Sleet Storm Lashes Kankakee

Boost In Rents Ordered, Then Called Off

Government On Verge Of Raising Ceilings 10 Per Cent

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Senator Tamm (R-Mo.) today opened a senate inquiry into rents with an assertion that it "rests squarely upon the landlord" to prove any need for higher rent ceilings.

Tamm is chairman of the senate banking committee making the investigation. There was no immediate explanation of yesterday's mix-up in which an OPA order proposing to boost ceilings 10 per cent was quashed by the White House before it could be issued.

The committee originally was scheduled to hear government witnesses today but Tamm said none would be present. This postponed the appearance of James W. Polin, deputy administrator of the Office of Temporary Controls, who had been expected to explain the mystery of the short-lived rent increase order.

Play Fair

"We believe the average American wants to play fairly," Tamm said in a statement.

"If the landlord is being discriminated against, if he is not getting a fair return on his investment, the American people will want to do something about it, but the American people want to be shown.

"The burden of proving that rent control should be abolished or re-evaluated is placed squarely upon the landlord."

Tamm said the committee was determined to protect the interest of slum dwellers who would not be able to fight for their own interests in the drafting of new legislation.

"I think I am correct in my understanding that in this class of property not many if any improvements have been made by owners, and any increase in rent would be almost intolerable and unjustified," he added.

Explain Snarl

One official meanwhile explained yesterday's snarl over the proposed rent order as simply a government agency "mix-up."

The sequence was this:

In late afternoon OPA revealed that it had received an order to prepare a press release announcing the increase.

The order had come about 1 p.m. from the Office of Temporary Controls an OPA official said.

10 Per Cent

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) told reporters he understood the announcement would call for a 10 per cent increase, with certain exceptions for veterans' housing.

He said also that the action would not affect states which have their own rent controls.

Other legislators confirmed this, as OPA officials were busy filling reports in on background, to go with the momentarily expected announcement.

Girl Found Dying On Street In Charleston

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Miss Elizabeth Satter, 28-year-old divorcee and daughter of West Virginia's state labor commissioner, was found dying on a Charleston street at 2:05 a. m. today and police theorized she may have been slain.

Two squad car patrolmen reported the pretty brunette was doubled with pain and gasping for breath when they found her.

She was pronounced dead on arrival at General Hospital and authorities said an autopsy showed severe internal injuries, as if she had been run over by an automobile.

Police Chief Harold B. Cornwell said he was inclined to "view the case with suspicion, but we feel we soon know exactly what occurred."

Miss Satter, a public school teacher here, was divorced eight months ago and had been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. F. Satter, a block from where she was found. Her divorce decree permitted her to resume her maiden name.

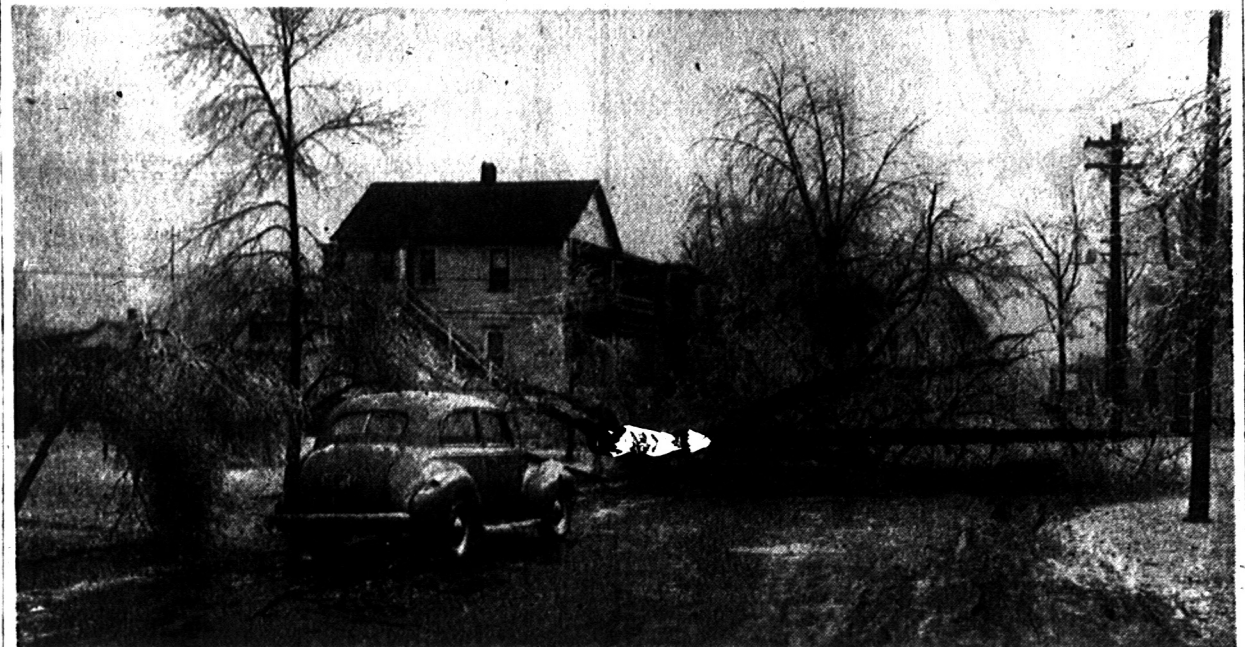

Chief Cornwell said five men and four women "friends and associates" were being questioned at headquarters.

R. A. Threlkeld, in front of whose horse police found Miss Satter, told police he heard no noise or commotion.

The labor commissioner said he was advised by police that "an acquaintance of my daughter brought her home."

"I do not believe that," he said. "If she had come home, I would have known it. I do not think she reached here."

Friends described Miss Satter as "rather shy and retiring—a very mild type."

Tree Blocks Walnut Street at East Avenue After Storm

This scene at Walnut street and East avenue is typical of several in Kankakee this morning following last night's unseasonable electrical and wind storm. This huge tree, toppled over, completely blocking Walnut street. The picture was taken from East avenue looking east. The car parked in front of the obstruction is owned by Kenneth Styc, R.R. 2, Kankakee.

Bradley Division Of Chamber Sets Up '47 Program

Chairman Reveals Plans For Paving And Ornamental Lights

An 11-point program, highlighted by plans for the paving of Washington avenue and the installation of an ornamental lighting system in the business district, has been set up for Bradley in 1947 by the Bradley division of the Chamber of Commerce. It was revealed today by Paul Toliusz, chairman of the division.

The program of work adopted by the members of the division is listed under 11 headings as follows:

Aviation—Co-operate with the county airport authority in securing adequate airport facilities for this area.

Education—Assist school officials in developing adequate schools for the community. Establish an enlarged vocational program in the high school.

Recreation Program Sought

Parks and recreation—Develop a year-round recreation program for Bradley including erection of a community building. Develop a play ground for Bradley citizens.

State park—Co-operate in the development of the Kankakee river state park between Wilmington and Kankakee.

Housing—Encourage the construction of housing in the community and the sale of tax delinquent properties in the community.

Trade promotions—Develop a program for improving and modernizing the retail district. Secure a new theater for Bradley. Secure an ornamental lighting system for the business district.

Roads and streets—Carry out the major street program as developed by the city plan commission. Work

Storm Rages But Motorists Keep Cars In Garage

Kankakee motorists apparently left their automobiles in the garages during last night's storm and stayed at home—at least that is the indication from city police accident reports this morning which show that there were no collisions in Kankakee between 3:30 p.m. yesterday and this morning.

Four accidents yesterday prior to 3:30 o'clock, however, lifted the January total to 55. At 8 a.m. an automobile operated by Gerald Kepner, 509 South Poplar avenue, and a truck owned by the Zeller Truck Lines, Ashland, Ill., collided at the intersection of Indiana avenue and Fair street. At noon the intersection of Eagle street and Wildwood avenue was the scene of an accident involving autos driven by Fardell Arsenau, 642 South Evergreen avenue, and Mrs. Jacob Stegmeyer, 836 South Wildwood avenue.

William Gresham, 883 North Cleveland avenue, was driving east on Station street and Joe Dickerson, 3927 Holmes avenue, Dallas, Tex., north on Schuyler avenue at 3:10 p.m. when the automobiles crashed at the intersection of the thoroughfares. Twenty minutes later automobiles driven by Grover Reed, Olivet college, and W. M. Weaver, 384 South Poplar avenue, collided at the intersection of Hickory street and Poplar avenue.

Aid Dwight Vets Gray Ladies Corps Planned By Kankakee Red Cross Chapter

A Gray Ladies corps will be organized by the Kankakee county Red Cross chapter to work at the Dwight Veterans hospital, Bert Eustice, Red Cross chairman, announced today. This program will be headed by Mrs. C. B. Jewell with Mrs. Casper Jaffe as vice chairman.

This program is being planned following a request from the Veterans Administration at the hospital to fill an urgent need for more volunteer hospital and recreational workers.

The hospital previously was a 200 bed infirmary but an annex recently completed affords room for 100 more veterans. At present 29 Gray Ladies from Grundy and Livingston counties serve veterans from both World War I and II, but with the addition of the annex more Gray Ladies are needed.

Varied Duties

The duties of the Gray Ladies in the hospital are varied. They are there to be a friend of the patients, to visit with them, distribute reading material and Red Cross supplies, write letters for the disabled, serve at reception desks, assist in decorating wards, act as hostesses and librarians, and arrange and participate in entertainments. They are the bright spots in the lives of many patients as they move cheerfully through the wards in their gray uniform.

Applications for membership in the corps can be accepted from American citizens between the ages of 21 and 55 who have a certificate of health, are graduates of high school or the equivalent and complete a two-day course in the hospital.

This course will be given Feb. 19 and 20 and the work will begin the following week. Applicants are asked to donate one afternoon a week from 3 to 5 p. m. at the Dwight veterans hospital.

To Furnish Uniforms

Uniforms will be furnished by the chapter with the help of the production corps under the leadership of Mrs. X. R. Durand. The motor corps under the chairmanship of Mrs. Rose Jaffe will assist in transporting the Gray Ladies to Dwight. It is the hope of the chairman that volunteers throughout the entire county will call the work Cross office at 1029 to apply for an interview.

Work in hospitals is not new to the Red Cross and many other groups in Kankakee county who have participated since the beginning of the war. Until October, 1946, the Red Cross served at Chautauque field and then the coordination of the Dwight Veterans hospital was organized. Six counties were elected to serve the hospital under the chairmanship of Mrs. Claude Granger.

Fills Requests

Through the medium of the Red Cross with Mrs. Earl Francis of Kankakee directing county camp and hospital work, the group supplies the material needs of the hospital. In the past requests for porch furniture, radio phonograph combinations, pianos, curtains, newspaper and magazine subscriptions, yarn and many other requests have been met by community organizations supplemented by Red Cross funds.

Miss Josephine Melton, Red Cross field director at Dwight, anticipates much help from the Gray Ladies. She feels this is an excellent opportunity for the people of this county to give help where it is urgently needed. It is her belief that the Gray Ladies will find the work both worthwhile and enjoyable.

BULLETINS

Near Blows

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Differences over taxes flared into an angry exchange of bitter words and near blows in the house cafeteria today between Reps. Knutson (R-Minn.) and Engel (R-Mich.).

At one point, Engel grabbed Knutson's arm but colleagues said no blows were struck, although the verbal punches flew thick and fast.

Knutson is the main house champion of a 20 per cent cut in individual income taxes.

Appeal To Dahlia Slayer To Give Up

Los Angeles, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Police, beset by crank notes and phone calls and spurious confessions, appealed today to the man—or woman—they believe butchered attractive Elizabeth Short, to keep his promise to contact the authorities again.

The person who police think killed and mutilated the 22-year-old film hopeful, or at least knows who did, sent a newspaper last Friday an envelope containing many of her personal papers, including her birth certificate and social security card. Appended was a message, crudely pasted together with letters clipped from newspaper headlines. It said:

"Here is Dahlia's belongings. Letter to follow."

Cut Rail Line

Shanghai, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Communists forces in North China cut the vital Peking-Tientsin railway today, shortly after the announcement that American military units are being withdrawn from China.

The Communists severed, temporarily at least, the route over which U. S. forces must withdraw from Peking, site of the truce headquarters that will be abandoned with the end of America's long but futile peace efforts.

Policy Toward China

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Any positive new American policy toward China appears certain today to be delayed until officials here can see what the Chinese themselves do about restoring unity to their own badly divided nation.

Ambassador John Leighton Stuart at Nanking has the authority to do whatever he can to aid the Communists and the Chiang-Kai-Shek government come to terms, but he has to wait until the Chinese themselves ask him to help.

China Cancels Flights

Shanghai, Jan. 30.—(AP)—All Chinese commercial passenger flights were suspended today by the ministry of communications pending an investigation into the mid-air explosion of an airliner near Hankow Tuesday, with 25 reported killed and the disappearance of a second plane.

Banker Released

Jerusalem, Jan. 30.—(AP)—British troops swooped down on the Montefiore quarter of Jerusalem early this morning and began a house search for the kidnappers of a British banker who stumbled into a clinic dead and bleeding last night after being held prisoner for 78 hours.

The section—an ancient Jewish quarter outside the old city walls—was cordoned off and several hundred persons were herded into hastily erected screening pens for questioning. At mid-morning it was announced that six had been detained for further examination.

Signs Treaties

(AP)—The Russian press reported today that Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov had signed the peace treaties with five German satellite nations—Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland. (The treaties previously had been signed by former U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and will be signed by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin some time before the ceremonial signing in Paris on Feb. 10).

Three Sections Hit By Tornado; Report 8 Dead

Midwest Staggering Under Bewildering Mixture Of Weather

BULLETINS

Two persons died in Milwaukee as a result of the snow storm there, where 15 inches of snow is reported to have fallen. Many stores and plants in Milwaukee have been closed. In Ft. Madison, Ia., a woman was killed by lightning in a freak electrical storm.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 30.—(AP)—The state highway patrol reported today that a tornado had struck the outskirts of the city beyond Gunter Field shortly after 9:30 a. m. (est) today, and a radio operator said, "we understand it's pretty bad."

The operator, Hank Halger, said, however, he did not know whether anyone had been injured. Halger said his report came from Patrol Chief Clyde Sellers.

By The Associated Press

The Midwest and parts of the southwest staggered today under a bewildering mixture of climatic punches from dying January.

Tornadoes, electric power and light outages, thunder, lightning and hail were the elements that lashed out punishment over a wide area from eastern Nebraska to western Ohio and into Arkansas.

At Least Five Dead

A tornado swept through north-central Arkansas and southern Missouri, killing at least five persons, injuring 14 and destroying several homes and other buildings. Property damage in the path of the tornado was expected to run into the thousands of dollars.

The effects of the storms throughout the middle west were widespread. Electric power and light and communications services were disrupted in many areas, transportation, on the highways, in the air and railroad, was delayed and there were numerous accidents to pedestrians and motorists.

The tornado hit hardest at Salem, Ark., and in three small communities in southern Missouri—Thayer, Montier and Hutton Valley. Six persons were injured and 30 homes destroyed in Salem, a town of 570. In Montier, four persons were killed, and one woman was killed at Thayer. Ten to 15 buildings were reported demolished in the Missouri towns.

Temperatures Drop

Temperatures dropped to below zero in northern Minnesota, North Dakota and a sub-zero reading of 17 at Cutbank, Mont., was the coldest spot on the weather map. Throughout the snow and rain belt, however, temperatures generally were in the 20's.

Snow and sleet ranging from eight to 12 inches fell in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska. There was considerable drifting and blowing, blocking many highways, as winds reached a velocity as high as 65 miles an hour.

Lightning, Thunder

Thunderstorms and lightning were reported in parts of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Indiana. Federal forecasters said the thunder-lightning in January resulted from the collision between warm and cold layers of air on a line extending from central Missouri across southern Illinois and Indiana into southwestern Pennsylvania.

The weather bureau said the mass of cold air from Canada which was expected to spread over the midwest tonight would be delayed at least 24 hours. Sharp drops in temperatures, however, were predicted by Saturday.

Weather In Most Other Sections of the country was reported normal. A rain storm centered in Washington and was moving southeastward while small craft warnings were hoisted along the California coast after a gale swept mountain areas. High winds caused some dust storms in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Two Boys Admit Placing Baling Wire On Track

Walton, Ind., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Two boys, 10 and 11 years old, awaited possible federal prosecution today after Sheriff Harold Smith said they admitted in signed statements they put a roll of fence wire on the Pennsylvania railroad track here Monday, which derailed a passenger train and killed four persons.

Cass County Prosecutor Keith Campbell said he would confer with U. S. Attorney Alex Campbell to determine whether a federal charge would be filed.

Phone, Light Lines Tied Up

Thunderstorm Accompanies Sleet; Trees Crash, And Traffic Stalled

The most severe sleet storm in a generation swept through the Kankakee river valley last night, spreading icy tentacles over every exposed object, disrupting electric power lines, paralyzing telephone and telegraphic communications, slowing vehicular traffic to a snail's pace and raising havoc with thousands of the city's fine shade trees.

Thunder in the winter!

Yes, the storm was accompanied by plenty of rumbling, crashing thunder, eerie flashes of lightning and a drenching rain driven by a wind which at times reached the proportions of a gale. It apparently was the tall ender of cyclonic winds which centered in Missouri and Arkansas.

Spring seemed to be trying to edge Old Man Winter off the weather stage, with the battle ending in a draw. And this on the extremely unseasonable date of Jan. 30!

The storm, which festooned electric and telephone wires with tons of glistening ice, then whipped them violently in the high winds, brought wires and poles crashing down in many sections of Kankakee county.

Electric Power Off

Some of the main electric transmission lines feeding Public Service company power into this county were cut off north of here during the night, but these were quickly restored to service.

Greatest trouble was caused by the many feeder lines (branch lines serving smaller areas) which either were ripped away by the force of ice and wind or shorted out by falling limbs and badly listing poles.

Public Service crews labored throughout the night, hurrying from one break to another, and managed to restore most of the service late this morning. They stuck to their posts without sleep and some without food to get the worst of the job licked today.

The interruption in electric service here—from six to eight hours—was the longest that can be recalled in recent years. It gives an indication of the widespread damage in this region.

Phone Lines

Telephone linemen encountered difficulties equally as great. Kankakee was completely isolated for several hours, cut off from all long distance communication as both power and telephone lines went out. Many poles were completely broken off.

From midnight until after 5 a. m., local telephone service was carried on by means of emergency standby equipment—power supplied by wet storage batteries. Preparations were being made to obtain a Diesel engine to recharge the batteries when the power was restored.

By 9 a. m. two long distance lines were back in service with more scheduled to follow soon. Western Union was unable to dispatch telegrams until after 9 a. m. when operators resumed working messages to Chicago. Relays from there were subject to delay.

Line crews for the communication companies were out all night, too, and a call was made for extra crews from southern Illinois to move in and help put wires back into operation throughout the northern part of the state.

Railroad schedules were delayed somewhat last night and early this morning by icy rails and poor visibility and both the Illinois Central and New York Central systems were hampered by lack of telegraph service to ascertain the movement of trains en route. Train service was reported near normal at noon.

Stokers Stopped

Because many heating plants are now stoker-fired, many persons awoke in chilly houses this morning. With most electric service cut off nearly all night, stokers got an unexpected mid-winter rest.

In public buildings like the court house, which requires many hours of sustained firing to warm up, rooms were downright cold until late this morning. Although the power was off early today at the Washington school, classes were held. All other public schools were in operation, also.

At St. Patrick school, classes were dismissed because of lack of power to operate the heating plant. School will be resumed Friday, however.

To add to the vagaries of northern Illinois weather, by mid-morning the ice thawed from most of the roadways and was rapidly disappearing from trees and roof tops as the sun made a succession of quick peeks through a heavy curtain of clouds.

Roads Clear Today

Thawing temperatures coupled with rain eliminated ice from city streets and highway pavements this morning to the satisfaction of motorists. As early as 9 o'clock drivers of buses reported that there was no skidding of their vehicles. It was safe driving, a condition far different from the situation last night.

Going places Wednesday evening proved to be a precarious undertaking. The highway pavements were covered with ice that was as slippery as a road covered with banana peelings.

No driver of a car, truck or bus was certain where he would be within the next 24 feet. A speed greater than 25 miles per hour proved to be dangerous and once the motorist accelerated his speed to a point as high as 30 MPH, he found himself in trouble.

One driver arrived at Reddick from points west on highway 17 at 5:50 o'clock and succeeded in reaching the business district of Kankakee by 7-21 miles in an hour and 10 minutes. Every foot of the way was creeping effort and fortunately all drivers he met were unusually cautious. None of the speed demons appeared to frighten the daylight out of occupants of automobiles.

Bus Runs Cancelled

Bus runs out of Kankakee, both north and south, were cancelled about 6 o'clock last night and were not resumed until about 5 o'clock this morning. It was too dangerous a task for drivers as well as passengers of the huge vehicles, operators of the lines decided.

The buses may have been able to make the schedule had the road conditions been a day-time problem, but darkness added nothing to driving comfort. A beating rain, also provided another hazard to safe driving. In short, it was a night of traffic problems.

The people who were out and carried strong desires to return home, discovered their troubles did not end until they reached the rug covered floors of their homes. It was even a job to walk from the curb to the house.

As one couple alighted from an ice-covered automobile a pedestrian slipped on the ice not five feet away. Being young in years and apparently active, the victim was not hurt but it was the type of an accident that could quite easily have caused broken bones.

There was no desire on the part of any thinking individual to go out for an evening's constitutional. The heat of the furnace and traction afforded by dry floors and rugs was far more pleasant than slipping and sliding on glazed walks which provided a hazard every foot of the way.

There is, however, a bright side to this sordid tale. The weather warmed, the ice thawed and walking was no hardship today. The public is gratified that the ice season was not prolonged for a couple of weeks. Kankakee has no desire to establish an ice longevity record.

Recalls '43 Storm

Philip Schirmer, city engineer of public works, compared the damage to trees with that effected by a furious snowstorm that swept over Kankakee on Sept. 29, 1942. In that storm, however, trees were blown down, but not as many as in this storm.

Manteno Rotary Hears Asphalt Plant Manager

The Manteno Rotary met Monday at the Shooker's home, where Program Chairman Bert Lemminger introduced Milton D. Ford, general manager of the Manteno branch of the Armstrong Cork company. Mr. Ford told of the plant at Manteno, which is the largest of its kind in the world, and of the work done by machinery, requiring about 80 to 100 men to operate the three-story plant. In thirty minutes from the time the material starts through the process on the third floor, it will come out a finished product on the first floor, he asserted.

Featured on radio program "The Manteno Plant" was a recent date the reading of a letter written by the third and fourth grade pupils of Manteno grade school. The class is taught by Miss Stella Guimond. The letter described the new road and the school building, and stated that the Manteno Rotary club had been very kind to give a letter to the school and to a sick member. Every week book reports are given and a colored sticker is placed on the reading chart opposite the name of the pupil giving the report.

At the beginning of the term a waste paper drive was conducted by the school and the proceeds of its sale will be spent for school equipment. The children were asked to listen to the program and were

Breach Of Contract Suit Over Manteno Property Dismissed

An attempt by Clifford Howe of Manteno to have the Circuit court compel Manteno, Ill., to sell the Manteno property to him, was dismissed yesterday by Judge G. D. Henry, when he dismissed Howe's complaint on the motion of the defendant. The judge, however, left a loop hole for Howe to renew his action, giving him until Feb. 3 to file further pleadings. The motion to dismiss contended that there was no written agreement and that the defendant never had accepted any money in payment for the property. Howe had alleged that Mrs. Cloutier had agreed to sell him the lot for $500 but "reneged" on the deal when she received a better offer from someone else. He claimed that he had planned to construct a business building and had gone to considerable expense in making his plans. The plaintiff requested the court to either order the transaction to be completed or to award him damages.

4 Explanations For Everything, Minister Says

In considering a reason or purpose for the existence of anything on earth, whether animal or vegetable, the minister said, "there are four different angles to the question. The first is the physical angle, the second is the biological angle, the third is the psychological angle, and the fourth is the spiritual angle. The minister said that the physical angle is the most obvious, but the spiritual angle is the most important. He said that the spiritual angle is the one that gives meaning to life and that it is the one that we should all strive to understand.

Famous Fables By E. E. Edgar

PENALTY: During his first year in office, the late President Roosevelt was the guest of Vincent Astor aboard the latter's yacht. One day, after the two had dined, each ordered in some months. Astor suggested that they take a cruise. The President hesitated. "I wouldn't want you to put the heat in commission just for me," he said. "It's always in commission," Astor assured him. "I'll have a twin-hull motor launch built for you. It'll have to raise the laws of the rich again."

GOOD ADVICE: Harriet Bee Stowe was entertaining a friend when a man came in to ask his advice. The two went into an adjoining room. When they emerged half hour later, the man was all smiles. He thanked Stowe and said, "What did you tell him that made him so happy?" asked the friend. "I told him that you were a better person than he is," said Stowe. "I never have that trouble," said the friend. "What a man came to me for advice, I find out what he wants and give it to him. That makes him happy and makes him think I am very smart."

Loneliness: Although he made many enemies among his contemporaries, artist James M. Whistler was always a loner. One of the men he passed away. One day he attended the funeral of an author and a man came in to ask his advice. The two went into an adjoining room. When they emerged half hour later, the man was all smiles. He thanked Stowe and said, "What did you tell him that made him so happy?" asked the friend. "I told him that you were a better person than he is," said Stowe. "I never have that trouble," said the friend. "What a man came to me for advice, I find out what he wants and give it to him. That makes him happy and makes him think I am very smart."

announcement.

At 1:15 p. m. OPA passed the word that there would be no statement tonight.

Then President's Secretary Charles G. Ross hurriedly summoned newsmen to a conference.

Mantainis Position
He said he had relayed to the President a report that the President had approved a 10 per cent rise in rents. The President told him, Ross said, that he had not.

Ross added:

The President's position is the same as he announced last week at a news conference. He feels the line ought to be held on rents, but that this is a matter for Congress. From a man who said in an interview between Mr. Truman and Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, head of the Office of Temporary Controls, came the statement that in these talks there was no mention of any across-the-board rent increase.

It was learned that the increase order was to have been effective March 1.

As the talks proceed, President Philip Murray of the CIO heard of the proposed order and tried to get in touch with Mr. Truman. Failing that, he sent him a letter protesting any liberalized ceilings.

Planning told reporters at the White House last week that OPA regional directors have been instructed to liberalize ceilings when at the curve of a half-mile north of the Wye on highway 1 during the night, according to State Patrolmen Ralph Mann and Corley Guenther. The name of the driver was not immediately learned by the officers.

Hits 'One-Way Reciprocity' With Russia

Washington, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Rep. Mundt (R-Mich.) demanding an end to "one-way reciprocity" in Soviet-American relations, raised the threat today of congressional action to curtail the heavy flow of goods from Russia.

While voicing confidence that Secretary of State Marshall will act to remedy the situation which Mundt said permitted Russia to publish details of American industrial construction, the Michigan Republican said he would introduce a bill to curtail the flow of goods from Russia.

"Congress may have to step in if something isn't done soon," he said.

He isn't sure just what Congress can do, Mundt added, but he is studying the subject.

"The constitution pretty well defines the authority of the executive branch of government in handling such matters, and I'm not sure whether it is within the power of Congress to intervene," he declared.

"Perhaps the most we could do would be to adopt a resolution urging that definite action be taken."

Disposal Company Asks Dismissal Of Township's Claim

A motion to strike certain paragraphs of the answer and the counter-claim filed by the Township officials in response to the Huber Disposal company was presented yesterday in Circuit court by the plaintiff, Judge C. D. Henry set a date for a hearing of arguments over the motion.

Judge Henry on Dec. 12 issued a declaratory judgment restraining Carl G. Critz, supervisor; Frank J. Karcher, assessor; and Walter K. Karcher, assessor, and the New York Central railroad from interfering with the dumping of refuse at the site of an abandoned quarry near Lehigh.

Charge False Statements
The three officials, who were set up as a board of health and answer that the plaintiff made false statements in their counter-claim and that none of the refuse contains organic materials, garbage, or other health hazards.

The defendants further allege that the plaintiff has taken steps to guard against the health hazards caused by "providing a breeding place for insects and other animals and insects;" that the refuse is piled as high as 30 feet and that no precautions have been taken to prevent spontaneous combustion fires to prevent the contamination of neighboring wells nor to prevent the integration of limestone in the soil.

The New York Central was named a defendant in the suit because railroad officials had refused to ship cars of the refuse shipped by the quarry from Chicago after they were served with an order by the alleged board of health.

Georgia House Passes White Primary Bill

Atlanta, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Georgia's white primary bill, a bid for the total exclusion of Negroes from the state today after receiving a thumping two-to-one approval in the Senate.

Senate action on the measure is not expected until next week, after the bill has passed the House.

Similar measures in other states are being considered.

Taking its vote late in the afternoon after almost seven hours of debate, the Georgia House approved the bill by a vote of 135 to 62.

The bill will direct the state of any control over party primaries, leaving them to the parties themselves as "private organizations" which proponents say legally can exclude Negroes from membership.

It is a studied effort to bypass a U. S. supreme court decision in 1945 that barred Negroes from primaries where nomination is tantamount to election.

branch were pulled by the heavy snow and not by ice as was the case last night.

The engineer said that three crews of street and alley workers worked the entire night, but the damage was so great that it was about all they could do to set up barricades and put out fires at trees that had fallen over the street.

Practically every street in the city felt the effect of fallen trees and limbs and the few motorists who ventured out were on their own to pick their ways through the streets.

Three huge trees blocked North Broadway alone and one on route 54 through the city. Hundreds of trees suffered severe damage from the ice and snow. Other trees were felled.

On the North Indiana avenue actually was uprooted. The city official also stated that numerous parked cars in the city were damaged by falling trees or branches.

We Need No Snow
The predicted heavy snow for Kankakee this afternoon or evening was definitely no cheering news to the city engineer.

"Even if the predicted snow falls to materialize it will still take us a week to clean up the fallen trees and branches," he said.

The snow arrives as scheduled then we are really in for some trouble. Not only for a long time, but the snow is probably far in addition the streets would be so cluttered that it would be a terrible job in attempting to operate snow plows."

Schurmer stated that the branches and trees will eventually end up at the old Hobble avenue day hole where they will be burned. He especially stressed the fact that residents should be patient and follow these simple rules if they wish to see the streets and terraces of the city cleaned up as soon as possible:

1. Any branches lying on sidewalks or in the yard should be piled up along the terraces immediately so the trucks can pick up the pick-up quickly. No branches should be taken into alleys because no pick-up will be made there.

2. Any hanging branches should be cut off immediately and also piled up along the terraces. The city workers will not be permitted to go onto private property to pick up branches.

Buy Night For Police
City police had one of their busiest nights in months as they were called from one fallen tree to another. They looked something like this after the night's activities:

8:45 a. m.—North Broadway—down: 10:55 p. m.—Hickory and Bourbonnais—tree down: 11:11 p. m.—Willow and River—tree down: 11:20 p. m.—Hobble avenue from Birch to Park—telephone poles down: 11:21 p. m.—Walnut and East and 1100 block South Third—trees down: 11:21 p. m.—Black North Harrison—tree down: 1:10 a. m.—Hickory between Fourth and Fifth avenues—hot wire cut: 2 a. m.—Desborn and Station—tree down: 2 a. m.—Station and Indiana—hot wire cut: 2:20 a. m.—600 block North Indiana avenue—tree down on car: 5:21 a. m.—251 North Fairmount—hot wire cut: 5:23 a. m.—Griffith road east of highway 54—hot wire.

Shoe Store Owner Appeals Verdict

Notice that an appeal of his decision in the Fred Lottinville vs. First Trust and Savings bank suit has been presented to the appellate court at Ottawa was filed with Judge C. D. Henry yesterday in Circuit court by attorneys for the plaintiff.

The suit, which involved a dispute over ownership of 88 shares of stock in the Lottinville company, ended Jan. 10 after two years of litigation when Judge Henry ruled that Lottinville should either pay $2,500 to Lottinville, who holds the certificates, within 10 days or forfeit 50 shares. Taylor is now county judge.

Lottinville alleges that he gave the stock to the bank in 1923 as security for a loan, part of which he had been paid and the balance of which he claims he is ready to pay.

Orders Sandwich, Then Breaks Window

Vernon Clarida, 38, of 957 Whitcomb street, Gary, Ind., was fired $12.25 in Police court this morning on a charge of kicking in a show case last night at a restaurant located at 355 West Court street.

The Indiana man, who admitted that he was drunk at the time of the incident, was also ordered by Police Magistrate Ed Hoenke to pay for damages to the show case. He was released because no pick-up will be made there.

The complainant, Arthur Porter, said that Clarida ordered a hamburger sandwich and after setting it on the counter, he broke the window and ended his session by kicking in the show case glass. He was arrested at 6:30 p. m. by Lt. Curtis Fred.

House Votes To Continue Excise Tax

Washington, Jan. 28.—(AP)—The House voted overwhelmingly yesterday to continue the 55-cent tax on liquor, fur, jewelry and many other items.

It was the first major bill of the Republican-controlled Congress.

The action, sending the excise tax issue over to the Senate, came after a sizzling debate marked by a rebellion in the Republican ranks against another G. O. P.-backed tax bill.

This one, by Representative Knutson (Rep. Minn.), proposed a 20 per cent reduction in income taxes.

In the first roll call vote of the 80th Congress, 244 Republicans and 149 Democrats joined in support of the excise freeze, while the bill was opposed by eight Republicans and one Democrat.

They Got There!
One Kankakee truck was sent to the tavern to aid Bradley firemen who reached the scene in spite of the adverse conditions. The two fire departments extinguished the blaze after it had burned a 4 by 4 foot hole in the roof of the building. Damage was estimated at $200. The fire apparently started when the ice broke a wire connected to the neon sign.

City firemen responded to two calls this morning, both to investigate refrigerator motors on fire at local taverns. The first run was by the Washington firemen, located at the intersection of Washington and River street, at 1:30 a. m. and the other to the Rocky Tavern, 246 West Court street, at 2:12 a. m. No damage was reported.

Two Dandelions In Full Bloom On South Side

Spring is definitely on the way, thinks Patricia Paris, 1071 South Eighth avenue, a student in the sixth grade at Washington school.

Patricia found two dandelions in full bloom this morning in the back yard of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Paris.

The plants had withstood the old blasts of last night's wind storm and were covered by ice which fell from the trees overhead.

And only a day or two ago the welcome snow of Robbins was heard by Kankakee. She is their third child and second daughter.

Mrs. John Peaton is in Manhattan making the acquaintance of her granddaughter, Marla Kniph, Mrs. Kniph's infant daughter returned home from Silver Cross hospital on Tuesday.

Disposal Company Asks Dismissal Of Township's Claim

A motion to strike certain paragraphs of the answer and the counter-claim filed by the Township officials in response to the Huber Disposal company was presented yesterday in Circuit court by the plaintiff, Judge C. D. Henry set a date for a hearing of arguments over the motion.

Judge Henry on Dec. 12 issued a declaratory judgment restraining Carl G. Critz, supervisor; Frank J. Karcher, assessor; and Walter K. Karcher, assessor, and the New York Central railroad from interfering with the dumping of refuse at the site of an abandoned quarry near Lehigh.

Charge False Statements
The three officials, who were set up as a board of health and answer that the plaintiff made false statements in their counter-claim and that none of the refuse contains organic materials, garbage, or other health hazards.

The defendants further allege that the plaintiff has taken steps to guard against the health hazards caused by "providing a breeding place for insects and other animals and insects;" that the refuse is piled as high as 30 feet and that no precautions have been taken to prevent spontaneous combustion fires to prevent the contamination of neighboring wells nor to prevent the integration of limestone in the soil.

The New York Central was named a defendant in the suit because railroad officials had refused to ship cars of the refuse shipped by the quarry from Chicago after they were served with an order by the alleged board of health.

City Firemen Also Have Busy Night; Make Five Runs

City firemen were among those who had a busy night last night during the storm as they made five runs.

Their initial action came at 10:56 p. m. when they were called to the corner of Charles street and Fifth avenue to investigate a "hot" wire. Fifteen minutes later they went to the 800 block of South Elm avenue where another electric wire had fallen.

Bradley called for the aid of Kankakee firemen at 11:20 a. m. when the Pete Zelous tavern, located north of Kankakee on highway 54, caught on fire. The Bradley fire department, which was reportedly was in the village officials feared that they could not summon the firemen in time to save the structure.

Law Cares For Threshing And Shelling Liens

In 1941 the Illinois legislature passed a law which gave threshing and shelling liens the same status as other liens. This law was designed to protect the interests of the threshing and shelling companies and to provide a fair and equitable method of settling disputes between them and the farmers.

The law provides that a threshing or shelling company which has a lien on a farmer's property for unpaid work may file a statement of the lien with the county clerk. This statement must contain a description of the property and the amount of the lien.

Once the statement is filed, the company may proceed to sell the property to satisfy the lien. The farmer has the right to object to the sale if he believes the lien is invalid or if the amount claimed is excessive.

The law also provides that a farmer who has a lien on a threshing or shelling company's property may file a statement of the lien with the county clerk. This statement must contain a description of the property and the amount of the lien.

Once the statement is filed, the farmer may proceed to sell the property to satisfy the lien. The company has the right to object to the sale if it believes the lien is invalid or if the amount claimed is excessive.

News behind the News

Washington, Jan. 29.—The British are said to be the smartest diplomats in all the world, but this has not been said much lately. The foreign minister, Mr. Bevin, has been very much in the news lately, and it is not surprising that he has been the subject of much speculation. It is said that he is a very clever man, and that he is a very good diplomat. He is said to be a very good diplomat, and that he is a very clever man. He is said to be a very good diplomat, and that he is a very clever man.

Mr. Bevin must have lost five pounds or more when he read that for he did an unexpected if not unheard of thing. He wrote Stalin. He sent an official note to Stalin, saying that he was not in the habit of writing to him, but that he was not in the habit of writing to him.

It would require a British sense of humor to understand how Bevin could possibly have taken the Pravda accusation seriously. But he did it, and he did it in a way that was not in the habit of writing to him.

Now do not go away, kiddies. Here the story just starts to become interesting. Pravda, which sees things no one in the entire world can see, came right back at the poor misanthrope (Mr. Bevin) and said he was wrong in interpreting his own speech. Bevin did not know what he meant by his own remarks, said Pravda, and added: "This cannot be denied."

Well Stalin denied it—the very day, January 23, that the Soviet Siberia. Spirit of forced labor in the salt mines! The editor of Pravda was refuted by Stalin. Gullible as I am, I immediately conjured visions of the whole staff of Pravda being invited by the O.G.P.U. to pack up suddenly and ask no questions because they were going somewhere.

Stalin declared it is to dispute an editor in a democracy. But for a Pravda editor to dispute Stalin! The contemplation of such an event thrusts me into unutterable sadness.

Anyway, kiddies, the great and good Stalin answered Bevin's alarm, calmed his troubled mind, straightened out his misunderstood spirit and said Bevin was right in his interpretation—that is, he was right if he changed some of the weak-

ROOM AND BOARD by Gene Aherne

Bevin was right, of course, in interpreting his own remarks. Stalin did not mention what reservation to put it to. Quite plainly he was dictating for some kind of a better deal for himself. The point of the matter may be in Moscow in March and the basic question at issue is whether to interpret the British position in the Anglo-Russian treaty. Or perhaps it is not entirely accurate to put it so obviously. What Stalin precisely said was that the changing presumably to bring Britain further into the Russian camp, and

KANKAKEE TO OFFICE CALUMET CITY IN CAGAL TILT

2nd Suburban Place At Stake Friday Night

The northeastern Illinois basketball spotlight will be on Kankakee high school's eagles tomorrow night despite the fact that the Kays are performing away from home.

Kankakee only one game out of first place in the South Suburban league and rated as a chance of finishing in a tie for the championship, battle Thornton Franchise at Calumet City tomorrow night and the game represents a battle to survive the threat to the Kays' weeks of the season. Kankakee and Calumet City are currently deadlocked in a second place tie with four wins and two losses apiece, one game ahead of Bloom, Chicago Heights.

Tomorrow night's game will mark the third successive week in which Coach Olson's Kankakee team have been involved in crucial league competition. Two weeks ago they battled Bloom in a game to break a first place deadlock—won by Bloom and last week they broke a second place tie with Blue Island—won by Kankakee.

In the first meeting, here in December, Kankakee came out on top with Calumet City's defending champions. Both teams were warned by first semester graduates, Kankakee's Lester and Thornton's Franchise, and Calumet City's second regular, Anderson and Shepherd. Both coaches, however, are pretty well fixed for replacements.

Leighton Patchett, Kays' former freshman-sophomore player, was kept out of basketball during the last two months because of a foot injury sustained in football. He will dress for his first game tomorrow night, Dikayra said.

Patchett has been working hard and may see some action against Calumet City. He is fast and can hit the hoop well.

In tomorrow night's preliminary Kankakee high school's first man-sophomore team will seek to get a former high schooler back in the South Suburban when it meets Calumet City's freshman-fifth in the 7:15 o'clock regular season game. Kays will be gunning for their seventh successive victory.

The only attraction on the "local" basketball night is the Kankakee Valley conference game between St. Anne and Bradley on Friday night. The game will be a Kankakee Valley conference contest and will be held at 8:30 o'clock.

Two other Kankakee Valley games are scheduled for Friday night: Calumet City vs. Grant Park, and Peotone at Marenco. Other games slated for the northeastern Illinois are: Oulton at Chatsworth, Piper City at Shenandoah, and Peotone at Grant Park. Kankakee Valley conference games are scheduled for Saturday night, Kankakee high school's quietest goes to Danville, seeking his second victory over the Silver Streaks of the Big 12 conference.

This Athlete Welcomes Exams

Williamsburg, Va. (AP)—Here's a performance and a performance examination. He's Dick Hangerford, six foot, four inch freshman at Williamsburg College. He's a basketball player. He's a basketball player. He's a basketball player.

In the only piece of action scheduled for Saturday night, Kankakee high school's quietest goes to Danville, seeking his second victory over the Silver Streaks of the Big 12 conference.

Tourek, Purple Star, Has Skill On Cage Court, In Class Room

Evansville, Jan. 30.—(JNS)—A straight shooter, the Beryon court and a straight A student in the class room are two outstanding attributes of Chuck Tourek, a young navy air corps pilot, who is playing a starring role at guard on Northwestern university's basketball team this season.

While the Wildcats lost a pair of first string players to the military, Tourek is the only player to have played in all 19 games. Last week he led the team to a 40-34 upset victory over Iowa followed by a one point loss to the league leading Wisconsin Badgers by a 46-40 score.

Tourek has few equals as a ball handler and floor man and as a result sets up most of Northwestern's offense.

Tourek is known as the "player maker" of the Wildcats. He is making a strong comeback after dropping four straight conference games. Last week he led the team to a 40-34 upset victory over Iowa followed by a one point loss to the league leading Wisconsin Badgers by a 46-40 score.

Iroquois County Youth Assistant Position Filled

Waukegan, Jan. 30—(JNS)—Roy E. Will of Normal, who will be graduated from the University of Illinois college of agriculture Sunday, has been hired for the Iroquois county youth assistant position left vacant several months ago by the resignation of Carlos C. Reichert. Mr. Will will assume his duties after graduation.

The Normal young man, who will act in the capacity of assistant farm adviser, will work with the 4-H club and Rural Youth programs under the farm and home advisers. Since Mr. Reichert's resignation the youth assistant duties have been handled by Ralph Elliott of Onarga who will return to farming when the Illinois graduate begins work.

The new assistant, 23, married, a veteran of more than three years in the service, spent eight years in 4-H club work in McLean county. He earned the "American Farmer" degree in Future Farmers of America work and studied vocational agriculture for four years at Normal community high school.

Dolores Bianchini, 3, left home with 20 cents and a note to a nearby grocer but when police found her wandering downtown, a mile away, she had collected this 49c piggy bank, a bag of candy and some pennies. Dolores lives in Pittsburgh, Pa. (AP Wirephoto)

More than 192,000,000 pounds of corn starch were used in 1945 in filling or "sizing" for paper in the United States.

The Stars and Stripes was first carried as an American flag in a military engagement at the Battle of Brandywine Sept. 11, 1777.
