MUNSON TELLS WHAT I. Q. TEST SHOWS IN CITY

3,000 Children in 11
Schools are Examined

SOME RATE HIGH

Results of several years' study of the intelligence capacities of Kankakee public school children were revealed yesterday by Superintendent of City Schools Irving Munson who addressed the Rotary club on "Gifted Children."

By the use of standard tests with I. Q. intelligence quotient ratings of 90 to 109 for those of average intelligence, psychologists have found through examination of thousands of children that 1 percent have an I. Q. of 130 or more. This is considered very unusual intelligence.

The general averages are reflected in examination of some 3,000 children in the 11 Kankakee public schools of whom 30 show I. Q.'s of 130 or more, according to Superintendent Munson; 150 more are considered very superior, with I. Q.'s of 120-129 and 420 rated superior bright with 110-119 I. Q.'s.

1,800 Are Normal

In the average or normal intelligence group 1,800 are classified; 420 are backward dull; 150, border line deficient, and 30, definitely feeble-minded, Mr. Munson stated. Since he has been in Kankakee he has found six students with I. Q.'s higher than 140.

One, he said, was the son of a trader, who when in the seventh grade, made the same score in mathematics as the school's best student. This boy was permitted to skip the eighth grade and in his first year in high school made a straight "A" average.

One of the phrases most frequently misused, according to the speaker, is "all men are created equal." The truth is that wide variations are noted in their abilities, he said.

The Gifted Ones

Gifted personalities are those who possess capacities to readily adapt themselves to new situations, who are able to reason and discern truth and fact, and are characterized by reliability and dependability.

Such students can be spotted by such characteristics as interest in numbers and in exact meaning of words, enjoyment of dictionaries and

Jesse Has Occult Powers—He Claims

How can anyone hope to escape Jesse Burton, deputy sheriff and process server, when he seems to have mysterious assistance?

For three days the deputy had been searching vainly for Matthew Metz who is being sued for divorce, in order to serve the summons upon him.

Last night, according to the story Metz tells to his fellow deputies, he dreamed that he went to the second house in the second block of Winfield avenue, West Kankakee, and found Metz.

So this morning, he says, he went to that house, and sure enough—Metz was in the house across the street.

Gilman Robbers Are Old Offenders

Watska, June 17—(RN Special)—FBI records of the prisoners which a farmers' posse helped Sheriff Phil Brown capture in a field near Leonard for shoplifting Wednesday morning at a Gilman store, revealed both as having had previous experience with the law.

That of Thomas MacNamara, 49, of Chicago, lists him as having been arrested eight times and serving time in Chicago in 1924 and 1928 for larceny and again in 1936 for auto theft. Charles Scudder, 26, of Los Angeles served time in 1930 and 1932 in Chicago for larceny.

Officers from the Chicago detective bureau were expected to come for the prisoners today. They are wanted in connection with several cases of auto theft there.

"Butch," as the prince is known to his friends, revealed this today after he was eliminated in the quarter-finals of the metropolitan amateur golf championship by Frankie Straft of Brooklyn.

He suggested his father "might be quite angry" when he arrives in Japan without a sheepskin. Konohe said he failed in all of his majors.

The Tinsleys were married on Oct. 15, 1929 and lived together until last March 6. There are no children.

The wife, represented by Attorney Frank J. Burns, charged extreme and repeated cruelty.

Motor Scooters Banned from Walks

Motorized scooters are classed as vehicles and cannot be ridden on sidewalks. For driving one on a sidewalk, Kenneth Bishop of 533 East Station street was arrested yesterday, fined $425 in police court yesterday.

Francis Hightower of 953 East River street was assessed $825 for driving a vehicle without a state license and Isaac Truly, colored, of 938 North Woodlawn avenue, was ordered to appear in court tomorrow on a similar charge.

MARRIED BY JUSTICE

Theodore W. Peterson, 31, and Iris Hill, 32, both of Momence, were married yesterday by Justice Fred R. Smith.

Defense Objects to Delay in Alleged Slayer's Trial

Circuit Judge W. R. Hunter today took under advisement a request that an accusation of murder against Albert LaVance, 38-year-old colored man, be stricken from the docket with leave of the prosecution to reinstate at some future time.

This motion was made by State Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro but strenuous objections came from Attorney Francis J. Houscholt, appointed by the court some time ago to represent LaVance, and Attorney Noel Diamond.

The state's attorney said that recent investigations as to the fatal shooting of John Bluewicht, 21-year-old farm hand, near Grant Park in 1935 has revealed a doubt in favor of the man accused.

Attorney Shapiro had previously said that removal of the case from the docket would probably result in LaVance being sent back to Joliet penitentiary for parole violation while the leave to reinstate would permit the state to reopen the case if an investigation warranted.

Ready for Trial

The attorneys for the defense argued that their client is ready for trial, can prove himself innocent, has been in jail almost four months and is entitled to immediate trial.

It was further argued by them that a purported alibi for the colored man rests upon some records in Michigan which are not permanent and which might not be available in his defense at some future trial.

The state's attorney said that he asks leave to reinstate the case in order to avoid the expense and technicality of summoning a grand jury and witnesses for the purpose of re-indicting LaVance in the future.

Judge Hunter commented that it is the fundamental right of a citizen to have a speedy trial but asked the attorneys to furnish legal authorities for their respective contentions today.

Dozing Truck Driver Hits Parked Cars

Ralph Taylor, truck driver of Vienna, Ill., went to sleep at the wheel yesterday afternoon and his unguided truck caused damages to two cars parked in the 200 block on North Indiana avenue.

Taylor was brought into police court and fined $425 for reckless driving. His truck ploughed into the rear of an auto owned by Mrs. Giroux of 249 North Indiana avenue, knocking it onto the terrace and crashing it against one owned by Officer Orval Finch of 504 North Dearborn avenue.

At 4:40 o'clock Thursday afternoon the auto of Gerald Gagnon, 21, of L'Erable became stalled on the Station street crossing of the Illinois Central tracks as a train approached. He and his young companion leaped out before the train crashed into the front of the car, dragging it along the tracks a short distance.

Auto Collision Case Postponed

A civil suit between Daniel J. O'Loughlin and Leon Fortier, both of Kankakee, which was scheduled for the circuit court Monday, has been postponed.

This suit is the result of an automobile crash at Hickory street and Chicago avenue on Dec. 29, 1937. O'Loughlin asks damages of $1,000 while Fortier asks $500.

Postponement of this suit has required Circuit Clerk Albert Tetrault to notify the petit jury, scheduled to report Monday morning, to delay its appearance until the following Monday, June 27.

At that time a suit to contest the will of Mrs. Mary Frances Denny, formerly of Kankakee, who died in 1936, is scheduled for the jury.

The suit is by Charles Livingston, represented by Attorneys Vernon G. Butz, Harry S. Streeter and Armen R. Blank against Benny Turro, represented by Attorneys DeSelm & Schneider, and other defendants.

The complaint points out that Mrs. Denny's will gives $25 to John Livingston, $25 to Charles Livingston, $75 to St. Paul Episcopal church and property at 142 East Station street to Ann and Emma Livingston, while the remainder of the estate is given to Turro.

The complaint goes on to say that Mrs. Denny, at the time the will was drawn, was in her dotage and incapable of distributing her estate.

It also asserts that Turro used "fraudulent practices and resorted to physical violence, falsehood and misrepresentation" to induce Mrs. Denny to execute the will in his favor.

EXECUTION OF KIDNAPER WILL BE SET SOON

McCall is Placed in "Death Row" at State Pen

APPEARS CALM

Raford, Fla., June 17—(UP)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21-year-old minister's son, was placed in "death row" at the state prison farm today to await his execution for kidnapping Jimmy Cash at Princeton, Fla., May 28.

McCall rushed to the prison farm from Miami by Sheriff D. C. Coleman, was placed in cell No. 5 with 14 other men sentenced to die in the electric chair. He arrived at the prison approximately 24 hours after he heard the death penalty pronounced yesterday in Miami.

Superintendent L. P. Chapman of the prison farm talked for a few minutes with the condemned youth. "He was very quiet," Chapman said. "He seemed to realize the seriousness of his situation."

It required about 15 minutes for McCall to be "dressed in" as an inmate of the prison.

Secret Transfer

McCall was not assigned a number, Chapman said that would not be done until after a death warrant had been signed by Gov. Fred P. Coleman.

Coleman said the transfer of the prisoner from Miami was "very quiet." It was started in secrecy from Miami at 3:15 a. m.

McCall talked about the kidnapping at intervals during the seven and a half hour auto trip from Miami. Coleman said, but told his guards on the trip little that he had not already disclosed in his confession and testimony.

Coleman was asked if McCall exhibited any hope that the move for commutation of his death sentence by an attorney retained by his family would be successful.

"He showed that he had some hope, but he didn't believe it would be successful," Coleman said.

Detroit Woman is Sentenced to Pen

Detroit, June 17—(P)—Mrs. Julia M. Barker, once wealthy Detroit real estate operator, was sentenced today to serve 10 to 15 years in the Detroit house of correction for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Edith Mae Cummings January 15.

Circuit Judge Ira W. Jayne pronounced sentence in the crowded court room where Mrs. Barker two weeks ago was convicted of manslaughter.

Standing erect before the bench today, Mrs. Barker told the judge, "I am absolutely innocent. I never laid a hand on Edith Mae Cummings."

Mrs. Cummings died of a pistol wound in a snow-covered ravine near Belleville, Mich. The state, which sought a murder conviction, contended Mrs. Barker shot her business associate during an argument over real estate deals for which both were charged with fraud in Kentucky indictments.

Good conduct allowances might reduce Mrs. Barker's sentence to seven years, 11 months, and additional allowances are possible at the discretion of parole authorities.

Luna Theater Now
Air-Conditioned

Successfully passing tests in the past few days, the new air conditioning plant of the Luna theater is now in operation.

Using dry coils for cooling instead of washing, the type is the latest in air conditioning methods now in use. In this system, the air is filtered and proves to be more efficient in removing humidity.

Efficiency of the plant is well over the normal capacity of the house, guaranteeing comfort in every corner of the theater.

The tests have been exhaustive and the results good so that the new method will be incorporated in the existing Paramount theater operation. Work on installation is now in progress at the Paramount.

Dawn Bandit Got Start at Watska

Watska, June 17—(RN Special)—Harold Keen, 23, Chicago's dawn bandit whose crime career was ended last night by 18 police bullets in the Windy city, began his short-lived career here in 1929. It was made known this morning.

Keen stole an auto in Chicago and drove here where he was captured by Emil Thompson who was then state highway policeman. Fred Kendall, state's attorney at the time, conducted the prosecution and the 14-year-old youth was sent to St. Charles. Harold was the son of a Chicago policeman.

H., campus. Robertson prepared for Dartmouth at the Morgan Park Military academy and in college, majored in the field of business administration. He is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Investigate Speed Trap at Manteno

The Chicago Motor club today made a statement to the effect that Joseph H. Braun, its general counsel, is swinging into action against what the club describes as speed trap operations in Manteno.

Attorney Leo Norby, from Braun's office, conferred on Wednesday with State Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro and was told that if formal complaints and sufficient evidence of illegality were presented that action would be taken.

The statement from the club today said the club's attorneys examined the docket, found the April "business" of fining motorists was $360 and that the "sales quota" for May was attained with $400 in fines.

The club's statement also states that $325 has been charged for court costs, instead of $2 allowed by law. The extra $125, it was said, with Police Magistrate A. J. McNeil quoted as the source of information, went to Police Officer Jesse Bedard, thereby making him an additional $100 a month. His salary, it was said, is $125 a month.

The club's attorneys also described as "irregular" the practice, said to be acknowledged by McNeil, of taking fines in lieu of cash bail.

Maynard Weber, president of the board, is quoted in the club's statement as saying he knows nothing of these practices but ordered the police to make no more arrests on the mile stretch of highway through the village, two blocks from the main street.

YELLOW RIVER 100 MILES OFF NORMAL COURSE

Cascade is Nearing Walls of Chowkiatow

JAPS STALLED

BULLETIN

Shanghai, June 17—(UP)—Japanese military engineers, admitted tonight they had lost their fight to control the great Yellow river flood pouring across central China.

As the end of a 48-hour crisis neared, the river had spread over more than 1,500 square miles. Thousands of persons were drowned; 3,500 or more villages were under water and more than 700,000 were homeless.

The river threatened to break a new outlet to the sea some 200 miles south of its present mouth. Japanese military reports said that 200,000 refugees were being cared for in military camps, while 500,000 were marooned.

Many refugees were desperate. In many areas they were forced to eat tree bark. The Japanese said that in many sectors their own garrisons were in danger.

Shanghai, June 17—(AP)—A hundred-mile-long blanket of muddy water spread rapidly southeast through Honan province today as half-naked Japanese engineers, aided by thousands of Chinese peasants, labored desperately in rushing currents to mend broken dikes of the Yellow river.

Continuing rain, however, appeared to doom their efforts as the yellow cascade pouring through the breaks in the dikes north and west of Kaifeng reached the walls of Chowkiatow, nearly 100 miles south of the normal course.

As Associated Press correspondent, flying over the flood area, reported the river appeared to be changing its course to join China's other great river, the Yangtze.

The yellow torrent was flowing into a tributary of the Hwai river, whence it would reach the Yangtze below Nanking, former Chinese capital.

The water seemed to be cutting a new channel from which it might not be diverted until Japanese could repair the broken dikes some time next fall or winter.

Joe still refused and was put out forcibly. He came back a few minutes later with a drawn knife and Paul thought it was time to call the police. Officer Bert Reynolds placed Joe under arrest and this morning he was fined $525 in police court by Magistrate Edward Hoenicke.

TRAFFIC VIOLATION

Clifford Cross, 430 South Third avenue, was fined $4 today by Justice Fred R. Smith for failing to stop for a state highway. He was arrested by State Highway Officer George Beckheim.

A LESSON IN RAT-HOLES
Proposals to settle and finally "pay off" the British world war debt to America are gaining ground in London. They are getting an increasingly attentive ear in the United States.

The Baldwin settlement of 1923 called for payment of $13,520,000,000 in 62 years, but the British war debt has been in default, both as to principal and interest, since 1931. At that time the British attitude was: "We can't pay. Let them wait for their money. We fought their fight for three years, and spent the money in the States anyway. Uncle Sam is just Uncle Shylock to us." And the American attitude was expressed by the laconic Coolidge crack, "They hired the money, didn't they?"

But today there is a movement in Britain to pay something to settle the matter for good and all. Why this change of front, all of a sudden?

It is all very clear. In 1931, Britain was not much worried about another war, or the financing of it. Today she is. And American law now forbids any loans to countries which have defaulted. Looking toward an uncertain future, it would be well to have that American matter cleared up so the way would be open to further loans, rather than blocked by default on the last ones.

Mexico's derisive jibe, that there were bigger and more powerful countries than she who had defaulted their external loans hit the British in a tender spot. There wasn't any answer, and that is the kind of job that hurts.

So now it is proposed that a single lump sum be paid, say a half-billion dollars, and by mutual consent wash up the whole matter.

There is certainly no longer any reason in the die-hard attitude that demands payment down to the last cent. It can be done, and there is some doubt that it would be a good thing if it were done. But that does not mean that just any kind of a cash settlement is advantageous, either.

What is it worth to the United States to have this continual reminder around her neck that the financing of wars means default and ruin? It might be worth more than a half-billion dollars when the next war comes along.

And this is no discredit to the British, who would probably have paid the debt, if anybody would. The point is that war debts of this kind are uncollectible from any nation and under any circumstances. It might be worth a half-billion dollars if we could be made to remember that, if we could learn that what is tossed down the rat-hole of war is gone forever.

VIENNESE EXPERIMENT
Maybe the intentions of Der Fuehrer have been something nobody suspected, all along.

Maybe those champions of personal liberty who have pictured him as the arch enemy of democracy and individual freedom have been doing the man a grave injustice. Maybe the point of the annexation of Austria was to acquire a laboratory in which the best methods of easing the new Germany into the privileges of adulthood would be worked out.

The latest news from Vienna is scarcely credible in any other light.

After 24 years of the strictest regulation, the dogs of Vienna have just had their muzzles removed. The law required that every Jack dog among them be muzzled in public at all times has been stricken off the books completely.

Friends of freedom, it looks like the first timorous step toward the Germanic millennium, when the muzzles will be off the entire population.

It also, however looks like the last. Many of the dogs, according to the word from Vienna, immediately celebrated unaccustomed freedom by taking large bites out of everything in sight, including their masters.

Don't be in a hurry. If a skunk started chasing you, you'd run like everything. Waste of energy.

SIDE GLANCES
By George Clark

George Dougherty's head lights picked up a skunk one night and the chase—in the car—for a mile, kept an eye on the speedometer. Top speed for the pole cat, she found, was 8 miles an hour.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU
By BOB DEANE

I'll bet I've heard at least a dozen accounts of the kind of the folk from their home town ever bothered to look up in the past.

SWORDS INTO FLOWERS
Weatherford, Okla., June 17.—(4)—Charles Kendall blacksmith is beating the sword into the plowshare. He purchased the old horse drawn machine of Battery D, 15th field artillery, Weatherford National Guard unit, and is transforming them into trailers for use on the farm.

JAPANESE RETURN: ISINGAO
Einstein, China, June 17.—(4)—Of the 14,000 Japanese civilians who evacuated this city shortly after the outbreak of Sino-Japanese hostilities last year, 12,000 have returned since the Japanese occupation was completed early in January.

Can't you say anything about this young man except that he is a jitter bug?

COULDN'T THEY SWAP OR SOMETHING?

POLISH MINORITY
"I HAVE A $5,000 CROCKERY STORE IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA I'D LIKE TO TRADE IN FOR A GERMAN."

GERMAN MINORITY
"I'VE CHANGED MY MIND—I WOULD NOT QUIT PLEASE."

INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE BUREAU
"I WANT TO GET INTO THE DAIRY BUSINESS IN GERMANY."

WILL EXCHANGE NAZI BOND GROUPS FOR EQUAL NUMBER REFUGEES OR ANOTHER EISENHOWER OR ANOTHER NAZI, OR A FREUD OR A GOOD SHORT-STOP OR WHAT HAVE YOU?

Your Children
By OLIVE MOORE, N. S. BARTON

Have you noticed one of the children convulsing a little? Does it happen that Charlie can't sleep at night without calculating ahead, and musing the truth by an inch or so?

What is it worth to the United States to have this continual reminder around her neck that the financing of wars means default and ruin? It might be worth more than a half-billion dollars when the next war comes along.

And this is no discredit to the British, who would probably have paid the debt, if anybody would. The point is that war debts of this kind are uncollectible from any nation and under any circumstances. It might be worth a half-billion dollars if we could be made to remember that, if we could learn that what is tossed down the rat-hole of war is gone forever.

VIENNESE EXPERIMENT
Maybe the intentions of Der Fuehrer have been something nobody suspected, all along.

Maybe those champions of personal liberty who have pictured him as the arch enemy of democracy and individual freedom have been doing the man a grave injustice. Maybe the point of the annexation of Austria was to acquire a laboratory in which the best methods of easing the new Germany into the privileges of adulthood would be worked out.

The latest news from Vienna is scarcely credible in any other light.

After 24 years of the strictest regulation, the dogs of Vienna have just had their muzzles removed. The law required that every Jack dog among them be muzzled in public at all times has been stricken off the books completely.

Friends of freedom, it looks like the first timorous step toward the Germanic millennium, when the muzzles will be off the entire population.

It also, however looks like the last. Many of the dogs, according to the word from Vienna, immediately celebrated unaccustomed freedom by taking large bites out of everything in sight, including their masters.

Don't be in a hurry. If a skunk started chasing you, you'd run like everything. Waste of energy.

EASTERN COAST DRIVE OF THE REBELS HALTED

Loyalist Resistance Stiffens South of Mijares River

MASSED FORCES

Hendaye, France left the Spanish frontier today. Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's drive against Spain's eastern coast against Valencia was slowed down today by stiffened loyalist resistance south of the Mijares River. Government forces said they had defeated the rebels' advance in the area about 35 miles north of the city. The rebels had been driven back to the Mijares River and the city of Valencia and recaptured the village of Sagunto. The rebels had been driven back to the Mijares River and the city of Valencia and recaptured the village of Sagunto.

The vast concentration, however, weakened government forces on other fronts and impaired the effectiveness of troops retreating from the city. The rebels had been driven back to the Mijares River and the city of Valencia and recaptured the village of Sagunto.

French Parliament Stands Adjourned

Paris, June 17.—The French government today adjourned parliament until November, gaining a free hand to rule the republic until the end of the year.

These demands embodied in a Communist resolution introduced in the chamber, yesterday led to fist-fights in which two right-wing deputies were injured.

Before adjourning, the chamber and senate gave final approval to a bill for war-time extension of the nation. This ratified previous decrees providing for "total mobilization" in case of war and unifying the armed forces under a single national defense chief.

The 18-day session of parliament left Daladier's government solidly in power.

Threats of domestic political quarrels, especially over the Spanish issue, which might split the people from the Leftist parties supporting the government, and endanger the cabinet were quelled by Daladier's government solidly in power.

The necessity of internal peace for the state visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth of England beginning June 28 also was a factor.

Dean's original ailment, described as inflammation of the right shoulder muscle, has disappeared, explained a doctor today.

Raleigh, N. C., June 17.—Two Negro brothers-in-law, Lemmie Brown, 27, and Apom Outlaw, 28, were executed in the gas chamber at State prison today.

They were the last of a group of white women last August.

France Will Need Gasoline Supply in a Prolonged War

By THOMAS W. WILSON, Jr.
Paris, June 17—(INS)—France would not be able to carry on a prolonged war without importing huge quantities of gasoline from America.

This is a deduction that can be made from a recent private lecture before many of the military leaders of France by General Serrigny.

head of the Mechanization Staff of the French Army.

Seventy million tons of gasoline would be consumed in the first twelve months of a great European war, General Serrigny told his listeners. Peacetime consumption of Europe is only twenty-seven million tons.

Vast Total Consumption
For her fleet, air force and army, Great Britain would need thirty million tons in the first year and France another fifteen million. If Japan and America were to join in the conflict the total consumption would approximate the enormous figure of 140 million tons.

Russia's total annual output is only twenty-eight million tons so that France could not possibly count on help from that quarter in feeding the combined British and French air forces. It would therefore be necessary for France to obtain most of her supplies from the United States, provided the American government does not place gasoline on the list of war contraband.

Nazis Seek Synthetic Fuel
General Serrigny pointed out that Germany has been striving to create a supply of synthetic fuel, but the annual production on this has not passed one and a half million tons whereas Germany's minimum war-time requirements would be twelve million for the first twelve months. Cut off from American markets Germany would be obliged to seize Rumanian oil wells and perhaps those in Iraq and Caucasus as well.

The speaker said that Britain is placing little faith in synthetic fuel and is stockpiling the means of transport from overseas. He advocated the same procedure for France.

After the first year of warfare consumption of fuel would jump by leaps and bounds above the already great requirements of the first twelve months.

Czech Premier in Discussions With Minority Groups

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 17—(AP)—After more than 24 hours of intensive discussion of the German minority's nationality demands, Premier Milan Hodza prepared today to begin similar negotiations with Hungarian groups.

At the same time persistent preparations for all possibilities of war kept pace with patient exploration of the paths to peace.

Collection of a $35,000,000 defense fund in voluntary contributions was proceeding satisfactorily. Shops displayed gas masks for sale to citizens and police notified employers to acquire gas masks for all employees.

Today was chosen for a demonstration of popular training for war through the great athletic institution of Sokols.

Premier Hodza, in the negotiations with the German followers of Konrad Henlein, agreed to use as a basis of discussion an eight-point program they submitted as well as the government's proposed minority statute.

It was learned the Sudeten German demands included equality of status between Czechs and Germans in Czechoslovakia, recognition of Sudeten German territory as distinct from Czech territory, self-government in Sudeten territory by German officials, their right to adherence to German political ideology, and reparation for damages caused by "unjust" measures since 1918.

The list did not include Henlein's demand for a change in Czechoslovak foreign policy.
