PRIEST, RABBI AND MINISTER TALK AT GILMAN

Give Symposium On Democracy and Freedom

Gilman, Feb. 14—(RN Special)—Priest, rabbi and minister will address the Brotherhood day mass meeting to be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in Gilman high school auditorium under auspices of the Chicago Round Table of Christians and Jews. This is the midwest branch of the National conference on Christians and Jews. The meeting is open to the public.

The "good will team" who will conduct a symposium on the theme "Democracy and Freedom" and the slogan "Make America Safe for Differences" will include the Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, president-emeritus of St. Viator college and now stationed at St. Francis college, Joliet; Dr. William H. MacPherson of St. John Universalist church, Joliet; and Rabbi Louis Milgrom of the Hebrew Federation of Joliet.

Brotherhood day observance is being sponsored in 1,000 communities of the U. S. by the National Conference of Christians and Jews to promote a spirit of brotherhood and unity among Protestants, Jews and Catholics. No church union nor common worship is advocated, nor is there any attempt to merge or "water down" religious convictions.

For Social Justice

It does proclaim the principle that individuals of all religious groups as American citizens should cooperate in support of social justice and human betterment in all community projects in which they believe, in opposition to every importation of foreign prejudices and hostilities.

The Gilman United Front organization is sponsoring the program.

Today is Sweethearts' Day

Many sweethearts were remembered today (St. Valentine's day) in Kankakee, but no "budding romance" was more youthful than that of Sue Sanborn, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sanborn, 667 South Chicago avenue, and Bert A. White, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert White of West Station street. Master Bert was "caught" by the Republican-News photographer this morning as he slipped slyly behind his girl to present her with a pretty valentine.

Nobody Home When Roof Catches Fire

Chimney sparks dropping on wooden shingles ignited several small blazes on the roof of the Earl Smiley residence, 1411 South Third avenue, Monday afternoon.

No one was home at the time, but neighbors saw the fire and summoned firemen who prevented it from spreading. Since the dwelling is located outside the corporate limits, the city will send the owner a bill for $50 for fire service.

At 4:33 o'clock Monday afternoon the department made a run to the residence of Charles Brown, 411 North Harrison avenue, where ashes and rubbish piled against a shed ignited it. Damage was negligible.

Noted Writer On Business Praises Club

Describing the activities of the Kankakee Belt Line Boosters club as "human" and fruitfully suggestive, B. C. Forbes, business analyst, devoted his Sunday column in the Chicago Herald and Examiner to the club's activities.

Employes of every craft union on the N. Y. C. here organized the club three years ago when business fell off and a large number of railroad workers lost their jobs. The article details how the club sent out representatives to interview shippers who formerly shipped heavily over this arterial belt line, found out what was wrong with the services of the line and offered suggested improvements to the officers of the road.

Each employe also resolved to be a traffic solicitor by doing his daily work in the best possible way in order that no complaint could be made regarding it. Their efforts to bring about a better understanding between shippers and receivers of merchandise culminated this year at a Booster club dinner attended by 300 employes, shippers, rail executives and their wives.

Presidents and general managers rubbed elbows with switchmen, clerks, section men and others. The only reference to business on the program was an explanation by the club's spokesman that this party was tendered in appreciation of the business given the railroad they work for, which made continuance of their jobs possible.

Vallee Defendant in $10,000 Suit

Miami, Fla., Feb. 14—(UP)—Judge Wayne Allen felt that Rudy Vallee should have the benefit of a "reasonable doubt" and so the orchestra leader was cleared today on assault and battery charges.

The accusations against Vallee were made by a 17-year-old busboy employed in a nightclub where Vallee appeared Feb. 4. The busboy, Dillard Borden, carrying some trays, accidentally bumped Vallee. Borden charged Vallee struck him.

The judge ruled:

"I have the idea that Mr. Vallee might have taken a slight poke at the boy. I've felt like doing that myself at times. Also, I do not think the boy intentionally brushed against him. So I'll give the defendant the benefit of a reasonable doubt."

Spectators applauded the verdict. Borden offered his hand and he and Vallee shook hands gingerly.

Vallee's difficulties from the incident did not end with the trial, however. Borden's attorney filed a $10,000 damage suit in circuit court against the crooner and announced he would request a new trial in the assault and battery case.

Both Vallee and Borden testified before Allen yesterday, the crooner waiving the right to jury trial. The courtroom was well-filled, most of the spectators being women.

WILTON CENTER SLAYER CAUGHT IN CALIFORNIA

James Williams Will Be Returned to Joliet

Sacramento, Calif., Feb. 14—(AP)—Police officials today awaited word from Joliet, Ill., authorities who were notified yesterday that James Williams, jailed here on a charge of forgery, had been identified as Terry Jerome Welton, wanted in the Illinois city in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Elsie Lichenwalter, wife of his former employer on a farm at Wilton Center.

Detective John R. Palmer said Welton signed a statement attributing the woman's death to the accidental discharge of a rifle during a scuffle on Oct. 26, 1936.

Arrested February 2

The man was arrested at nearby Isleton February 2. Palmer quoted him as saying he had forged checks in several San Francisco bay communities, Sacramento and Isleton.

The prisoner's identity was disclosed when police forwarded his fingerprints to the federal bureau of investigation in Washington for a routine check. Palmer said he believed Welton would waive extradition, but he added that Joliet authorities had not communicated with the local department.

Recall Brutal Crime

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 14—(RN Special)—The capture of James Williams in California yesterday ended a long search for the perpetrator of one of the most brutal murders in Will county's history.

Williams had been employed on the Lichtenwalter farm at Wilton Center for a short time as a farmhand.

On Oct. 26, 1936, shortly after the husband, Floyd Lichtenwalter, had left to take their invalid son, George, to school, Williams surprised Mrs. Lichtenwalter in the kitchen as she was baking.

Her torn colthes gave mute evidence that she had fought off Williams' attack. Williams, apparently frightened at the severity with which she resisted his advances, taped her mouth and shot her six times with a rifle.

Threatened Husband

Lichtenwalter came home and was met by Williams, who at the point of a rifle, forced him to tape his own mouth. Williams bound him, took him to an upstairs closet, and locked him in. He then nailed two boards across the closet door.

Two hours later, Lichtenwalter

Chicago, Feb. 14—(AP)—Contract bridge is America's favorite card game, while poker ranks second, the Association of Playing Card Manufacturers announced today after surveying 2,600 clubs and organizations.

Wisconsin plays considerable schafskopf, or sheepshead. Nominations came from western cattle ranges for guernsey bull, hoof and mouth and hell. Other favorites that bobbed up were fiery cross, bonanza, datta and squeeze.

Hammer Slaying Suspect is Held

Indianapolis, Feb. 14—(AP)—Police questioned a 44-year-old Indianapolis man today in their investigation of the claw hammer killing of Mrs. Carrie Lelah Romig, 55, January 17.

Officers withheld the man's name. Chief of Police Michael F. Morrissey said he was arrested on a vagrancy charge after William R. Butsch, 57, of Louisville, Ky., had named him as the man from whom he obtained valuable jewels that were pawned later.

These jewels, Morrissey said, have been identified as having belonged to Mrs. Romig.

Butsch and his stepdaughter Mrs. Lydia Hatfield, 21, of Glenalum, W. Va., are being held without bond on vagrancy charges.

CRYPT BENEATH ST. PETER'S IS RESTING PLACE

Most Solemn Rites of Mourning; Thousands Attend

Vatican City, Feb. 14—(AP)—Pope Pius XI was buried today beneath the great central altar of St. Peter's cathedral.

His triple casket, wrapped in red wool, was lowered to a final resting place in moving, semi-private ceremonies lasting an hour and a half.

The last rites reached a climax as cardinals and bishops, many of them aged and most of them appointees of Pope Pius, filed slowly past the casket.

Over it each made the sign of the cross.

Then the casket was carried in a procession, preceded by a crucifix bearer and long lines of lighted candles.

Before the altar of the confession, under the immense dome of St. Peter's, the cortege halted.

Here a framework with ropes and pulleys had been erected beside a sunken altar floor, which was level with the cathedral grottoes.

The casket was lowered to a funeral carriage. While the choir sang its last notes the casket was rolled into the grottoes, to rest near the tombs of Pius XI's two immediate predecessors, Benedict XV and Pius X.

The inner casket was of cypress wood, lined with zinc and red satin. On its cover was a cross of walnut. The middle casket was of lead, one-fourth of an inch thick and weighing just under 900 pounds. On its cover, where the head was a cross in relief. The outside casket was of polished elm, with a cover likewise surmounted by a cross.

Impressive Ceremonies

Before the last rites impressive ceremonies were conducted in the chapel. The body of Pius XI was lifted down from the high bier in the Chapel of the Sacrament and carried by eight chair-bearers to a velvet-covered wooden couch.

The chanting of the "Miserere" stopped. The "Exultabunt Domino" was repeated, and then "In Paradisum" was chanted. A prelate chanted and imparted the absolution. The choir intoned "Ingrediar."

The bearers, assisted by other attendants, lifted the bier while the choir chanted the psalm "Sicut Servus."

Attendants then lowered the pontiff into the inner of the three caskets, which had been placed one inside the other. The assistant librarian of the Vatican chapter read the notorial act of the closing of the casket and Monsignor Carlo Respighi covered the pontiff's face

Kiwanis Hell-Raising Called Necessary 'Evil'

"Fellowship for leadership and citizenship," which is the motto for this district of the Kiwanis organization, was the subject of Monday's club luncheon at McBroom's cafe.

The speaker was Mort Hollingsworth of Joliet, district lieutenant governor, who was making his official visit to the Kankakee club. He was presented by President R. Y. Allison.

He said that the "nutty" and "hell-raising" activities of Kiwanians in their meetings are the essence of fellowship and helpful to the success of the serious purposes of the club.

In their program for community leadership and better citizenship, the speaker continued, Kiwanians should quit "pussy-footing" in such matters as political, economic and social problems and seek facts from all sides on such questions.

Respect Others

"This organization," he said, "is big enough and old enough, and its members are mature enough, to seek information from all sources. Let's form opinions for ourselves, yet be big enough to respect the opinions of others and hear what they have to say."

He said that today there is too much of an attitude of resignation among the people, too much of an attitude of letting others figure things out.

"We must recapture the spirit of adventure and the challenge of our pioneer forefathers," Mr. Hollingsworth said, "and face our problems with frankness and courage."

He said also that Kiwanians should take a greater interest in religion. "Let's not be concerned with what religion a man has, but how good he is at his religion."

Religious Views

Declaring that "religion is the foundation of our civilization," the speaker said Kiwanians should be God-fearing, affirming God and striving to strengthen religion.

Thanks for the program was expressed by Vernon McBroom.

President Allison announced that next week's meeting will be devoted to commemoration of Lincoln and Washington.

Oil Patches on Alaskan Waters Spur Plane Hunt

Juneau, Alaska, Feb. 14—(AP)—Discovery of oil on the shores of Prince Bishop lent an ominous note today to the hunt for a Marine Airways plane's pilot, satisfied in a storm slung 6 minute here from Ketchikan.

Searchers indicated, however, they were not discouraged by the report of Captain E. H. Brown of the Coast Guard Wandfest that he had sighted several patches of light oil on an inlet near where they suspected explosion ship, with a load five—perhaps six —aboard, was believed forced down.

They expressed hope Lieut. Cope, an experienced and skilled pilot, had been able to bring his passengers down safely in some other bay area. With this hope, and the prospect of clearing weather, they planned to continue their hunt by air and by air today.

Captain Bayers said it could not be determined whether the oil patches had been left by the plane, which vanished in a storm.

"Boxcar Corrigan" Will Return Home

Peabody, Mass., Feb. 14—(AP)—Refreshed by sleep and food, Russell C. Donaldson, 15 the "Boxcar Corrigan," prepared today to return to his Connellsville, Pa., home after a harrowing week in a locked freight car which he thought was carrying him from Ohio to sunny Florida.

Russell explained to Peabody police that he saw two cars in the freight yards at Uhrichsville, Ohio, February 5—was killed for Florida, the other for Peabody. During the night he leaped aboard—the wrong car and went the wrong way.

For two days he had been too weak from lack of food and water to cry out and it was only by chance that a truck driver examined the car of drainage pipes last night.

In Connellsville, Russell's father, Charles E. Donaldson, chuckled over the escapade and said he would send anything necessary to get the boy home.

"He's a good boy, but he got mad when I wouldn't let him go to see his girl friend every night of the week and just left home."

Famous Columbia Editor Summoned

New York, Feb. 14—(AP)—Dr. Clarke F. Ansley, 69, editor-in-chief of the Columbia university press and editor of the 5,000,000-word Columbia encyclopedia, died today at his home at Solebury, Pa.

Dr. Ansley, after an illness of several months, was announced here by Columbia university.

Dr. Ansley was born in Swedona, Ill., the son of a horsebreeder. He attended the University of Nebraska receiving an A. B. degree and a Phi Beta Kappa key at the age of 21. He married a classmate, Annie Childe, of Lincoln, Neb., and after a year of teaching there he spent two years in Europe studying at the universities of Leipzig, Heidelberg and Paris.

From 1900 to 1917, he was head of the English department of the state university of Iowa, and from 1911 to 1915 he was dean of the college of fine arts at the university.

Surviving members of the family include his widow, Annie Childe Ansley; a daughter, Delight, a ceramist; and a son, Arthur, a New York radio manufacturer.

Private funeral services will be held Monday in Solebury.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 14—(AP)—The Republican majority in the Illinois house today passed the Branson resolution for a legislative investigation of Democratic state payrolls and expenditures by a bare margin of a single vote in a dramatic roll call.

The tally was announced as 73 to 72 in favor of creating a seven-member house committee with broad authority to inquire into Democratic administration finances during the last four years.

Rep. Leroy M. Green of Rockford, former Republican minority leader, cast the deciding vote after an extended roll call during which the probe was defended on economy grounds by Republicans.

Packed galleries heard the voting and oratory lasting more than an hour. P. Lynden Smith, director of public works, and Finance Director S. L. Stoddard were among Democratic officials who followed the roll call closely.

21 Injured in Rooming House Fire; Milwaukee

Milwaukee, Feb. 14—(AP)—Twenty-one persons were injured, six seriously, early today in a fire which swept through an old brick and frame mansion on West Wisconsin avenue which had been converted into an apartment and rooming house.

The county emergency hospital, eight blocks from the scene of the fire, attendants said some of the injured had received severe burns and others had been hurt in jumping from windows or in the excitement of the arrival of firemen. Among the less seriously injured were two firemen.

Most of the seriously injured had quarters on the top floor of the three-story building, police and firemen said. Among them was a fourteen-year-old girl.

Firemen said the blaze, which broke out about 2 a. m., started among rubbish in the basement.

Eight residents of the building were saved by jumping into fire life nets. Among them was a family of three. The father, Anton said, held the wife and small son near the window of their third-floor apartment until the arrival of fire fighting equipment. Then, when the life net was spread, he pushed his wife from the window, and she landed safely. A second later, the father leaped with his son in his arms.

The blaze had gained such headway by the time it was discovered, apparently by a passerby, that flight down the main stairway was impossible. A few of the 41 tenants escaped down a rear stair leading to the second floor.

Firemen found flames roaring on all floors. Many occupants lay on the icy ground, too badly hurt to crawl away. Others huddled in their rooms, overcome by smoke inhalation. The firemen reached some with extension ladders. The others leaped into safety nets.

Charles Bauch, operator of the establishment said the building contained 35 rooms. The loss was estimated at between $12'000 and $15,000.

Mrs. Mary Trotter, 44, was reported in poor condition. She suffered burns about the neck, arms and chest.

Also in poor condition was Mrs. Irma Melzakan, whose right hip and pelvis were fractured. In addition, she suffered from smoke inhalation and exposure.

Others seriously injured were:

Miss Corrine Greenwood, 27, fractures of the spine and both ankles.

George Douglas, 64, railroad conductor, fracture of the right ankle, possible fractures of both heels, cuts and bruises.

Mrs. George Douglas, 35, fracture of the right ankle, possible fractures of both heels, fractured spine and bruises.

Mrs. Alvin Dietsch, 22, cuts bruises and smoke inhalation.

Dietsch, Mrs. Ruth Pietkiewicz, 26, and Marilyn Pietkewicz, 4, were taken to the hospital, suffering from smoke inhalation.

Lull in Fighting as Insurgents Are Shifting Strength

Perpignan, France, Feb. 14—(AP)—The Spanish government braced its central front today to meet the shock of any insurgent offensive expected soon in an effort to clinch victory in the civil war.

Government dispatches said Premier Juan Negrin and several members of his cabinet were visiting Jarana and Guadalajara to bolster the defenses in those sectors.

Political parties and labor unions of the people's front were being consulted by other ministers on measures to bring the central army's force to top form.

All sectors were reported quiet as the insurgents shifted their strength from the northern front to the central zone.

The heavy odds against successful government resistance in the central zone were reflected by an insurgent announcement showing the division of territory since their conquest of Catalonia.

The insurgent zone was estimated at 168,000 square miles with a population of 16,500,000 compared to the government zone of 47,000 square miles with 5,500,000 inhabitants.

In northern Spain, a handful of government machine-gunners remained in the snow-covered Pyrenees near Prats de Mollo with a dynamite squad to protect the last units of government forces plodding across the border to French concentration camps.

At intervals, thunderous roars echoed through the gorges as the dynamiters blew up piles of abandoned war supplies.

More Windy Going for Famous Picture

Hollywood, Feb. 14—(AP)—The long-expected but repeatedly postponed motion picture, "Gone With the Wind," ran into more windy going today when it was directed by George Cukor in his job.

His boss, Producer David O. Selznick, said this was the "most regrettable incident" of his picture-making career. Cukor, they said, a formal statement in which they said they'd decided to part company because they'd disagreed on many individual scenes.

This came as out to Clark Gable Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and other performers who said they hadn't noticed any trouble on sound stage 14, where Cukor and Selznick had worked together constantly on the color recording of the troubles of Scarlett O'Hara, and her civil war boy friend, Rhett Butler.

The trouble seemed to have grown out of one of those Hollywood wrangles, indigenous to the movie business. Selznick borrowed Actor Gable from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which contracted to distribute the picture. L. B. Mayer, executive vice-president of Metro, is the father-in-law of Selznick, who has Cukor as one of his closest friends, under contract.

Well-founded reports had it that M. G. M. wanted one of its own directors in charge of the picture and that Selznick and Cukor had to acquiesce. Selznick spokesmen scoffed at the idea, while Selznick and Cukor refused to add to their typed statement.

Cukor, known as one of the best directors in the business, with a long string of smash hits to his credit, leaves the picture at the end of this week. If a Metro director replaces him, the reports will be confirmed, though all this probably makes little difference to anybody but the Gone-With-the-Wingers.

Bachelor Degrees for Sophomore is Plan of Hutchins

Chicago, Feb. 14—(AP)—President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago proposed yesterday that bachelor degrees be awarded college students at the conclusion of their sophomore year instead of their senior year inasmuch as the degree "served no useful purpose at present."

Hutchins, in a paper read for him at the 35th annual convention of medical education and licensure said many students who should end their education after their college sophomore year remain in school to get a degree because they cannot get recognizable and popular insignia at the end of the second year.

"I believe the bachelor degree should be made to serve the very useful purpose of persuading students to get out of education who should not be permitted to remain in it," Hutchins said.

He proposed a student's general education be started at the beginning of his junior year in high school, a bachelor's degree be awarded at the end of his second year in college and a master's degree be given after three additional years of advanced study. He said the first two years of college were not long enough for general education and the second two years were not long enough for advanced study.

Plan to Finance Emigration of the Jews from Germany

London, Feb. 14—(AP)—The intergovernmental committee on refugees today authorized the establishment of a private international corporation to finance a five-year $300,000,000 plan for the emigration of Jews from Germany.

The refugee committee disclosed it would try to move 150,000 young Jews from Germany in the first year of the plan's operation.

The new corporation will be formed as soon as possible to lend financial help to this undertaking.

At conclusion of a two-day meeting the committee instructed Sir Herbert Emerson, its new director, to advise the German government that it would continue to devote its best efforts to aiding "involuntary German refugees."

New Pope May be Named from Field of Nine Cardinals

Vatican City, Feb. 14—(UP)—A group of older prelates of the Vatican discussing the election of a new pope viewed the probable field of cardinals to nine cardinals today. It also excluded the possibility that one of more than 70 years would be elected; they excluded the possibility that a foreigner might be the choice.

From the 22 who remained, they suggested the following as likely to be the man who will be the pope with some reasons for each:

Cardinal Marchetti - Selvaggiani, of Frascati and Vicar general of Rome.

Cardinal Lavitrano, archbishop of Perugia.

Extremely intelligent.

Cardinal Schuster, archbishop of Milan.

A scholar.

Cardinal Salotti, prefect of the Congregation of rites. Fought clericalism in Italy.

Cardinal Piccheni. A most able man and 15 years nuncio to Spain.

Cardinal Dalla Costa archbishop of Florence. Highly religious. Florentines already attributing miracles to him.

Cardinal Marmaggi a most able former nuncio to Poland.

Cardinal Maglione, prefect of the congregation of the council. Did special work as Papal Nuncio in Switzerland.

Cardinal Pacelli, secretary of state working with the popular front government.

Cardinal Piazza, patriarch of Venice. Learned and an orator.

Rumors were current that a foreign cardinal could be elected, the prelates suggested as leading foreign candidates are: Cardinal Verdier, archbishop of Paris; Cardinal Copello, archbishop of Buenos Aires, famed for one thing as a friend of Gen. Francisco Franco and Cardinal Hlond, archbishop of Gnesen and Posen, Poland. Of course because he speaks Italian fluently and all his major studies were accomplished in Italy.

Crypt Beneath—

with a handkerchief of white silk.

The choir continued its chant. Monsignor Arborio removed the square of white silk over the folded hands. Then Monsignor Antonio Bacci, secretary of the Sacred College, read the Ecclesiastical biography and laudation of the pontiff which enumerated the outstanding accomplishments of his reign. This finished, the pope was inserted in a copper tube and placed at the feet of the pontiff.

Attendants and church dignitaries then proceeded to the closing of the caskets. The cover of the middle casket, that of lead, was placed and soldered along its edges and sealed. The outside casket was closed with gold-plated screws.

Prayers for the Dead

When this was done cardinals and prelates joined in reciting prayers for the dead.

The procession then reformed and proceeded to the altar of the confession where the three caskets, containing the casket into the crypt.

The pope was clad in a scarlet soutane over a white robe, a biretta cap and red slippers and gloves.

A pallium similar to that in which he was crowned, which symbolizes the pope's authority as successor to St. Peter, was placed before the Chapel of the Pietà.

Groups of papal gendarmes were then come the Chapel of St. Peter's, carrying a cross, lighted candles which cast a dim glow in the twilight of the crypt.

The sky was overcast. Little penetrated the windows.

Deep in the vaulted ceiling the work of the former's predecessor, Pius XI, reflected mournfully.

The choir was borne by eight Swiss guards whose stalwart shoulders formerly had supported the portable throne in which the pontiff was carried to papal ceremonies.

The casket of St. Peter's, wearing the black cassock but a white mitre intoned the "Exultabunt Domino."

Royal Tribute Friday

On Friday Premier Mussolini and the Italian royal family will pay tribute to the pope who reestablished peace between the Vatican and the Italian state.

The Fascist grand council, King Vittorio Emanuele, the royal court and the diplomatic corps accredited to the Italian court, former Premier Marconi, the United States ambassador, William Phillips, will attend mass for Pius XI on that day, proclaimed one of national mourning.

Pope was the first pope to whom the Fascist government had been able to pay its respects since Mussolini and the pope signed the pact when Benedict XV died in 1922.

Friday's service has further significance because of the efforts of governments had to refrain from official attendance at papal ceremonies because of the conflict between the Vatican and state which was settled by the pact of 1929.

For the third day, the public swarmed into St. Peter's for a view of the body of the pope before burial this afternoon.

Sunshine again flooded the great square in front of the cathedral after yesterday's rain. The flow of people past the bier began at 8 a. m. Although the column of visitors was somewhat smaller than yesterday, it was still impressive in size.

Hundreds of thousands had filed past the bier since the doors closed at mid-day and the Vatican estimated that a million persons had seen the body since Friday — the largest throng that ever had seen a pope's body in death.

Trial of Jack Benny Delayed Until March 6

New York, Feb. 14—(UP)—The trial of Jack Benny on smuggling charges was put over today in federal court here until March 6.

It was the second postponement in the radio and screen comedian's case growing out of charges that he smuggled $1,231 worth of French jewelry into this country for his wife, Mary Livingstone.

The case originally was set for Feb. 24 and was put over from then to today. The comedian's 45th birthday anniversary. The second postponement was agreed to by federal authorities because Benny, Hollywood, was engaged in the making of a motion picture which could not be delayed because of the studio's contractual arrangements with other performers.

The comedian is under indictment in connection with a smuggling ballyhoo which Albert D. Cagnon, smuggler of fortune, built up with Benny, Irene N. Lasker, wife of a New York supreme court, justices, and others for clients. All concerned but Benny pleaded guilty. Benny, "not yet sentenced" to date, was fined $8,000 and given a suspended sentence of a year and a day in prison. He was placed under probation for the period of the sentence.

Meanwhile Williams had driven to Joliet and told Lieutenant Edward Kelly of the state police a gun was found abandoned on route 66. Williams, it is believed, flagged a motorist down.

Many reports of Williams' whereabouts proved false.

His arrest climaxed a two-day investigation by state police, who found on the floor of the state's attorney's office a formal "confession" implicating Williams.

Autoists May Soon Be Able To Cross From Florida To South America in 48 Hours

By LEON W. SILOSS —

Washington, Feb. 14—(INS)—The 20-yearold engineering dream of an automobile highway-ferry system over the Caribbean sea which would enable motorists to drive from Florida to South America in 48 hours may become an actuality in the not-too-distant future.

The project often planned to the last detail, but never advanced beyond the conventional stage, has attracted the attention of Pax Americana, a non-profit organization devoted to encouragement of inter-American relations. A committee, comprised of representatives of the many North, Central and South American nations involved, has been appointed by Pax Americana president H. H. Buckman and shortly will inaugurate an intensive study of all phases of the projected highway.

When the study is completed, Pax Americana will present the proposal and results of the committee's findings to the governments of all countries in the western hemisphere.

Engineer Urges Study

"Any project which promises, as this one does, to so sharply increase commerce and improve communications and friendly relationships between the North and South American continents, is worthy of exhaustive study," declared Buckman, 50-year-old consulting engineer, Harvard and Leipzig graduate, and former technical counsel to the House Foreign Affairs committee.

The plan envisions two routes, one to South America and one to Central America. They are:

1—From Miami over the Keys to Key West, thence by ferry to Havana, then across Cuba, and by ferry to Port Au Prince, Haiti,—across Haiti and Santo Domingo and then on a ferry to Puerto Rico, across Puerto Rico by auto, followed by a ferry trip to La Guaira, the seaport of Caracas, on the north coast of South America. Time for this trip—48 hours.

2—Miami to Key West to Havana, westward through Cuba, then a ferry trip to Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, and across Central America to Guatemala City. There the Pan-American highway, which runs southward from Laredo, Tex., through the whole of Central America, would be joined. Time for this trip—72 hours.

Buckman explained that success of the project depends largely on designing of high-speed ferry boats capable of a 40-knot-an-hour speed which is about the speed of the biggest ocean liners. Navy architects, Buckman revealed, have expressed the opinion that the last presents no particular difficulty.

To Eliminate Red Tape

The Pax America president disclosed that the organization decides to oppose construction of the highway-ferry system it will concentrate its efforts on cutting through red tape and on securing requirements of passport visas and customs inspection for coastal automobile tourists and will attack the system to the average purse.

"For instance there will be only one class of Pullman Rodrigo Guaira ferry, which is a 15-hour overnight jump comparing the only long ferry service in the entire Caribbean," he said. "There will be a flat charge of only $10 for the trip, and that will include stateroom."

Buckman explained that an excellent highway already exists from Miami to Key West and through Cuba. Sixty per cent of the road in Haiti and Santo Domingo, he said, would be calcified in the United States as "good secondary" and the road in Puerto Rico, which comprises only a short part of the journey, is also good.

On the westward route, the 72 hours spent in driving would be through good roads. The other 15 hours would be spent on the ferry. Consequently he said, road-building would present no great problem.

The plan contemplates ultimate completion of a "loop" working eastward from Miami through Havana, across the Caribbean to Guatemala, southward through Panama to Bogota, swinging northeast to Caracas, then north across the Carribbean, and back to Miami via Puerto Rico, Santo Domingo, Haiti, and Cuba. The outstanding obstacle is part of the stretch from Panama to Bogota. The intervening terrain is considered the most impassable in the world, due to its 15,000-foot high mountains and tightly-laced jungles.

Pax America feels that completion of the intermediate phase of the system—the routes to Caracas and Guatemala City—would provide the Western Hemisphere exclusive of the commercial and other advantages that would ensue, with lines of communication vital to the ceasful defense of the two continents if foreign aggressors engaged in war against them, should attempt to split North and South America apart.

Such a maneuver, according to the best military opinion, inevitably would be the first objective of any attacking nation, or coalition of nations.

Sailors And Girls Alike, Even 'Refitted'—Admiral

By HOWARD BERRY

London, Jan. 14—(INS)—There is something in common between a sailor and a girl, whether she is modern or not—whether she is just launched or re-fitted," according to Vice-Admiral Gordon Campbell of the British navy.

"Both sailors and women are mostly inconsistent and mostly illogical," Admiral Campbell told a meeting of the Modern Girls' group here today.

"There is something in common, too, between a woman and the sea," he said. "Both are always changing. One moment they are nice, and placid—then they are delightful, then like the sea, they become rougher and rougher until there is an almighty tempest.

Admiral Campbell said that in the subway he gave up his seat only to very old women or pretty girls.

"In many cases I have been snubbed," he said. "They say 'I am just as able to stand as you are.'

"I would like to see the modern girl, if offered a seat by a man, accept it and maintain the privilege which she deserves and does not always know how to use, but rather thinks a sign of inequality."

The modern girl was brought into politics by Commander E. P. Bower, M. P. for Cleveland, Yorkshire, when he told the meeting:

"We would be well advised to set up procession of modern girls to parade before the German embassy and shout 'We want Hanover,' he said. "It is time we wanted something."

Commander Bower did not think dictatorship countries were "going to become so sweet and reasonable and sit around a conference table with Mr. Chamberlain and abandon their demands."

The only element of sanity he had seen recently was the parade of Nazi students with banners and in Paris declaring, "We want Versuius, we want Venice."

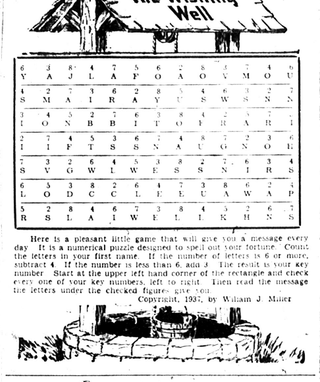
Russia's Annual Birthrate Equals Finn Population

Paris, Feb. 14—(INS)—The Soviet Russian annual birth rate is equal to Finland's total population.

This was revealed by an article published recently in the French newspaper "Ce Soir." The figures published show that births in Russia during 1937 reached nearly the four million mark, an increase of 18% over the previous year. It is added that, while in 1926, 39 inhabitants out of 100 were illiterate in 1937 there were 28,842,000 pupils in soviet schools.

It was also stated in the article that there no longer exists any employment in the U. S. S. R. But on the contrary, there appears to be a lack of laborers. Soviet factories employed more than 27,000,000 workers in 1937 and additional workers are needed at present.



Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If it has 5 or 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Sally Rand Puts Dancing Career Before Marriage

Portland, Ore. Feb 14—(INS)—Marriage is definitely out for Sally Rand, shapely fan and bubble dancer.

"It just wouldn't be practical in my case. I've never been married nor do I contemplate ever marrying. Career first," she explained.

"Romance, however, is not taboo. I like the older men best because they always give you what the younger men promise," the fan dancer coyly admitted.

Sally said her fan—$200 a pair, she keeps 'em on hand and she needs 'em—is her weapon to keep a cool at a cost of $40 a fan.

"The bubbles cost $23 apiece," she said, "but I own my own bubble factory in Ravenna O. Last year I used 400 bubbles."

However, she said, "I'm an American Democrat and I'm having no truck with these new fangled isms."

"They had to lick me to show me I was wrong in 65. It didn't take a war to show me this time."

95-Year-Old War Veteran is Proud of 1st GOP Vote

Denver, Feb. 14—(INS)—Colonel Sam Thompson of Fort Collins, Colo., looked back and recorded he was proud he broke faith and shattered a 72-year record for loyalty at the last election.

"I was 95 years old last November 18," the colonel said. "Just five days before my birthday I marched the first Republican vote I ever cast in my life and I'm proud of it."

The former soldier who fought for the confederacy when 18, and who upon coming west led scouting parties on the trail of hostile Indians averred, however, that he was "still a Democrat and always will be."

However," he said, "I'm an American Democrat and I'm having no truck with these new fangled isms."

"They had to lick me to show me I was wrong in 65. It didn't take a war to show me this time."

France Shuts Its Doors on Immigration

Paris, Feb. 14—(INS)—The French government has virtually shut the doors on further immigration at this time it was learned here today. Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet, in launching the work of the French committee on immigration, stated that while France "remained disposed to continue to help exiles it could not by too numerous admissions condemn to misery that social category of its own citizens who have been gravely compromised by abuse of immigration."

Immigration has in the past been "too insufficiently controlled," Bonnet added, and would henceforth be closely watched and regulated.

"No other country has done as much for immigrants and refugees," he added. "France has given refuge to 2,200,000 foreigners and 200,000 refugees."

Of these, he explained, at least 100,000 listed as "none-aryans" have crossed the frontier from Germany.

NO HALF WAY

Louisville, Ky.—(INS)—A person has a nervous breakdown, or a spell of pneumonia, or he hasn't. There is no "verge" or "brink" about it.

This was the statement left with mental hygiene officials recently by Dr. Leo Kanner, director of child psychiatry at John Hopkins university.

Remove Abscessed Tooth; Replant It

Chicago, Feb. 14—(UP)—A Michigan dentist demonstrated today an operation which makes it possible to remove an abscessed tooth, treat it and replant it.

Dr. C. W. Messinger, Houghton, Mich., explained the process with X-rays and charts at the 75th annual mid-winter meeting of the Chicago Dental society. He said he has replanted approximately 75 teeth. Such teeth, he said, should last anywhere from a minimum of five years to eight or ten years.

In his operation he first X-rays the abscess, then extracts it, treats any abscess in the jaw. If there is a cavity in the tooth, he drills a hole into the root canal, removes the root tissue and after thoroughly sterilizing the tooth, replaces the root tissue with gutta-percha. Then he fills the root end of the tooth with a silver filling and the surface and with a porcelain filling. He resterilizes the tooth, pressed it back into the cavity in the jaw and sets it in place with a splint. The splint is worn for about a month to give the gum and bone time to grow around the tooth.

Dr. Clarence Dykstra, president of the University of Cincinnati, told the dentists last night at the opening of the convention that some form of health insurance is inevitable as fire insurance and that if physicians and dentists wish to avoid state medicine, they must provide a workable alternative.

There will be no "state medicine" or governmental interference, he said, if the professions do provide the alternative.

The professions should not defy change but point out the way to a more successful use of the health problem he said.

Chatham Natives Point With Pride to Lack of Crime

Chatham Mayor Feb 14—INS—Residents of law abiding communities have called Chatham the perfect town and most of the citizens of this Cass County coal vacation center are willing to plead guilty to the only imperfection.

Certainly Chatham citizens have plenty of ammunition available if it ever decided to launch a bragging campaign.

Among the towns claims to distinction are: Chatham has never had a murder.

No Chatham citizen has ever killed another.

No automobile has ever been stolen in the town since historians make no mention of those things.

No bank has ever been held up in Chatham, nor has any bank officer embezzled.

Common Sense About Constipation

A doctor would tell you that the best thing to do with constipation is get at its cause. That will help you to relieve it first and try to cure it afterward—you are avoid having it.

Chances are you won't have it look far for the cause. Maybe you eat the super-refined foods most people do. Many don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean much of a meal. It means a kind of food that is not consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines.

It's this is what you lack, try crisp bunchy Kellogg's All-Bran with milk or cream. Two tablespoonfuls daily in one of the "bulk" you need.

Will Scholar-Statesman Pacelli, Ruler For The Time Being of World's Catholics, Be Named To Papal Throne By College of Cardinals

By MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Rome, Feb. 14—Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, 63, will become spiritual head of the world's Catholics, has had much distinction as a scholar and diplomat and statesman.

Pacelli, who until the College of Cardinals elects a new pope is papal head of the Roman Catholic church, is believed by many to be a natural candidate and successor to He will be 63 next March 2.

Any objections voiced to him during the papal balloting in the Sistine chapel is a weak chest and very sonorous in Basilicas.

Cardinal Pacelli has had one of the most distinguished careers of any man in the present College of Cardinals. He was born in Rome Italy, and comes of a family which has long had close connection with the Vatican. His grandfather was dean of the consistorial advocates.

His younger brother, Francesco, played a considerable part in the negotiation of the Lateran treaties between the Vatican and Fascist Italy, and for which he was made a marquis and chamberlain of the new Vatican.

War Time Diplomat

Pacelli was ordained to the priesthood in 1899. After getting degrees of Doctor of Divinity, Doctor of Canon Law, he entered the Papal Secretariat of State and for 13 years held various positions in the offices of the secretariat of state. In 1908 he was appointed professor of diplomacy Academia dei Nobili. He had been in that capacity and in other extraordinary ecclesiastical posts coming to the notice of Cardinal Gasparri, who for many years conducted the foreign affairs of the Vatican.

Pius XI, Pacelli's predecessor, Pope Benedict XV made Pacelli secretary of the congregation. Later Pope consecrated him as bishop of the Sistine chapel and in the midst of the World War sent him as papal nuncio to Bavaria.

Here among other things, he worked hard to further the pope's late effort to bring the warring nations of war together. Early in 1917 when the Germans lost the Russian front and were in danger of losing the war and the Bolsheviks, for a short time, ruled Bavaria, Pacelli's life was in danger and he finally left. But later he returned and secured a confidential between Bavaria and the Vatican.

He was ordained archbishop of Sardis and in 1920 was sent as papal nuncio to the new German Republic. In Berlin he secured as well that he secured a concordat between Bavaria and the Vatican.

Returning to Rome he became intimately to Cardinal Gasparri. He was created a cardinal in 1929. In 1930 he succeeded Cardinal Gasparri as secretary of state and succeeded Cardinal Merry del Val as archpriest of St. Peters. In this capacity he was brought into especial close touch with Pope Pius XI who had an increasingly warm regard for him and entrusted him with many important missions of the Vatican.

Eloquent in Many Tongues

In October, 1934, he went to Buenos Aires where he opened the great Eucharistic Congress. Early last autumn he opened and addressed the first session of the International Congress of Catholic Journalists. He spoke for two hours and a half in one of the most amazing linguistic feats ever witnessed.

He started in Italian for the benefit of the Italian delegates, then in French to the French delegation and Swiss delegates; in Spanish to the delegates from Spain and the South American republics; in Portuguese to those from Portugal and Brazil; in English to those from the United States, Great Britain and the colonies and dominions of the British empire; in German to those from Germany and Austria, and finally in Latin for the benefit of those from Poland, Hungary and various other lands. When the delegates were later received by the pope, he smilingly observed he

Advises Careful Handling of Auto Mishap Victims

Philadelphia, Feb. 14—(INS)—"Good Samaritans" who come to the aid of automobile accident victims are warned by the Keystone Automobile club to avoid aggravating their injuries.

The natural impulse of everyone who sees reaching an accident, said Edward P. Curran, club director, "is to take the patient to a hospital with utmost haste."

Inexperienced handling may turn simple fractures into compound injuries or provoke excessive bleeding, Curran advised. The best practice, he said, is to make the patient comfortable until arrival of a doctor after a tourniquet has been applied.

Serene Grandeur in Memorial Park

A cemetery for the Caucasian race only known for its stately beauty and serene grandeur of well kept plots, and identified with the restraint of bronze grave markers rather than many-sided tombstones, is Kankakee Memorial park on highway 17 two miles east of the city.

The markers are set flush to the ground, adding to the attractiveness of the cemetery. Every lot is under perpetual care since a percentage of each lot sold is set aside for this purpose. Tent and burial equipment are furnished at no extra cost to the purchaser.

Fine gravelled roads through the park afford a close view of beautiful flowers and close cropped lawns. J. W. Mortell Jr. is president of the memorial park association; Ira Garrison, secretary; and Dr. Fred C. Hamilton, treasurer.

Leslie Lund Buys Out His Partner

Customers of Lunda Sinclair service, Merchant and Dearborn, streets, have to worry about finding a convenient place to park uptown. The station maintains a parking lot for free use of patrons.

This firm is the successor to the L and H station operated for the past two years by Leslie Lund and Pete Ramsey. Recently Lund bought out his partner.

Besides handling the complete line of Sinclair products, Opaline and Penn motor oils, Lunda does car washing, greasing and simonizing, sells Mansfield tires, tubes and accessories.

Lund believes that "service" means more than merely checking gas, oil and water requirements. He cultivates repeat business with the little "extras" which distinguish service stations from filling stations.

Cheap Coal Costly in Long Run: Wertz

The idea that coal is coal like "pigs like pigs" is just another mistaken theory, according to the Charles Wertz company of Bradley. The coal buyer looking for the most for this money will take into account the heat, ash and moisture content as well as the type of fuel best suited to the heating plant, slow or free burning.

From the standpoint of heat, good coal contains about 35 per cent more thermal units. Cheap coal contains from 10 to 20 per cent water as compared to only 2 to 3 per cent in eastern dry mined coal. There is can be computed that a ton of cheap coal at best is only worth two-thirds as much as quality fuel.

Inferior coal not only costs the user as much or more in the long run as good, but he also has more frequent firings, more ashes and exceedingly uneven heat to contend with. The Charles Wertz company carries a stock of both eastern and southern Illinois coal and has modern de-

No Hat Trouble at Josephine's

The Josephine Millinery shop, 566 North Schuyler avenue, prides itself on being the only shop in town where customers can always obtain the type of hat they are looking for. If Josephine doesn't have it in her ready-made stock she can make it to suit any individual taste.

She specializes in matching colors in straw, felt or fabric, has ribbons, veils, flowers and feathers to trim old hats and reshape them to look like new.

At present she is designing and making new Easter hats for spring opening and advises patrons to place their special orders early. Reconditioning and veils for brides and bridesmaids are also fashioned by Josephine and children's hats are available in all styles and sizes.

This week the shop has a special sale on winter headgear.

Sailors And Girls Alike, Even 'Refitted'—Admiral

By HOWARD BERRY

London, Jan. 14—(INS)—There is something in common between a sailor and a girl, whether she is modern or not—whether she is just launched or re-fitted," according to Vice-Admiral Gordon Campbell of the British navy.

"Both sailors and women are mostly inconsistent and mostly illogical," Admiral Campbell told a meeting of the Modern Girls' group here today.

"There is something in common, too, between a woman and the sea," he said. "Both are always changing. One moment they are nice, and placid—then they are delightful, then like the sea, they become rougher and rougher until there is an almighty tempest.

Admiral Campbell said that in the subway he gave up his seat only to very old women or pretty girls.

"In many cases I have been snubbed," he said. "They say 'I am just as able to stand as you are.'

"I would like to see the modern girl, if offered a seat by a man, accept it and maintain the privilege which she deserves and does not always know how to use, but rather thinks a sign of inequality."

The modern girl was brought into politics by Commander E. P. Bower, M. P. for Cleveland, Yorkshire, when he told the meeting:

"We would be well advised to set up procession of modern girls to parade before the German embassy and shout 'We want Hanover,' he said. "It is time we wanted something."

Commander Bower did not think dictatorship countries were "going to become so sweet and reasonable and sit around a conference table with Mr. Chamberlain and abandon their demands."

The only element of sanity he had seen recently was the parade of Nazi students with banners and in Paris declaring, "We want Versuius, we want Venice."

NIGHT COUGHING CAN OFTEN BE PREVENTED

If your child often coughs at night because of a slight cold—do this at bedtime! Thoroughly massage Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest, and back. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action tends to ease tight air-passages clear, helping to maintain normal breathing through the nose, and so reducing mouth-breathing (the direct cause of night coughs). Try it tonight for your child. Remember, every time VapoRub is applied it carries the time-tested effectiveness of millions of users. Rub and inhale. Vicks VapoRub

VOICE FROM THE GRANDSTAND

The man in the grandstand is always the one who hollers the loudest for the team to give a leg for Old Siwash. The man in the back row is always the one loudest in demand that the wrestler break his opponent's leg off and throw it in his face.

War talk is a little like that, too. The vehemence of the demand that somebody get in there and stop Germany last fall was almost in inverse ratio to the distance from Berlin.

That is why it is so interesting to find Edward Benes, the former president of Czechoslovakia during all the tenseness of the Munich settlement, talking quite quietly and calmly on his arrival in the United States to teach some university course. At no time since his arrival have Dr. Benes' remarks matched in fervor the almost hysterical questions that have been put to him.

Is war absolutely inevitable, as some insist? Not at all, says the calm Dr. Benes. There is great danger of war, of course, but it is not in the least inevitable. It all depends on the leaders and governments involved. "In my opinion, war can always be avoided," said the indomitable little Czechoslovakian leader.

Really, here is something to make ashamed the doubters of democracy, the pessimists who give up on peace and decency simply because they have had a series of setbacks. Listen to the man who, perhaps more than any other individual, has suffered from the misfortunes of a Europe in which orderly procedure has broken down.

"The United States—as state and nation, and your citizens as individuals—represented for me always that perfect fighter who knows that life is sometimes difficult, but who knows also that in the end life there should be no room for despair or pessimism. Man, as long as he is alive, must never give up optimistic idealism; he must never, even if he sees the real situation in rather dark colors, cease to hope for better times, and he must, most of all, never cease to work for them, and never be discouraged on his way by ill success."

Brave Benes! He is a fine fighter, back from the thick of the fight, bloody, but unbowed! I should yet some bow who have never yet felt a blow! Faint-hearted ones who cringe before our many difficulties, who bow before an "inevitable" collapse, an "inevitable" war, take renewed courage from such as Benes! The way is not better to breathe because courage like that has come to our shores!

DO PEOPLE WANT JOBS?

Every once in a while there is an impressive demonstration of the fact that most people still want work if there is a ghost of a chance of getting a decent job.

New York saw such a demonstration. Twelve city jobs as laboratory helpers at $960 a year were open.

Four thousand one hundred and thirty-nine women jammed the 288th Field Artillery armory to apply. Some waited as long as 30 hours for a chance to get their names down on the applications. It took 90 police to handle the long files of anxious applicants. Even at midnight of the day before applications were to be made, 230 women were on hand, hoping for priority.

It is certainly true that there are some people who won't work, and who will do anything to avoid it. That has always been true. It is perhaps even true that there are more such people today than ever before, because of the depressing effects of eight years of hard times.

But it is almost certainly not true that the average American has reached that stage. People who will wait 30 hours merely to apply for a chance at a $960-a-year job still are all right.

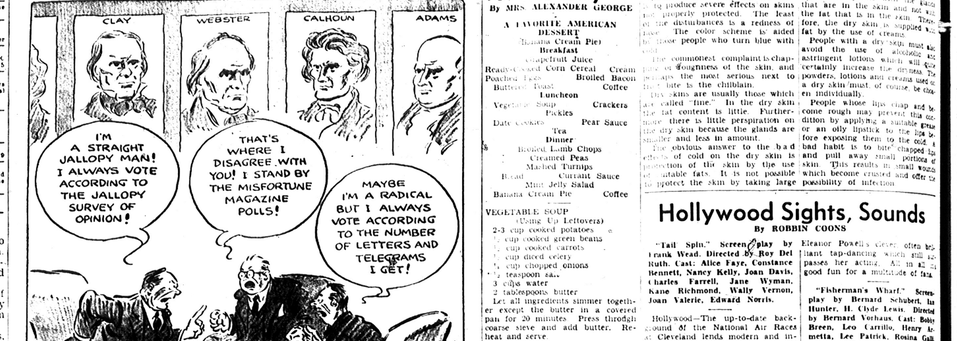
ARE WE GETTING SOMETHING NEW IN CONGRESSMEN?



Your Children

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

What about the greedy child? The one who gets all there is, who manages to get the first turns, the biggest piece of cake, the old family flint-lock for his own room, the best trade in marbles, two movies where only one grew before?

Selfish? Why, of course not. But then everyone in the world is selfish. Sometimes we are selfish when we give things away, because we prefer to be thought generous by having things. Or maybe we don't care enough to grab. Grabbing is a lot of trouble. Or maybe we get so worked up by that whisperer called conscience. Sometimes conscience is fear, sometimes better things, but most of the time it is merely habit.

But this greedy child. Is he sheer extravert without heart or feeling? Or is he, like Mrs. Luce, who writes theatrically as Clare Boothe, starts out as his side, phoned a producer suggesting a job for his client.

"I wouldn't take him as a gift!" declared the producer.

The agent must certainly have been endeavoring not to hurt the actor's feelings, for his reply both stunned and amused the producer. What he said was:

"Well I suggest about half the sum you mentioned!"

Bard on Broadway

Will Shakespeare still is a topflight author along Broadway. For after smashing attendance records with his marathon performances of "Hamlet" (it took five hours), Maurice Evans has returned with "Richard II." Evans takes the role of the foppish, full-bearded, swooning, tippling, prevaricating and boisterous Falstaff.

Arthur Hopkins' masterly feat of makeup—for Evans has "transformed himself miraculously from a lithe and clean-cut Hamlet to a barrel-shaped and be-whiskered Falstaff—is a setting for Evans' truly dynamic energy" and high humor.

The critics ran out of superlatives again in writing about it and the line at the box office again extends around the corner. Shakespeare has been faring even better than Noel Coward or Kaufman and Hart during recent seasons.

SLUMP IN BURGLARY

Boston—(INS)—The ancient and dishonorable profession of burglary, has felt the pinch of the "recession." The state police report has sacked a manufacturing and supply office here and came out in the red. They forced a door, found an office boy's bank and took the contents—55 cents. They then broke open a safe, found a few dollars, and left, forgetting their tools.

UPSWING IN PIGS

Kansas City—(INS)—This will be a big year for the porkers. Government agencies estimate that there will be 45 per cent more pigs born in Kansas this spring than last spring, 28 per cent more in Oklahoma and 40 per cent more in Nebraska.

HOLLYWOOD: Well, sir, I sure started this day out right. I came down stairs to breakfast an' the first thing I did, despite the fact that I could hardly resist that sizzlin' plate of ham an' eggs, was to take the little wife in my arms an' give her a big hug an' kiss an' tell her she was the grandest li'l heart in the world. Boy, I jes' knew her right off her feet with the greatest demonstration of off-screen lovin' that's been seen in Hollywood in years.

"Bob, you derned old fool, what's comin over you?" she says, when she can catch her breath.

"Honey, you're jes' the sweetest thing that ever lived!" I says, an' grabs her again.

"What's the matter with you, ain't you done your sittin' for exercises yet?" she says. "You know you don't pay any attention to me till you git some food on your stomach. Why, I usually don't even see you till you git through readin' the mornin' paper!"

"But, darlin'," says I, "Today is different! Don't you know what day today is?"

Yes, she says. "But I'm afraid you don't! Today is Valentine's Day!"

"Oh!" she says, an' her face gits red.

"Well, I'm glad, at least, that you've got a good reason for actin' silly!"

Happenings in New York

By GEORGE ROSS

New York, Feb. 14—We've just partied with Clare Boothe Brokaw Luce at the zebra-striped club, El Morocco.

It was an intimate, little affair with not more than 300 guests and it couldn't have cost the hostess more than a couple of thousand dollars.

It was merely a social get-together for after having written two Broadway successes, "The Women" and "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," the philanthropine Mrs. Luce thought it high time to celebrate.

So champagne flowed freely and supper was the chef's pride and everyone enjoyed the frolic.

If, in the general melee, one of the guests of honor—the Southland's Helen Claire—was lost and lonely, well, that was due to the press of society.

Anyway, Mrs. Luce, who writes theatrically as Clare Boothe, starts out as his side, phoned a producer suggesting a job for his client.

"I wouldn't take him as a gift!" declared the producer.

The agent must certainly have been endeavoring not to hurt the actor's feelings, for his reply both stunned and amused the producer. What he said was:

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

The ideal foundation for any type of popular coiffure except, possibly a straight bob is some flattering style of the old-fashioned to a permanent wave. Naturally, a good hairdo is the result of their assisting on getting it, you're pretty sure to get it.

First thing you ought to know you should have is a test curl. Then the operator who isn't thoroughly familiar with your hair can possibly tell exactly how tightly it ought to be wound around the rods and how much heat is required, by making a test curl. This you must insist upon.

Insist also on a thorough shampoo and rinse and brush before any winding is done. The night before, wash your hair and have your hair washed and rinsed and dried carefully immediately before getting the permanent.

The success of a wave really depends on the skill of the operator who does the winding. After you have had a shampoo and the test curl has been made, your fate is in his hands. So do pick an operator in whom you have confidence. Ask or his assistant will stay in the booth with you every single second while the heat is turned on.

Daily Health Talks

In winter the ice, the cold and dryness so snow and rain are likely to produce severe effects on skins not properly protected. The least these disturbances is a redness of the skin. The color scheme is aided in some people who turn blue with cold.

The commonest complaint is chapping or roughness of the skin, and perhaps the most serious next to bite is the chilblain.

Chilblains are usually those which are called "fine." In the dry skin, the fat content is little. Further, there is little perspiration on the dry skin because the glands are atrophied and less in amount.

The obvious answer to the bad effects of cold on the dry skin is to put oil into the skin by the use of suitable fats. It is not possible to protect the skin by taking large amounts of fat internally because the intestinal tract cannot digest them. Fats that are in the skin and not in the fat that is in the skin. Therefore, the dry skin is supplied with fat by the use of creams.

People with a dry skin must also avoid the use of alcoholic or astringent lotions which will certainly increase the dryness. Face powders, lotions and creams used on a dry skin must of course be chosen individually.

People whose lips chap and in addition by applying a suitable cream or ointment to the lips before exposing them to the cold, a bad habit is to bite the chapped lips and pull away small portions of skin. This results in small sores which become crusted and offer no possibility of infection.

Hollywood Sights, Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

"Tail Spin," Screen play by Frank Wead. Directed by Roy Del Ruth. Cast: Alice Faye, Constance Bennett, Nancy Kelly, Joan Davis, Charles Farrell, Jane Wyman, Kane Richmond, Wally Vernon, Joan Valerie, Edward Norris.

Hollywood—The up-to-date background of the National Air Races at Cleveland lends modern and interesting appeal to this story of flying women aviators.

The girls—except for Constance Bennett, who plays a society playgirl aviatrix—all take their flying hopes to the races in rickety old flivvers bought with their meager savings from their meager lives.

At Cleveland rivalry between the four girls and their boy friends puts some comedy, more tragedy and a number of genuine sky thrills all resulting finally with Bennett's turning good sport to let Faye win the race. Faye reciprocating by delivering the man (Richmond) to Bennett.

Aided partly by better photography than that accorded Faye or Bennett, Nancy Kelly gives the touching role, the less experienced, younger Nancy Kelly flies off with the acting honors in the picture. The men of the cast come off fast, only Eddie Norris as Nancy's flying instructor having a role of sufficient import to register, which he does handsomely. Charlie Farrell is barely adequate, and Richmond little more so. Joan Davis' comedy, with broad sallies of the same by Vernon Wallace, the film's foil, is fatal, two maiming crashes. Miss Kelly's work is decidedly affected, fulfilling neither promise as a dramatic actress.

"Honolulu," Screen play by Herbert Fields and Frank Partos. Directed by Edward Buzzell. Cast: Eleanor Powell, Robert Young, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Rita Johnson, Clarence Kolb, Jo Ann Sayers, Ann Morriss, Ruth Hussey, Willie Ching, Sig Rumann, Eddie Anderson.

Robert Young—both of him, thanks to double exposure—gets on a merry-go-round of complications in a film that's meant for entertainment and serves its purpose. Young does double duty as a movie star seeking escape from crowds and as his physical twin from Hawaii's pineapple business. They exchange places for reasons only humorous if not exactly plausible, and often—

Well, Gracie Allen's around with typical chatter and her sidekick Burns, and there's Hawaiian music, and a good hard-working cast, and the first time in two years Eleanor Powell's dancer offers brilliant tap-dancing which still gains her acting aplomb in the good fun for a multitude of fans.

"Fisherman's Wharf," Screen play by Bernard Schubert, Isa Hunter, H. Clyde Lewis. Directed by Bernard Vorhaus. Cast: Bobs Breen, Leo Carrillo, Henry Armetta, Lee Patrick, Rosina Galli, Tommy Bupp, Leon Belasco, George Humbert, Slicker the Seal.

It's the authentic atmosphere of a picturesque segment of San Francisco that lifts this one above the standard Bobby Breen juvenile vehicle. Beautiful shots of the fishing boats, scenes of crowding near to pier are distinctive assets.

The simple story has Bobby happy home of Carrillo and Lee Patrick, a waif rescued by the interference of dead mother's widowed sister (Lee Patrick) and her fiancee (Kolb as "Tommy Bupp). Before schemes Patrick finishes, Bobby's dad (Carrillo) has broken with his old friend (Armetta) and housekeeper (Galli) and Bobby himself has run away from the home he's treasured.

There is heavy dependence on comedy and song and heart-throbs, and on the "Fisherman's Wharf" comes off as the Breen lad's best since Rainbow on the Rio. This is chiefly due to the regards Bobby's acting—pleasantly lacking in his old excessive "mugging."

WILL DEMAND A WESTERNER ON SUPREME BENCH

Senators Consider Successor to Brandeis

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—The retirement of Justice Louis O. Brandeis from the supreme court brought a chorus of senatorial demands today that a westerner be appointed to the seat he held for nearly 23 years.

Only one member of the court, western legislators pointed out, comes from beyond the Mississippi river. He is Justice Pierce Butler of Minnesota.

The 82-year-old Brandeis, whose shock of unruly iron-gray hair made him a picturesque figure on the bench, made known his decision to retire in a one-sentence note to President Roosevelt late yesterday.

An hour before, the venerable jurist had stepped down from his high-backed chair in a crowded courtroom for the last time. As he disappeared with his colleagues behind the heavy draperies, he gave no public indication that he never would return to his place at the left of Chief Justice Hughes.

The President, recuperating at the White House from the grippe, promptly penned a letter of regret, in which he said:

"This country has needed you through all these years, and I hope you will realize, as your old friends do, how unanimous the nation has been in its gratitude to you."

Congressional Tributes

Congressional tributes to Brandeis were general. In contrast to the furore aroused over his appointment by President Wilson in 1916, he was the first Jew to sit on the court and his critics had pictured him as a radical and a violent partisan. It was more than four months before the senate confirmed his nomination, 47 to 22.

In his long service, Brandeis consistently enunciated the rights of the common man and frequently supported social experimentation. He voted to sustain much of the New Deal legislation which a majority of the court held unconstitutional.

Mr. Roosevelt now is confronted with a half-dozen senate controversies over appointments to federal posts, and his designation of Brandeis' successor may show whether he intends to listen to senatorial recommendations. The appointment will be the President's fourth to the court.

Western senators are certain to look askance at any appointee who does not come from their region, and were quick to suggest candidates.

Possible Candidates

Senators Adams and Johnson, Colorado Democrats, declared their support of Federal Judge Sam Bratton of New Mexico. Senator Connally (D-Tex) said he would recommend Federal Circuit Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., of Texas, but added that Bratton "would be fine."

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) advocated appointment of Dean Wiley Rutledge of the University of Iowa law school, who was rejected or have been under consideration when Felix Frankfurter recently was selected to succeed the late Justice Cardozo.

Another name prominently mentioned was that of Justice Harold Stephens of the District of Columbia court of appeals. Stephens is a resident of Utah.

Administration senators said the President had been swayed in considering the last appointment by arguments for sectional representation, but had decided to appoint Frankfurter, a Harvard law professor, on the advice of Senator Norris (Ind-Neb).

Norris said today he did not think geographical questions were vitally important in the selection of justices, but predicted a westerner might be chosen.

There was some mention of Senators Schwellenbach (D-Wash) and Minton (D-Ind), both administration supporters, but neither had any comment.

Should the President again ignore sectional demands, there were reports he might consider Federal Judge Florence E. Allen of Ohio; Samuel Rosenman, and Ferdinand Pecora, New York supreme court justices; Attorney General Frank Murphy; Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson, and James M. Landis, dean of the Harvard law school.

Retires on Pension

There was speculation whether Justice James C. McReynolds, 77-year old dean of the court, might follow Brandeis into retirement.

(Under a law enacted two years ago, a justice who has served 10 years can retire after the age of 70 on his full pay of $20,000 a year.)

Brandeis gave no reason for his retirement, but it was assumed he had been motivated by advancing age and recent ill health. He has been intensely interested in the Zionist movement to establish a homeland for the Jews in Palestine, and presumably will devote much of his time to Jewish problems.

Brandeis earns little for Washington social life, but he and his wife entertain a number of friends each Sunday afternoon. He likes to talk with young people, and often starts conversations with strangers on the street in an effort to find out what the people are thinking about.

Two Major Decisions

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—Justice Louis D. Brandeis, who retired yesterday, delivered two of the supreme court's major decisions during the present term.

One of them gave the states virtually unlimited power to prevent sale of intoxicating liquors. The opinion upheld Michigan and Missouri laws barring importation of alcoholic beverages from other states which enact discriminatory legislation.

The other held that if a patented invention is applicable to different uses, the owner may restrict a licensee to a particular field and exclude the product from other uses.

NEW GERMAN BATTLESHIP IS CHRISTENED

Hitler Names Great Fighting Craft for Bismarck

Hamburg, Feb. 14—(AP)—Chancellor Hitler today gave Germany's new 35,000-ton battleship the name of Bismarck, the iron chancellor, declaring Bismarck stood forth from among all others who helped create the "preconditions for the present day greater Germany."

Hitler said the destruction of the German fleet after the world war "even today grips painfully at our hearts" and shouted that national socialism "tore the nation out of its rut and led it to new domestic and foreign successes."

For these successes he said, the nation owed deep gratitude to those creating the preconditions for the third reich.

He declared that Bismarck "not only created the German reich of his day, but also the conditions on which the present great German state of people could be reared."

Creator of Empire

Before 50,000 bellig Nazi dignitaries and on lookers at the Blohm and Voss shipyards Hitler seized the opportunity of picturing the creator of the German empire as much the same kind of a man as himself—destined by providence to be a lonely figure fighting against a world of obstacles.

"Everywhere the nonentities arose in opposition to the only genius of our people," he said.

"It was a fight which only he can appreciate who himself has been compelled to face such a world of obstacles."

The christening was performed by Countess Dorothea von Loewenfeld, granddaughter of Bismarck.

An honor guard of marines was received by the chancellor as he approached the "speakers' stand.

"From the very day of our taking over power," he said, "there began a recreation of German armed forces with the aid of which security of existence was to be vouchsafed for our people.

"As the sharpest instrument of war it is to take under its protection—the peace of true justice."

Historical

The Fuehrer then declared that Nazism had evolved a "spiritual philosophy and organization for destroying from now on and for all future time the enemies of the reich," and continued:

"As Fuehrer of the German people I can say this ship no better historical name than that of the man who, as a true knight without fear or blame, was the creator of the German reich whose resurrection from direst need and whose wonderful accretion providence now has permitted us to achieve.

"May the spirit of the iron chancellor descend upon the German sailors and officers who have the honor to man this ship."

Hitler's reference to the destruction of the German fleet after the world war was to the scuttling of the ships by their officers as they were interned at Scapa Flow, coast of Scotland, June 21, 1919. his mother's birthday and also the

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Feb. 14—(AP)—Stocks found the going a bit heavy in today's market after the week-end holiday period, though not enough to cause any serious disturbance. Transfers approximated 450,000 shares for the two hours, one of the smallest turnovers since last September.

Brokers were somewhat distracted by the refusal of the list to respond more forcibly to a fairly good brand of domestic business news. Also in this week's docket are operations of 14 points to $40 per cent capacity for the steel industry, a peak not better than anticipated, helped steel stock moderately. Chrysler and Bethlehem stiffened after an early dip.

Bonds were irregularly lower. Commodities and leaders after a firmish start. Wheat at Chicago was up 1-8 cent, of a cent a bushel and corn unchanged to 1-8 cent higher. Cotton was steady, up 15 to 45 cents a bale.

Foreign securities markets were mixed. The Holland guilder turned soft on European currency transactions. Sterling and the French franc were a shade improved in terms of the dollar. The mid-afternoon rate for the former at $4.68 and the latter at 2.64, cents.

North Atlantic Taking Heavier Toll Than Usual

Goat Goes for Cigaret

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—A bitterly cold week-end weather report today indicated the north Atlantic was claiming its usual heavy toll of winter's annual ferocity.

The worst disaster of the week-end was the sinking of the Norwegian freighter Mosdale with a crew of 37 while four steamships battled mountainous seas in her distress calls. Only a field of wreckage was found by searchers 1,200 miles east of Newfoundland.

Although the coast guard received reports of severe blow of the Canadian schooner Louise Marie Barnes attracted much attention, one she was one of the few windjammers. She has sails instead of engines and is manned by a crew of 8. A town found her helpless and finished her.

Boston fishing trawler Invader, one of Atlantic Coast Line's last deep sea vessels, was reported in distress. The New York fishing vessel Sailfish ran aground on Sandy Hook Bar after her crew had abandoned attempts to save her. Coast guard sands trapped British motor ship Lutzen and held her fast until the sea could pound her to pieces. One of Lutzen's crew perished in the surf.

The January storm also claimed the Norwegian tanker Jaguar, which broke in two in mid-Atlantic. Another vessel picked her crew up but left one to February 7 the Indianapolis, reported that the after section of the tanker still remained afloat a menace to navigation.

Three of the American tanker Lightburne is held fast on Block Island's reefs, but reported to be safe though a thrilling rescue by the coast guard.

Reiniche Death Due to Heart Failure

The inquest into the death of John Reiniche, 52-year old employe of Lehigh Stone company who dropped dead at the office yesterday morning, was conducted at the court house this morning by Coroner A. E. Kreiger.

The verdict of the inquest jury was heart failure.

The witnesses were the widow, Dr. J. A. Guertin, Leonard A. LaRoche of 495 South Elm avenue, the stone company's superintendent; August Kirkman of 415 North Seventh avenue, and Raymond Cossh of Union Hill, fellow employes of the deceased.

The latter two testified that Reiniche seemed in good health when he arrived at work this morning and was not engaged in heavy work.

The stone company was represented at the inquest by Attorney Irwin Taylor.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from Herbst Memorial temple with Rev. Dore N. Esterbrook, pastor of the First Evangelical church officiating. Interment will be in Maplewood cemetery. Bonfield.

Reiniche was born Feb 21 1884 in Limestone township and was married July 5, 1913 to Rosella Fowler at Kankakee. He was employed at Lehigh the past 26 years.

Surviving besides the widow are sons Robert, Lester, LeRoy and Charles; daughters Dorothy and Mildred; brothers Frank, Jose, Arthur, Raymond and Herbert; sisters Mrs. Anna Moody, Mrs. Ida Altenbrum and Mrs. Sadie Cahan.

The body will remain at Hertz temple for visitation and friends today afternoon and evening and until the service.

Appropriation Bill Introduced Today Introduced Today

Springfield, Ill. Feb. 14—(AP)—The University of Illinois appropriation bill, which would provide $18,915,500 for operation during the next two fiscal years, was introduced in the legislature today.

Sponsors in the house were Everett R. Peters (R-Ill) Champaign-Charles W. Clausen (R-Champaign and Tom M. Garman (D-Champaign) members of the board of the Champaign district.

The bill would provide $2,751,900 more than the 1937-39 biennium appropriation.

Senator W. E. C. Clifford (D-Champaign) planned to introduce an identical bill in the senate this afternoon.

The bill introduced contained the estimates approved Saturday in Chicago by the university board of trustees after it had rejected proposals that it be reduced further. The trustees said two cuts totaling $1,950,000 had been made from the budget originally submitted.

President A. C. Willard said after Friday's session: "The budget is now cut to the bone. Any further reductions might interfere seriously with the operation of the school."

The appropriation bill includes provision of $250,000 for a new women's dormitory. Other expenses anticipated in the bill itself are $1,000,000 for improvements under an act of 1937; $1,000,000 for new equipment; $1,085,000; permanent improvements, $2,225,000; re-appropriated federal funds, $250,656; interest on endowment fund, $64,902, and university revolving fund, $4,200,000.

Japanese Forces Landed at Hainan

Hongkong, Feb. 14—P—Japanese naval and aviation units landed today at Yulinkan at the southeast tip of Hainan island, near Hainan's British and French neighbors, Japanese announced in a speech at Tunin near the French frontier, next Sunday.

It was interpreted that Mussolini, feeling that Italy's position has been strengthened by Nationalist victories in Spain, pointed out to the world and to know the nature of Italy's "natural aspirations" in the Mediterranean, especially in North Africa.

The death of Pope Pius XI and the pope's concerning peace and successor will not affect his plans seriously, these sources believe.

Italy's influential Count Ciano would emphasize three points in presenting Italy's claims against France:

1. That due to population growth it is necessary that France cede to Italy control of the French protectorate of Tunisia "with sufficient guarantees for Italian self-benefit."

2 That Italian empire requirements necessitate Italian participation in administration of the Suez canal, and,

3. That the French port of Djibouti, capital of French Somaliland, forms a logical and geographical part of Italian East Africa.

Missouri Ready to Try Woman on Charge of Murder

St. Louis, Feb. 14—P—The state prepared today for testimony in the murder trial of Mrs. Elda Shupeky who admitted that she killed her sweetly largely on circumstantial evidence in an effort to link her with the slaying of her mother.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Henry Lee Dowd told prospective jurors the state had no direct testimony, since Mrs. Trulove and her only witness, Mrs. Trulove's son present in the family home when her mother, Mrs. Caroline Hulsiepk, was shot and fatally wounded last May 31.

Mrs. Shupeky, 47 years old, was the widow of "Col." Abe Shupeky, picturesque Republican politician who died in October, 1936, making her the beneficiary of a $149,000 trust estate. Mrs. Dowd's wife of a railroad telegraph operator at Rosclare, Ill., and mother of two children now shares the income with her four brothers.

At the time of the shooting, Mrs. Trulove told police she was asleep in the house, heard the shot and rushed to find her mother's body lying in the hall. Mrs. Shupeky, who died June 11 of a wound in the abdomen, said she did not see the assailant.

The fatal bullet has never been found. A few months ago, when workmen began removing the wallpaper in the room to make room for a small restaurant, a tenant reported finding a bullet hole in one discharged cartridge was found under the staircase.

In qualifying a panel of 47 veniremen yesterday for the trial in Circuit Judge Edward M. Riddick's court, Simpson excused all those who said they had a conscientious objection to capital punishment. Dowd explained, under the charge, the state would be prepared to vote for life imprisonment or the death penalty for Mrs. Duke if they convicted her.

Indicating the defense, Mrs. Duke's attorney stated early in the session: "You wouldn't convict this woman on suspicion, would you?"

Il Duce Will Define Demands on France in Address Sunday

Rome, Feb. 14—UP—It was represented in diplomatic circles today that Italy's expected demands against France would be defined by Premier Benito Mussolini in a speech at Turin near the French frontier, next Sunday.

It was interpreted that Mussolini, feeling that Italy's position has been strengthened by Nationalist victories in Spain, planned to let the world know the nature of Italy's "natural aspirations" in the Mediterranean, especially in North Africa.

The death of Pope Pius XI and the pope's concerning peace and successor will not affect his plans seriously, these sources believe.

Italy's influential Count Ciano would emphasize three points in presenting Italy's claims against France:

1. That due to population growth it is necessary that France cede to Italy control of the French protectorate of Tunisia "with sufficient guarantees for Italian self-benefit."

227 Cases of Flu and 452 Pneumonia Reported in State

Springfield, Ill. Feb. 14—(AP)—The state health department reported today that for the statistical week ended yesterday 227 cases of influenza and 451 cases of pneumonia were officially reported in Illinois.

The pneumonia prevalence was described as moderate in the report, which added:

The records at hand give no evidence of an unusual epidemic situation as to influenza and pneumonia in Illinois, although upper respiratory infections are widespread.

Investigations by state district health superintendents of the respiratory diseases reported in the newspapers recently have indicated a fairly fatality rate.

Danville and Champaign, two of the 10 cooperative cities which had waves of colds and kindred ailments reported 57 and six cases of influenza respectively, the report said.

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER IX

People brushed past Susie as she waited for the Chicago bus scarcely without knowing she was there. They looked through and around and over her, not once directly at her. And absolutely never had she been granted that second, flattering glance. Never having had attention she did not miss it, had not the confidence to say to herself, "You'll look at me the next time I pass this way." In fact she did not believe it. Susie's dream was not one of envy, merely that the pain of homeliness might be lifted a little.

She wore a dark blue suit, the skirt of which came almost to her ankles. The ill-fitting jacket hunched at her shoulders and broke at the waistline. Her hat was just a hat, dark felt, up in the back, down in the front, too round, too flat, too everything. She wore black fabric gloves and heavy, mannish shoes. In a side pocket of her worn purse, wrapped in tissue, lay her most treasured possession. A little silver compact with a fraternity emblem on one side. It had never been used. It was a symbol of tragedy, but Susie loved it. The trifle proved that she gone to a party with Dick Tremaine.

The bus, easing into the depot, lumbered no more than did Susie as she climbed aboard. During the long ride to Chicago she was able to relax, her taut nerves lightened with every mile, she had panicky moments when she was safely in her room and the Waffle Shoppe seemed more to be desired than dubious adventure.

And there were moments of lightness, when her spirit surged forward to meet what was to come, when her heart thudded and her eyes shone. On one of these careless moments she alighted in Chicago. She was not without a sense of humor and, having had little opportunity to exercise it, she grew a bit hysterical contemplating her position. Suppose someone asked her where she was going? Suppose she answered that she was on her way to become beautiful? A laugh rose in her throat, a choked, rather pitiful laugh.

She looked vaguely about. Mr. Harker had said she would be met. How would they know her? She and Mr. Harker should have arranged a system of signals, or she should have worn a white carnation. Again the demoralizing laugh rose in her throat. It was so much like a sob. Susie shed her handkerchief.

But at that moment a young man breezed out of the crowd. He had red hair and very blue eyes. His eyes were smiling. He was vaguely familiar. Snatching off his hat, he held out a hand.

"How do you do, Miss Lambert," he said cordially. "I'm Jeff Bowman. Mr. Harker sent me down to meet you."

Susie took him her hand, stammering a greeting, trying to remember where she had seen him.

"How about baggage," he said, reaching for her rattan suitcase.

"That's all," she managed to say. She was hot and cold by turns and dreadfully embarrassed. Jeff went on being friendly, appearing not to notice her confusion.

He said, "I leaned my car against a curb somewhere around here. Let's see if we can find it."

His easy manner relaxed her. Hysteria tended to abate and she exhaled a deep sighing breath. He smiled down at her. "That's right—unite the blues. You're among friends."

She glanced at him sidewise from her long eyes. The day was to come when that sidelong glance of Susie's was to be quite devastating. At that moment it did nothing to see the young man beside her.

"Now I know who you are, she said, quite spontaneously for Susie. "You came in the waffle shop looking for a Lambert family."

He laughed pleasantly. "Pooled you, didn't I?"

"Pooled me."

He told her seriously, "I was sleuthing—being a cover-up man—looking for you. If everything else fails I can be a detective."

Susie thought this over. When she spoke it was to make one of the first clever remarks of her life. "I guess you were boy scouting," she said. "I was your good deed for that."

Jeff's brows shot up. Not so bad. Maybe she did have something hidden under the pounds.

"I take it you wanted to come," he remarked.

"I had to come," she said simply. "I'm so tired of being myself, so sick of me." With a little impulse rush she asked, "Do you think Mr. Harker can make me someone else?"

Right then Jeff saw her as an individual, not merely a subject for the Chief's well-meant experiments. And right then Jeff liked Susie. Perhaps she knew it without knowing it. Perhaps his friendliness was the first crack in the wedge which was to break through her inhibitions. Perhaps the fates had put a finger on Jeff Bowman.

They found the automobile and Susie got in. Jeff sat down beside her.

"I'm taking you home to dinner with me," he said as they drove out through Lincoln Park. "My mother wants to meet you. You'll like her, she's swell."

"That's nice," Susie said, a little dull in her voice. No one had ever wanted to meet her before. Then she remembered and laughed. At the laugh Jeff shot her an amazed glance. The laugh was musical. It was incongruous, it affected him as Susie's singing had affected her professor.

"What's funny?" he asked.

"I was think that naturally your mother would want to meet me. Anyone would want to meet a poor fool." She said it quite good-naturedly. Susie's sense of humor was coming out at the dark by leaps and bounds.

"Boy," Jeff growled, "cut out that kind of talk. You're lucky. Just plain lucky to be elected."

A shudder of fear ran the length of Susie's spine. "I'm scared, Mr. Bowman. This thing is too fantastic to believe. You and I know that I'm impossible. Mr. Harker will see it in the morning and send me back home. I'm not afraid of what he's going to do, it's what he will refuse to do." This was a long, involved speech for Susie.

"You don't know John Harker. He won't send you home. If there's anything he likes it's a battle." Jeff bhused. "I didn't mean that just the way it sounds—"

Susie laughed again, a soft tinkle. "Well find a use on his hands when he tackles me," she said.

Jeff wanted to reassure her. He wanted to tell her that she wasn't so bad. Honesty kept him silent. Bad? She was terrible. Slumped beside him, stringy hair hanging from below her hat, eyebrows flaring out pugnaciously, idiotic button of a nose. Jeff humorously decided the Chief had better junk her and start all over.

On one point Jeff was pleased. Susie Lambert was not stupid. Knowing little of girls and caring less, he had a strong conviction that beauty and attractiveness must come from within. Allure must have something behind it. It was ridiculous as to Susie's possibilities for even a mild beauty, he already knew that she had something.

NAZI REFUGEE QUESTION MAY SOLVE PROBLEM

Possible Return of Ambassador Wilson to Berlin

Washington Feb. 14.—(U.P.)—Possible recall of Ambassador Hugh Wilson from Berlin is now officially the view of the United States government, with the exception of the chief executive himself.

Wilson was called to Washington for report and consultation following the outbreak of anti-Semitic demonstrations in Germany.

It is said reliably today, however, that there was nothing immediate in his return. Study must be made of the German reprisals, the manner in which they are carried out.

Hull Silent

Secretary Hull, whether Wilson goes or not back to Berlin, declines to say. Hull said he knew nothing on the subject.

It is said the arrangement reaching Hubler with German authorities was a substantial recognition of the need for orderly emigration of present chaotic conditions.

Hubler got the German government to agree that Jewish refugees may emigrate now through a fund created from Jewish property. They would pay their passage and give them money for the present and necessary to support the countries of their destination.

The plan would guarantee older Jews against further anti-Jewish action, while the emigration is spread over a period of years to give time for the countries to absorb them.

MEMORIES RICH AT 100

Stafford, N. H. Feb. 14.—(UP)—In celebrating her 100th birthday, Mrs. Mary J. Cummings of Stafford, N. H., today had only good things to say about life. "I've had a good life and I've enjoyed everything," she told her visitors as she had voted for every presidential candidate since woman suffrage was granted. She also went through the great Civil War.

BIRDS SWITCH CHURCH—

Paducah, Ky.—(U.P.)—INS—Religious affiliation means nothing to a bird, especially when he is under sunrise. Paducah authorities recently agreed to help get rid of pigeons which had become a celestial nuisance around a Presbyterian church. Squirrel hunters have shotguns the birds took hurried leaves of absence.

But, they didn't fly far—no farther than the towers of St. Francis de Sales Catholic church where they found safe refuge.

LIMIT M. D. LICENSES

Jerusalem—INS—The Palestine government is to grant only 60 medical licenses to doctors of non-Palestinian nationality during 1939 it was announced by the high commissioner, Sir Harold MacMichael.

The ordinance was enacted because of the large influx of refugee doctors from Central Europe to Eastern Europe most of whom are here to earn a living outside the medical profession.

Sherman—the Fighting Old General

SUCCESSFUL lawyer, banker, railroad president, William Tecumseh Sherman had retired from the army 11 years when the Civil War broke in 1861. But the secession was enough to bring him back, as a red-headed, sharp-eyed Ohioan at once obtained a commission as colonel of a regular army regiment. He took part in the first big engagement of the Civil War, commanding a brigade at the battle of Bull Run.

Next, as brigadier general, he was given command of the department of the Cumberland in the west, only to lose it because his utter frankness enraged press and politicians. But the battle of Shiloh showed Sherman's true mettle and returned him to high influence.

In that battle Sherman, who commanded a leading division, was twice wounded and had three horses shot down under him. Grant particularly praised Sherman's brave leadership and from that date he became the general's chief lieutenant. The confidence was mutual.

His service at Vicksburg and Chattanooga, as well as his march to Mississippi and the raising of Longstreet's siege of Knoxville, his famous 1000-mile march across Georgia to the sea, were major factors in northern victory. Finally, Sherman forced the surrender of the Confederates under General Johnston. Later, when Grant became President, Sherman was named general in command of all the armies. He is shown above on a stamp of the issue of 1890, 8-cent value, enlarged.

Chicago, Feb. 14—(AP)—The Big Ten basketball race apparently had narrowed down to Indiana, league leader, Ohio State and Purdue—the only three teams which have lost less than three games.

The Hoosiers racked up their fifth straight victory last night, Chicago's cellar-dwelling Maroons being the victim, 46 to 33. Purdue blasted Minnesota out of the title picture for the time being at least, with a 30 to 29 decision.

Northwestern continued to display an improved team in winning over Wisconsin, 37 to 27, and Illinois dumped Michigan farther into second division with a 35 to 28 victory.

It's 6th for Indiana

Indiana's triumph was its sixth in seven league games and gave the Hoosiers another boost toward the title, with Northwestern and Iowa their next opponents. Ohio State was idle, thereby hanging onto second place in front of Illinois and Purdue, tied for third.

Illinois and Minnesota have dropped three games apiece and have only an outside chance to regain a contending position in the championship race.

The hapless Chicago team gave Indiana a stiff fight all the way, trailing by only two points with five minutes to play, but in that period the visitors poured four field goals through the hoop and won going away.

Purdue Impressive

Purdue was especially impressive in holding the Gophers to a scant 30 points, Gordon Addington, forward, taking high point honors for the losers with only eight counters. The Boilermakers, last season's champion, have jumped from a tie for ninth place to a tie for third place in eight days.

All three of the top-ranking contenders face second division opposition Saturday, Indiana entertains a dangerous Northwestern team, Ohio State takes on Iowa at home and Purdue plays at Wisconsin. The other week-end game brings together Michigan and Chicago on the latter's home floor.

Wilson Will Catch if Reds Need Him

Bradenton, Fla., Feb. 14—(AP)—Jimmy Wilson said today he'd leave the coaching box and don mask and mitt again if his new team, Cincinnati, needs him.

Striding into the clubhouse after the first game of the training season, the former manager of Philadelphia's National league club was anxious to talk baseball.

"I'm tickled to death with my new place," he declared, "but any local members of the squad were hit by the current influenza wave . . ."

25 SCRAPS ON CHARITY FIGHT TOURNEY CARD

With a complete list of officials, final sanction from the A. A. U., and other last-minute business completed, members of the Exchange club were prepared today for the biggest sports promotion they have ever attempted—the staging of an amateur boxing tournament starting tonight in the armory at 7:30 o'clock.

Fifty-six entries were in the hands of the commission last night, and at least ten more were expected to be handed over today, swelling the list to over 65. With that many fighters, the club anticipates 20 to 25 bouts tonight, at least 20 more in the armory tomorrow night and then 16 for the final night Saturday.

Winners to Danville

The 16 Saturday winners, eight in the open class and the same number in the novice division, will be sent into the inter-city finals in Danville next Tuesday night where the novice swingers will be battling for the honors of the night, and the open pugilists will be seeking possible national recognition. The eight Danville open winners go into the Chicago stadium for the tournament of champions late this month.

Amateur fighters from all over this section of the state sail into competition tonight with the bulk of the fisticuffers coming from Kankakee. Leading the large list are George Dion, rugged middleweight who is a popular pugilistic figure in this sector, and Andy Franks, featherweight stylist, who is unbeaten in Kankakee shows this season.

It Has Charity Angle

Although the sight of combat and the possible slam-banging that may emerge from the battling is a great lure to Kankakee's boxing gentry, another important factor in the Exchange club's show is the charity angle. Complete profits of the three nights, after expenses have been paid, are poured into the club's fund to obtain eye-glasses for underprivileged Kankakee children.

The officials announced today are:

Judges: Anker Jensen, Jimmy Lamb, Veigh McIntyre, and Stanley McBroom.

Timers: Joe Richerts and John Lyons.

Examining physician: Drs. Horowitz and Neff.

Referees: "Toots" Gagnier of Kankakee, assisted by several Chicago officials to be named late today.

A. A. U. commissioner: P. A. VanDerBoncoeur of Kankakee.

Seconds: Howard Nevan, Russell Reimers, Russell Kamp, and Westerfield Million.

Leighton Captures Crown for Skating

Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 14—(AP)—Charles Leighton of Minneapolis is rapidly becoming one of America's top-ranking speed skating stars.

Added to the races that won him a place on the 1940 Olympic team, Leighton won the North American senior men's championship yesterday.

Leighton piled up a total of 116 points to capture the three-day meet and dethrone Vic Ronchetti of Chicago who finished in second place for third place with Kenny Batchelomer of Minneapolis and Eddie Schroeder of Chicago.

Finishing second behind Leighton was Dudley Lamb of Milwaukee, another Olympic team member who was tied for the lead at the start of the final days events. Lamb scored a total of 89 points.

BLIND MATMAN ON ILLINI SQUAD KEEPS PACE WITH TEAMMATES

Urbana, Ill. Feb. 14—(AP)—The boys trying to make the freshman wrestling team at the Unigersity of Illinois don't pay much attention to the tall dark-haired chap anymore, he's just one of them and considered a good fellow too.

The casual spectator may think he moves through his practice routine with exaggerated slowness, but then he has a pretty good reason. He's blind.

He's All-Around Athlete

Art Lehde is 26 years old and that's rather ancient for a college freshman, but he has been out of school since the Neshkoro, Ill., high school handed him a diploma in 1931. He was an athlete, there, playing football and basketball and was captain of the 1931 track team, for which he ran the mile and threw the shot.

Four years later, while at home in Beaucoup, Ill., an automobile accident sent flying glass into Lehde's eyes, blinding him. Two operations have failed to help.

A scholarship for the blind let him enroll at the university, where

Seabiscuit Starts Today in Handicap for Purse of $2000

Los Angeles, Feb. 14—(AP)—Seabiscuit, reigning king of the turf and winter book favorite in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap which he lost by only a nose, headed a three-horse field nominated for a $2,000 handicap today at one mile.

Various other candidates for the Santa Anita, the country's richest horse race, were scheduled to add action in the event at a mile and one-sixteenth.

A sloppy track twice has delayed Seabiscuit's 1939 debut at Santa Anita. With fair weather promised, the strip today was expected to be fast. No rain has fallen for almost a week.

Opposing C. S. Howard's 'Biscuit were Marica, the champion mare owned by Tom Taggart, and Neil S. McCarthy's Today. The racing secretary assigned Seabiscuit 128 pounds, Marica 113 and Today 104. Handicappers established the champion an odds-on favorite, predicting he might be as low as 1-10 by post time.

It will be the Howard pride's first start since last fall, when he whipped War Admiral by four lengths at Pimlico.

Rochester—Jack Matheson, 154, Hamilton, Ont., knocked out Walter Barnes, Pittsburgh (2).

Toronto—Dave Castilloux, 122, Montreal, outpointed Phil Zwicker, 128 3-4, Milwaukee, (10).

4 Tied for Hockey Score Lead With 32

Montreal, Feb. 14—(UP)— Four players were tied today for scoring honors in the National hockey league.

Johnny Gottselig, Chicago; Toe Blake, Montreal; Syl Apps, Toronto, and Dave Schriner, the New York Americans, were deadlocked at 32 points.

Newark—Maurice Strickland, 193, New Zealand, knocked out Frank Donofrio, 179, Philadelphia, (1).

KANKAKEE, BRADLEY QUINTS IN HOME BASKET BATTLES TONIGHT

Two high school basketball games share the sports spotlight on the opening of the Exchange club's amateur boxing tournament tonight in the armory.

Kankakee high school, like many other institutions about the country has been hit by the influenza wave for tonight's game at home with St. Anne, an non-conference foe but a rival of the first water. Duane Snyder, Bob Spangler, and Johnny Burton, all reliable Kankakee cagers, were uncertain players today because of a touch of influenza.

Kankakee and St. Anne heavyweights come together at 8:30 o'clock, following a preliminary that sets St. Anne seconds and Kankakee lightweights at 7:30 o'clock. Kankakee will be seeking to avenge the recent 15 to 14 licking St. Anne hung on the Kays.

Bradley's Title Chance

The other prep encounter slated for this vicinity tonight involves Bradley's formidable five which aims to win its second undisputed Kankakee Valley championship. A win over Grant Park in Bradley gym tonight, the game starting at 8:30 o'clock, will accomplish that matter for Pete Laffey's boys, who have won nine straight conference contests and 21 of their 22 struggles of the current campaign. The seconds of both schools come together an hour earlier in a conference preliminary.

Both Bradley and Kankakee, as well as St. Patrick, have other engagements this week. Bradley travels to St. Anne Friday night to attempt to avenge St. Anne its first home defeat of the season, while Kankakee journeys to Harvey to play Thornton . . . Thornton is tied with Bloom of Chicago Heights for the South Suburban league. St. Patrick entertains Catholic Central of Hammond, Ind., in the armory Friday night.

DiMaggio Seeking $10,000 Pay Boost

New York, Feb. 14—(UP)— Nine of the most important names were missing today from the roster of the New York Yankees who have signed and returned their 1939 contracts.

Headed by Centerfielder Joe DiMaggio, who is reported asking a $10,000 increase to his $25,000 salary last year, the unsigned group include Catcher Bill Dickey, reported asking $20,000; Shortstop Frank Crosetti; Third Baseman Red Rolfe; Second Baseman Joe Gordon; Outfielder Tommy Henrich, and Pitchers Red Ruffing, Monte Pearson and Spud Chandler.

The signed members of the club increased to 20 yesterday with receipt of contracts from three rookies —Outfielders Charlie Keller and Walter Judnich, and Pitcher Marvin Bruer.

Terwilliger Leads I.I.C. Cage Scoring

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 14—(AP)—Northern State Teachers, leading the Illinois Intercollegiate conference cage race, added to their laurels last week by taking over the top three spots in the individual scoring contest.

The high-scoring Teacher players jumped ahead of George Welborn, Southern State Teachers center, the leader a week ago, who was idle all week.

Bill Terwilliger, center, is first with 83 points, two more than John Young, forward, and five more than Ray Peppler, the other strong forward on the Northern five.

Claude Shelton, Calthage forward, in fifth place behind Welborn, owns the best per-game average having tallied 13.8 points in each of five starts.

State Normal, the five pushing Northern for league leadership, has

U. S. FIGHT FANS CURIOUS ABOUT TONY'S ABILITY

By GAYLE TALBOT

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 14—(AP)—The most amazing thing I've run into on this trip is the tremendous popular interest in Tony Galento. If one person has asked me "can that bum really fight?" there have been a hundred.

It amazed me particularly because around New York we had about decided that the country as a whole was fed up on reading about the East Orange, N. J., fat boy. The series of odorous fights he had engaged in this winter, climaxed by the Nattie Brown affair in Detroit, had caused us to decide on a virtual Galento moratorium until Tony fought a real fighter.

But it's no use. Through six or seven states the conversation almost invariably has come around to this: "So you've seen this Tony Galento fight? Can he fight, or is he just a joke, like some of the fellows make out? Has he got a chance of whipping Joe Louis?"

Gayle is Puzzled

I'll be doggoned if I know how good a fighter Galento is.

Tony is a good friend of mine. In fact, we were out on the hot beach together today arguing about whether he has a chance of beating Joe Louis.

I told him about the number of persons who were interested in his fighting ability. That didn't surprise him. I asked him for once to get serious and not give me that same line about I'll knock out dat bum.

"All right," he consented. "I'll tell you serious. I can take anything Joe Louis can give me in that stomach. I got muscles in that stomach from when I was an iceman and I used to go running up two flights of steps with two 50-pound chunks of ice held up in my arms. Louis can't hurt me there. All I can say about him knockin' me out is that I've been knocked off my feet yet by much less knocked out.

"Now, you tell me whether Joe Louis can take this left of mine when I sink it in his belly like this." He sank a left deep into my chest and I'll knock him out if they give me that fight next June."

'Louis Can't Take It'

That's Tony's fairly serious answer.

Queried next for an "honest answer," Tony's manager, Joe Jacobs declared:

"I still say Louis can't take it. Jacobs claims he saw a spot of abject fear in Louis' eyes the night Max Schmeling hammered the present champ to the canvas.

And I think maybe he is sincere in believing that Galento can win the title if given the chance.

Does that clear up the Galento situation any? Probably not.

This much I'll say for sure. fat Tony really can fight. He doesn't need to be fed hasbeens.

Buc Chief Denies Pirates Are Hit by Pay Troubles

Pittsburgh, Feb. 14—(AP)—Bill Benswanger, head man of the Pittsburgh Pirates "positively" today talk that the failure of seven players to sign 1939 contracts meant football trouble.

Sixteen members of the Pirate team that collapsed in the closing days of the 1938 National league pennant chase to give the Cubs the championship have signed, but Benswanger still has to enlist, among others, the "Polson Twins," Outfielders Paul and Lloyd Waner.

Captain Gus Suhr, who holds down first base, Utility Infielder Bill Brubaker and Pitchers Jim Tobin, Eddie Brandt and Bill Swift also have not accepted Pirate terms.

The deadline for signing contracts is Wednesday, "but it doesn't mean a thing," Benswanger said, adding the failure to sign was "routine," a seasonal haggling over terms that "are ironed out after negotiations."

Furthermore, the Bucaneers are going to be "right up there in the 1939 pennant race, he said.

HIGH PURPOSES OF FREEDOM IN U.S. UNDERMINED

Former President Delivers Stirring Address

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

New York, Feb. 14—(AP)—In a speech recalling his own efforts to meet "the storm of 1929," Herbert Hoover last night summoned the Republican party to a three-fold mission, including preservation of "Peace for America," in which he said lay its greatest opportunity since Abraham Lincoln."

Keynoting the 53rd annual Lincoln day dinner of the National Republican club—at which Republican leaders from as far west as Colorado spoke—the only living ex-president made his most vigorous attack since 1936 upon the Roosevelt administration.

The "great resolves" of the Republican party other than peace, he said, must be "economic restoration" and preservation of the country's "high purposes" of freedom which "are being undermined by the policies now pursued at home and by alien theories from abroad."

Hoover appeared on the platform with a long list of party dignitaries. The second seat of honor was occupied by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate of last year. He was introduced but did not speak.

Victory Through Unity

The Hoover address was delivered amid general predictions of others who shared the platform with him that the Republicans would win the presidency in 1940; and stretched behind him was a great banner reading: "1940 victory, through unity."

Hoover devoted much of his address to developing the assertion that the Republican party was the party of "true liberalism." From this he went on to say that it was his own Republican administration which, in 1930, was "the first to announce the national obligation that no American through no fault of his own should go hungry or cold, and first to organize nation-wide relief for the unemployed."

"And," he said amid shouts from the ballroom where he spoke before a crowd officially estimated at some 2,000, "it organized relief in a fashion which excluded corruption, waste and demoralization of community responsibility. And it is high time to return to a system that does not play politics with human misery."

Other major speakers included Gov. Julius P. Heil of Wisconsin.

"The people of Wisconsin," said Governor Heil, "and the people of this country are tired of family dynasties in government."

"There is no place nor need in America," he added, "today or ever, for one man government. What we need is more representative government; better representative government."

FIRE TRUCK DISPLAY

Portland, Ore.—(INS)—It was a great day for the natives when seven shiny new fire trucks streaked through the city streets and screeched to a stop at a six-story structure.

The only catch was that there was no smoke billowing from the building. The structure was the fire department's training tower and it was all a show for visiting firemen from other cities invited to inspect Portland's new fire equipment.

FAMILY TRADES

Eagle Bridge, N. Y.—(INS)—Eagle Bridge boasts of having two sets of three brothers, the members of each group being engaged in the same line of work. The three Boses brothers, Forerst, Hugh and Lloyd, are engaged in the operation of the Moses Farms and many leased acres, and the three Curtis brothers, Leo J., Michael and Edward, are all rural mail carriers.

—FAIR WARNING

Roseburg, Ore.—(INS)—Fire fenders at Judge Carl E. Wimberly's circuit court are given a personally-conducted tour through the state penitentiary as an object lesson. Judge Wimberly found out this was the best method to cure youthful lawbreakers from future tendencies.
