbean. Most spectacular of the war exercises will be the big battle game in the Caribbean, known as problem XX to be staged from mid-February to the first week in March.

In the greatest concentration of the exercises there will be 160 fighting ships, 600 airplanes and 56,000 officers and men. But other units of the United States fleet, which boasts of 191 ships and 923 aircraft, will hold independent drills on the Pacific coast and in the Hawaiian area.
