A new awakening, a new dawn, radiating light to what has always been,
arousing that which was only dormant.

Giving substance to shadows,
creating realities where faith once rested,
the radiance of the dawn
overcomes the darkness.

We, too, like the dawn, are moving forward
always changing.
We reflect to the past . . .

only to visualize the image of what we can be.

Restore unto me
the joy of thy salvation;
and uphold me with thy free spirit.

— Psalm 51:12

For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

Then said they unto him, Lord,
evermore give us this bread.

And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

John 6:33-35

Education

The Department of Education provides the professional education sequence of courses placement for most field experiences and the record-keeping function for the Teacher Education Program of the College. The department's faculty is currently involved in alternative education, preschools, reading and math workshops and consultant services, the Right to Read literary program and Church responsibilities. Dr. Jack Furber has been elected to the Bourbonnais Board of Education. Dr. Edward Eustice has been named in the new edition of Who's Who Biographical Record of Child Development Professionals. Kappa Delta Pi, Nu Beta Chapter, a national honor society in Education, is based in the department.

Foreign Languages

The Department of Foreign Languages is one of the most important and unique departments on our campus allowing our students the privilege of learning how to communicate their ideas in an idiom other than their own. The department also affords our students an opportunity to broaden their understanding of other cultures and lands and permits them to realize that there are other peoples who think and live differently than we do. With a shrinking world and a massive concern for ethnic heritages, our students can learn how to live and communicate to and with these people of another culture.

HENRY ENGBRECHT

English and Speech

The department of English has focused this year on the possibilities and opportunities in directing English composition at Olivet. We have tried to keep abreast of the new approaches and theories while retaining balance and continuity in our own program. Thus, operating largely from a traditional base, we have experimented with personal writing, films, language approaches, and other innovations. Our students have gained important skills in these personal writing programs — a zest for writing and a freedom of expression not often stimulated in a traditional expository course.

Realizing that our students need to integrate the workable aspects of the "new rhetoric" with the best of the traditional, we launched a rhetorical approach that starts from the writer-oriented personal journal and autobiographical narrative and proceeded to audience-oriented exposition and argument. Committed to a philosophy that no language usage is "wrong" in itself, but undesirable only when inappropriate, we emphasized the function of language usage in relation to the writing purpose rather than to some abstract standard of "correctness."

Although there are only two faculty persons in the Department of Speech at Olivet, that department is one of the most active on campus. Prof. Debbie Salter, who, along with her teaching assignments, directs the dramatic productions on campus, and has been responsible for the presentation of six plays this year. Mac McCombs, who is retiring this year, is the chairman of the department, and, along with his teaching duties, coaches the Varsity Debate team. The Speech Department serves the church and the community in many ways: seminars, speakers, judging, and speech and drama presentations.

The Department of Sociology is in the process of constant adjustment to the needs of students. This past year the Department has initiated a "Police Cadet" program with the Police Department of Bourbonnais. A student is required to spend 500 hours in training with the Police Department.

Also, we are initiating a "Criminal Justice Program" that will provide in-depth study in Justice Systems. Special lecturers and field experience have been designed to complement classroom experience with practical application.

To meet the goals of students who desire to meet the needs of people, the Department of Sociology is in constant adaptation.

The Division of Religion and Philosophy serves the entire student body in teaching required courses in Religion and prepares those whose vocation is the fulfillment of God's call through the work of the Church.

These professors serve as preachers for revivals and regular services. Some have distinguished themselves as authors of articles and books in their respective fields. If helping to guide the spiritual destiny of man is the greatest calling one can have, then these professors have a tremendous responsibility. To this end, these have dedicated their lives!

STUDENT LIFE

Class of '78 Victorious Over Ollies Class Follies

Olivetians were not left wondering what to do the first weekend of school. A full day of traditional activities had been planned by the Social Committee to entertain them.

Included in these activities were the human pyramid, the tug-of-war, the obstacle course, the rootbeer drinking race, the balloon toss and many more.

Competition did not end as the sun went down. The fun continued in Ludwig Center with each class presenting skits and entertainment. The Juniors took first place, leaving second place to the sophomores.

On October 7 and 8, the campus was swarming with over a thousand prospective Olivetians. Many high school juniors and seniors on the four-state educational zone were invited to campus for a short orientation to "life at college" recognized as Red Carpet Day.

A pizza party Thursday evening initiated the festivities with entertainment by the New Beginnings. Friday's schedule was filled with visits to classes, getting acquainted with faculty and staff, departmental demonstrations, planetarium presentations, and a special chapel service. Judging from the enthusiastic comments of the Red Carpeters, the 11th annual Red Carpet Day was once again a success.

The annual slave sale was a great success as the bidding broke all previous records. Top bid for the night was $80.00. The Birchfields and Roger Jones supplied musical entertainment, along with musical contributions from the "Beach Girls." Audience response to the event was overwhelming as students enjoyed the bidding and entertainment and as many over-zealous males appeared dressed in gangster-like attire. On the following night the couples attended the Gene Cotton concert and then went to Romitos for pizza.

It was dark, mysterious, and rainy . . .

One of the highlights of every school year at Olivet is Halloween. Annually, the Junior class sponsors a very chilling Halloween Party.

This year the party began at Chalfant with a highly suspenseful play entitled "Two Bottles of Relish," directed by Pam Erdman.

The Ghost Walk provided for a total break with reality as the Kankakee Caves were transformed into a refuge for the macabre creatures of the Graves.

All those that survived their "Stroll through the Dark" were ushered into an abandoned hay loft for the viewing of an equally gory and gruesome movie with Vincent Price in "The Oblong Box."

A third attraction for the courageous was another play directed by Kent Schwamberger, "The Haunted Auditorium."

Would you believe that the truth is becoming a tradition at Olivet? Yes! Interim Entertainment

Those who endured the rigors of a cold Interim session were met with a pleasant surprise. Two unique plays were presented by Intensive Drama Productions Class. The first production, "House at Pooh Corner," was a delightful adventure of Christopher Robin and Winnie the Pooh. The play, directed by D. Salter, was presented to children of the local elementary schools along with the college students here at Olivet. The second play, "No Opera at the Opry House Tonight," directed by Keith Anderson, was Olivet's first attempt at Melodrama, complete with a villain, a heroine, and plenty of boos, hisses and applause.

With fond memories

God gifted him with warmth, with wit, and enthusiasm, and imagination, and sensitivity, and faith, rarely combined so generously in the soul of any one man. So much so that people everywhere intuitively and instantly sensed: this man cares . . . this man understands . . . this man is to be trusted . . . especially, this man is to be trusted.

Some, with superficial thought, seeing his public rapport and special popularity with young audiences, may have mistakenly credited this to his sense of rhythm, timing, humor, and unpredictable style. (All of which made him one of a kind.) But the secret of his incredible communication and influence is simply that he was real.

Something about this man said to them, and to me, He is what he says. There's no gap. No disguise. No unfortunate inconsistencies. Not one. Ever. Yes, his gift to me includes the clear and permanent memory of a godly man reaching out to thousands with love and truth . . . in hundreds of different places . . . in a thousand different ways.

He was a man of good cheer and good will. He loved his church. He improved its atmosphere and attitude . . . wherever he went. Who? and What? and When? and Where? and Why? were subjects of great interest to his curious and lively mind.

He often knew more than he said. And he never brought even the slightest blemish to the reputation of a brother by a careless word or gesture. His only irreverence was reserved for those foolish, man-made sacred cows of ours. I wish we could have learned more of what he knew about the perils of taking ourselves too seriously.

I will miss the squeal, and snort, and wheeze of his laughter, the quick clapping of his hands, the strength of his faith, the lift of his encouragement, and the benefit of his prayers. I will miss that heavy arm across my shoulders and that certain half-clumsy hug of silent, understanding friendship. But don't tell me I've had my last Paul Martin hug. I don't believe it. Someday . . . largely because of his life and love . . . and by God's great grace . . . we'll be together — again. Forever. Amen.

(A tribute written by Paul Skiles and reprinted by permission)

"Midnight Special"

On Saturday, March 5th, the sophomore class sponsored the "Midnight Special", a variety show filled with music, comedy, and skits. Featured in the frolic were Joy Road, Lee Hart, the Son Sent Trio, Kay Kelley, and a host of folks to amuse the entire student body. Not only did Randy Dennis act as emcee, but also favored the audience with a rendition of "Chopsticks" played with his toes. The Imperials . . . they have been labeled trend setters, musicians' musicians, electrifying, unusual, warm and the list goes on and on. Sponsored by the Social Committee in Chalfant Hall on March 4th, the Imperials are one group that always perform with flair. They are a contemporary gospel vocal group that has surpassed many others. They have set many firsts, such as: The first gospel group to work on stage with Elvis Presley, Jimmy Dean and Carol Channing, first to dress in modern, stylish clothing and the first to let their hair grow longer.

The Imperials are always received enthusiastically, but not only for their music. Young people feel they are real and are eager to relate. There is a message for all who attend their concert.

Friday, March fourth, was cold, wet and gloomy, but Olivet students thought it was a great day for a picnic.

Managers of the Saga Food Service cleared all the tables and chairs from the cafeteria and replaced them with 50 bales of hay. The result was an indoor picnic just right to cure the mid-winter blahs.

Barbecued ribs, fried chicken, corn on the cob, watermelon from Mexico and all the picnic fixins were on the menu.

Under the combined management of food service director Judy King and Food service manager Doug Anderson, the students have seen many improvements and innovations in the daily eating habit.

The Bloodmobile is one activity sponsored at Olivet you have to take lying down. Blood typing, a few quick questions, and don't smile, 'cause it only hurts when you laugh. Students are rejected from giving blood due to age, illness, medical history, or lack of sleep. Although they possess good intentions, the rejectees often breathe a sigh of relief.

W.R.A. Sponsors Many Activities

The Women's Residence Association is an active group on campus. The purpose of the group is to promote unity and provide activities for the women of the residence halls. Mary Shoff, as Sponsor, with her active group of officers, has been responsible for scheduling activities that meet the needs of today's Olivet woman. Their sponsored activities include a "Get-Acquainted Party" for freshmen, Twirp Week specials (Roller-skating party, The Ice-cream Social and County Fair), and the Red Room Extravaganza. The splendor of Homecoming coronation can be attributed to WRA's hardworking members. A "Weekend for Women" was also held by the WRA, in addition to after-game film parties, a canoe trip, an Archers concert, The Football "Salute the Team," and Family Weekend, co-sponsored with M.R.A.

Drama Club Presents a Variety of Talent

The Drama Club provides an opportunity for talented students to take an active part in every facet of play production. Under the direction of Miss Debbie Salter, the Drama Club has been extremely busy working on plays with the Speech department. Two plays, "The Haunted Auditorium" and "Two Bottles of Relish" set the mood for a suspenseful evening of Halloween madness. The hilarious comedy by Neil Simon, "The Star Spangled Girl," was a great success for the Homecoming festivities. Another highlight was the musical presentation of "The Gift of the Magi" for the Christmas party. The spring production brought Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" to the O.N.C. audience.

Leading the student body

Under the mature leadership of president Fred Fullerton, the Associated Student Government has had a busy and prosperous year. Working closely with the Board of Trustees, Administration, and Faculty sensitive to the needs of the students, A.S.G. offers all students the opportunity to participate in the decision-making process of the college through membership on the Student Council and other committees. The many activities sponsored by A.S.G. are varied in nature, but always well-planned and enjoyable. They include Ollie Follies, the all-school Halloween Party, sacred concerts, an all-school Christmas Party, busses to away basketball games, and the "Superstars" competition, only to begin the list. A vital organization concerned with the students — that's the Student Government of Olivet.

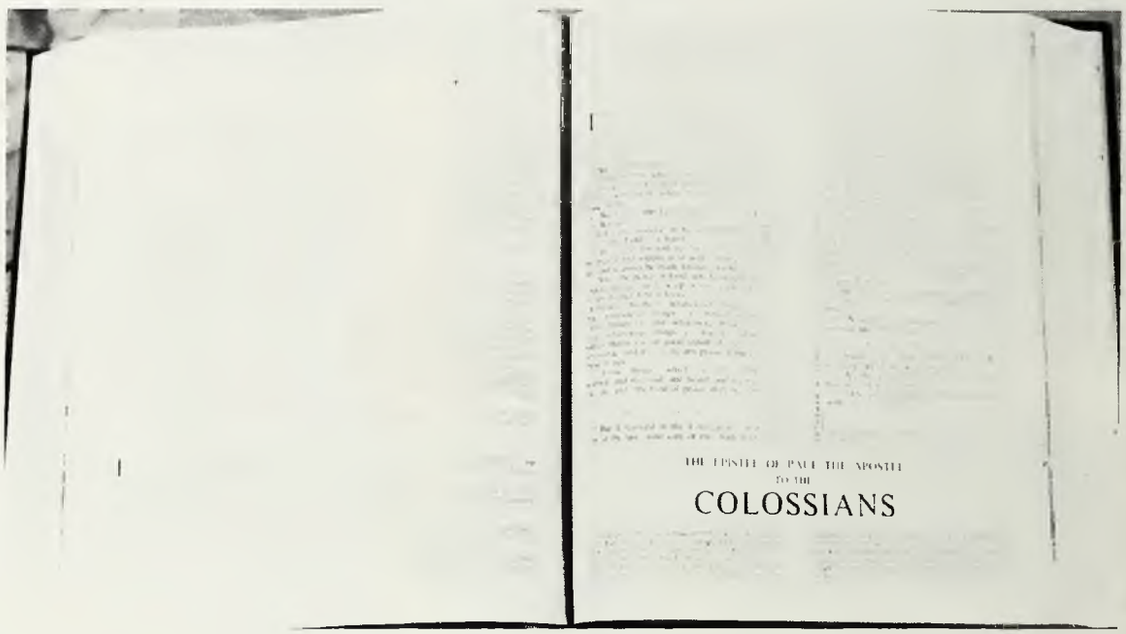
Jesus gave us the two great commandments, first to love God with all our hearts and then to love our neighbor as ourselves — with neighbor being inclusive of all mankind. This love can best be expressed in terms of service — which is allowing God to manifest Himself through us to others. Our spiritual life is dependent on pressing up to God for His strength, pressing in to God's Word and examining ourselves in its light, and then pressing out and sharing our discovery with others. This is where the fruits of our growth can be seen — in service which expresses both love to God and to people.



Spiritual Life is an organization on Olivet's campus designed to help students find means of service to God and their fellowman through their own interest areas. The Executive Committee pledged itself to provide activities where ONC students could press up, press in, and also press out. These activities were as diversified as: having every member of the ONC family upheld in prayer during Revival, Christmas caroling, a bonfire after-glow with a time of sharing, a baptismal, and a communion service.

Scope

The objective of S.C.O.P.E. is to place concerned, dedicated, and responsible students in various areas of the community where they might contribute their abilities and communicate their Christian witness in personal associations while serving in worthwhile volunteer projects. The projects are established in cooperation with personnel directors at the various welfare and service organizations, which include nursing homes, mental hospitals, and a youth commission.

Each project requires dedication of the volunteer. One must have an intended interest in helping other people alleviate their pain, loneliness, and frustration. The aim of these projects is to share personal relationships with Jesus and demonstrate to the community that serving Christ is not being boxed into four corners of a church, but it is living a concerned and involved life with other people.

Gospel Crusaders is an exciting Spiritual Life group composed of many six-member teams who devote from two to ten weekends a year traveling across Olivet's Educational Zone. More than 120 members visited 75 churches this year and were prepared to serve through singing, preaching, Sunday School teaching, canvassing, and witnessing on a one-to-one basis.

To prepare the teams for service and to promote unity within the organization, Gospel Crusaders sponsored several workshops, training sessions, and share and praise times. In addition an annual retreat to the Indiana Dunes State Park and an annual Spring banquet highlighted the year.

It is the desire and goal of Gospel Crusaders to provide for spiritual growth within its membership and within the people of churches and communities across our educational zone. "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith." (Gal. 6:10.)

Campus Ministries

Campus Ministries is the result of coordinating the four class chaplains to effect a spiritual in-reach on campus. Chaplains on each floor of the residence halls organized Bible studies and prayer groups.

A prayer list, signed by concerned students, was prepared each semester. These signees promised to pray daily for certain members of ONC's family.

The purpose of this committee is to further the spiritual growth of all resident students whether or not they are involved in an outreach program.

Media Ministries sharing through the arts.

Media Ministries centers around the use of fine arts and communication skills as a vital ministry. Our goal is to present Christian dramas, puppet skits, multi-media productions, and other programs designed to touch Christians and reach non-Christians. Media Ministries was formed to enable students with talents in these areas to employ and develop them.

Our unique ministry serves both the college campus and the educational zone in a field which is rapidly gaining its rightful place in the Christian community.

Evangels is for the person who feels like a spiritually filled-up sponge and wants to share what he has soaked in from all the messages one can hear within a week.

Evangels are students going to the Kankakee County Jail and seeing eight guys led to the Lord during the first semester. It is just one-on-one witnessing to men and women whose crumbled lives are reaching out for something and finding that God does have the answer after all.

Evangels is giving up the football games on Sunday afternoons and going to nursing homes and finding the most beautiful people in the world. It is discovering that one hour invested at a nursing home is the most profitable hour in the week.

Evangels is simply investing one's own life into the life of another person.

AWARE's objective is the education of its members and those they contact concerning the growth of God's Kingdom in the world. Semi-monthly meetings feature foreign students, missionaries, Christian Action Team members, Student Mission Corps members, and Rich Gammill, the Missionary Candidate Secretary from Kansas City. These provide information of our brothers and sisters in Christ at home and abroad.

First semester activities included an all-campus clothing drive with donations going to the Pacific Garden Mission in Chicago at Christmastime. The second semester involved a monthly "Mission Challenge." The annual Mission Chapel Project was a weekly offering given to the new mission work in Portugal. In February, the pioneer missionary, Rev. Earl Mosteller, visited campus and shared the excitement of God's modern-day miracles in Portugal with students.

To become AWARE of God working in the world is a mind-opening and faith-boosting experience.

Debate

The 1976-1977 year will go down as one of Olivet's best in debate. Olivet was invited to over 25 tournaments within the Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa and Kentucky region. Team trophies have stacked up well, and individual speaker trophies have been received by each debater to add to their personal collections. The three returning debaters Kathy, Ellen, and Sue feel the team has made serious improvements of team efforts and results over last year.

The season has been a long one with lots of tough competition, but the winning record shows a group of dedicated young people applying themselves in the area of competitive forensics.

Vikings "For Thee We Sing"

Under the direction of Dean Brady, the Viking Male Chorus has had quite a year. Beginning their activities by sponsoring Truth in September, they have taken various concert tours throughout the educational zone, and a fall semester tour to Kansas City. Their year of traveling reached a historical climax in January, when the Vikings were invited to sing at the inaugural activities for the President in Washington, D.C. Upholding the excellence of a thirty-two year tradition, the Male Chorus has truly lived up to its motto, "For Thee We Sing."

Treble Clef under new direction

With the purpose of ministering the message of God's love through praise and song, Treble Clef Choir has been an excellent representative of Olivet, both in song and spirit. The choir has had an active year under the new direction of Prof. Joe Noble, serving the community and educational zone. Fall semester included a tour of Eastern Indiana and regular singing in the early service of College Church of the Nazarene. Spring semester featured a tour from April 28-May 1 of the Northwestern Zone of Illinois. Along with the tradition of the hand bell choir, Prof. Noble is furthering the tradition of excellence in the O.N.C. music program.

"A Ministry in Music" — what better describes Orpheus Choir? Now in its fourth decade, under the direction of Dr. George Dunbar, Orpheus has become synonomous with musical excellence. A highlight of the year was a tour to Colorado, where the choir ministered in song at the U.S.A.F. Academy, Nazarene Bible College, and Denver First Church of the Nazarene. Orpheus cut a new album, their third, entitled "To God Be The Glory," arranged by Ovid Young, distributed nationwide by Word, Inc. Orpheus strives for perfection, and in every concert it is evident they are lifting up Christ in song.

"Flight"
Icarus like I flew.
I flew towards your sun seeking to embrace it.
But you melted the wax of my wings
and I failed.
Having started from the trees,
I ended on the ground,
and now,
I smell of the stench of this world.
Though I have found new wings, I may never fly as high,
and the stench remains.
Is it not strange though that even now,
On my new wings,
I seek the same destination.
Hoping, only hoping,
that your blaze has cooled
or my wings are of sterner stuff.

You ask who I am?
A puppet, strung by experience,
cavorting and tripping,
amusing the innocents.
Now, dancing and singing,
giggling in unknown voice.
Now, dejected and forlorn,
weeping anonymous tears.
At the puppeteer's wish,
the marionette lies lifelessly in a drafty, black box until tomorrow, which brings a new costume,
a new line,
a new stage —
a new existence.

LA MAR
From the open window
I see the bustle of Corsican streets
Women gather
As small birds in the market-place.

At dusk the fishermen return
Some to the taverns
Others to their families
One or two to nothing.

My canvases are empty, as are the bottles on the floor
There — listen, the bells of San Martin.
A mist is moving in, causing the lamps to cast
Haunting auras
A mist from the sea
Coming with agile fingers as if to claim that which
Was once a part of her.

A small conch shell carried back and forth with the tide property of the perfect azure mistress.

Plastic faces . . . that's all I see.
All smiles and laughter on the outside.
But only God knows what is deep within.
Life is a silly game to be played
A Halloween masquerade of costumes.
But God sees through all the plastic disguises.
If . . .
If only I could see people the way He does — Deep within
Past all the painted-on smiles and cheery expressions,
Inside; to all the hurt, loneliness, and despair.
But I, too, am selfishly playing a role.
And as long as I do, I can't help others.
How can I see through their masks
When I'm blinded by my own?
Lord, take my mask away . . . let me be real
Not a plastic doll like so many others.
Then, let me see others as You do
Love them as You do
And reach them as You want me to.

"We Christians have no veil over our faces, we can be mirrors that brightly reflect the glory of God."

I see the mellow humor of autumn
in a hapless, helpless, gold leaf —
funny-boned with dew, tickled by the waning sunset —
    as it falls, laughing into a frivolous fraternity of fellow leaves.

The vacant branches of the trees
smile toothlessly —
    yet they mourn not
    at their loss,
for new green teeth
will soon enough replace the dropped dentures of gold and red and the branches will smile again, fulfilled.

    Laugh
with the autumn augusts as they swirl the chuckling comedians of fall.

People
are like pearls . . .
a perfect one only happens once in an eternity
as it has, in the Pearl of Great Price — but the rest of us
will have to be content with flaws.
You can hide flaws
but never remove them
and scrutinizing jewelers can spot them (you can, you know, if you look hard enough) so be content with your flaws — not to emphasize them, you understand — but quietly place the flaw into the setting and surround the surreal lustre with diamonds, and rubies, and emeralds, and create a masterpiece
from an imperfect pearl.

Man has accomplished the making of pearls synthetically and they are flawless . . . except for the lack of lustre only found in a genuine (imperfect) pearl . . .

and so is it with man's accomplishments . . .
perfect, but false and hollow and lacking and empty . . .
who wishes to sacrifice the Living Lustre for perfect artificiality?
be content, therefore, with your flaws,
for they make you human and give you living quality and set you apart from a cultured person.

People are like pearls.

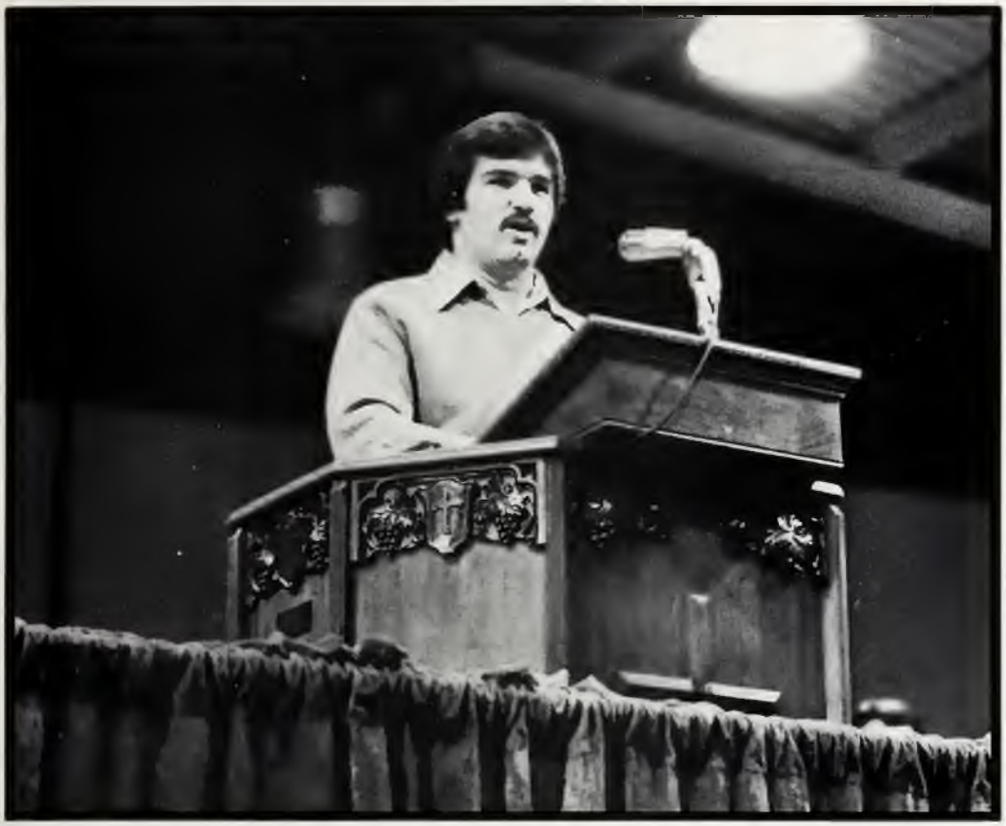
Olivet — An Atmosphere That Generates Growth . . .



. . . Spiritually

Opportunities for spiritual development are created within Olivet's environment. Chapel services provide occasions three days a week in which students are exposed to the top holiness speakers of the day. Annual revivals held periodically are spiritual highlights throughout the school year. Local churches furnish times of Christian fellowship and worship. Active participation can be experienced through service organizations of Olivet's Spiritual Life program. The Residence halls house weekly gatherings for students to pray and share together.

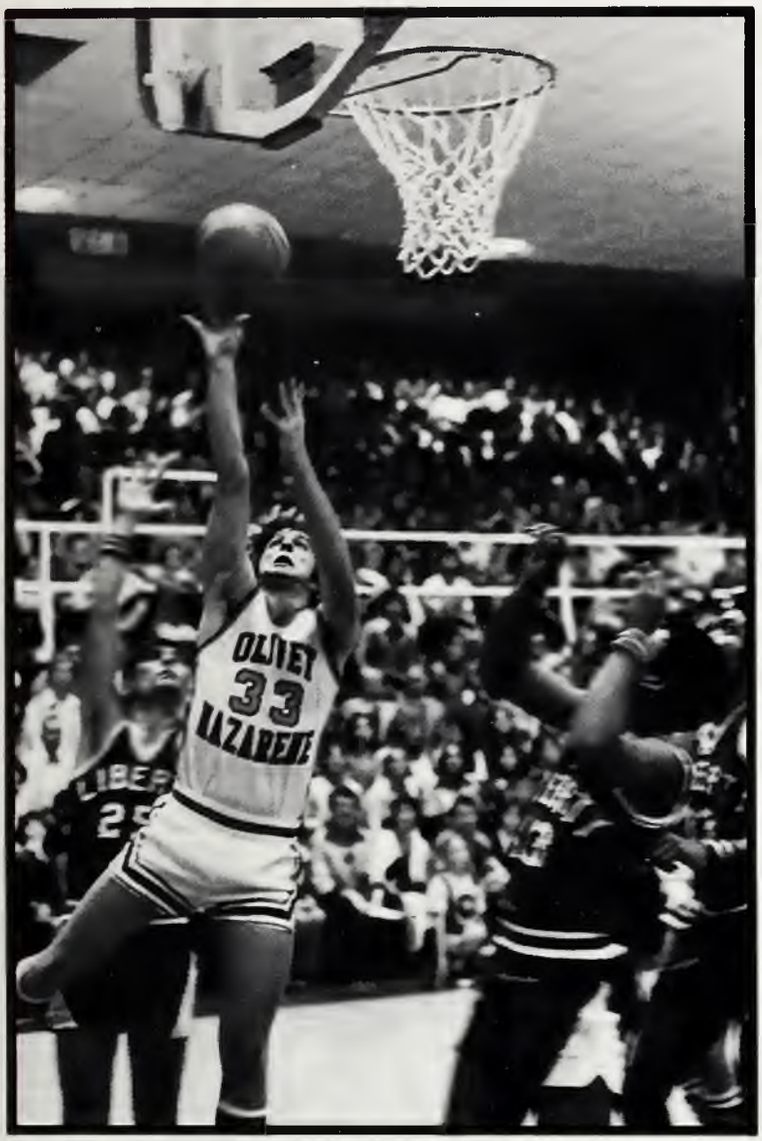
. . . Academically

In this era of specialization that we now find ourselves a part, a well rounded education — one that stimulates all our interests — is certainly underrated. And yet this is what Olivet, as a Liberal Arts college, offers to its students. Not only does Olivet offer strong majors but the curriculum also attempts to challenge the student in a variety of fields allowing for and creating a more diversified and interesting person.

Olivet has made strides in implementing its majors — the new resource center offers not only a library but an audio-visual center and curriculum center as well.

Field trips and first-hand experiences are encouraged by each professor.

While complete in itself, our academic education does not stop at Olivet. If Olivet is to continue to maintain an atmosphere of academic growth, then the challenge and desire to learn must also continue. Certainly no growth is ever final, and academically, we can only barely begin to learn.



. . . and Socially

Olivet generates growth socially by providing and maintaining a wellrounded social life for the students. There are provided many activities during the school months. These activities range from traditions such as the Christmas Party and the funfilled Follies, to impulsive snowball fights in the quad.

Through these activities new friendships develop and they bring the college, as a whole, together. This unity provides an atmosphere of Christian love and concern. And friendships become ones to be cherished.

Enthusiasm of the O.N.C. football team and fans was a great baost to victories in this first experimental season. At every home game the stands were full, and on the road the Tiger supporters usually had mare fans than their oppanent.

Olivet opened the seasan with an impressive showing against Maranatha College af Waterton, Wis. The Tigers led mast af the game, but had to settle for a tie when their opponent scored twice in the last few minutes of the contest.

The team gained a tatal of 1,039 yards rushing and 615 in the air. The first touchdawn was scored by Tim Stamper with a pass from quarterback Steve Auch. Danny Eckert, a two-way standout starter, campleted the longest touchdawn run, a forty yarder, and Dan Frary caught the langest touchdown pass, a 29 yarder, from reserve quarterback Ed Richardsan.

The Tigers finished the season with an impressive 4-2-1 record, the losses caming at the hands of two experienced teams, Eastern Illinois University and Rose Hulman af Terre Haute, Ind.

The gridders ended their seven-game season in full stride with a resounding victory over Millikin University, 19-8.

Olivet will lose by way of graduation Ed Richardsan, Steve Reed, Tom Allen, Tim Hodges, Ken Fredrickson, Gary Gunn, and Jody Biscoe. All these players added to the leadership of the team.

Next season shows a lot of promise with the return of the majority of the players. The coaching staff will have one year of combined effort behind them, and the addition af new players will add depth.

Next year Olivet hopes to be playing a full varsity schedule, and campeting in a football conference.

Dave Hayes, Jim Miller, Dennis Banks, Kevin Falsam and Dan Ling.

The Tigers finished the season with an impressive 9-3 record, retaining the NIIC Conference Championship. Individually, Olivet placed two men on the All-Conference team. Senior Dennis Banks, in his last year at O.N.C., earned the NIIC Medalist Crown for the second straight year with a 72-hole 323 stroke total, while Freshman Don Ling finished third with a 337 total.

Olivet's Golf team will remain strong with Sophomores Jim Miller and David Hayes along with Freshmen Don Ling and Kevin Folsom returning.

Soccer at Olivet is under the direction of Coach Stafford Frederick, who came from E.N.C. for the purpose of organizing the sport. After a voluntary sign-up during fall registration, Coach Frederick began to train the mostly inexperienced team.

Even though the team closed with a 1-5 record, one of the outstanding achievements for the season was the progressive improvement of the players.

Since enthusiasm was high and all players will be returning, Coach Frederick and the team are anticipating going from a club organization to an intercollegiate sport next fall.

Thinclads Complete Excellent Season

FIRST ROW: J. McNelly, L. Latham, S. Latham, D. Leatherman, K. Lamb.
SECOND ROW: Coach Ray Morrison, D. Welton, R. Kinnersley, M. Long, J. Bacon.

Olivet's long distance runners compiled an excellent 9-5 record this year under new Coach Ray Morrison. The Tigers finished third in the NIIC and was led by seniors Dave Leatherman and Kent Lamb who finished third and fifth respectively in that race. The two thinclads also helped Olivet to an eighth place finish in the NCCAA nationals grabbing 11th and 23rd. They were quickly followed by freshman Don Welton and sophomores Wes Rogers and Steve Latham who made up the top five runners. Rounding out the team were Larry Latham, Jim Bacon, Lon McNelly, Randy Kinnersley, and Mike Long.

Olivet placed 3-2 in dual meets this year which included a 27-28 squeaker over Judson College. They also finished third in the Northeastern Invitational, sixth in the NAIA District 20 meet, and ninth in the Spartan Invitational. Although Coach Morrison regrets losing seniors Leatherman, Lamb, L. Latham, and Kinnersley, he does have a good group of underclassmen to replace them and also hopes to recruit some new freshman runners.

The wrestling team ended the season with a remarkable 10-1 dual meet record, and two tournament wins (ONC Invitational and the NCCAA Regionals).

Olivet finished second in the NAIA district meet held at Lewis University. Chicago State defeated ONC 53.25 points to 51.25. Seniors Dave Veanes (118) and Tom Allen (158) both placed first and represented Olivet at the NAIA Nationals in Spokane, Washington. Allen finished eighth out of a field of forty wrestlers.

At the NCCAA Regionals held at Olivet, Tiger matmen took the title by defeating second place Maranatha College by a 98.25 to 81.5 score. Olivet placed wrestlers in each weight class, sending ten grapplers to the Nationals.

In the NCCAA Nationals the Tigers finished third behind Liberty Baptist and Messiah College. Olivet had one first in Tom Allen. Seconds went to Doug Hayse (126) and Steve Radford (167).

Seniors Tom Allen, Dave Veanes and Dave Harris leave after contributing much to the wrestling team. Recognition should go to Tom Allen who in four years completed a record of 77-20-1, best ever in Olivet's history. Even though these three will be greatly missed, Olivet has a promising future having so many returning wrestlers.

Special recognition went to Coach Larry Watson for being named both NAIA District 20 and NCCAA National Coach of the Year.

Under the direction of new head coach, Frank Wilson, the Tiger basketball team completed a very successful season. They finished second in the NCCAA Tournament in Chattanooga, Tennessee, with Junior Gerald Steagall, making the all tournament team. In capturing the conference championship, the Tigers finished 11-1, losing to a fine Rockford College team. Forwards Dave Brotheridge and Gerald Steagall were selected for the all conference team.

Being a year of transition, the Cagers found it rough earlier in the season. At one point their record stood 5-8, but in making a few adjustments, they finished the season 22-11, winning 17 of the last 20 games. Defense was a big factor in many of the games. Olivet allowed their opponents only 68.2 points per game. The Cagers came through with consistent scoring from all positions.

Gerald Steagall and Dave Brotheridge led the team in scoring with 13.0 points per game. They were followed by Steve Harris (12.5), Sam Harris (10.0), and Dave Plunkett (8.0), who alone added greatly to the team. Reserve centers Odell Berry (4.2) and Denny Followell (6.0) gave plenty of strength underneath. Freshman guards Don Barr (7.4) and Al Jackson helped out in many crucial situations. Dave Brotheridge led the team in rebounds with 8.5 per game. As a team, the Tigers hit 75 percent of their free throws, and at one time were ranked third in the NAIA. The Tigers will be losing Dave Plunkett and Odell Berry. Both contributed greatly to the success of the team.

Next season looks as if it could prove to be a good year for the Olivet team. Four of the five starters will be returning, and much experience has been gained in this year of transition.

Future Bright for Track Team

FIRST ROW: D. Leatherman, K. Lamb. SECOND ROW: Coach Ray Morrison, R. Smith, D. Conroy, S. Latham, D. Setzler, M. Benge, P. Zell.

Several individual performances highlighted the Olivet track and field program during its 1976 season. In the NIIC championships, Randy Smith high jumped 6-4¼ to set a new meet record while Dave Leatherman finished second in the three-mile and Dave Setzler took first in the 120-yard high hurdles. The following week, Leatherman ran third in the NCCAA finals in the three-mile, and added a fourth in the mile.

During the current track season, new Coach Ray Morrison improved the quality of the track program with several new ideas of his own. He installed an indoor track program in January so that the tracksters could get an early start on the season. He also expanded the team to over 20 athletes converting members of the football team into quality athletes, organized several home meets, and scheduled dual meets rather than invitationals. With the track men he has now, the possibility of winning the NIIC and NCCAA titles seem more like a reality than they do as a dream.

Olivet placed second in the Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference behind Illinois Benedictive and placed third in King Christian College Tournament in Boca Raton, Florida. Although the Tigers had 13-16 record, they experienced a year of rebuilding, which was far from dismal.

Coach Larry Watson said that "the real gratifying thing was the number of records broken." Olivet established seven new team records including the highest team batting average for a season (265). Ray Raney broke two individual records in the most hits (34) and the most triples (5). John Rattle hit five homeruns setting a new record. Randy Gee had 23 hits and 19 RBI's enroute to the highest single batting average for a season of 418. Paul Stevenson compiled a fine 6-0 pitching record. The overall accomplishment was that they put together a good nucleus for next year.

An interesting sidelight of the team was that they also sang as a choir in nine churches. Coach Watson plans to continue the Tiger choir this year and hopes to add a puppet ministry. The team is proving to be a valuable asset to the college.

Netters Finish Third in Conference

The men's tennis team started slowly, but the close-knit group finished strong with good spirit. Coach Terry McKay led the Tigers to a respectable 6-5 season, finishing third in the NIIC. In Conference play, Steve Harris finished second in singles, while Steve Emery and Dick Otto finished second in doubles. Steve Shaffer, Dan Rexroth, and Steve Emery showed good performance against the toughest competition. Steve Frazier, Randy Hodges, Lynn Surre, and Rick Watson offered depth to the team. The outlook for this spring is very promising. The entire team will be back, with three freshmen who show good potential.

THE BUILDER

An old man going along the way came at the evening cold and gray to a chasm, vast and deep and wide. The old man crossed in the twilight dim the solemn stream had no fears for him but he turned when safe on the other side and built a bridge to span the tide.

Good friend, said a fellow traveler near you're wasting your time by building here you never again will pass this way your journey is done at the close of the day you have safely crossed to the other side why build a bridge at even tide.

The traveler lifted his old gray head good friend in the path I have come, he said there followed after me today a youth who too must pass this way the stream which was as naught to me to the fair-haired youth might a pitfall be he too must cross in the twilight dim good friend, I'm building this bridge for him.

Don't trust to luck

...when buying fine jewelry. Know your jeweler ..and know him well by the emblem only selected, professionally trained jewelry experts may display—that of the American Gem Society. This proves your jeweler cared enough about his reputation to undertake a study of diamonds and colored stones. It also means, that you receive full value for every purchase you make at a Member American Gem Society store.

In closing

At the close of this book, I can't help but think of all the work that has gone into making it. It amazes me how I can keep going under all the strain, but more than that, the constant help from my terrific staff during the pressures of deadlines that never ceased to come. We're finished now but what we have done will remain for years. I truly hope you like it for then it will have been worth it all.

I would like to thank the entire staff for their generous work and understanding, for our advisors Lottie Phillips and Dean Brady, for the photographers who never get the credit that's due them, and for the many friends who contributed to keeping me sane. I would also like to thank Corey Mundwiler, who represented Taylor Yearbook Company, for the tremendous help he has given our staff this year.

Most of all, I would like to express my gratitude to God who gave me the strength and daily assurance of his love. I owe a lot to my family and friends who continued to pray for me and understand me in my weakest moments. To them I present the 1977 AURORA

In Christ,

Keith Anderson
