Impeachment hearings begin next week

Won't wait for more evidence

'Insufficient evidence'

Police late Thursday released four of seven suspects in the San Francisco "Zebra" slayings for "insufficient evidence." An attorney predicted the other three will be freed for the same reason. From left are Tom Manney, 31; Clarence Jamerson, 27; and Dwight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee has decided to begin impeachment hearings next week without waiting for the uncertain delivery of more evidence from President Nixon.

On Wednesday or Thursday, a committee of Congress for the first time in a century will embark upon the sole constitutional procedure for dismissing a chief executive.

The first days of hearings will be closed for sensitive evidence. But most sessions are expected to be public and open to live television coverage, if permitted in the House.

The White House signaled that requests for more tapes will be brushed aside.

Spokesman Gerald Warren said congressmen have "the full story of Watergate." They still seek evidence on the coverup and campaign contributions.

The committee decided Thursday to give James D. St. Clair, Nixon's Watergate lawyer, an active role during the hearings. St. Clair may nominate and question witnesses, present evidence, make speeches and object to questions, even from congressmen.

Some liberals protested. Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., said St. Clair, a skillful courtroom lawyer, "could turn these proceedings into a circus."

But Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., trying to avoid a split with Republicans, convinced Democrats to go along.

Even Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., an avid advocate of impeachment, acquiesced. "It is better to let him become the 39th member of the committee than to deny him his procedural rights," Drinan said of St. Clair. Rodino hopes the hearings can end by June 30 with a vote to recommend either impeachment or exoneration. But that deadline is uncertain.

Those first four or five days will be taken up by a presentation to the committee of the secret grand jury evidence relating to Nixon's role in the Watergate cover-up and other information covering a wide range of alleged presidential misconduct.

The committee's ornate hearing room will be fitted out with electronic equipment to permit the playing of tapes, so that each of the 38 members has his own headset and set of transcripts.

Although Nixon refused to give the committee the 42 tapes it subpoenaed April 11, furnishing edited transcripts instead, he previously had turned over 19 tapes that already had been given to the Watergate grand jury. These include the controversial March 21 tape of Nixon's conversation with his former counsel, John W. Dean III.

The role given to St. Clair makes it clear that he is subject to the control of the committee and has no independent right to be present.

The Constitution gives the House the sole right of impeachment, but historically counsel for the subject of the inquiry has been granted some opportunity to participate.

Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the rules, said they were based on a desire to be fair to Nixon. Rep. Thomas F. Rallsback, R-Ill., ranking Republican on the subcommittee, praised the Democrats for their support, saying they had "leaned over backward" to assure St. Clair's participation.

However, some Democrats said they felt the committee was being too generous. Rep. George E. Danielson, D-Calif., tried to eliminate St. Clair's right to raise objections, saying the committee was giving St. Clair the opportunity to turn what should be a fact-finding investigation into a full-scale trial.

Meanwhile President Nixon returned today from his Camp David Md., retreat to spend a couple of hours in the White House before embarking on a two-stop tour aimed at courting public support during his Watergate troubles. Nixon was accompanied on the helicopter flight by wife Pat, who also is going West with him on a trip that will find them back here Saturday night.

On Saturday, Nixon is to fly on to Spokane, Wash., where he will inaugurate Expo '74, a world fair focusing on the environment.

Indictment dismissed on technical grounds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today dismissed on technical grounds a perjury indictment against Texas lawyer Jake Jacobsen, who was accused of lying when he cleared former Treasurer Secretary John B. Connally of taking $10,000 from a giant dairy cooperative.

Jacobsen, admitted that he had intended to give the money to Connally for political purposes after Connally helped Jacobsen's client, Associated Milk Producers Inc., in getting federal milk prices increased in 1971. But he swore that Connally refused the money and that it lay untouched in a Texas bank vault for 2½ years.

A Watergate grand jury indicted Jacobsen for lying, but today U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. dismissed the charge on grounds that, because of the wording of the testimony cited in the indictment, Jacobsen had given a literally true answer.

Assistant Special Prosecutor Sidney Glazer said a new indictment may be drawn up.

Jacobsen had been asked whether the $10,000 lay untouched in a Texas bank vault for 2½ years, but the question was prefaced with the words, "and it is your testimony..."

Jacobsen answered, "That is correct." "Jacobsen in this case gave a literally true answer to your question," Hart told Glazer. "You didn't ask him if it is true. You only asked, 'is it your testimony?' ... You didn't ask him if it is true or false," Hart said.

Prosecutor Glazer protested, that "You don't have to ask him if his testimony is true or false when he's before a grand jury."

"Not unless you're later going to indict him for perjury," Hart responded. Legal observers predicted a new indictment will be drawn up citing other testimony by Jacobsen before the grand jury.

Jacobsen's lawyer, Charles McNelis, has asserted that Jacobsen did testify that he left the $10,000 in the bank vault for 2½ years, until he took it out last Nov. 27 in the presence of an FBI agent.

Informed sources have reported that serial numbers on the bills indicate they could not have been in circulation at the time Jacobsen says he put the money in the box.

Jacobsen reportedly has offered to change his testimony if prosecutors will reduce charges in this case and in a Texas savings and loan scandal to misdemeanors.

He reportedly is offering to swear that Connally took the money and later returned it.

Connally has denied consistently that he received the money. At last report prosecutors had not responded to Jacobsen's alleged plea bargaining offer.

4 'Zebra' suspects freed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Police Thursday night released four of seven suspects in the San Francisco "Zebra" slayings of whites for "insufficient evidence."

But in Washington, D.C., Mayor Joseph Alioto said the four no longer held may be called before a grand jury investigation of the random killings of whites and a possible connection with a mysterious murder cult called the "Death Angels."

An attorney for the three suspects still held said he thought they would also be released.

"They just didn't have the evidence and I would say they don't have it in the other three," said attorney Clinton White, who was hired by Black Muslim Temple 28 to represent all seven men after their arrests in a massive police dragnet Wednesday.

Alioto, who met with U.S. Attorney General William Saxbe, said afterwards he had appealed to Saxbe to begin a federal investigation of the Death Angels, which he said were dedicated to the murder and mutilation of whites and dissident blacks.

In the Zebra killings, at least 12 white persons were shot and killed at random over a five-month period on San Francisco streets. Alioto said the figure could go much higher, to 80 or more killings and assaults throughout California.

"The four who were released will probably be brought before a grand jury," Alioto said. But later he modified his statement to say they "might be" called.

White said all seven suspects appeared in a police lineup and their photos were shown to witnesses.

Teams of policemen made the arrests Wednesday after an informer met with Alioto. The informer was reported to have unwillingly witnessed several of the killings. Police kept him in protective custody.

FBI, police raid SLA hideout; they're gone

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI and police Thursday night raided an apartment apparently used as a hideout by the Symbionese Liberation Army kidnapers of Patricia Hearst until less than a week ago.

The FBI said they found terrorist slogans scrawled on the walls signed by "Tania," the name Miss Hearst said she adopted when she decided to give up her former life and join the tiny terrorist sect which kidnaped her Feb. 4.

Authorities said they discovered clothing and other articles that indicated the SLA had occupied the apartment less than a week ago.

The raid on the apartment came slightly more than 24 hours before a deadline for the safe return of the 20-year-old newspaper heiress in order for the SLA to win another $4 million food ransom for the poor.

A blind woman who lived below the SLA hideout said today she heard "all kinds of phone calls" from the apartment.

"I could hear money fall like in gambling," said Mrs. Lola Evans. She said she never heard the occupants use any names.

Mrs. Evans said she told FBI agents

Dwight man's body found on railroad tracks

DWIGHT — The body of a Dwight man was found lying in the middle of the Penn Central Railroad tracks about four miles west of the village early today.

The body of Bertie B. Stringfellow, 27, RR 2, was sighted by crewmen on a westbound freight train at 5:45 a.m. today and Livingston County authorities were notified.

Keith VonQualen, coroner, reported it was believed the man may have been struck by a westbound freight train that went through at 12:20 a.m. today. The body was found 330 feet west of the crossing.

The coroner said it appeared the man had been walking west on the tracks when he was struck. This assumption was made, VonQualen said, from the position of his car that was found parked adjacent to the tracks.

VonQualen said Mr. Stringfellow had been living with a sister Mrs. Charles Lucas and had come from Arkansas. He was employed as a painter for Koehler Transfer Co., Dwight.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

ICC critical of federal rail elimination plans

By JAN STRASMA
WASHINGTON — The Interstate Commerce Commission has soundly criticized a U.S. Department of Transportation plan to pare 16,000 miles of track from railroads in the Northeast and Midwest, including five rail lines in the Kankakee area.

The ICC, in a report released Thursday, did not present an alternate plan to the department's study. Instead, the regulatory agency criticized the methods and assumptions used by the department in preparing its recommendations.

The ICC response followed two months of hearings, and the agency reported still more hearings are scheduled in a continuing review of the rail study.

ATTENTION now focuses on the U.S. Railway Association, which has a Congressional mandate to prepare a preliminary plan by Oct. 29 to restructure the rail system of the Northeast and Midwest.

The Department of Transportation study, announced Feb. 1, was the first step in developing the reorganized rail system. The drive for a consolidated system is part of an effort to reorganize seven financially ailing railroads serving the Midwest and Northeast.

The Penn Central Railroad is the only bankrupt line operating in Illinois, but the department recommendations included many profitable lines as well.

THE INITIAL recommendations stirred public protest throughout the two regions. The ICC reported more than 2,500 witnesses testified at its hearings on the rail study.

Many businessmen and government leaders from the Kankakee area testified at a hearing in Chicago in March and others attended an informal hearing last month in Kankakee. Especially concerned about the impact of the proposed cuts are grain dealers, fertilizer companies and other businesses in small communities now relying on rail service.

In the ICC hearings there was a "very strong outcry" against the proposed service cutbacks, according to Joe Mancias of the ICC's rail services planning office. In addition to the pro-

Kankakee boy drowns in Momence

MOMENCE — A 4-year-old Kankakee boy drowned Thursday afternoon while visiting his grandparents, who lived on the island between the two channels of the Kankakee River in Momence.

The body of Barrett Allen Smith, 436 W. Hickory St., was found about 150 feet from his grandfather's house. The boy disappeared about 2:10 p.m. and his body was recovered at 6:30 p.m., according to Momence Patrolman Gerald Nichols.

The boy lived with his mother, Mrs. Earleen Smith, 436 W. Hickory St. His father is William Smith, 1100 W. Jeffery St.

Patrolman Nichols said the boy was playing at the home of his grandfather, Lawrence C. Smith, 40 Mill St., while Smith worked in his garage. The grandfather discovered the boy was missing at 2:10 p.m. When he could not find him, Smith called police.

After an extensive search of the island, dragging operations began about 4:30 p.m., police reported. Assisting with the dragging operations were firemen from Kankakee Township, Momence and Aroma Park and the Kankakee River Patrol.

A river patrol crew found the boy's body at 6:30 p.m. in about 4½ feet of water. He was near the shore, 150 feet downstream from the grandfather's home.

James Orrison, chief deputy county coroner, said an inquest would be scheduled into the boy's death.

Federal jury indicts Ald. Keane

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal prosecutors, bearing down hard in their investigations of key figures in the political organization of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley have netted a big fish this time — Alderman Thomas Keane, the mayor's top City Council ally.

Keane, 68, was indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy in connection with a series of highly profitable land sales.

The chairman of the City Council Finance Committee thus became the fifth Daley alderman awaiting trial or conviction in the current wave of investigations. In addition, Circuit Court Clerk Matthew Danaher, a personal friend and political ally of the mayor, and Earl Bush, former Daley press secretary, also are under indictment.

Former County Clerk Edward J. Barrett, a prominent figure in the Daley organization, is appealing his conviction on tax evasion, mail fraud and bribery charges. And an appeals court recently upheld the conviction of federal Judge Otto Kerner, a former governor, on tax evasion, mail fraud and bribery charges.

Daley, himself, has not been accused. A recent report from the office of the U.S. district attorney said Bush would have been fired if the mayor had known of his activities.

However, a controversy has swirled around several of the mayor's sons. In fact, a Cook County grand jury in-

Kenneth Johnston, manager of the Tee Shop in Arona Park, is announcing the opening of a shop in Moline, the third for the company, Thomas Douglas, Rock Island, will be its manager.

The new shop will carry professional golf equipment at discount prices. A Tee Shop is also in Manteno at the newly opened Manteno Municipal Golf Course, south of the entrance to Manteno State Hospital.

The shop in Arona Park will celebrate its first anniversary May 10-12, Johnston said, and special sales are planned for the weekend event.

Buckley's first grocery store in almost 14 years has opened in a building at the north end of the village. Built by residents who bought shares in a corporation, the store has been leased to Jack Sennett, Duncanson, who operates three other groceries in Illinois County.

Charles Latham and Earl Johnson were chairman of a chamber of commerce committee that organized a drive to raise $50,000 for the building through the sale of shares of stock.

Plans are being completed for the 1974 Watska Auto Show, May 18 and 19 in the parking lot of the First Trust and Savings Bank. Sponsored by the chamber of commerce, it is a retail promotion for members who will allow four city car dealers to display their cars. Show hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. May 18 and 1 to 5 p.m. May 19. Watska Jaycees will have concession stands. Prizes will be awarded and there will be a live broadcast from the show.

Sales for the first quarter of 1974 reached a record high of $224 million for Walgreen Co., according to Charles R. Walgreen III, president. The total increased 6.5 per cent over the 1973 level. Earnings for the quarter increased 27 per cent to $14.1 million, compared to $11.1 million last year. Earnings per share were 22 cents, compared to 18 cents a year ago. Walgreen operates 380 drug stores, 25 Globe Department Stores, 26 free-standing restaurants, 290 store-connected restaurants and has franchised 1,800 Walgreen Agency Drug Stores.

EDWARD W. TIMM

A former Chesham man has been named vice president of staff services for Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield Inc. in Little Rock, according to company officials.

Edward W. Timm, employed by the firm since 1971, has also held the positions of quality control manager and director of staff services. A graduate of Northern Illinois University, he began his business career as management trainee with the Illinois Medical Service and Hospital Service Corp. in Chicago and then served as systems analyst for the National Association of Blue Shield Plans in Chicago.

The National Academy of Music, a boarding high school in Champaign-Urbana, will open its doors to its first students in late August, according to the National Academy of Arts in Champaign. The music academy is the second phase in the development of the National Academy of Arts, a specialized boarding school combining professional training in the performing arts with an accredited program of academic studies and emphasizing the arts/humanities for those in grades six through 12. The first phase was the National Academy of Dance.

First-quarter sales and earnings for the United States Tobacco Co. were the highest in company history, Louis F. Bantle, chairman of the board and president, reports. Profit after taxes was up 18 per cent and dollar volume rose 17 per cent over the previous high attained in the first quarter last year.

Net earnings for the three months totaled $2,225,000 as compared to $2,466,000 in the same period of 1973. Earnings per common share were 35 cents, five cents higher than last year. Sales for the first quarter registered $81,481,000, up from $74,287,000 a year ago.

The Kroehler Manufacturing Co. has announced total net sales and other operating revenue at $33,573,000 for the first 12 weeks of 1974, ended March 24. This represents a six per cent increase over the first quarter of 1973 when sales were reported at $31,585,000. Net income for the first 12 weeks of 1974 amounted to $750,000 or 58 cents per share of common stock, compared to $600,000 or 48 cents per share for the like period of 1973.

In commenting on first quarter results, Kenneth Kroehler, chairman, and Richard E. Burrow, president, stated that shipments made against a high backlog of orders which were carried into 1974 contributed to increased volume and earnings during the first quarter. However, they said, increasing material and labor costs plus higher interest charges will be major problems throughout the balance of the year.

Several area residents recently attended the Midwest Clinic for Medical Aestheticians held in the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago. Mrs. Melrose Lamore and Mrs. Day, Leasing of Manteno, Mrs. Richard Chaffer, Mrs. Maurice Dubois, Mrs. Robert Leriger, Mrs. Vernon Krueger and Bonnie Anderson attended the event.

Central Bank of Chesham papers filed

CHESHAM — An application for a permit to organize the Central Bank of Chesham has been filed with H. Robert Bartlett Jr., state commissioner of banks and finance.

The new state bank's capitalization of $500,000 would consist of $200,000 in capital stock, $200,000 in surplus and $100,000 in reserve for operating expenses. There would be 20,000 shares of stock with a par value of $10 each.

Applicants for the bank, to be located at 185 Chestnut St., are B. H. Whitlitt and Herman W. Snow, both of Chesham; Tobie C. Schroeder Jr., Ashkum; Donald Haley, Clinton; and John D. Whitlitt, Chicago.

Several of the applicants have also filed for organization of the Central Bank of Ashkum, to be constructed at the southeast corner of the intersection of 1st and 11th Sts.

Planners for the Ashkum bank include the Whitlitts, Snow, Schroeder, Haley, G. W. Whitlitt, Wayne H. Meier and Milton Whitlitt.

Schroeder, president-elect of the Ashkum bank, said in February he expects construction would begin in the fall.

NEW YORK (AP) — Many economists are hoping for an increase in housing activity to help boost the economy out of the hole into which it slipped during the past year, he said, at the very time many new homes were coming on the market.

As a result, unsold inventory mounted and by early 1974 was equal to one year's sales, substantially above a year earlier.

Monting land costs and housing prices, some potential buyers, he said, may have been discouraged by the rapid acceleration in costs. "They have second thoughts when they see their favorite $80,000 house sporting a new $90,000 price tag," he said.

Nagging energy uncertainties about where and whether to build or buy have not disappeared, said Kisman.

Neither buyers nor builders have forgotten the trauma of the energy shortage. A general consumer malaise, caution, concern about inflation and constraint tend to dampen prospective housing buoyancy, he said.

Stanbrough said the four quarters were in mid-March at Edison's nuclear station near Geneva.

He added, however, that "A reduced willingness to purchase will be offset in part by an increased willingness to rent. In the climate of the energy shortage, the Energy Commission directive telling all plants and facilities to take precautions to insure that no individual or group of terrorists could sabotage plant operations."

Stanbrough said Edison's nuclear station is now protected by armed guards. "It is a security matter," he said. "A four guard team is in mid-March at Edison's nuclear station near Geneva."

Cold front moves across central states

A cold front today moved southward across the Great Lakes, the Mississippi River and the Central Plains.

Winds reached 75 miles per hour at Yankton, S.D., 59 m.p.h. at Hill City, Kan., and 45 m.p.h. at Kansas City, Mo.

There were showers and thunderstorms from the Central Plains to the Upper Great Lakes and into the Carolinas, and from the Great Lakes and the Ohio River to the Middle Atlantic Coast.

Temperatures dropped below freezing in the Northern Plains and the extreme Upper Mississippi Valley.

Clouds today covered most of the California Coast, while the Pacific Northwest was partly cloudy. There were drizzle and rain in the Rockies, the Northern Plains, New England and from the Southern Plains to the Tennessee Valley.

Temperatures across the nation today ranged from 28 degrees at Laramie, Wyo., to 61 at Needles, Calif.

Chicago (AP) — At least 35 persons were overcome by chemical fumes in separate incidents in two Chicago suburbs.

Fumes and smoke from a 55-gallon metal drum of a chemical used in the manufacture of waste oil and chemical cleaners were released Thursday in the Honeywell plant in Arlington Heights.

The victims were taken to Northwestern Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where authorities said 12 were treated for chemical inhalation. Company nurses said it expects some increase in the unemployment rate of a trend.

Unemployment, jumped from 5.1 per cent in the previous two years, to 5.2 per cent in October to 5.3 per cent in January, reflecting the downturn in the economy and the spreading effects of the fuel shortage.

It remained 5.2 per cent in February before dipping to 5.1 per cent in March.

Despite the recent decline, the Nixon administration has said it expects some increase in the unemployment rate later this year, particularly during the summer as more teen-agers enter the work force.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, about 4.5 million Americans were without jobs in April. That was about 200,000 fewer than in January and February but still 80,000 higher than in October at the start of the oil embargo.

Total employment stood at 85.3 million last month, about the same as in March.

After rising rapidly during the previous three months, but sharply higher than the rate for the last quarter of 1973. For younger veterans, aged 20 to 24, the unemployment rate was 9.2 per cent.

The jobless rate for blacks dipped from 8.4 to 8.7 per cent in April, close to the average level for 1973. The rate for whites, 4.5 per cent, did not change during the month.

The average work week of production workers continued to decline in April, dropping by 15 minutes to 38.8 hours. Average overtime in manufacturing was up 48 minutes.

Average hourly earnings of production workers rose two-tenths of one cent last month but the reduced work week caused average weekly earnings to drop by three-tenths of one cent.

Weekly earnings averaged $447.74 in April, a drop of 9 cents from March but were still $8.41 higher than a year ago.

A large number of teenagers leaving the labor force in April prompted a decline in the jobless rate for youths, from 15 per cent to 13.3 per cent.

The jobless rates for household heads of married men, both of which had risen substantially since last fall, were 10.5 per cent in April.

For Vietnam veterans, aged 20 to 24, the jobless

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A senior American official said today he "can see the shape of agreement" on disengagement of Syrian and Israeli forces on the Golan Heights.

He spoke as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger arrived here after 10 more hours of talks in Jerusalem.

The official told newsmen on Kissinger's plane the secretary was trying to apply the principles of the Suez Canal disengagement to the Golan front.

But he conceded that Kissinger faced a much more difficult problem for several reasons, among them Israeli settlements in the occupied area and a higher degree of "emotionalism."

The official denied any suggestion that Kissinger was trying to impose a plan of his own, and insisted the secretary was not carrying even 10 per cent of a plan.

But having talked with the Israelis, he said, "We now have enough elements" to gain a decision from the Syrians.

The main points that have to be settled are the positioning of disengagement lines on the Golan, setting up a buffer zone, how it is to be manned and the firepower that will be permitted on the two sides of the line.

Kissinger said in Jerusalem that he and the Israeli leaders had studied "in great detail" all the considerations involved in a disengagement agreement, and that he would do his best "to present the ideas that have emerged out of these discussions as honestly and clearly as I can."

Kissinger was due back in Jerusalem Saturday night to resume negotiations with Premier Golda Meir and her top ministers. He said he would "return here with the Syrian ideas and we will attempt to see if whatever differences exist can be managed and dealt with."

He emphasized that his remarks were not an ultimatum to the Syrians. But he added, "We will await Syrian reaction."

As Kissinger and the Israelis talked, Israeli leaders of the views of any party on any other party," Kissinger said, adding that his mission is aimed at "promoting peace in the area and ending the hostilities that are now going on."

Kissinger met for eight hours with Israeli leaders Thursday, and afterward information Minister Shimon Peres said "meaningful and worthwhile" negotiations with Syria can only occur after a cease-fire in the artillery and air war that their forces have been waging for nearly two months.

"We believe the negotiations would work best if there was no pressure by either side, and particularly if military actions were stopped," Peres told newsmen.

He emphasized that his remarks were not an ultimatum to the Syrians. But he added, "We will await Syrian reaction."

Unemployment rate edges down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate edged down from 5.1 per cent to 5 per cent in April, the government said today.

It was the second consecutive month that the unemployment rate had dropped.

Labor Department analysts considered the two-month decline significant but said it was too early to determine whether it was the beginning

At least 35 overcome in new fume incidents

CHICAGO (AP) — At least 35 persons were overcome by chemical fumes in separate incidents in two Chicago suburbs.

Fumes and smoke from a 55-gallon metal drum of a chemical used in the manufacture of waste oil and chemical cleaners were released Thursday in the Honeywell

plant in Arlington Heights.

The victims were taken to Northwestern Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where authorities said 12 were treated for chemical inhalation. Company nurses said it expects some increase in the unemployment rate of a trend.

Unemployment, jumped from 5.1 per cent in the previous two years, to 5.2 per cent in October to 5.3 per cent in January, reflecting the downturn in the economy and the spreading effects of the fuel shortage.

It remained 5.2 per cent in February before dipping to 5.1 per cent in March.

Despite the recent decline, the Nixon administration has said it expects some increase in the unemployment rate later this year, particularly during the summer as more teen-agers enter the work force.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, about 4.5 million Americans were without jobs in April. That was about 200,000 fewer than in January and February but still 80,000 higher than in October at the start of the oil embargo.

Total employment stood at 85.3 million last month, about the same as in March.

After rising rapidly during the previous three months, but sharply higher than the rate for the last quarter of 1973. For younger veterans, aged 20 to 24, the unemployment rate was 9.2 per cent.

The jobless rate for blacks dipped from 8.4 to 8.7 per cent in April, close to the average level for 1973. The rate for whites, 4.5 per cent, did not change during the month.

The average work week of production workers continued to decline in April, dropping by 15 minutes to 38.8 hours. Average overtime in manufacturing was up 48 minutes.

Average hourly earnings of production workers rose two-tenths of one cent last month but the reduced work week caused average weekly earnings to drop by three-tenths of one cent.

Weekly earnings averaged $447.74 in April, a drop of 9 cents from March but were still $8.41 higher than a year ago.

A large number of teenagers leaving the labor force in April prompted a decline in the jobless rate for youths, from 15 per cent to 13.3 per cent.

The jobless rates for household heads of married men, both of which had risen substantially since last fall, were 10.5 per cent in April.

4 'Zebra' suspects freed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Police Thursday released four of seven suspects in the San Francisco "Zebra" slayings for "insufficient evidence."

An attorney predicted the other three will be freed for the same reason. From left are Tom Manney, 31; Clarence Jamerson, 27; and Dwight Dwyer, 22.

Investigation of the random killings of whites and a possible connection with a mysterious murder called the "Death Angels."

But in Washington, D.C., Mayor Joseph Alito said he thought they would also be released and other information would be called before a grand jury.

They just didn't have the evidence.

During the night she heard a man walking all night.

"I thought something funny was going on here," she said, but she never suspected it was the SLA.

Authorities were directed to the apartment by the building manager, who said he called police to investigate a "suspicious occurrence" at the third floor apartment.

The apartment building is located in San Francisco's "Western Addition" district about a mile west of Civic Center.

Only two cars used by the SLA were seen in the area, police said. One was in a bank robbery April 13 were left in the area.

FBI, police raid SLA hideout; they're gone

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI and police Thursday raided an apartment "apparently used as a hideout by the Symbionese Liberation Army kidnappers of Patricia Hearst" and found no one.

The FBI said they found terrorist slogans scrawled on the walls signed by "Tania," the name Miss Hearst said she adopted when she decided to give up her former life and join the tiny terrorist sect which kidnapped her.

Authorities said they discovered clothing and other articles that can be traced to the SLA.

The raid on the apartment came slightly more than 24 hours before a deadline for the safe return of the 20-year-old newspaper heiress in order for the SLA to win another $4 million ransom for the girl.

A blind woman who lived below the SLA hideout said today she heard "all kinds of phone calls" from the apartment.

"I could hear money fall like in gambling," said Mrs. Lola Evans. She said she never heard the occupants use any names.

Mrs. Evans said she told FBI agents they were looking for the SLA.

Dwight man's body found on railroad tracks

DWIGHT — The body of a Dwight man was found lying in the middle of the Penn Central Railroad tracks about four miles west of the village early today.

The body of Doris B. Stringfellow, 27, R.R. 2, was sighted by a crewman on a westbound freight train at 8:48 a.m. today and Livingston County authorities were notified.

Keith VonQuakenbush, coroner, reported it was believed the man had been struck by a westbound freight train that went through at 12:30 a.m. today.

The body was found 330 feet west of the crossing.

The coroner said it appeared the man had been walking west on the tracks when he was struck. This assumption was made, VonQuakenbush said, from the position of his car that was found parked adjacent to the tracks.

VonQuakenbush said Mr. Stringfellow had been living with a sister, Mrs. Charles Lucas and had come from Arkansas. He was employed as a painter for Kohnsthafer Transfer Co., Dwight.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

ICC critical of federal rail elimination plans

WASHINGTON — The Interstate Commerce Commission has soundly criticized a U.S. Department of Transportation plan to pare 16,000 miles of track from railroads in the Northeast and Midwest, including five rail lines in the Kankakee area.

The ICC, in a report released Thursday, did not present an alternate plan to the department's study. Instead, the regulatory agency criticized the methods and assumptions used by the department in preparing its recommendations.

The ICC response followed two months of hearings, and the agency reported still more hearings are scheduled in a continuing review of the rail study.

The ICC now focuses on the U.S. Railway Association, which has a Congressional mandate to prepare a preliminary plan to pare 16,000 miles of track from railroads in the Northeast and Midwest, including five rail lines in the Kankakee area.

The Department of Transportation study, announced Feb. 1, was the first step in developing the reorganized rail system. The drive for a consolidated system is part of an effort to reorganize seven financially ailing railroads serving the Midwest and Northeast.

The Penn Central Railroad is the only bankrupt line operating in Illinois, but the department recommendations included many profitable lines as well.

THE INITIAL recommendations attracted public protest throughout the two regions. The ICC reported more than 2,500 witnesses testified at its hearings on the rail study.

Impeachment hearings begin next week

Won't wait for more evidence

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee has decided to begin impeachment hearings next week without waiting for the uncertain delivery of more evidence from President Nixon.

On Wednesday or Thursday, a committee of Congress for the first time in a century will embark upon the sole constitutional procedure for dismissing a chief executive.

The first days of hearings will be devoted to sensitive evidence. But most sessions are expected to be public and open to live television coverage, rarely permitted in the House.

The White House signaled that requests for more tapes will be brushed aside.

Speakersman Gerald Warren said Congress has "the full story of Watergate." They still seek evidence on the cover-up and campaign contributions.

The committee decided Thursday to question witnesses, present evidence, make speeches and object to questioning even from congressmen.

Some liberals protested. Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., said St. Clair, chairman of the subcommittee, was "trying to avoid a split with Republicans, convinced Democrats to go along."

Even Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., an avid advocate of impeachment, said the committee was "better off waiting for more evidence."

Drinan said the committee was "better off waiting for more evidence."

Indictment dismissed on technical grounds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today dismissed on technical grounds a perjury indictment against Texas lawyer Jack Jacobs, who was accused of lying when he cleared for President Nixon's role in the Watergate scandal.

Jacobs, admitted that he had intended to give the money to Connolly, a political operative after Connolly testified by Jacobs before the grand jury.

Jacobs' lawyer, Charles McElvaine, has asserted that Jacobs did testify that he had given the $10,000 to Connolly for 24 years, until he took it out last Nov. 27 in the presence of an FBI agent.

Informal sources have reported that serial numbers on the bills indicate they could not have been in circulation at the time Jacobs says he put the money in the box.

Jacobs reportedly has offered to reimburse his testimony if prosecutors will reduce charges in this case and in a Texas savings and loan scandal to misdemeanors.

He reportedly is offering to swear that Connolly took the money and later returned it.

Connolly has denied consistently that he received the money.

At last federal prosecutors had not responded to Jacobs' alleged plea bargaining offer.

Kankakee boy drowns in Mokena

MOKENA — A 4-year-old Kankakee boy drowned Thursday afternoon while playing in a pond near his home in Mokena, Ill.

The body of Barrett Allen Smith, 4, was found about 100 feet from his grandfather's house. The boy disappeared about 2:10 p.m. and was recovered at 4:30 p.m., according to Mokena Police Officer Gerald Nichols.

The boy lived with his mother, Mrs. Earleen Smith, 43 W. Hickory St. His father is William Smith, 1100 W. Jeffery St.

Fairman Nichols said the boy was playing at the home of his grandfather, Lawrence C. Smith, 40 Hill St., while Smith worked in his garage. The grandfather discovered the boy was missing at 2:10 p.m. When he could not find him, Smith called police.

A river patrol crew found the boy's body at 6:30 p.m. in about 4 1/2 feet of water. He was near the shore, 150 feet downstream from the grandfather's home.

James Orison, chief deputy county coroner, said an inquest would be scheduled into the boy's death.

Dale P. Starkey, 458 S. Elm Ave., agent for the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co., has been named one of its company leaders for 1973.

Starkey qualified for the "President's Club" (top two per cent of the company) and the "Million Dollar Club" for writing more than one million dollars in first-year business.

He also led the Chicago Heights district and the Kankakee office, which is located at 70 Meadowview Center. He was number 31 in overall joint production out of more than 7,000 agents throughout the nation.

He began with Western & Southern Nov. 27, 1972. Married to the former Judy J. Starkey, the couple has a daughter, Kimberly Jo.

He also has a production record for 1974 that is ahead of last year's pace.

Dennis O'Connell of the Roseland community on the south side of Chicago has purchased Hall Ford Mercury, 202 E. Crescent St., Gilman, from Glenn Hall, and has taken over operation of the business. Hall has operated the business since Dec. 1, 1969.

O'Connell worked in banking in the Chicago area for 10 years and as sales manager for an automobile agency for five years before purchasing the Hall agency. Hall and his wife have purchased a home in Watske.

Alfred Weppeler of Buckley has been transferred from the Elmer food store on Neil St. in Champaign to the Elmer store in Bloomington. He will work as a meat cutter, as he did in Champaign.

A former Choban man has been named vice president of staff services for Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield Inc. in Little Rock, according to company officials.

Edward W. Timm, employed by the firm since 1971, has also held the positions of quality control manager and director of staff services. A graduate of Northern Illinois University, he began his business career as management trainee with the Illinois Medical Service and Hospital Service Corp. in Chicago and then served as systems analyst for the National Association of Blue Shield Plans in Chicago.

The National Academy of Music, a boarding high school in Champaign-Urbana, will open its doors to its first students in late September, according to the National Association of Arts in Champaign. The music academy is the second phase in the development of the National Academy of Arts, a specialized school combining "professionally-oriented training in the performing arts with an accredited program of academic studies emphasizing the arts-humanities for those in grades six through 12. The first phase was the National Academy of Dance.

First-quarter sales and earnings for the United States Tobacco Co. were the highest in company history, Louis V. Bantz, chairman of the board and president, reports. Profit after taxes was up 18 per cent and dollar volume rose 17 per cent over the previous high attained in the first quarter last year.

Net earnings for the three months totaled $2,929,000 as compared to $2,468,000 in the same period of 1973. Earnings per common share were 35 cents, five cents higher than last year. Sales for the first quarter registered $18,481,000, up from $14,257,000 a year ago.

The Kroehler Manufacturing Co. has announced total net sales and other operating revenue at $33,572,000 for the first 12 weeks of 1974, ended March 24. This represents a six per cent increase over the first quarter of 1973 when sales were reported at $31,454,000. Net income for the first 12 weeks of 1974 amounted to $746,000 or 58 cents per share of common stock. Income for the 12 weeks of 1973 totaled $609,000 or 47 cents per share.

In commenting on first quarter results, Kenneth Kroehler, chairman, and Richard E. Barrow, president, stated that shipments made against a high backlog of orders which were carried into 1974 contributed to increased volume and improved earnings during the first quarter. However, they said, increasing material and labor costs plus higher interest charges will be major problems throughout the balance of the year.

Housing industry may help economy — Many economists are hoping for an increase in housing activity to help boost the economy out of the hole into which it slipped during the past year. Unpredictable at the moment, however, is whether the housing market will be able to provide that push. The uncertainty of it all has many an economist in a quandary.

Housing, it seems, hasn't made up its mind. After plunging from an annual rate of nearly 2.5 million housing starts early in 1973 to fewer than 1.5 million this January, activity resumed in February, in that month the rate rose to 1.8 million units.

Came March, however, and activity dropped again to the January level. That was bad news, however, housing permits, an indicator of future activity, rose, and that was good news.

It is the rescue of fore-casters who find the erratic activity too much to tolerate comes Saul Klamann, housing authority and vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. Said he: "My hunch is that the housing market will proceed at a relatively slow pace, but it will be a steady, gradual recovery may be prematurely aborted."

At the end of 1970, Canada owned $121 billion of U.S. insurance.

Golan disengagement pact near? — The views of any party on any other party, Kissinger said, adding that his mission is aimed at "promoting peace in the area and ending the hostilities that have been going on."

Kissinger met for eight hours with Israeli leaders Thursday, and afterward Information Minister Shimon Peres said "meaningful and constructive" negotiations with Syria can only occur after a cease-fire in the artillery and air war that has been raging for nearly two months.

"We believe the negotiations would work best if there was no pressure by either side, and particularly if military actions were stopped," Peres said.

He emphasized that his remarks were not an ultimatum to the Syrians. But he added: "We will await Syrian reaction."

As Kissinger and the Israelis talked, Israel evacuated the fighting on the northern front. The Israeli command said its artillery landed shells within nine miles of Damascus and the Israeli forces on the Golan Heights.

He spoke as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger arrived here after 10 more hours of talks in Jerusalem. The official told newsmen on Kissinger's plane the secretary was trying to apply the principles of the Suez Canal disengagement to the Golan front.

But he conceded that Kissinger faced a much more difficult problem for several reasons, among them Israeli settlements in the occupied area and a higher degree of "emotionalism."

The official denied any suggestion that Kissinger was trying to impose a plan of his own, and insisted the secretary was not carrying "even 10 per cent of a plan."

But having talked with the Israelis, he said, "We now have enough elements" to gain a decision from the Syrians.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A senior American official said today he "can see the shape of agreement" on disengagement of Syrian and Israeli forces on the Golan Heights.

Unemployment rate edges down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unemployment rate edged down from 5.1 per cent in October to 5.2 per cent in January, reflecting the lack of growth in the economy and the spreading effects of the fuel shortage.

It remained 5.2 per cent in February before dipping to 5.1 per cent in March. Despite the recent decline, the Nixon administration has said it expects some increases in the unemployment rate later this year, particularly after rising rapidly during the previous two years.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, about 4.5 million Americans were without jobs in April. That was about 200,000 fewer than in January and February but still 400,000 higher than the total employment stood at 85.8 million last month.

The government said the recall of auto workers laid off during the Arab oil embargo helped manufacturing employment to rebound in April. The transportation equipment industry added 80,000 workers to its payroll last month following three months of heavy job losses.

But in construction, there was a drop of 70,000 jobs. The unemployment rate for adult men jumped sharply in April from 3 per cent to 3.8 per cent, while the rate for adult women remained at 4.5 per cent, about the level of the past four months.

Average hourly earnings of production workers rose two-tenths of one per cent last month but the reduced work week caused average weekly earnings to drop by three-tenths of one per cent.

Weekly earnings averaged $147.44 in April, a drop of 88 cents from March but were still $4.41 higher than a year ago.

The jobless rates for household heads and married men, both of which had risen substantially since last April, were mostly unchanged in April.

How can Nixon bug himself, then publish his own indictment?

WASHINGTON

There must be some mistake about all these spectacular documents on the Watergate. These conversations can't have happened in the White House. "P" must stand for Fremont, or some other county courthouse boss. It's ridiculous to suppose that the President would bug himself and then publish his own indictment.

Consider the facts. For over 25 years, Richard Nixon has been complaining bitterly about his enemies in the Congress and the press who have criticized him as a shifty opportunist. Why, then, would he publish a document that makes him look more shifty and opportunistic than anybody ever charged?

Nixon came to power proclaiming the "new morality," and arguing for "law and order." So how could he possibly have agreed to pay blackmail money to burglars, or agreed that the Attorney General of the United States should arrange the payoff, or instruct his aides on the arts of avoiding perjury before a grand jury? This is all too bizarre. All sorts of charges have been made around here against Nixon, but everybody agrees that he is an intelligent man and an experienced lawyer. But in these Watergate documents, which are supposed to represent his thought, "P" often comes out confused, inarticulate, indecisive, and even vague about the elements of the law. The documents have to be wrong.

Memorial Day

It seemed like an easy decision.

Ever since the Civil War, Memorial Day has been set aside as a time to honor the nation's war dead. The observance has been traditionally May 30 (except in the Old South).

A few years ago, however, Congress nodded to the working class and rearranged many of the traditional holidays to fall on Mondays. Memorial Day was set for the last Monday in May.

But the President and Congress can legally designate holidays only for the District of Columbia and federal employees, and many states quickly became disenchanted with the new arrangement. Last year, the General Assembly after having earlier endorsed the national date change—restored Illinois Memorial Day to May 30.

It sounds simple but here's the problem:—All federal offices (including the Post Office) will close Monday, May 27.

State offices will close Thursday, May 30, as will the public schools. Gov. Daniel Walker will get little criticism from state employees for the Thursday closing, incidentally, since he gave them Friday off also (and, of course, they had Saturday and Sunday off to start with).

In case your interest remains, we thought it would help to mention other legal state holidays: New Years Day is Jan. 1, even in Illinois. (However, if a holiday falls on Saturday it is observed the previous Friday; if on Sunday, it is observed on Monday.)

Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday, Jan. 15; Abraham Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12; George Washington's birthday, March 22; Monday in February (and, incidentally, some state universities in Illinois this year closed classes for Lincoln's birthday, others for Washington's birthday. We still haven't heard whether politics or a computer was to blame.)

Memorial Day, May 30; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in October; Veterans Day, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving, fourth Thursday in November; and Christmas, Dec. 25.

Illinois is probably near the national norm for unified holidays that, however, consider the Southern states where "Confederate Memorial Day" is observed in Florida, Georgia and Mississippi on April 26; on May 10 in North and South Carolina; May 30 in Virginia, and June 3 in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Mother's Day, observed a week from this Sunday, is generally (officially and unofficially) observed by all states. Father's Day, June 16, is ignored generally by legislatures and families alike.

Meanwhile, there appear five days the last week in May when the work force will be slim—all because of Memorial Day.

Sharing benefits

When Sally Forth, today's liberated Ms., ventures out to make her way in the jungle of the male-dominated business or career world, it's forgotten that someone has to come into the house to clean the house, watch the kids, do the laundry or maybe cook.

The fact is that today's liberated woman often depends upon another group of women—the domestic or private household employees—to free her of the housewife's chores.

The fact also, points out Dr. Doris McLaughlin, assistant research scientist with the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, these private household employees are among the lowest paid and least protected workers in the labor force.

"More often than not," she says, "professional women deny their household employees benefits they themselves expect—indeed, take for granted—in their own work."

Although household workers are now covered by the new state minimum wage of $2 an hour, less than one-third of them work full time; many work for a different employer every day; they have no paid sick time or holidays; are unemployed when their employer leaves town for any reason, and although legally entitled to them, often are eliminated from social security benefits.

The end result, says Dr. McLaughlin, is that the movement of one group of women up the economic ladder entails the economic exploitation of another group of women.

In fairness to the career women, she suggests that their lack of concern for their sisters is because their freedom is such a new development that they haven't gotten used to thinking of themselves as employees—a role that until quite recently was usually reserved for males.

Until they do, says Dr. McLaughlin, "they may not even realize that in treating their household help in such a cavalier manner they are depriving other women of the same benefits that they are fighting so hard to obtain for themselves."

Cosell vs. Buckley

Howard Cosell, the famous sportscaster, thinks he might challenge New York Gov. Rockefeller for the U.S. Senate seat in 1978.

Since Cosell has the reputation for being the late Dan Parker all hollow in the business of asking impertinent sports questions, this might seem a promising way of ensuring a campaign that would give us something more than the usual round of platitudes and platitudes that Jim Buckley has to offer.

But in his own way, he is the Howard Cosell of the Senate, a pugilist in a world where more circumspect characters tend to tread. For example, with Women's Lib rising high, who in politics would stick his neck out on the free abortion question? The answer is Jim Buckley.

I DON'T PROFFER to know whether Jim's feeling that abortion is murder gives him a vast subterranean political following (my fellow columnist Paul Scott thinks it does), but Jim is perfectly willing to put his convictions on the line in this most sensitive of all areas. Howard Cosell's one big stock in trade is exposing phonies and four-flushers, but he couldn't burrow in to Jim Buckley here.

Again, Jim Buckley spoke right in the church when he called upon Richard Nixon to resign before the Republican cause is hopelessly compromised at the polls. I don't think Nixon will resign (I can see him preparing even now for conservative legislation).

However, in the most recent annual key issues voting index put out by the American Conservative Union, the Southern Democrat-Northern Republican front has been fractured. The 20-member Texas Democrat delegation, for example, averaged a 48 per cent rating on the conservative-liberal scale, which is a considerable come-down from the 73.1 rating of 1971.

SO WE HAVE CEASED to have a veto-proof House of Representatives even before the 1974 election returns are in. The Senate remains as a possible veto-sustaining bastion. But there are only three unquestionable stalwarts who get a 100 per cent conservative rating from the ACU. These are Norrie Cotton of New Hampshire, Barry Goldwater of Arizona and—of course—Jim Buckley.

Howard Cosell may have a great reputation in the sportscasting world, but telling it the way it is, he is only an effective way of getting Jim Buckley to make it to oppose him on a flat-out disagreement bank. To make it a lively race, it would have to be Cosell, the supporter of abortion-on-demand, of Cosell, the big spender, or Cosell, the man who objects to being portrayed as a man who is fighting so hard to obtain for themselves."

How does nation react to tapes?

WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON — A president is confronted with an unprecedented political scandal in his administration. How should he respond? What is expected? What is the nation's reaction?

There are, of course, no fixed criteria to use in answering these questions. If only because the Watergate scandal has no precedent in our history.

BUT THE SURVIVAL of Richard Nixon, as an effective national leader, depends on his ability to answer these questions as they are asked by the Congress and the American people.

For all the new insight the transcripts provide into the Watergate scandal, it is not clear that the nation's reaction is any different from what it was when the first transcript was released.

Nowhere does the record show Nixon simply saying, "We're guilty, but let's not make a big deal out of it." Nor does it show him saying, "I'm innocent, but let's not make a big deal out of it."

Apparently, there was Vegas burglary

WASHINGTON (AP)

The ranking Republican and Democrat on the Senate Watergate committee say President Nixon's tape transcripts indicate that the White House Plumbers did pull a Las Vegas burglary, contrary to testimony given to the Senate Watergate committee.

Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt told the committee last Sept. 24 that he and another member of the secret White House intelligence-gathering unit that became known as the Plumbers planned to burglarize the office of Las Vegas Publisher Hank Greenspan.

But Hunt said the burglary never came off. In the White House tape transcripts, presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman said, "I was particularly interested in the information that Mr. Greenspan might have possessed. I was, in fact, ever did, concerning Mr. Muskie."

However, the White House transcript of an April 1973 conversation among President Nixon and his two top advisers, H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, indicates that the burglary did occur and that it was, in some unspecified way, successful.

Nixon: Can you tell me is that a serious thing? Did they really try to get into Hank Greenspan's office? Ehrlichman: I guess that's actually got it.

Nixon: What in the name of (expletive deleted) he is convinced that it's not a serious thing? Ehrlichman: It's not a serious thing. It's not a serious thing. It's not a serious thing.

Haldeman: They busted his safe to get something out of it. What's that? Ehrlichman: No. They flew out, broke his safe, got something out (unintelligible). Now that we sat there in my office.

At that point the subject matter changes slightly. Ehrlichman: Now, I'm not sure he's not been told what, if anything, the Plumbers did.

In his televised speech Monday, Nixon said he had delayed making the transcripts of the recordings available because he wanted to protect the privacy of the advice a president receives from the men around him.

This suggests a chief executive and his secretaries of state discussing the sensitivities of the Middle East, or Nixon and Ehrlichman reviewing the results of the health insurance proposals on that point.

THE MOST STARK example of the White House concern with the public relations aspect of it came April 18 when the President and his closest advisers got down to writing the scenario — their word — for the afternoon Nixon would make his bid on which he first conceded White House involvement in the case. It went like this:

Nixon: "Good, good. How has the scenario worked out? May I ask you?" Haldeman: "Well, it works out very good. You became aware sometime ago that this thing had been told to me. It was supposed to be that there were some discrepancies between what you had been told by Deno in the report that there was nobody in the White House involved, which may still be true."

Nixon: "Incidentally, I don't think it will gain us anything by dumping on the Dean report as such."

Ehrlichman: "No." Nixon: "What I mean is I would say I was not satisfied the Dean report was complete. Also I thought it was my obligation to go beyond that to people other than the White House."

Ehrlichman: "That is the tipoff and right then you started to move." Nixon: "That's right. He said he couldn't write it."

Haldeman: "Then you realized that there was more to this than you had been led to believe. (Unintelligible)" Nixon: "How do I get credit for getting Magruder to the stand?"

Ehrlichman: "Well, it is very simple. You took Dean off the case right then."

Nixon: "That's right. Remember that letter you signed to me." Ehrlichman: "Well of March."

Nixon: "I signed it, yes." Ehrlichman: "Yes, sir, and it says Dean is off of it. I want you to get into it. Find out what the facts are. Be prepared to —"

Nixon: "Why did I take Dean off? Because he was involved? I did it, really. You took Dean off the case right then."

Haldeman: "The scenario is to be told you, he couldn't write a report so obviously you had to take him off."

Bryant Bertrand, the Rev. Anthony Nugent

Bryant serves uncle in informal mass

MANTENO — Bryant Bertrand, 34, served as an altar boy for the first time in an informal mass held by his uncle, the Rev. Anthony Nugent, assistant pastor of St. Scholastica parish in Woodridge.

His uncle, a former Manteno resident and son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nugent, was ordained in November, 1972. The mass Wednesday was held in what had been the chapel for the convent of Our Lady Academy and was in conjunction with the 100th anniversary of the founding of the parish.

St. Scholastica parish in Manteno was the last time the 100th anniversary of the building because they will move to the former academy classroom building in the fall when it is no longer being rented by the Manteno school district.

Father Nugent explained his vestments to the third and fourth graders as he put them on before the mass began. White with green, they were made for him by Mrs. Laverne Nugent, Manteno, his sister-in-law. He also described the duties of a priest, whose only function the children thought, was "to say mass."

Two nieces of Father Nugent, Bridget Bertrand and Gerise Nugent, presented the water and wine for the service. Other children brought flowers and other flowers that decorated the altar.

Ralph Sedel is coordinator for the classes at St. Joseph and Mrs. Donald McCann is secretary. Third grade teachers are Mrs. Joadore Bertrand and Mrs. Thomas Dunn and Mrs. John Layne and Mrs. Thomas White are fourth grade teachers.

Guests included Father Nugent's parents and other relatives.

A feast to symphony benefit

For several years, the Kankakee Symphony Orchestra has benefited from the Symphony Guild's ball and auction. Saturday the annual event at Elk Country Club could again raise several thousand dollars from the auction which will precede the dinner dance. Among the choice items on the block will be a period pin set on tree bark gold from Peacock's and a large pillow covered in silk screen print which came along a tortuous route from the New York apartment of Jackie Onassis. Express anger, don't harbor hurts advises pastor-marriage counselor

LOS ANGELES — Is your marriage too tranquil? Surface calm may conceal bitter resentments, says marriage counselor Tom Williams. A healthy marriage has what Williams calls "surface tension" — the pushing and resistance that lets each partner know where the other one stands.

A marriage is in trouble when one partner decides to do away with this surface tension by giving in all the time. Tom Williams is director of the counseling service at the First Presbyterian Church of suburban Burbank, and clients often complain to him about an overbearing husband or wife. What they don't realize is that they've usually inflamed the situation by being too passive, Williams said.

For example, a woman often begins married life by setting up an ideal situation for her husband. She represents her needs, and cares to him. Sometimes she never notices the pain until the children grow up and leave home. Williams said. That's when she has time to think. Suddenly, it hits her. "You know, we've really got a rotten marriage!"

The problem stems from what Williams calls, "anger-phobia," or the fear of fighting. Anger-phobia is one of today's most common diseases of marriage, Williams said in an interview.

Williams counseled one couple who had an explosive fight about once every three months. After each fight, they'd vow never to fight again — which simply set them up for the next fight.

"Anger-phobia is very real in our culture," Williams said. "We're programmed not to fight."

"We're afraid to vent our feelings partly because of modern family structure."

Cissna Park JWC focuses on projects

Recreational projects to benefit Cissna Park residents were discussed by members of the Cissna Park Junior Women's Club Monday at the home of Mrs. Merwin Lober.

Mrs. Ralph Tenke reported that the playground equipment will be shipped soon and will have to be assembled. The American Legion is helping with the $800 total cost by contributing $350. It was announced the club is donating $100 to the recreation commission for a transportation fund for persons attending swimming classes in Milford.

Mrs. Tenke also reported on the Easter party the club gave at the Paul Roberts Friendship Home. Mrs. Larry Seggebruch and Mrs. Roy Young were elected delegates to the state convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs Tuesday through Thursday. Alternates are Mrs. William Sanders and Mrs. Jack Cissna.

Named to the constitutional revisions committee were Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Keith Jensen, Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mrs. Gene Lober, Mrs. Howard Gordon, Mrs. Jasper Tenney, Mrs. Howard Gordon, and Mrs. Norman Strasma. (Journal photo)

Eloped 66 years ago

Because her parents thought the former Elsie Allen, 18, and her steady beau, Roy Dixon, 18, were too young to get married back in the spring of 1908, the young couple eloped. Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dixon of Bradley, celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary. They are pictured looking at a card which was presented to them by neighborhood children, along with bouquets of lilacs and May baskets in honor of the occasion.

Looking back on their elopement, the Dixons recall boarding the train in their hometown of Streator for a 400-mile trip to Canton, Ohio, where his sister lived.

After their marriage in the parsonage of the First Methodist Church in Canton, he got a job and they stayed six months, until her family's disapproval gave way to acceptance.

Dixon was employed in construction and the couple lived in various parts of the country before his retirement. They moved to Bradley in 1967.

Commenting on the secret of a happy marriage, Mrs. Dixon says, "Living in to each other and talking things over" are important. Her husband agrees and adds that they always kept one pocketbook, even though she worked.

The Roundtable

Teens discuss future of world

Many of the world's problems in the future will center around the energy crisis and the monetary systems. These were among the predictions made by four seniors at Morningside High School as they discussed the question "where do you think most of the world's problems will be centered in, say the next 10 years?" for Youth Business.

All four students agreed it would be the energy crisis, especially predicting the future, but as they sat around the "Biggest Bang" Roundtable, they showed they are aware that it is going to be in the world. Here's what they had to say:

Energy crisis—who plans to take a secretarial course in the next year, said she feels there will be a shortage of energy, which could become major problems in the next 10 years.

That is striking us because of Mother Nature."

Jim Zaglis, who is planning to attend Purdue University and eventually become a lawyer, said when he heard the question his thoughts immediately turned to the problems of today — "energy shortages, most shortages, public safety and pollution."

"These crisis are of short term, as most of the United States is going to be in the senior," The United States has thrived on problem solving, but the world. Some crisis do warrant some concern, but others are predictable, like the 1880s, the 1920s, the 1950s, the 1960s, the 1970s, the 1980s, the 1990s, the 2000s, the 2010s, the 2020s, the 2030s, the There is a big climatic change going on throughout the world and a good example might be the record high and low set in the month of March in the mid-west. Last August alone a inches of snow was dumped on Canada's fields. It is believed the Ice Age is coming again. It did many years ago. The drought in Africa is now causing hunger and death. The prices of what food there is getting so ridiculous. There are about ages ago. If the weather gets worse think of what the barbarians might be 10 years from now.

The weather is important. In our lives and if it fails to not being consistent we may be having to devise new ways of saving our lives.

in music programs

highlighted the program because it has helped motivate their children to do better in all their studies — an effect found in most of the schools where strong guitar programs have been launched.

In Cheyenne, S.D., the guitar class is given for "pure enjoyment" and has become so popular that the teacher could enroll at least double the number of students. The students, who learn by chord and not by note, get a daily 35-minute class.

At Redwash Junior High School in New Brunswick, N.J. — an inner-city school — one out of every three teenagers takes guitar. The program was started several years ago to try to find some approach that would cut through the apathy caused by boredom and generally miserable conditions at home.

Today Redwash has two teachers directing four guitar classes a day. Supervisor of music George Kraus says many of the teens who do best on life guitar were persistent under-achievers in all other classes. But now they've seen they can make it with the guitar, and they're trying harder and succeeding with other subjects. Another result of the program: school attendance has improved.

Based on the Redwash experience, a program for the entire state of New Jersey is being mapped out. Other general classroom and music teachers are also studying these and similar programs for adaptation to their own students.

Nelson golf by 2

DALLAS (AP)—Despite the rigors and pressures of the professional golf circuit, the game can be fun, says Nelson, who won the 1968 PGA Championship. "I like to make it all out of this," he says.

"Once I get under a par, I have a tendency to keep on making birdies. I like to make a lot of birdies and then just go on."

Such was the case Thursday as the free-wheeling veteran rode a hot putting streak and a pair of eagles to a six-under-par 65 and the first-round lead of the Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Blancas, whose protruding midriff reflects the good life, recorded a 65-69 on the 6,837-yard windswept and waterlogged Preston Trail course in the chase for the top prize of $30,000 in the $100,000 tournament.

That was good for a two-stroke lead over the rest of the field.

Students demand release of Israeli POWs

Golan Heights villages symbolize Israel's defiant will to survive

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The string of settlements Israel has planned on the Golan Heights is a defiant symbol of the Jewish nation's will for survival and a major hurdle in Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's quest for peace in the Middle East.

Israel is committed not to abandon any of the 17 settlements. But unless it compromises, prospects for a troop disengagement agreement with Syria seem sparse. Israeli public opinion sides with the Golan settlers. Syria has threatened to escalate the fighting on the Heights unless Israel agrees to withdraw from the entire Golan plateau. Israel is willing to return the 200-square-mile plateau at the northeast end of the Heights, which it captured in the October war, but Israeli leaders have said repeatedly they never would allow Syrian forces to return to the western rim of the plateau from which they shelled Israeli farmers and fishermen at will until Israel's 1967 conquest.

While Kissinger conferred Thursday with Israeli leaders, a group of young immigrants from America opened the newest of the frontier communities on the southern Heights within a short of a day in concrete hush shelters. But 1,100 others protested to the government that if it agreed to the Syrian demand for the return of Kuneitra, a ghost town one mile inside the 1967 ceasefire line, three of the settlements would have to be abandoned as unsafe.

A correspondent for the newspaper Maariv reported the young settlers were "disfranchised" and felt a withdrawal from the 1967 line was "a half-measure of Treason for their future."

Israel Galilee, one of President Golda Meir's top advisers, assured them the government would not allow a return of the 1967 line. "One cannot easily forget the years of danger and problems we had to face then," he told a group of

Soviets demand Red China return downed helicopter

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today demanded the immediate return of a helicopter and three-man crew forced down over China in a dispute over the border. The Soviet government said it was "deeply concerned" by the "unacceptable consequences" of the helicopter's disappearance. It said the helicopter was shot down by Chinese forces in the border area of the Soviet Union.

The demand, one of the most harshly worded since bitter Soviet-Chinese border fighting erupted in 1969, did not specify the consequences of the helicopter's disappearance. The Tass news agency said today the Soviets issued the ultimatum to Chinese Ambassador Lu Hsiangshan after a three-day dispute over the helicopter's fate. The statement said the helicopter was shot down by Chinese forces in the border area of the Soviet Union.

Spy case stirs W. Germany

By PHIL NEWSON
OFF PHOENIX NEWS SERVICE

It was 20 years ago that Dr. Otto John, head of West German political secret services in the government of Konrad Adenauer, defected to East Germany. An immediate effect of his defection was the exposure of a spy network in West Germany, which was the result of some 300 persons in East Germany, including right in the East German foreign office.

And since the West particularly welcomes defectors, it is impossible to prevent some secret agents slipping through with them.

At any rate that appears to be the story of Gunter Guillaume, who rose to a high position in the service of Willy Brandt before being uncovered as a secret agent of the East German government.

Brandt's policy of building closer ties to the East has proved a disappointment to some, and it is expected the Christian Democrats will make the most of it. Lower Saxony election on June 8.

Portugal finds it can't afford costs of empire

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
OF THE PHOENIX NEWS SERVICE

Portugal is finding out what France and other European nations learned a decade or more ago. Empire in the modern era costs more in money, blood and political turmoil than the home front can afford to pay.

The first act of a former world-war II drama has just been played out in Lisbon, where a durable dictatorship has been overthrown because of those factors.

Forces long persecuted are becoming legal and active. Political prisoners are being freed. Political exiles are welcomed home. Political parties are beginning to operate. All this probably will make the issue of colonialism more divisive than ever.

Portugal's new military rulers imply that they intend to pull out within a year. The new military rulers imply that they intend to pull out within a year.

Spain seeks end to colonial wars

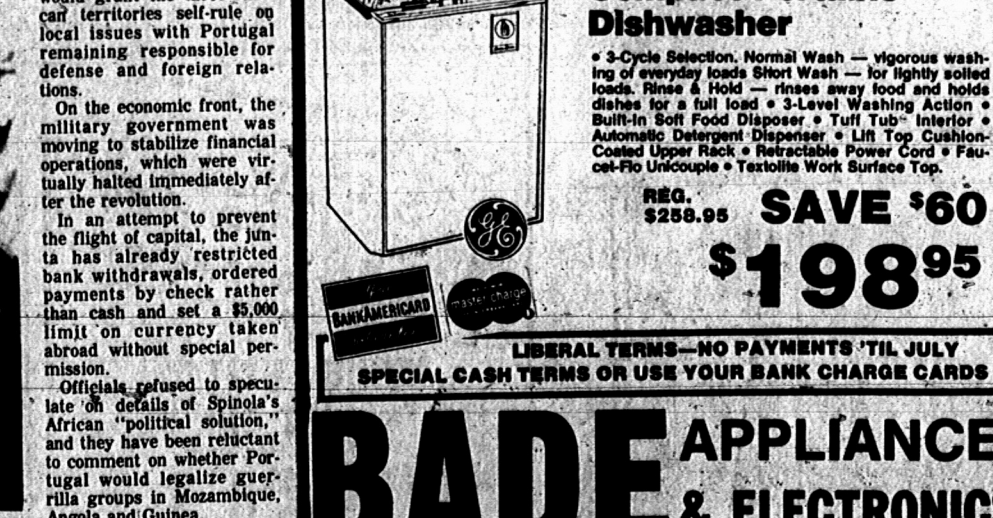

LISBON (UPI) — Portugal's new ruler, Gen. Antonio Spínola, is giving top priority to ending Portugal's colonial wars in Africa and Guinea. He said today that the new government would take steps to end the wars.

Spínola was not expected to announce a military pull-out from Africa, but was likely to call for a "political solution" giving Mozambique, Angola and Guinea more autonomy.

The sources noted Spínola would grant the three African territories self-rule on local issues with Portugal remaining responsible for defense and foreign relations.

Prairie Dell serves 100 years

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story about the Iroquois County church was written more than 100 years ago and was prepared for The Journal by Mrs. T. W. Crow, Wadesboro.

It was built in 1874 by farmers in that community at a cost of $2,400. They set up a sawmill and cut their own lumber, following their own design.

The architecture and carpenter work are interesting — the construction upstair in the loft is different, and is as straight as the day the church was finished. Outside, the effect is one of straight, uncluttered lines and a most attractive lot of grove of old trees, wild flowers and heavy grasses.

The interior today is unchanged. In the 1890s being rather inclined away of listening to the "Calmness," later called the Christian Church, and they had several line-

Goodrich church slates 75th year celebration

The Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Goodrich will celebrate its 75th anniversary as an independent parish Sunday, May 5, with special services and a dinner.

At noon a mass of thanksgiving will be celebrated by the Most Rev. Romeo Blanche, Bishop of the Joliet Diocese. A dinner will be held at 1:30 p.m. at Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bostant and a program will follow with the bishop as guest speaker.

Parishioners who have served the church for many years will also be honored. The church itself was built in 1899, but since parishioners did not receive proper consecration from the church, a resident pastor was appointed until 1939. This enabled the church to become an independent parish.

Religion at 'birthday party'?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American religious community is rapidly organizing itself to make sure it won't be left out of the national centennial celebration.

Already some major denominations have put together task forces and commissions with the goal of finding ways in which the religious heritage that has been part of American history for years can best be expressed during America's "birthday party."

In addition, several ecumenical and interfaith groups have been formed with the aim of emphasizing the religious values have played in shaping the nation's life.

Construction

Construction is underway at two of several major projects of the Kankakee Valley Park District. Above, workmen are shown building a 650 square-foot addition to the Bird Park office which will create additional office facilities and a larger meeting room. At right, Beverly Norton, left, and Zandra Cross are pictured looking at a new double tennis court being constructed at Cobb Park. The court will be surfaced with a new three-coat acrylic latex which will provide greater durability. All other courts in the district are being repaved with this substance. (Journal photos)

Where do Illinois' doctors go?

By BARRY HANSON
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Fewer than half of the spring graduates of Illinois medical schools will remain in the state to practice, health care experts predict. This grim outlook, backed by statistics provided by the Illinois State Medical Society, the American Medical Association and others, is especially dismaying to residents of small central and Southern Illinois communities needing doctors.

Deadline near for entering plate contest

SPRINGFIELD — Michael J. Howlett, Secretary of State, today reminded Illinois students that Friday, May 10 is the deadline for entering the State's Bicentennial license plate contest. All Illinois grade and high school students have been invited to submit designs, and the 1976 Bicentennial plate will be determined from the winning student's entry. Howlett explained that each entrant may submit only one design of a 12 by 6 inch horizontal format, with a written statement of 200 words or less explaining why particular colors or symbols were used. Designs must be completed with colored pencils, crayons, ball point, felt tip, fountain pens or water colors. The contest is divided into three divisions. The Red division includes grades one through four; White, grades five through eight; and the Blue division is for grades nine through 12.

talent. One medical society official quoted a study which showed that there were more Illinois medical school graduates practicing in California than in Illinois.

A study authorized by the Illinois Board of Higher Education in which Illinois medical school graduates from 1950 to 1960 were surveyed showed that only 31 per cent stayed in the state to practice. Nearly 20 per cent went to California, the survey showed.

A medical society survey of 659 Illinois medical school graduates last year showed that 259 remained in the state for their internship. Experts agree that a doctor often sets up practice in the same region in which he has done his internship.

Rep. Eugene Barnes, D-Chicago, introduced legislation this week to set up a state-run loan program for students who agree to practice in areas that are short of doctors. Part or all of the loan is forgiven if the young doctor remains for a period of time.

Henry Fonda has pacemaker

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Henry Fonda, 68, now has a pacemaker in his chest "as a safety precaution against a heart rhythm disorder," medical authorities say. Fonda collapsed in his dressing room last week after a performance of his one-man show, "Clarence Darrow," on Broadway. A spokesman at Lenox Hill Hospital here said Fonda will remain in the hospital over the weekend, but can open his show May 15 in Detroit as scheduled. Fonda's appearance in Boston this week had been canceled because of his illness. After his collapse, a hospital spokesman said Fonda suffered from total exhaustion.

programs are offered by the federal government and jointly by the Illinois State Medical Society and the Illinois Agricultural Society.

The medical society also has set up a clearing house to help doctors and communities get together. The society has conducted doctor's job fairs in Chicago for the same purpose.

One approach to the doctor drain has been an effort by some medical schools to select for admission students who are likely to stay in the state to practice.

"We have turned down some brilliant people, but the people we do admit have the highest chance of becoming physicians in the area," said Dave Knoll, administrative assistant to the dean of the Southern Illinois University Medical School in Springfield.

Knoll said this is accomplished by looking to Illinois for students and by emphasizing family practice.

Branch medical programs, such as those established by the University of Illinois in Rockford and Peoria, also help to attract and keep physicians in the area, Knoll said.
