COL. E. M. HOUSE IS DEAD AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Friend and Adviser
of Late President
Wilson
WIDELY KNOWN

New York, March 28.—(AP)—Col. Edward M. House, internationally known as a close adviser to President Woodrow Wilson during the trying world war era, died today after a long illness. He was 79 years old.

Colonel House's physicians said several weeks ago he was "falling steadily" and that death was only a matter of time. He was suffering from a complication of ailments.

Only members of his family, including the widow, were with him when he died. His daughter, Mrs. Gordon Auchincloss, and her husband also were there.

For many years, Colonel House was active in affairs of the Democratic party. He climaxed this activity when he became the personal representative of President Wilson to European governments in 1914, 1915 and 1916.

Represented U. S.
In 1917, President Wilson appointed Col. House to gather and organize data to be used at the eventual peace conference, and he served as special representative of this country at the inter-allied conference of premiers and foreign ministers, held in Paris, Nov. 29, 1917.

He effected a more complete coordination of the activities of the entire co-belligerents for the prosecution of the war.

He again represented the president in the supreme war council at Versailles, Dec. 1917, and on Oct. 17, 1918, he was designated to act for the United States in the negotiation of an armistice with the central powers.

Col. House has been in semi-retirement in recent years.
The end, Col. House believed in the League of Nations, insisting it held the greatest possibilities for solving many of the world's problems. Only last year he gave his opinion that the United States would have joined the league if Wilson had retained his health.

The so-called "little gray man from Texas" always treasured the memory of his friendship with Wilson. He could never understand the sudden schism that disrupted their comradeship through the war years, and spoke of it as a "tragic mystery."

"My separation from Woodrow Wilson," he wrote, "is a mystery that now can never be dispelled, for it lies buried with him."

Physician Loses Suit for Services

A suit by A. L. Nickerson, Kankakee physician, against Leroy Arsenau, also of Kankakee, heard recently in county court, was decided in favor of Arsenau today by Judge John H. Beckers.

Arsenau, while not admitting a $55 claim dating from 1931 for professional services, in addition claimed that it would be "outlawed" by the statute of limitations. The physicians asserted that the account was reinstated by a $3 payment in July of 1937.

Arsenau was represented by Attorney Francis J. Householder and the physician by Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro.

Pleads For Release of Levine Boy

New York, March 28.—(AP)—Guarding "complete safety" to "the person who will deal with me," Murray Levine, father of kidnapped Peter Levine, 12, made another appeal today to his son's captors to get in touch directly with him.

In a written statement sent to newspapers Levine said:
"I want to say to the kidnappers, if my boy is still alive, get in touch with me direct. I can be found at my office every day and at home every morning. Or get in touch with one of my relatives or friends whose names my boy can furnish, or send to me a person of your own choosing."

"I solemnly repeat the assurance I have so often given, the police and federal authorities will permit me to deal with the kidnappers without interference and they will not follow me or any go-between. I guarantee complete safety to the person who will deal with me."

He said police interference heretofore had not been premeditated and that failure to contact and pay ransom was due to unfortunate mishaps.

Young Levine was kidnapped from near his New Rochelle home February 24.

OFFERS TO PAY ENTIRE AMOUNT MINUS INTEREST

Proposal Is Sent To Congress Without
Recommendation

A RELIEF LOAN

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt sent to congress today, without recommendation other than for "most careful consideration," Hungary's proposal for settling its debt to the United States.

Hungary offered February 23 to pay the debt arising from post-war relief aid, "100 cents on the dollar," but asked to be freed of obligations to pay any interest.

The original debt was $1,685,000. Hungary has paid $478,000 in principal and interest and proposed that this be deducted, leaving the total obligation $1,207,000, to be paid in 30 annual, non-interest bearing installments.

Mr. Roosevelt told congress: "I believe the proposals of the Hungarian government should receive the most careful consideration of the congress. They represent a noteworthy wish and effort of the Hungarian government to meet its obligations to this government."

"In its simplest terms, the offer of the Hungarian government is to repay the United States the whole of the relief loan but without payment of interest thereon."

The president apparently having in mind the opposition some congressmen had expressed to the Hungarian debt proposal on the grounds it would serve as a precedent for larger debters, added:

"It has of course been the consistent policy of the United States to consider each debt in the light of the circumstances of the debtor government and it is with this in view that the Hungarian communication is transmitted to the congress."

Treasury officials have estimated that the principle of Hungary's proposal, if applied to all governmental debtors to this country, would mean a scaling-down to the indebtedness from approximately $12,000,000,000 to $7,500,000,000.

The president's message recalled the background of Hungary's debt.

Fortin Will Trial is Started Today

Preliminary litigation in a suit to "break" the will of Alfred Fortin, former Kankakee financier who left his half-million dollar estate for the establishment of an orphan's home in Bradley, was being heard today by Circuit Judge W. R. Hunter.

The hearing was on a motion by Attorney G. D. Henry of Kankakee and Harry L. Rickard of Chicago, representing E. J. LaMarre, executor of the will, to dismiss the suit.

The suit was filed some time ago by Attorney Vernon G. Butz, representing nephews and nieces of Mr. Fortin, who pleaded that he ignored the natural objects of his bounty in his will.

Attorney Walter C. Schneider represents the First National Bank of Chicago which is trustee of the estate.

Henpecked Hubby Old Stuff, Pastor Says, Adam Was 1st

Before a full house Sunday evening at the Central Christian church, the Rev. John P. Norman conducted the third feature service in a 10-weeks loyalty campaign on the subject, "Henpecked Husbands and Foolish Wives."

"Without question," he said, "Adam was the first husband to be henpecked and Eve was the first foolish wife. She was the devil's easy mark, permitting him to soft soap her into believing a clever lie about eating the forbidden fruit. By swallowing it they paid a horrible price for the rest of their lives and so does posterity."

The minister listed several of the devil's lies which many modern people yet believe. Among them were: "I can live just as good a life out of the church as in it"; "I can be saved without receiving the Saviour, Jesus Christ"; "I do not need the cleansing power of the blood of Christ to save me from sin. I'm a good respectable citizen of the community"; "I do not believe there is a hell or eternal judgment. All the hell one gets in this life"; "I believe in the church but I'll wait a few years until I have more time for religion, then I'll join and help in every possible manner."

The tragedy is that people seldom get through with their "fling" until it is too late, according to the pastor, who said that today is the time to consider the highest values of life.

Germany Is Strongest In History

Berlin, March 28.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler tonight exultantly told his Nazi followers that the German realm of that ever existed in all history.

"Hailed" by hundreds of thousands as the liberator of Austria and builder of greater Germany, Hitler rode in triumph through Berlin streets to the huge sports palace to deliver his third speech of the plebiscite campaign.

This leads up to the elections of April 10 in which an expanded Germany is to vote on the absorption of Austria and elect a new Reichstag.

Hitler began speaking at 8:32 p. m. (1:32 p. m. cst) he said: "Whoever sees in these days the German people in front of him must acknowledge that a great chance has come—an unprecedented upward surge—almost like a dream."

Thousands gathered early along the two-mile route by which Hitler drove from the chancellery to the sports palace. Ten thousand flags carried by Nazi banners lined the way. Buildings were decked with flags. Huge slogans were hung across the streets, "one folk, one Reich, one Fuehrer!"

Military searchlights added a spectacular touch to the illumination.

New Government Dominated By Japanese Set Up at Nanking

Shanghai, March 28.—(AP)—A new government with Chinese personnel but dominated by Japan, was set up today at Nanking—former capital of the Chinese nationalist regime—to replace Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's administration.

The new government was described by its sponsors as the "reformed government of the republic of China."

Japan last week ordered the creation of such a government at Nanking "under the umbrella" of the similar north China regime established recently at Peiping.

Inauguration of the Nanking government was announced here through a manifesto signed by Liang Hung-Tse, chairman of the executive Yuan.

Liang Hung-Tse, whose post is equivalent to that of premier, formerly was secretary general under Yuan Chi-Jui, provisional chief executive of China in 1924 and 1925.

He issued a statement saying the new government would respect "all just and vested foreign rights" but hereafter, would not recognize any contracts or treaties made by the nationalist (Chiang) government at Hankow or by Chinese provincial governments with foreign powers.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has been operating the nationalist government at Hankow while carrying on the fight against the Japanese invaders.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS MEASURE TO BE VALID

Must Register and Submit Financial Statements

OTHER RULINGS

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—The supreme court held constitutional today provisions of the public utility holding company act requiring interstate holding companies to register with the securities commission and submit financial statements.

Chief Justice Hughes delivered the decision that represented a victory for the government.

The court affirmed a ruling by the federal circuit court at New York upholding the registration requirement.

Justice McReynolds dissented. Justices Cardozo and Reed did not participate.

"To escape the penalty and the enforcing provisions of the decree," Hughes said, "all that the defendants have to do is to register with the commission and assume the obligation to file the described registration statement."

"All their rights and remedies with respect to other provisions of the statute remain without prejudice."

Test Case
The litigation directly involved the Electric Bond and Share company and 26 subsidiaries. It was picked by the government as a test case.

The utilities contended that the entire act requiring holding companies was at issue. The government successfully asserted other provisions could be tested at the proper time and "under regular judicial procedure."

The holding company act, passed by congress in 1935, after a bitter contest, would bring under government regulation companies that control billions of dollars of interstate gas and electric business.

It was aimed at what the Roosevelt administration called abuses, including pyramiding and issuance of securities with fictitious values.

Among other things, it would bar the companies from using the mails or other instrumentalities of interstate commerce unless they registered with the securities commission.

Enforcement of this provision has been held up pending a final supreme court ruling.

Labor Relations
The court also ruled today the national labor relations act was applicable to the Santa Cruz Fruit Packing company of Oakland, Calif., which ships less than 40 per cent of its product into interstate commerce.

In a decision delivered by Chief Justice Hughes, the tribunal affirmed a ruling by the ninth circuit court of appeals holding the company subject to the legislation guaranteeing collective bargaining to workmen and prohibiting unfair labor practices.

TORCH SLAYER AND 2 OTHERS DIE IN CHAIR

Triple Execution In Rockview Prison, Pennsylvania

BRAVADO GONE

Bellefonte, Pa., March 28.—(AP)—Three young men who met for the first time in Rockview prison's death house died within 11 minutes today, the first triple execution in Pennsylvania in four years.

RALPH HAWK

They were Ralph Hawk, 21-year-old Franklin county farmer convicted of the "torch slaying" of his sweetheart's mother and sister; and two desperadoes, Fred Reibald, 27, and Albert Gregg, 32, both of Philadelphia.

The heavy-set, black-haired Hawk was the first to die. He walked steadily to the chair. He was pronounced dead three minutes after 2,000 volts of electricity were sent through his body at 12:31 a. m.

Desperadoes Followed quickly. Reibald, the Philadelphia "stop light bandit," swaggered into the room between two guards, gazed around the chamber and called out: "So long, warden. Good luck to you. That's all."

Gregg, the man who shot his way out of a Philadelphia department store, glumly watched the straps fastened, all the old bravado gone.

Gregg, paroled convict from Illinois penitentiary and former resident of Milwaukee, killed C. Morgan Knight, 28-year-old Philadelphia bond broker, in shooting his way out of a Philadelphia department store after holding up a cashier.

Reibald killed an officer after a holdup.

Reorganizing Bill Opposed by Priest in Radio Address

Detroit, March 28.—(UP)—Father Charles E. Coughlin in his Sunday radio address urged his followers to wire protests to Washington to prevent passage of the government reorganization bill which he said would establish a totalitarian state in America.

"It is too late to write letters," the militant radio priest warned. "The immediacy of the danger insists that before tomorrow noon your telegram is in the hands of your senator to stop the reorganization bill as Washington stopped George III and his encroachments against liberty."

Coughlin charged that the New Deal had assumed more than five billion dollars in public debts which never had been reported to Congress. "No wonder that in the reorganization bill the New Deal government insists on abolishing the office of comptroller general, eventually, an audit will be exposed to the reading of the American public which will multiply ten fold the consternation which was aroused over the tea pot dome scandals," Coughlin said.

"And the American people," he added, "are sitting idly by while the spending power of money is being transferred from Congress, while the pending reorganization bill is threatening our Republican form of government, while a totalitarian state is being established. Were you alert you would storm your senator with thousands of telegrams—today—today. Tomorrow afternoon will be too late."

"If the reorganization bill now pending will be passed tomorrow," Coughlin predicted, "it will mean a continuation of spending more money for doles. It will mean the establishment of more government corporations. It will mean that the people's representatives have no voice in curtailing wasteful expenditures or in preventing the cancellations of debts owed our government."

The priest said the world court and supreme court reorganization issues were "negligible" compared to the "legislative crisis" involved in the President's executive reorganization measure. "Even though we are on the losing side of this contest," Coughlin concluded, "it is preferable to go down in honorable defeat than to compromise with silence, with disaster and with national chaos."

Two Ways to meet financial emergencies

There are two ways in which we can help you solve personal financial problems.

You can anticipate emergencies by creating a cash reserve through regular deposits in our Interest Department. In this way you will have cash when needed, with the additional advantage of interest on your funds.

Or if you need immediate cash and have no reserve, you can arrange a personal loan to be repaid in monthly installments. A moderate rate of interest will be charged for this accommodation.

Both the facilities of our Interest Department and our Personal Loan service are at your disposal.

Ten Wives in Bath House Provided a Cop With Problem

Tokyo, March 28.—(AP)—Ten wives in a bath house provided a problem for a lone policeman today.

A melee was started between two patrons whose husbands are rival bakers. One "accidentally" sloshed water over the other's elaborate coiffure.

The victim grabbed a small wooden tub and hurled it at the slosher but stepped on a cake of soap, slipped and hit another woman in the eye.

The latter yelled "Who did that?" and grabbed a bystander by the hair. The bystander's sister joined in.

The strife sprang up. The manager rushed in to restore order, but the women pushed him into a tub.

He called the policeman, who heard all the complaints, suggested everyone say "Pardon me" and bow round robin.

Peace was restored.
