Progenitor of a greater Olivet

"Sail on, nor fear to breast the sea!
Our hearts, our hopes, are all with thee.
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers, our tears,
Our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee,—are all with thee!"

OLIVET

*Even a Fire
Cannot Stop*

On Sunday, November 18, at 2:00 a. m., the administration building was destroyed by fire; but Olivet College lived on. The following morning, church services were held in the tabernacle; and classes were continued on Monday and throughout the remainder of the year in improvised classrooms. That fatal night did not see the destruction of Olivet; the real Olivet was not and could not be destroyed by fire; for the real Olivet does not dwell within buildings, but is an intangible substance living in the hearts of her faculty, students, alumni, and friends. It looked forward and lived on!

Classes

While this year's senior class has the unusual distinction of being the last at the old campus and the first to be graduated from the new campus, its real distinction lies in the fact that every member of the class is a Christian. Among those who are planning to give their full time to Christian service are four called missionaries, several preachers, and a few song evangelists.

Besides its good spiritual record, this class has done well in scholastic activities. Eight of its members are in the Honor Society, constituting more than one-fourth of that group.

In extracurricular affairs, various members of the class have starred. The boys' basketball team has won the championship in class tournaments three out of four years. In debate, dramatics, and music outstanding work has been done.

The accomplishment of which the seniors are most proud is the class unity they have attained. Only by their spirit of amity and unanimity were they able to accomplish class projects such as their trip east in October. Not a little of their success, however, has been due to the wise counsel of their sponsor, C. S. McClain.

Voice

The voice department has made great gains numerically this year. This group has been led in its endeavor by Professor and Mrs. Larsen, and their assistants, Gerald Greenlee, Ray Moore, Wendell Wellman, and Esther Schulz.

Piano

Our school embraces a fine piano department, directed by well qualified instructors. The piano department affords interested persons the opportunity to study the finest music of the masters, past and present, in an atmosphere of Christian refinement.

Children's Piano

Important, not only as a means of instruction in music, but also as a valuable factor in normal training, are the children's piano classes, which give music students an opportunity to observe piano instruction methods and to gain some experience in practice teaching.

Christian Workers' Band

Preaching, singing, and testifying in the Danville jail, Webster Memorial Home and Infirmary, the Christian Workers' Band carried the gospel to those who were unable to hear it or would not if it had not been brought to them. The beginning of a mission in Danville, and the street meetings in Georgetown have given the students of Olivet an opportunity to win souls and use the knowledge they have learned in school.

VIRGINIA RICHEY
President N. Y. P. S.

N. Y. P. S.

The N. Y. P. S., under the leadership of Mrs. Virginia Richey, held its regular inspirational services each Sunday evening at 6:30. Outstanding programs included an old-fashioned closed-class meeting, request programs, N. O. P. S. (Nazarene Old People's Society), and a missionary pageant, "Voices From Other Lands".

Chapel

Interesting speakers and talented musicians have added spice and zest to the chapel services. Dr. Howe and Dr. Parrott delivered many interesting, helpful, and witty sermonettes. The Student Council programs each Friday, usually conducted by students of Olivet, were especially interesting. Varying the regular chapel routine were many out-of-town speakers, such as Rev. W. W. Tink from Canada; the Wolpe brothers, with their Italian accent and thousand-dollar accordion; Rev. U. E. Harding, who is seeing the world through someone else's eyes; Dr. Williams, our general superintendent; and a negro quartet from Prentiss, Mississippi.

Revivals

Showers of blessings became a reality to the students of Olivet during the two revivals conducted by Rev. Hardy A. Powers and Rev. Harold Volk. Rev. Powers conducted the last revival service ever held in the chapel, and many times the altar was lined with seekers. Under the forceful, dynamic messages of Rev. Volk many souls also renewed their vows to God, for the first time experienced the unspeakable joy of salvation, or deepened their resolves to serve Him.

REV. HAROLD VOLK

Missionary Band

Composed of those who feel a definite call to Christian service on the foreign field, the Missionary Band meets semi-monthly to help the members become better acquainted with each other and with the requirements they must meet as missionaries. Under the inspirational leadership of Dr. C. J. Bushey, the sponsor, and Dorothy Austin, the president, the club has had many pleasant and profitable gatherings.

Young People's Missionary Society

The Young People's Missionary Society has made progress in spite of a difficult year. Financially, the society is in the best condition that it has enjoyed for several years, and in spite of little gain numerically, the spiritual condition is good. During the illness of the president, Marie Oyer, the society was under the leadership of Frances Rossman the first semester and of Anna Morris the second semester. Visits from Julia Morris, district president, and from Mrs. Shirley and Rev. Birchard, missionaries on furlough, have inspired the members to greater effort.

Prayer Meetings

Prayer meetings held each evening at 6:30 have brought together a large group of students to commune with God. These services were a great blessing to all those who attended. Many young people received definite experiences of salvation and others received light and encouragement that enabled them to go deeper and further with Christ. Students and faculty members all cooperated in presenting a Scripture lesson each evening.

The regular Wednesday night prayer meetings were also a time of spiritual revival. Here students testified of their blessings and were in turn helped by the testimonies of others.

Orpheus Choir

"The Mutual Broadcasting System, through its coast to coast facilities, presents the music of the Orpheus Choir of Olivet College, Olivet, Illinois." In this manner thousands throughout the nation were introduced to Olivet's finest musical organization, the Orpheus Choir, consisting of thirty-two trained voices under the direction of Walter B. Larsen.

The itinerary of the choir this year included concerts in Dayton, Cincinnati, Richmond, Indianapolis, Danville, Decatur, Springfield, Kankakee, Paris, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Bernice, and Racine. The climax will be reached in June when the Orpheus Choir will make its appearance before the General Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

This year's repertoire included such anthems as "Spirit of God", Nordman; "Go to Dark Gethsemane", Noble; "Te Deum in G", Williams; "Breathe on Me Breath of God", Thompson; "Beautiful Savior", Christiansen; and others. Among the gospel songs were such favorites as "How Can I Help But Love Him?", "For You I Am Praying", "A Sinner Like Me", "Softly and Tenderly", and "My Savior's Love". Negro spirituals included were "Ride on, King Jesus", and "I Got Religion".

This year marked the ninth consecutive season for this excellent musical group, which is rapidly gaining recognition as one of the leading choral groups in the Middle West. The steady improvement in the quality of the work done by the choir may be attributed first to the untiring effort of its able director and second to the fact that each year the choir numbers among its members more highly trained and experienced singers, each of whom testifies to a definite experience of salvation.

COMMENDABLE might well be the word with which to describe the work done by these eight young men during the past year. Their songs, readings, and testimonies have inspired audiences in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri and Iowa.

Our best wishes go with the Orpheus and Apollo quartets as they enter their summer's work in the interest of Olivet College.

Intercollegiate Debate

A squad of seventeen forensic aspirants survived the debate try-outs this year. Following our usual policy, each member of the squad was given experience in intercollegiate debate during the year. The entire squad or parts thereof participated in the following tournaments: Normal at Illinois State Normal University, Normal, Illinois; Eastern State Teachers' College, Charleston, Illinois; Principia College, Elsau, Illinois; Manchester-Huntington, the largest invitational debate tournament in the world, Whitewater, Wisconsin; College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minnesota; and the Illinois Intercollegiate Debate League tournament, Lake Forest, Illinois.

Out of a total of ninety-nine decision debates for the season on the Pi Kappa Delta question of American isolation, Olivet's teams won sixty-six. First place was awarded to Hiram J. McLendon in the discussion contest at the Whitewater tournament. J. William Lee won second place in individual rating in the Normal tournament in a field of over one hundred fifty debaters, and also in the Whitewater tournament in a field of twenty colleges. Lee and McLendon won an engraved Certificate of Excellence for placing second in the Championship division of the Normal tournament. They were undefeated in four rounds of debate at Charleston and four at Whitewater. They placed second in the Illinois Intercollegiate tournament.

Normalee Phillips and Lois Kendall won five out of six debates at the Manchester tournament, and duplicated this record at the Illinois state tournament. Fred Reedy and Marvin Taylor won five out of six at Manchester and four out of six in the State tournament. Counting all four teams, Olivet tied Wheaton College for third place in the State tournament at Lake Forest.

That the Olivet debaters were able to win two-thirds of all their debates, in spite of the fact that our entire library was burned at the beginning of the season, speaks well for their industry and resourcefulness, and the efficiency of their coach, Prof. McClain.

Band

This organization with its optimistic "Never give up" attitude, has helped spur the students to a greater realization of school spirit this year. The band has cooperated with its leader, Mr. Harold Fitzgerrel, in helping to make the season one of the best since its organization. Sousa's marches, Goldman's "On the Mall", Saprauack's "Atlantic Suite", novelty numbers, and other selections have comprised the repertoire of the band for the year.

Orchestra

The beautiful, soothing strains of Tschaikowsky's "Andante Cantabile" from the fifth symphony has been the theme and soulful expression of the orchestra this year. Under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Price, the orchestra was presented in concert, April 9. The programme, rendered with artistic color and style, consisted of selections from the works of Beethoven, Haydn, and Tschaikowsky, and was climaxed by the orchestra's playing the "Poet and Peasant Overture" by Franz von Suppe.

The Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Gerald Greenlee and accompanied by Miss Dorothy Ten Eyck, has enjoyed the singing of both secular and sacred music. They appeared during the spring revival, singing sacred numbers such as "Jesus Has Loved Me", and at the student recital with such songs as "An Old Violin" and Brahms' "Lullaby".

The Men's Glee Club met once weekly and sang under the direction of Ray Moore, with Miss Geraldine Spangler as accompanist. They heartily enjoyed singing semi-classical numbers such as, "With a Smile", and "Stout-Hearted Men"; and aided in the church program with hymns.

Art Club

The Art Club evolved this year under the inspiration of Dorothy Austin, who has filled the position of president since its organization. Meetings, held twice a month, aimed both to cultivate a greater appreciation for art and to enable the members to do some creative work. In January a delegation visited the Chicago Art Institute and saw the one-hundred-fifty million dollar exhibit of Italian masterpieces, which had been displayed the previous summer at the San Francisco Exhibition.

The Preachers' Kids

The Preachers' Kids, believing that they could better their grievances more readily as an organized unit, instead of individually, organized this year into the P. K. Club, under the presidency of Ray H. Moore, and the joint sponsorship of Rev. and Mrs. K. S. White. Immediately prior to the Christmas holidays, this group sponsored a taffy-pull at Purinton's Cottage on Lake Vermilion.

The Brass Band

The Brass Band, a temporary organization led by Prof. L. H. Howe, helped to solicit donations for Olivet College during the campaign for $10,000, which was carried on in Danville during the latter part of October, 1939.

The Campus Ghost

The Campus Ghost, a daily news bulletin, was edited this year by Lois Faythe Alexander Kendall. The Ghost serves as a means of bringing announcements and campus news before the student body. Thanks go to Mr. Glenn Ames, who built a new home for the Ghost after its old haunt was destroyed by the fire.

The Olivet Collegian

The Olivet Collegian, a quarterly publication, edited by Prof. Laurence H. Howe, serves as a means of conveying news of the school to the various home churches on the educational zone, interesting prospective students in Olivet, and distributing news of the Alumni Association.

Who's Who

Five Olivet students are included in the 1940 edition of "Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges". This is an annual publication, devoted to brief biographies of the outstanding students in the colleges and universities of the country. Elections are made on the basis of scholarship, character, school spirit, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

This year's selection from Olivet are Esther Marie Moore and Hiram J. McLendon, juniors, and Dale Moore, Byron Carmony, and Wendell Wellman, seniors. Points of merit for each are as follows:

ESTHER MARIE MOORE: Honor Society; Varsity debate, '38 and '39, member of team winning second place in the women's division of the Illinois Intercollegiate Debate League in '39; editor of our college annual, the Aurora, in 1940; prominent in class and other extra-curricular activities; a genial personality.

BYRON CARMONY: Olivet's musical genius; formerly a member of the Olivet Male Trio, and at present a member of the Orpheus Chorus and of the Apollo quartet; composer of a number of published hymns and school songs, including the publication "Harmony by Carmony," a collection of popular college songs; editor of 1939 Aurora; an engaging personality.

WENDELL WELLMAN: Familiarly known as "Wendell Q", but doesn't like the "Q"; musical, member of Orpheus Chorus, and first tenor in the Orpheus quartet; varsity debate, member of Olivet's state championship team of 1939; athletic, member of senior basketball team, inter-class champions in 1940; hobby, telling jokes and negro stories; well liked by all.

DALE BENNET MOORE: Four years class president; Honor Society; valedictorian of senior class; president of student body and of student council; varsity debate, member of team winning first place in men's division of Illinois Intercollegiate Debate League in 1939; Orpheus Chorus and Orpheus quartet; versatile.

HIRAM J. McLENDON: Two years class president; Honor Society; varsity debate, member of team winning state championship in 1939, and first place winner in the discussion contest at the Whitewater tournament, 1940; member of team placing second in championship division of Normal tournament; member of Orpheus Chorus, 1939; democratic.

This year's softball tournament furnished the spectators with plenty of thrills and an unusual amount of competition; the championship was not decided until the playing of the final game of the season. The Trojans were victorious, in spite of the fact that they took the field with two stalwart regulars, Snyder and Buster, missing from the line-up.

This season was featured by a few very fat batting averages, close scores, and some good pitching by Spross, Spartan; Watson, Indian; and Price, Trojan.

All three teams played a fine brand of baseball, and each player is to be commended for helping to make this season a definite success.

As with the boys, the question of the championship was to be decided by the Trojans and Indians; but unlike the boys, this one was never answered; for both teams tied for first place. The dominant theme of the girls' games seemed to be: "Keep 'em under thirty runs." At times even this was impossible.

Ambitious, memorable, enjoyable, an adventure in cooperation—the senior trip in October was all that, and more!

Ambitious, because it was a week in duration and covered approximately three thousand miles.

Memorable, because it included visits to Washington, D. C., New York City, Eastern Nazarene College, Niagara Falls, Hamilton, Ontario, and Detroit

Enjoyable, because it was for all of us a dream come true.

An adventure in cooperation, because only by working together harmoniously were we able to accomplish what we did.

Senior Trip

Junior Sneak

The juniors called it their "sneak"; the seniors had another name for it. At midnight, the juniors slipped out and piled in the cars. After a cheery send-off by the suspicious seniors, they were off. At Indianapolis they chartered a bus and headed for points south. To the class president, Hiram J., the high point of the trip was seeing Man O' War at Lexington. The class spent the night at Asbury College. The next day's scenes of interest were High Bridge and Mammoth Cave. Early in the morning of November 18, they returned to Olivet in time to lament over the smoking ruins of the administration building. But even so disastrous a conclusion cannot erase the delightful memories of the junior trip.

Freshman-Sophomore Parties

The Sophomores entertained the Freshmen at an informal party, held in the gym on Oct. 20. During the evening both classes became well acquainted. Refreshments were "bought" by the guests with colored paper "money" presented to them by their hosts. Confetti, hot dogs, cakes, paper tape, candy bars, balloons, and novel group games all joined together to make the Sophomore send-off a huge success.

On March 1st the class of '42 was entertained by the Freshmen at a leap year party held at the Hotel Grier-Lincoln in Danville. Orchids should be given to Wayne Cooper and Ralph Schneider for their successful M.C'ing. Congratulations are also due to both classes: to the freshmen for their fine party, and to the sophomores for being the best of guests.

Hallowe'en Party

This year the whole school turned out for the annual Hallowe'en frolic sponsored by the faculty. The party was held in the gym on Hallowe'en night. Gerald Greenlee (with the help of his professor, Wendell Wellman) sang two selections and Bob Condon held the audience spellbound with an eerie murder story. After a costume parade, prizes were given for the best-dressed persons.

The Senior-Junior Party

The Senior-Junior Party was held on March 1, at the Hotel Grier-Lincoln in Danville. Since it was a Valentine-Leap Year party, the girls acted as escorts to their "dates", who were determined by drawing the names. Various games and quizzes formed the evening's entertainment.

The Junior-Senior Banquet

The Junior-Senior Banquet was held at Hotel Mudlavia, Kramer, Indiana, April 1940. Although an over-cast sky prevented the weather from conforming to the theme of the banquet, Stars, the evening was a very enjoyable one. The outstanding event of the evening was organ music during the meal, played on a pipe organ especially installed for the occasion. The program also included after-dinner speeches by the class presidents, sponsors, and Dr. Howe; a reading by Bob Condon; and musical selections by Vernita Tink, Gerald Greenlee, and a trio composed of Dale Moore, Ray Moore, and Otis Bell, accompanied by Byron Carmony.

Faculty Reception

A long receiving line of imposing, dignified professors and their wives did not prevent the student body from enjoying the faculty reception, which was held in the Chapel during the first week of October and served as a grand "mixer". The entertainment was provided by the students with Dr. Howe officiating. Even Johnny added his bit by serving ice cream and cookies to the whole group. The reception was a gala event, and even the professors enjoyed it, in spite of having to shake the hands of more than 350 students.

High School Banquet

The high school seniors were entertained by the juniors at a formal banquet held May 10, 1940, at the Hotel Wolford in Danville. Toastmistress for the evening was Marion Jean Instone, junior.

Bible School Banquet

On May 2, 1940, the Bible School underclassmen entertained the graduates at a banquet held in the Hotel Grier Lincoln, Danville. Sherman Hunter acted as toastmaster. The program was centered around the Scripture "That I may know Him."

Picnics

Situated near the Little Vermilion River, Olivet is ideally located to sponsor picnics. Many groups have enjoyed this form of entertainment during the year. Besides the many impromptu gatherings, picnics have been sponsored by the various classes and organizations including the Ohio, Michigan, and Indiana State Clubs, the P. K. Club, and Johnny's Sunday School Class.

The present is all that is promised
The future is all too unsure;
So spend its brief hours in the conquest
Of things that forever endure.
Then offer your life to the Master,
'Tis He that can blot out the past;
He'll make all your life here a blessing,
And heaven your home at last!
