Administration Seeks Power To Ration Steel

Part Of Anti-Inflation Program To Be Presented To Congress

Washington, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer told Congress today that the administration will ask "mandatory" powers to control the distribution of steel and other major commodities in short supply.

Sawyer said this direct government control will be sought as part of the overall stabilization and anti-inflation program urged by President Truman.

His disclosure came as he urged a Senate small business subcommittee to give speedy extension for seven months beyond March 1 of the present system of voluntary allocations through industry committees.

The "broader economic program" he said will be put before Congress later, presumably in a bill permitting controls over credit, prices, rent, exports, and the distribution of metals and other materials in scarce supply.

Present Law Ends March 1

The present voluntary allocations authority is to end March 1. "Subject to limited wind-up arrangements for agreements then in effect," Sawyer reminded the subcommittee, which is part of the Senate banking and currency committee.

The voluntary program, under which the commerce department sets up distribution allotments for the steel industry and two subsidiaries, was authorized by the Republican-dominated 80th Congress as a substitute for President Truman's request for compulsory allocations powers.

Most developments at the Capitol today were in committee. The Senate was in recess and the House scheduled only a routine session with no important legislation ready for action.

President Truman, however, sent up a request for $480,702,340 in additional money to be spent this fiscal year ending June 30. His request covered some 60 items of expense which had not been anticipated when the regular appropriations were made last year.

Senate Rules

The Senate rules committee held its second day of hearings on proposed changes in the rules of Senate debate designed to kill the filibuster process which in the past has enabled small groups of senators to talk bills to death.

The filibuster has been the southern states' most effective weapon against legislation they consider undesirable. Many of them so classed President Truman's "civil rights" program.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) broke with his colleagues today, coming out for rules which would make it possible to cut off debate. Senator Morse (R-Ore.) also testified in favor of the change.

Other congressional developments included: WESTERN-RELIEF—The Senate interior affairs committee okayed an emergency fund of $750,000 to (Continued on Page 10, Column 2)

Floods Rout Hundreds From Southern Illinois Homes

Rampaging rivers routed more hundreds of southern Illinoisans out of their homes Tuesday. And residents along the unruly Wabash and Little Wabash rivers in southeast Illinois saw bad days ahead in the sullen skies that poured out more rain this morning. It has been raining almost continuously in the area since Saturday.

The best estimates were that a thousand persons or more would be refugees by tonight.

Evacuate East Carmi. East Carmi was virtually all evacuated. By lantern light, families moved out of household furnishings all night long. The Red Cross arranged for emergency housing of about 250 persons. That did not include many others who shifted for themselves or who were taken into homes of friends and relatives.

Bottomland residents through the Wabash valley were "boarding up." Furniture not moved out was piled on scaffolding along the walls in hopes the water wouldn't reach it. Chickens and hogs were hoisted into barn lofts. Larger stock was driven to the hills.

The Little Wabash river rose an inch an hour Monday and Tuesday night. East Carmi streets were flooded. But larger trucks navigated them in carrying furnishings to warehouses.

The river needed to rise less than a foot to go over State Route 1 and U. S. Route 460 in East Carmi.

Use Temporary Shelters. At Mt. Carmel, Mayor Frank D. Talley said the Wabash river went up to seven and four-tenths feet above flood stage overnight.

Talley reported "a dozen or 15 families are in garages or any other buildings we could get." Seven railroad boxcars gave shelter for about two families apiece.

Veteran river observers said that previously announced crests for this week "will have to be revised upward and pushed back."

The Wabash's Mt. Carmel stage was 24.4 feet and if it went to 29, the municipal power plant may be put out of service.

Mayor Talley said he called upon the Red Cross for food, clothing and temporary shelter. Some of it will come from the Scott army air force base near Belleville, across the state.

Down the Wabash valley from Mt. Carmel about a score of rural schools closed today. They couldn't be reached or marooned pupils couldn't leave homes except by boat.

Blame Ashes On Floor For Fire Which Killed Six

Chicago, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Police said last night that a pan of hot ashes tossed on a pantry floor caused an apartment house fire last Saturday in which six persons perished and four others were critically burned.

Detective Frank Grady and two crime laboratory technicians said they learned the origin of the blaze in a lie detector test of Albert Butler, 26, and his brother, Leroy, negro, 26.

Grady said Albert dumped the ashes on the floor during the night after placing more coal on a fire in the stove. The room blazed up, Grady added, after Albert had gone back to sleep and the fire was out of control when it awakened them.

It was the first accident in the Berlin evacuation program.

A British flier and six Germans, two of them children, were killed. The injured included two other British airmen and 15 Germans. All are in the Schoenberg hospital, near which the plane crashed.

Soviet air authorities in the allied air safety center here informed the British today of the casualties.

Edward Steiner In Hospital; Condition Grave

Divorced Wife, Indiana Man In Watska Jail

Watska, Jan. 25.—(JNS)—Alman H. Epperson, 31, of 932 Joan drive, Evansville, Ind., and Mrs. Georgia Bookless Steiner, 26, Watska, are being held in Iroquois county jail here today in the shooting of Mrs. Steiner's divorced husband on his farm near Buckley last night.

In critical condition at Paxton Community hospital at Paxton is Edward Steiner, 31, victim of the shooting. An operation to remove a 22 calibre rifle bullet from Steiner's back was performed last night and three blood transfusions have been given him.

Sheriff Merle Wilmoth said today that Epperson, who is a steeplejack, related that he shot Steiner and that he and Mrs. Steiner "planned to do away with Ed while we were in St. Louis." The sheriff said that he has questioned Epperson thoroughly and planned to question Mrs. Steiner this afternoon.

Walk To Farm

Epperson related that he and the woman had hitch-hiked to Buckley and then walked to the Steiner farm located three and a half miles southeast of Buckley. He told the sheriff that Mrs. Steiner went into the house while he stayed outside. When Steiner left by a rear door to complete farm chores, his ex-wife let him in the front door and told him to stay in the front room while she secured a gun.

Epperson told Sheriff Wilmoth that when Steiner returned to the house he went upstairs to get a blouse for his former wife while she waited in the kitchen. Steiner came down the stairs, the Indiana man explained, and then, apparently having forgotten something, went back upstairs.

The sheriff was told that when Steiner came down the stairs the second time Epperson fired from the front of the house as Steiner was re-entering the kitchen. Epperson told Sheriff Wilmoth that he then ran out the front door, threw the gun in the yard and then circled back to the barn.

Authorities believe that Mrs. Steiner made the telephone call summoning help. When help arrived Mrs. Steiner accompanied her ex-husband to the Paxton hospital. Epperson, in the meantime, re-entered the home where he was taken into custody by the sheriff and his deputies. He showed where he had thrown the gun and the weapon was recovered, the sheriff stated.

The time of the shooting was set at 7 p. m. Both Epperson and Mrs. Steiner were in jail by 10 p. m.

Meet In Evansville

Epperson told authorities he first met Mrs. Steiner about Dec. 9 at Evansville and that they both resided with her former husband for several weeks during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Steiner, a former Cissna Park resident, was divorced from Steiner on May 12, 1945. Steiner was the plaintiff in the suit and charged adultery. He was awarded custody of two minor children, Edward Earl, and Rosemary Jean, and they are residing with relatives at Cissna Park. Mrs. Steiner was granted the privilege of returning to the use of her maiden name, Bookless.

It Pays To Be Cross-Eyed In Heavy Traffic

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 25.—(AP)—An eye doctor cited case histories to prove that sometimes it pays to be cross-eyed.

The simple reason, explained Dr. T. D. Murroughs of Linton, Ind., is that about one cross-eyed person out of five can look two ways at the same time.

He referred to "authenticated records" and cited the case of a bus driver who not only could see straight ahead but sideways at the same time.

That was a valuable asset in New York traffic, commented Dr. Murroughs, who reported:

A couple of days after the bus driver had his eyes corrected, he stormed into the optometrist's office complaining that he could see only one direction at a time.

Dr. Murroughs spoke yesterday at the southeastern midwinter optometric congress.

He said that while these cross-eyed persons had their advantage they lacked others—such as ability to do sustained close-up work.

Pedestrian Hit By Engine On I. C. Crossing

A 35-year-old Kankakee man was critically injured early today when he was struck by an Illinois Central railroad freight engine at the I. C. depot here.

Lawrence Gillespie, of 282 South Washington avenue, suffered a crushed left foot, several toes on his right foot and internal and multiple head injuries when he tripped on the tracks and fell against the front of the huge locomotive. He was rushed to St. Mary hospital in an ambulance, where X-rays were taken. The results had not been disclosed at noon today.

J. P. Cook, 45, of Chicago, engineer on the locomotive; Conductor H. P. Huckleberry, 43, also of Chicago and a witness, Albert Crawley, 281 South Indiana avenue, all told police that Gillespie apparently attempted to beat the train to the crossing. They disclosed the 73-car train was traveling south on track No. 1, at about 10 miles per hour and estimated it stopped about 39 feet south of the accident site.

That Wedged In Coupler. Policeman George Tierney, who investigated with Officers Lawrence Freigo, Clifford Lord, Richard Wisniewski and Orval Sken, said Gillespie's hat was found wedged in the coupler on the front of the engine.

The fire department's inhalator squad was summoned, but when Firemen James LaGesse and Glen Johnson arrived, Gillespie had partially crawled out from under the locomotive and was assisted the rest of the way. The inhalator was not needed.

Gillespie is an ex-service man and resided in Gilman before he entered the army.

BULLETINS

AMERICANS SAFE. Washington, Jan. 25.—(AP)—All Americans in Peiping are reported to have escaped injury when that city fell to the Chinese Communists.

Michael J. McDermott, state department press officer, said today that reports from the consul general there indicate that no Americans were either killed or injured in the course of the fighting over the city.

This includes all 193 Americans in the city and all four in the town of Tungchow, 12 miles to the east, he said.

APPROVE WEBB. Washington, Jan. 25.—(AP)—The Senate foreign relations committee today unanimously approved the nomination of James E. Webb as undersecretary of state.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) said the vote was 11 to 0 with two senators absent.

The Senate is due to consider the nomination Thursday.

'HAYLIFT' A SUCCESS. Ely, Nev., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Enthusiastic Nevada stockmen, sensing a chance to avert financial ruin, flocked to the Ely airport to meet cargo planes bringing hay for their starving livestock.

The haylift, which started yesterday, was hailed as "a plum good deal" by the stockmen.

Most of the hay is being landed at the Ely airport. From there it is trucked to ranches. The big "flying boxcars" of the U. S. air force dropped fodder directly on three ranches to feed 10,000 sheep. Many of the stockmen were astonished at the precision "bombing" by the airmen.

Four GI's Shot, One Stabbed In Riot At Camp In Japan

Tokyo, Jan. 25.—(UP)—Four American soldiers were shot and one was stabbed in a riot at Camp Crawford on Hokkaido Island Sunday night, allied headquarters announced today.

The shootings took place at an enlisted men's club when military police, who came to put down the trouble, were cornered and had to shoot their way out.

It was believed the riot broke out when members of the 11th airborne and the seventh divisions argued over which outfit was the "tougher." The seventh division was transferred recently from Korea to Japan to replace the 11th airborne division, which is going to the United States.

An allied headquarters spokesman said three of the soldiers were "seriously" wounded. Another received a cut on the right forearm when he dived out of a window after the shooting started, and another was stabbed shortly afterwards in front of a nearby barracks.

Called MP's. Names of the victims were withheld until their relatives were informed of their condition.

The fracas that preceded the shooting started about 8 p. m. Sunday night when several soldiers started throwing empty cans and bottles and chairs in the club, the spokesman said. "The manager ordered the club closed and requested assistance from military police."

School Board Changes Method Of Election

New Procedure Requires Filing Month In Advance

The Kankakee school board yesterday passed a resolution supplementing the voting procedure for election of members of the board of education which has been in force since 1865 when the special charter creating the Kankakee school district was granted by the state legislature.

The new voting procedure set out in the board's resolution provides for the nomination of candidates for members of the board of education by petition 30 days in advance of the election which is held on the second Saturday of April in each year.

Building Plans Approved. The Kankakee school board yesterday again approved final plans for the proposed East and West Junior high schools, including the new gymnasium, and instructed the architects to advertise for bids. The date for the opening of the new bids has been set for Feb. 21 at 2 p. m. at the Kankakee high school. Bids previously received on Dec. 5 for this work were rejected by the board as being outside the budget.

Establishes Procedure. The new resolution also provides that the names of candidates so nominated shall be placed upon the official ballot prepared by the clerk of the school board, and sets forth detailed procedure governing the conduct of the judges of election, number of voting booths, and other provisions. The new election procedure becomes effective immediately and will be in force in the coming April election.

In all previous elections in the school district since 1865 balloting was done in an informal manner, similar to the procedure still followed today by many common school districts and special charter districts. Each candidate printed his own set of ballots and the voter used any ballot of his choice.

Mourn Miss Scaggs' Death. In other action at its meeting yesterday, the board adopted the following resolution pertaining to the recent death of Miss Pearl Scaggs, a Kankakee high school teacher who was killed in an automobile accident in Kentucky early this month:

WHEREAS, in the nature of events of our existence upon this earth, death has come to Miss Pearl Scaggs, a friend and teacher in the Kankakee public schools, vacating the position she so fittingly held for over 20 years; and

WHEREAS, We, the Board of Education of Kankakee School District No. 11, Kankakee County, Illinois, for whom she served and gave the many faithful years of service, fully recognize and appreciate her fine services, her friendly counsel, her wise judgment and loyal devotion to the school children of Kankakee who were privileged with her instruction; and

WHEREAS, This Board of "dedication" desires to pay its last respects to this fine teacher and friend, a woman of gentle and kindly manners and a warm and sympathetic nature, who during more

Chaplain Dies

Washington, Jan. 25.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. Peter Marshall, 46-year-old chaplain of the Senate, died of a heart attack today in George Washington university hospital. He was stricken a few hours earlier at his home.

He had been in the hospital since Sunday night, when he was stricken by a heart attack while attending to a patient.

Dr. Marshall was a member of the Senate chaplaincy since 1945. He was born in New York and had served in the military during World War II.

Aimed To Offset Marshall Plan

6 Slav States To Cooperate In Tight Political, Military, Economic Band

London, Jan. 25.—(UP)—Russia announced today the formation of a tight political, military and economic alliance of six Slav states—an eastern union designed to offset the union of western Europe, the Marshall plan, and the proposed Atlantic defense pact.

The eastern union was made up of Russia, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, the chastised Peck's bad boy of the communist bloc, was left out, dangling between the east and the west.

Cite Western Boycott. The new union was announced in identical announcements released in the capitals of the members countries. They said that mutual economic action had been forced on the east because of the "boycott" by the western nations operating under the Marshall plan.

Primarily the eastern union was formed to take the cold war against the west into the field of economics. Observers in Prague said it might be referred to as "the Molotov plan"—an obvious parallel to the Marshall plan for western Europe.

Broad indications were seen that the Soviet zone of Germany would be admitted later, as the western zone of Germany was admitted to the Marshall plan benefits. A possibility was seen that the Russian zone of Austria might be included.

Worked Out Details. Details of the eastern alliance were worked out at a meeting in Moscow some time in January, the formal statements said.

Newspapers in the communist capitals published the formal statement on their front pages, without comment.

Reliable sources in Prague said Communist party leaders were given a mimeographed outline of economic cooperation early in October. The basic plans were reported drafted in September. At that time President Klement Gottwald of Czechoslovakia went to the Crimea, where Premier Josef Stalin presumably was vacationing. A stir of activity at high levels also indicated other Communist conferences about that time.

Under the broad outlines of the economic plan, according to a Prague dispatch, Czechoslovakia was reported tabbed to concentrate on industry. Other countries were concentrated on other specialties such as agriculture and mining, at the same time trying to increase their industrial output.

Mutual Economic Aid. A council for mutual economic aid was set up. It presumably will bind eastern Europe as closely in trade and agriculture as it already was bound politically.

Informed sources in Prague reported that feelers had been put out for a world conference of Communist economists in Moscow.

The communists said that at Moscow the delegates "ascertained that the governments of the United States, Britain and several other western European countries are boycotting economic relations with the countries of the people's democracy (the Soviet sphere) and the U. S. R. because these countries regard it as impossible to subordinate themselves to the dictation of the Marshall plan.

Western Alliance. The creation of the eastern union gave impetus to a western drive to form an economic and military alliance. The announcement in the east came only two days before the prime ministers of five western union countries were scheduled to meet here.

The delegates will discuss detailed plans for defending western Europe against any Communist aggression. The plans were preliminary to the

Chinese Reds Offer To Meet Peace Envoys

Nanking, Jan. 25.—(AP)—The Chinese government headed southward today a few minutes after the communists offered by radio to meet national peace envoys in Peiping.

A foreign office spokesman revealed the southward move without giving the government's destination, which, presumably will be Canton. Some ministries already have left for Canton.

The government and communist announcements both came as Red patrols arrived on the north banks of the Yangtze river not far from Canton.

Removal of the seat of the government was expected to be completed by the middle of next month, an official spokesman said.

The peace offer was broadcast as the capital's populace poured out of the Red perils, city, which was raped in 1937 by the Japanese.

The southward move followed the failure of the government to get the embassies to move southward when they were notified on Jan. 19 that certain ministries would be moved to Canton.

Highlights Of Proposed Rent Control Bill

By James Marlow

Washington, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Here's an ABC on the highlights of the bill to keep rent controls two years more.

Some of President Truman's Democratic leaders in Congress introduced it in both houses yesterday. Rent control bills March 31, 1949, unless Congress passes a new law, will expire.

It seems certain that the bill will extend controls to March 31, 1951.

Could Go To Jail

This bill would let the expedited change of a will violate with a criminal offense. The penalty if found guilty in court, up to one year in jail or a $5,000 fine, or both.

Under present law, there's no criminal penalty for anything. A tenant can sue a landlord who overcharges him, for example. Or, the expedited can ask a judge for an order telling the landlord to stop overcharging.

Extends Two Years

The bill would continue for two years or more the housing preference given war veterans under the present law. This means:

1. You couldn't sell a single-family house which you built or converted after June 30, 1947—unless you did it for your own use—without letting a veteran have first chance to buy it.

2. You couldn't sell the house to a person who offered the veteran less than the same price for any house or apartment or room that is offered for rent and has been built or converted after June 30, 1947.

What about a place where a tenant voluntarily signed a lease agreeing to let the landlord raise his rent 10 per cent in the past year or so?

Such a place isn't under control now, even under present law. But under the new law it would go under control—but at the lease rental. In other words, the landlord couldn't get another increase. What of a place where you had such a lease, with a 10 per cent increase, and the lease has now ended?

No Rollback

Even under present law the place would go back under control when the lease ended. The bill would put it under control, too.

Does this mean that in either case the rent would be rolled back to some figure that existed before the lease was signed? No.

It would simply mean the landlord could not boost you after this bill became law, without the expedited's approval.

This bill would give the expedited power to control, or decontrol, any dwelling converted into some other kind of dwelling between March 31, 1949, and March 31, 1951.

The term "Navy" formerly meant all the shipping of a country whether merchant or fighting ships.

The present law removed controls from a dwelling which it had been unrented between Feb. 1, 1945 and April 1, 1948, was rented after April 1, 1948.

Even under present law the place would go back under control when the lease ended. The bill would put it under control, too.

These Days

by GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Course Of Justice

Some of the judges on the International Military Tribunal had a difficult time reconciling justice with political punishment. The idea that an entire nation is guilty for a war and that each individual in it is liable to punishment is certainly not American. Our view is better expressed by the draft; that is, Congress once having decided upon war, each citizen is expected to do his duty.

In a decision involving I. G. Farben, Judges Curtis G. Shaker of Indiana and James Morris of North Dakota, Judge Paul M. Hebert of Louisiana concurring, wrote a decision which today is buried in the archives of the tribunal but which may some day become important should international law and morality ever be resurrected. The judges said:

"To depart from the concept that only major war criminals—that is, those persons in the political, military and industrial fields, for example, who were responsible for the formulation and execution of policies—may be held liable for waging wars of aggression would lead far afield. Under such circumstances there could be no practical limitation on criminal responsibility that would not include, on principle, the private soldier on the battle field, the farmer who increased his production of foodstuffs to sustain the armed forces, or the housewife who conserved fats for the making of munitions."

Point Stressed

And, of course, what is said of Germany is now true of Japan, and may some day be true of the United States, should we ever fight losing war. For therein lies the danger in all this. As long as we are victors, we can enforce our will, but what we have actually done at the Nuremberg and Tokyo tribunals has been to lay down the precedent that the victor alone determines what is to be done to the conquered people.

Judges Shaker and Morris make this point:

"... It is, of course, unthinkable that the majority of Germans should be condemned, as guilty of committing crimes against peace. This would amount to a determination of collective guilt to which the corollary of mass punishment is the logical result for which there is no precedent in international law and no justification in human relations. We cannot say that a private citizen shall be placed in the position of being compelled to determine in the heat of war whether his government is right or wrong, or if it starts right, who it turns wrong. We would not require the citizen, at the risk of becoming a criminal under the rules of international justice, to decide that his country has become an aggressor and that he must lay aside his patriotism, the loyalty to his homeland, and the defense of his own fireside at the risk of being adjudged guilty of crimes against peace on the one hand, or of becoming a traitor to his country on the other, if he makes an erroneous decision based upon facts of which he has but vague knowledge."

Another Angle

Under such a rule of life, only the traitor, the coward, the Quisling, the bribed agent, would be right and everyone else wrong. Many in the United States today hold that view when applied to some other country. They would, of course, deny an American citizen the right to betray his country in time of war, although they expect every citizen of every other country to do it at their convenience.

Those who forced the Chicago Symphony orchestra to cancel the contract of the conductor, Wilhelm Furtwaengler, were of the opinion that he should not have conducted in Germany during the Nazi regime and when his country was at war with ours. And it is a pity that those who control the Chicago Symphony orchestra permitted themselves to be coerced into an acceptance of this outrageous view.

Undoubtedly their reasoning was that the anti-Furtwaengler pressure group was more vociferous than the unorganized majority of Americans who fight a war not against individuals but against countries. How silly to spend billions on the Berlin airlift yet to practice vengeance on an orchestra conductor or a soprano! At any rate, one is proud of the fact that some of our American judges believe in justice and tell the truth.

Famous Fables

By E. E. Edgar

NO EXCUSE: A young friend of V. Somerset Maugham was discussing his future plans with the novelist.

"Why don't you try your hand at writing?" suggested Maugham.

"No, I could never do that," said the other.

"Name one reason why not," urged the novelist.

"Well, for one thing, I have nothing to write about."

"Young man," replied Maugham, "that is the most ridiculous reason I have ever heard for not writing."

stamped up and down on the floor, until the boy opened his eyes. Leaning over him, Godowsky murmured sympathetically:

INSOMNIA: Pianist Leopold Godowsky was at one time suffering from insomnia. Night after night he would toss in bed or pace back and forth on the floor, but sleep eluded him.

His son, who occupied the adjoining room, had no such difficulty. He fell asleep at will and enjoyed undisturbed slumber throughout the night.

One night, when Godowsky was having his usual bout with Morpheus, he felt an urge for companionship. Entering his son's room, he
